But whē the Pharises heard it, they said,
This ma casteth the deuils no otherwi se out, but through Beelzebub the prince of deuils.

But Iesus knewe their thoghtes, and said to them, Euerie kingdome deuided
against it self, shalbe brought to naught: &
euerie citie or house, deuided against it self, shal not stand.

So if Saran cast out Saran, he is deuided against him self: how shal then his king dome endure?

Also if I through Beelzebub cast out deuils, by whome do your children cast them out? Therefore they shalbe your iudges.

But if I cast out deuils by the Spirit of God, then is the kingdom of God come
vnto you.

Elis how can a man enter into a strong mans house and spoile his goods, except
he first binde the strong man, and then spoil his house.

He that is not with me, is against me:
& he y gathereth not with me, scattereth.

Wherefore I say vnto you, euerie sinne
and blasphemie shalbe forgiven vnto men:
but the blasphemie against the holie Gost
shal not be forgiven vnto men.

And whosoever shal speake a worde
against the Son of man, it shalbe forgiven
him: but whosoever shal speake against y
holie Gost, it shal not be forgiven him, ne
ther in this world nor in y worlde to come.

Ether make the tre good, and his frute
good: or els make the tre euil, & his frute
euil: for the tre is knowen by the frute.

O generations of vipers, how can you speake good things, when ye are euil? For
of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.

A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth the good things: & an euil man out of an euil treasure, bring eth forth the euil things.

But I say vnto you, that of euerie idle
worde that men shal speake, they shal giue
accounte thereof at the day of iudgement.

For by thy wordes thou shalt be iustifi
ed, and by thy wordes thou shalt be con demned.

Then answered certeine of the Scri bes & of the Pharises, saying, Master, we wolde se a signe of thee.

But he answered, and said to them, A euil and adulterous generacion seeketh a signe, but no signe shal be giuen vnto it,
saue the signe of the Prophet Ionas.

For as Ionas was three dayes, and three nights in the whales bellie: so shal the Son of man be three dayes and three nights
in the heart of the earth.

The men of Nineue shal rise in iudge
ment with this generacion, and condemne
it: for they repented at the preaching
of Ionas: and beholde, a greater then Io
nas is here.

The Quene of the South shal rise in
iudgement with this generacion, and shal
condemne it: for she came from the ve
most parties of the earth to heare the wis dome of Solomon: and beholde, a greater then Solomon is here.

Now whē the vncleane spirit is gone
out of a man, he walketh through drye
places, seeking rest, and findeth none.

Then he saith, I wil returne into mine
house, fro whence I came: & when he is co me, he findeth it emptie, swept & garnished.

Then he goeth, & taketh vnto him se
uen other spirits worse then him self, and they entre in, and dwell there: & the end of that man is worse then the begin ning. Euen so shal it be with this wicked generacion.

While he yet spake to the multitude,

But he answered, and said to him that

And he stretched forth his hand toward his disciples, & said, Beholde my mo

CHAP. XIII.

The state of the kingdome of God set forth by the parable of the fede. 24 Of the tares. 31 Of the mustarde fede. 33 Of the leaue. 44 Of the treasure hid in the field. 45 Of the perles. 47 And of the nette. 17 The Prophet is conserued in his owne country.

He same day went Iesus out of the house, and sate by the sea side.

And great multitudes resorted vnto him, so that he went into a ship, and sate downe: and the whole multitude stode on the shore.

Then he spake many things to them in parables, saying, Beholde, a sower went forth to sowe.

And as he sowed, some fel by the wayes side, and the fowles came and deuoured them vp.

And some fel vpon stonie grounde, where they had not muche earth, and anon they sprong vp, because they had no depth of earth.

And when the sunne rose vp, they were parched, and for lacke of rooting, withred away.

And some fel among thornes, & the thornes sprong vp, and choked them.

Some againe fel in good grounde, and brought forth the frute, one corne an hundred fold, some sixtie folde, and another thirtie folde.

He that hath eares to heare, let him heere.

¶ Then the disciples came, and said to him, Why speakest thou to them in parables?

¶ And he answered and said vnto them, Because it is giuen vnto you, to knowe the secrets of the kingdome of heauen, but to them it is not giuen.

¶ For whosoever hathe, to him shal be giuen, and he shal haue abundance: but whosoever hathe not, from him shal be taken away, euen that he hathe.

¶ Therefore speake I to them in parables, because they seeing, do not see: and hearing, they heare not, neither vnderstand.

¶ So in them is fulfilled the prophecie of Esaias, which prophecie saith, * By hearing, ye shal heare, and shal not vnderstand, and seeing ye shal see, and shal not perceiue.

¶ For this peoples heart is waxed fatte, and their eares are dul of hearing, and with their eyes they haue winked, lest they shulde see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and shulde vnderstand with their hearts, and shulde returne, that I might heale them.

¶ But blessed are your eyes, for they see: & your eares, for they heare.

¶ For verely I say vnto you, that many Prophetes, & righteous men haue desired to see those things which ye see, & haue not seen them, and to heare those things which ye heare, & haue not heard them.

¶ Heare ye therefore the parable of the sower.

¶ Whensoever a man heareth the worde of the kingdome, and vnderstandeth it not, the euil one cometh, and catcheth away that which was sowed in his heart: & this is he which hath receiued the fede by the way side.

¶ And he that receiued fede in the stonie grounde, is he which heareth the worde, & incontinently with ioye receiueith it.

¶ Yet hathe he no roote in him self, & dureth but a season: for as sone as tribulation or persecution cometh because of the worde, by and by he is offended.

¶ And he that receiueith the fede among thornes, is he that heareth the worde: but the care of this worlde, and the deceitfulness of riches choke the worde, and he is made vnfrutefull.

¶ But he that receiueith the fede in the good grounde, is he that heareth the worde, and vnderstandeth it, which also beareth frute, & bringeth forth, some an hundred folde, some sixtie folde, & some thirtie folde.

¶ Another parable put he forth vnto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a man which sowed good seed in his field.

¶ But while men slept, there came his enemy, and sowed tares among the wheat, & went his way.

¶ And when the blade was sprong vp, and brought forth the frute, then appeared the tares also.

¶ Then came the seruants of the holder, and said vnto him, Master, sowedst thou good fede in thy field? fro whence then hathe it tares?

¶ And he said to them, The enuious man hathe done this. Then the seruants said vnto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them vp?

¶ But he said, Nay, lest while ye go about to gather the tares, ye plucke vp also with them the wheat.

¶ Let bothe growe together vntil the harvest, and in time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye first the tares, and binde them in sheaues to burne them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

¶ Another parable he put forth vnto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a graine of mustard fede, which a man taketh and soweth in his field:

¶ Which in dede is the least of all sedes: but when it is growen, it is the greatest among herbes, and it is a tre, so that the birdes of heauen come and buyld in the branches thereof.

¶ Another parable spake he to the,

And his disciples came, and toke vp his
bodye, and buried it, and went, and tolde Iesus.
*And when Iesus heard it, he departed
thence by ship into a desert place aparte.
And when the multitude had heard it,
they followed him a fote out of the cities.
And Iesus went forth, and sawe a great multitude, and was moued with compas

*And when euen was come, * his disci

place, and the houre is alreadie passe: let
the multitude departe, that they may go into the townes, and bye them vitayles.
But Iesus said to them, They haue no need to go away: giue ye them to eat.
Then said they vnto him, We haue
here but fise loaues, and two fishes.
And he said, Bring them hether to me.
And he commanded the multitude to sit downe on the grasse, and toke the fise loaues and the two fishes, and loked vp to heaven and blessed, and brake, and gaue
the loaues to his disciples, & the disciples
to the multitude.
And they did all eat, and were sufficed,
and they toke vp of the fragments that remained, twelue baskets full.
And thei that had earen, were about fise
thousand men, beside women & litle chil dren.
*And straight waye Iesus cōpelled his disciples to enter into a ship, and to go o uer before him, while he sent the multi tude away.
And aslone as he had sent the multi tude away, he went vp into a mountaine a lone to pray: * and when the eueing was come, he was there alone.
And the ship was now in the middes of the sea, and was tossed with waues: for it was a contrarie winde.
And in the fourth watche of the night,
Iesus went vnto them, walking on the sea.
And when his disciples sawe him walkig
on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit, and cryed out for feare.
But straight way Iesus spake vnto them, saying, Be of good comfort. It is I: be not afraied.
Then Peter answered him, & said, Mas ter, if it be thou, byd me come vnto thee
on the water.
And he said, Come. And when Peter was come downe out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Iesus.
But when he sawe a mightie winde, he was afraied: and as he beganne to sinke,
he cryed, saying, Master, saue me.
So immediatly Iesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said to him,

O thou of litle faith, wherefore didst
thou doubt?
And aslone as they were come into the
ship, the winde ceased.
Then they that were in the ship, came and worshipped him, saying, Of a trueth
thou art the sonne of God.
*And when they were come ouer, thei
came into the land of Genesaret.
And when the men of that place knewe
him, they sent out into all that countrey rounde about, and broght vnto him all
that were sicke,
And besoght him, that they might tou
che the hemme of his garment onely: &
as manie as touched it, were made whole.

Then came to Iesus the Scribes and Pharises, which were of Ierusalem,
saying,
* Why do thy disciples transgresse the tradicion of the Elders? for they wash
not their hands when they eat bread.
But he answered & said vnto them, Why do ye also transgresse the commandment
of God by your tradicion?
* For God hath commanded, saying,

15 ¶ * Then answered Peter, and said to him, Declare vnto vs this parable.

16 Then said Iesus, Are ye yet without vnderstanding!

17 Perceiue ye not yet, that whatsoeuer entrench into y<sup>e</sup> mouth, goeth into the bellie,
and is cast out into the draught?

18 But those things which procede out of the mouth, come from the heart, and they defile the man.

19 For out of y<sup>e</sup> heart * come euil<sup>s</sup> thoughts,
murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts,
false testimonies, & slanders:

20 These are the things, which defile the man: but to eat with vnwashed hands, defileth not the man.

21 * And Iesus went thence, and departed
into the coasts of Tyrus and Sidon.

22 And behold, a woman a Cananite came out of the same coasts, and cried, saying vnto him, Haue mercie on me, O Lord, the sonne of Dauid: my daughter is miserably
vexed with a deuill.

23 But he answered her not a worde. Then came to him his disciples, and besought
him, saying, s<sup>e</sup> Send her away, for she cry-

24 But he answered, and said, I am not sent,
but vnto the * lost shepe of the house of Is-

25 Yet she came & worshipped him, sayig,
Lord, helpe me.

26 And he answered, & said, It is not good
to take the childrens bread, and to cast it
to <sup>h</sup> whelpes.

27 But she said, Trueth, Lord: yet in dede
the whelpes eat of the crommes, which fall
from their masters table.

28 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto her,
O woman, great is thy faith: be it to thee,
as thou desirest. And her daughter was made whole at that houre.

29 ¶ So Iesus * went away from thence, and came nere vnto the sea of Galilee, & went vp into a mountaine and sate downe
there.

30 And great multitudes came vnto him, * hauing with them, halt, blinde, domme,
maymed and manie other, and cast them
downe at Iesus fete, and he healed them,

31 In so muche that the multitude wondered, to se the domme speake, the maymed
whole, the halt to go, and the blinde to se:
and they glorified the God of Israel.

32 * Then Iesus called his disciples vnto
him, and said, I * haue compasson on this multitude, because they haue continued
with me alreadie thre daies, and haue nothing to eat: and I wil not let the departe
fasting, lest they fainte in the way.

33 And his disciples said vnto him, Whence shulde we get so muche bread in the wildernes, as shulde suffice for great a multitude!

34 And Iesus said vnto them, How manie loaues haue ye? And they said, Seuen, and a fewe litle fishes.

35 Then he commanded the multitude to sit downe on the grounde,

36 And toke the seuen loaues, and the fishes,
and gaue thanks, & brake them, and gaue

Then vnderstode they that he had not
said that they shulde beware of the leauen
of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pha-

* Now when Iesus came into the coastes
of Cesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Whome do men say that I, the Son
ne of man am?

And thei said, Some say, Iohn Baptiste:
and some, Elias: & others, Ieremias, or one of the Prophetes.

He said vnto them, But whome say ye
that I am?

Then Simon Peter answered, and said,
* Thou art the Christ the Sonne of the lining God.

And Iesus answered, & said to him, Blef-sed art thou, Simon, the sonne of Ionas: for flesh & blood haue not reueiled it vnto
thee, but my Father which is in heauen.

And I say also vnto thee, that thou art
* Peter, and vpon this rocke I wil buylde
my Church: and the gates of hel shal not ouercome it.

* And I wil giue vnto thee the keyes of
the kingdome of heauen, and whatsoeuer
thou shalt binde vpon earth, shalbe bound in heauen: and whatsoeuer thou shalt lose
on earth, shalbe lost in heauen.

Then he charged his disciples, that they shulde tell no man that he was Iesus the Christ.

* From that time forth Iesus began to shewe vnto his disciples, that he must go vnto Ierusalem, and suffer manie things of the Elders, and of the hie Priests, and Scribes, and be slaine, and rise againe the thirde day.

Then Peter toke him aside, and began to rebuke him, saying, Master, pittie thy self: this shal not be vnto thee.

Then he turned backe, and said vnto Peter, Get thee behinde me, Satan: thou art
an offence vnto me, because thou vnder-standest not the things that are of God, but the things that are of men.

Iesus then said to his disciples, * If any man wil followe me, let him forsake him self, & take vp his crosse, and followe me.

For * whoeuer wil saue his life, shal lose it: and whoeuer shal lose his life for my sake, shal finde it.

* For what shal it profite a man thogh he shulde winne the whole worlde, if he lose his owne soule? or what shal a man giue
for recompense of his soule?

For the Sonne of man shal come in the glorie of his Father with his Angels, and shall reuenge of malice, as did Iudas, or of rashnes and arrogan-

cy. That is, whoeuer thinketh to saue him self by forsaking

* then shal he giue to euerie mā according to his dedes.

28 * Verely I say vnto you, there be some of them that stand here, which shal not taste of death, vntil they haue sene the Sonne of man come in his kingdome.

2 The transfiguration of Christ vpon the mountaine of Thabor. 3 Christ ought to be heard. 11. 12. Of Elias and Iohn Baptiste. 13 He healeth the lunatike. 20 The power of faith. 27 Prayer & fasting. 22 Christ
tellet this before of his passion. 27 He payeth tribute.

And * after six dayes, Iesus toke Peter, and James, and Iohn his brother,
and brought them vp into an hie mountai-
ne aparte,

And was transfigured before them: and
his face did shine as the sunne, and his clothes were as white as the light.

And beholde, there appeared vnto them
Moses, and Elias, talking with him.

Then answered Peter, and said to Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to be here: if thou wilt, let vs make here thre tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

While he yet spake, beholde, a bright clou-
de shadowed them: and beholde, there came a voyce out of the cloude, saying, * This is my beloued Sonne, in whome I am welpleased: heare him.

And when the disciples heard that, they
fel on their faces and were fere afraied.

Then Iesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

And when they lifted vp their eyes, they sawe no man, saue Iesus onely.

* And as they came downe fro the moun-taine, Iesus charged them, saying, Shewe
the vision to no man, vntil the Sonne of man rise againe from the dead.

* And his disciples asked him, saying,
Why then say the Scribes that * Elias must first come?

And Iesus answered, and said vnto them,
Certeinly Elias must first come, & restore
all things.

But I say vnto you, that Elias is come already, and they knewe him not, but haue
done vnto him whatsoeuer they wolde:
likewise shal also the Sonne of man suffer
of them.

Then the disciples perceiued that he spake vnto them of Iohn Baptiste.

* And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certeine man,
and kneeled downe to him,

And said, Master, haue pittie on my sonne:
for he is lunatike, and is sore vexed: for oft times he falleth into the fyre, and oft times into the water.

And I brought him to thy disciples, and
they colde not heale him.

6 But whofoeuer shal offend one of these litle ones which beleue in me, it were better for him, that a <sup>5</sup> myllstone were hanged about his necke, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.

7 ¶ Wo be vnto the worlde because of offences: for it must nedes be that offences shal come, but wo be to that mā, by whome the offence cometh.

8 ¶ Wherefore, if thine hand or thy fote cause thee to offend, cut the of, & cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life, halt, or maimed, then hauing two hands or two fete, to be cast into euerlasting fyre.

9 And if thine eye cause thee to offend, plucke it out, & cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, then hauing two eyes, to be cast into hel fyre.

10 ¶ Se that ye despise not one of these litle ones: for I say vnto you, that in heauen their * Angels alwayes beholde the face of my Father which is in heauen.

11 For * the Sonne of man is come to <sup>6</sup> save that which was lost.

12 How thinke ye? If a man haue an hundred shepe, & one of the be gone astray, doeth he not leaue ninetie & nine, and go into the mountaines, and seke that which is gone astray?

13 And if so be that he finde it, verely I say vnto you, he reioyceeth more of that shepe, then of the ninetie and nine which went not astray.

14 So is it not the wil of your Father which is in heauen, that one of these litle ones shulde perishe.

15 ¶ Moreover, if thy brother trespace against thee, go, and tell him his faute between thee & him alone: if he heare thee, thou hast wonne thy brother.

16 But if he heare thee not, take yet with thee one or two, that by y * mouth of two or thre witnesses euery worde may be confirmed.

17 And if he wil not vouchesafe to heare thee, tel it vnto the * Church: & if he refuse to heare the Church also, let him be vnto thee as an heathen man, and a Publicane.

20 Then came Peter to him, and how oft shal my brother & I shal forgie him? vnto how oft? Iesus said vnto him, I say vnto thee, to seven times, but vnto seven times.

21 Therefore is the kingdom of heauen likened vnto a certaine King, that take a countes of his seruants.

22 And when he had begun to sleepe, he was brought vnto him, which owed him thousand <sup>7</sup> talents.

23 And because he had not paid, his master commanded him, that he shoulde be sold, & his children, and all that he had, to paye the dette to be payed.

24 The seruant therefore sought him, saying, Master, forgiue towarde me, and I will paye thee.

25 Then that seruants master pitied him, and loosed him, and forgave him the dette.

26 But when the seruant was come home, he founde one of his fellowes, which owed him an hundred <sup>8</sup> pence, & he caught him, and toke him by the necke, & by the eares, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

27 Then his fellow fel down, & besought him, saying, Forgiue me, and I will paye thee.

28 Yet he wolde not, but went, and put him into prison, til he shulde paye the pence.

29 And when his other fellowes sawe this, they were very sorry, & declared vnto their master, saying, Forgiue him, and he will paye thee.

30 Then his master called him, & said, O euil seruant, I forgave thee, because thou praydest: but thou owest not to forgive thy fellow, as I forgave thee.

31 So his master was wroth, & he delivered him to the iaylers, til he should paye the pence.

32 So likewise shal mine <sup>9</sup> heauenly Father do vnto you, except ye forgive your brethren, as your Father forgives you.

20 The yong man said vnto him, I haue obserued all these things from my youth: what lacke I yet?

21 Iesus said vnto him, If thou wilt be perfect, go, & sell that thou hast, & giue it to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come and follow me.

22 And when the yong man heard that saying, he went away sorowful: for he had great possessions.

23 Then Iesus said vnto his disciples, Verely I say vnto you, that a riche man shall hardly enter into the kingdome of heauen.

24 And againe I say vnto you, It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, then for a riche man to enter into the kingdome of God.

25 And when his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amased, saying, Who then can be saved?

26 And Iesus behelde them, and said vnto the, With men this is vnpossible, but with God all things are possible.

27 ¶ Then answered Peter, & said to him, Beholde, we haue forsaken all, & followed thee: what shall we haue?

28 And Iesus said vnto them, Verely I say to you, that when the Sonne of man shall sit in the throne of his maiestie, ye which followed me in the regeneracion, shall sit also vpon twelue thrones, and iudge the twelue tribes of Israel.

29 And whosoever shall forsake houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my Names sake, he shall receiue an hundredfold more, & shall inherite euerslasting life.

30 ¶ But manie that are first, shall be last, and the last shall be first.

CHAP. XX.

Christ teacheth by a similitude, that God is better vnto no man, and how he alway calleth men to his labour. 18 He admonisheth them of his passion. 20 He teacheth his to flee ambition. 22 Christ payeth our ransom. 30 He giueth two blinde men their sight.

For the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a certaine householder, which went out at the dawning of the day to hire laborers into his vineyard.

And he agreed with hire laborers for a penie a day, and sent them into his vineyard.

And he went out about the thirde houre, and sawe other standing ydle in the market place,

And said vnto them, Go ye also into my vineyard, & whatsoeuer is right, I will giue you: and they went their way.

Again he went out about the sixth and ninth houre, and did likewise.

And he went about the eleuenth houre,

eleuenth houre was an houre before the sunne sets.

and founde other standing ydle, and said vnto them, Why stand ye here all the day ydle?

They said vnto him, Because no man hath hired vs. He said to them, Go ye also into my vineyard, & whatsoeuer is right, that shall ye receiue.

¶ And when euen was come, the master of the vineyard said vnto his steward, Call hire laborers, and giue them their hire, beginning at the last, till thou come to the first.

And they which were hired about the eleuenth houre, came and receiued euerie man a penie.

Now when the first came, they supposed that they shulde receiue more, but they likewise receiued euerie man a penie.

And when they had receiued it, they murmured against the master of the house,

Saying, These last haue wrought but one houre, and thou hast made them equal vnto vs, which haue borne the burden, & heat of the day.

And he answered one of them, saying, Friend, I do thee no wrong: diddest thou not agree with me for a penie?

Take that which is thine owne, and go thy way: I will giue vnto this last, as much as to thee.

Is it not lawful for me to do as I wil with mine owne? Is thine eye euil because I am good?

¶ So the last shall be first, and the first last: for manie are called, but fewe chosen.

¶ And Iesus went vp to Ierusalem, and toke the twelue disciples aparte in the way, and said vnto them,

Beholde, we go vp to Ierusalem, and the Sonne of man shall be deliuered vnto the chief Priests, and vnto the Scribes, & they shall condemne him to death,

And shall deliuer him to the Gentiles, to mocke, and to scourge, and to crucifie him: but the thirde day he shall rise againe.

¶ Then came to him the mother of Zebedeus children with her sonnes, worshipping him, & desiring a certaine thing of him.

And he said vnto her, What woldest thou? She said to him, Grant that these my two sonnes may sit, the one at thy right hand, and the other at thy left hand in thy kingdome.

And Iesus answered and said, Ye knowe not what ye aske. Are ye able to drinke of the cup that I shall drinke of, and to be baptized with the baptisme that I shall be baptized with? They said to him, We are able.

And he said vnto them, Ye shall drinke in dede of my cup, and shall be baptized with hire baptisme, that I am baptized with, but to sit at my right hand, and at my left hand, hands, is not mine to giue: but to whom I will, I will giue them.

¶ And when the other ten heard this, they were disdaigned at the two brethren.

Therefore Iesus called them, and said, Ye knowe that the Gentiles haue dominion ouer them, & they that are great, exercise authority ouer them.

But it shall not be so among you: for whosoever will be great among you, shall be your seruant,

And whosoever will be first among you, shall let him be your seruant,

¶ Even as the Sonne of man, who is come to be serued, but to serue, and to geue his life a ransom for many.

¶ And as they departed, a great multitude followed him, & beholde, two blinde men, the way side, when they passed by, cryed saying,

Dauid, haue mercie on us. And the multitude rebuked them, saying, They shall be holde thee more, saying, Dauid, haue mercie on us.

¶ Then Iesus stood still, and said, What wilt thou that I do for thee?

They said to him, Let our eyes be opened.

¶ And Iesus moued with compassion, touched their eyes, & immediately they receiued sight, and they followed him.

*And when the other ten heard this, they disdained at the two brethren.

Therefore Iesus called them vnto him,
and said, Ye knowe that the lords of the Gentiles haue domination ouer them, and they that are great, exercise autoritie ouer
them.

But it shal not be so among you: but who-

And whosoever wil be chief among you,
let him be your seruant,

*Euen as the Sonne of man came not to be serued, but to serue, and to giue his life
for the ranfome of manie.

*And as they departed from Iericho,
a great multitude followed him.

And beholde, two blinde men, sitting by the way side, when they heard that Iesus passed by, cryed saying, O Lord, the sonne
of Dauid, haue mercie on vs.

And the multitude rebuked them, because they shulde holde their peace: but they cryed the more, saying, O Lord, the sonne
of Dauid, haue mercie on vs.

Then Iesus stode stil, and called them, &
said, What wil ye that I shulde do to you?

They said to him, Lord, that our eyes
may be opened.

And Iesus moued with compassiō tou-

receiued sight, and they followed him.

And when they drew nere to Ieru-

Iesus two disciples,

Saying to them, Go into the towne that is ouer against you, and anone ye shal finde
an asse bounde, and a colte with her:
lose them, and bring them vnto me.

And if anie man say ought vnto you, say ye, that the Lord hath the nede of them, and

8 And a great multitude spred their gar-

brāches from the trees, and strowed them
in the way.

Moreover, the people that went before, and they also that followed, cryed,
saying, Hosanna the sonne of Dauid:
blessed be he that cometh in the Name of the Lord, Hosanna thou which art in the hieft heauens.

*And when he was come into Ierusalem,
all y<sup>e</sup> citie was moued, saying, Who is this?

And the people said, This is Iesus the Prophet of Nazaret in Galilee.

*And Iesus wēt into the Tēple of God,
and cast out all them that solde. & bought in the Tēple, and ouerthrow the tables of the money changers, and the seates of them that solde doues,

And said to thē, It is writtē, Mine hou-

ye haue made it a denne of thieues.

Then the blinde, and the halt came to him in the Tēple, and he healed them.

But when the chief Priests and Scribes
sawe the marueils that he did, & the children crying in the Tēple, & saying, Hof-anna the sonne of Dauid, they disdained,

And said vnto him, Hearst thou what these say? And Iesus said vnto thē, Ye are ye neuer, *By the mouth of babes & sucklings thou hast made perfite the praise?

*So he left them, and went out of the ci-
tie vnto Bethania, and lodged there.

And *in the morning as he returned in-
to the citie, he was hungrie,

And seing a figge tre in the way, he came to it, and founde nothing thereon, but lea-ues onely, and said to it, Neuer frute grow on thee hence forwardes. And anone the figge tree withered.

And when his disciples sawe it, they mar-
ueiled, saying, How sone is the figge tre withered!

And Iesus answered and said vnto them,
*Verely I say vnto you, if ye haue faith,
and dout not, ye shal not onely do that,

which I haue done to the figge tree, but also if ye say vnto this mountaine, Take thy self away, and cast thy self into the sea, it shal be done.

*And whatsoeuer ye shal aske in prayer,
if ye beleue, ye shal receiue it.

*And when he was come into y<sup>e</sup> Tēple,
the chief Priests, and the Elders of the people came vnto him, as he was teaching, and said, By what autoritie doest thou these things? and who gaue thee this autoritie?

Then Iesus answered and said vnto thē,
I also wil aske of you a certaine thing; w<sup>h</sup>

what autoritie I do these things.

heauen, or of men? Then they reasoned among them selues, saying, If we shal say from heauen, he wil say vnto vs, Why did ye not then beleue him?

And if we say, Of men, we feare y people: for all holde Iohn as a Prophet.

Then they answered Iesus, and said, We ca not tel. And he said vnto them, Nether tel I you by what autoritie I do these things.

But what thinke ye? A certaine man had two sonnes, and came to the elder, & said, Sónne, go & worke to day in my vineyard.

But he answered and said, I wil not yet afterwarde he repented him self, and wēt.

Then came he to the seconde, and said likewise. And he answered, and said, I wil, syr: yet he went not.

Whether of them twaine did the wil of the father? They said vnto him, The first. Iesus said vnto the, Verely I say vnto you, that the Publicanes and the harlots shal go before you into the kingdome of God.

For Iohn came vnto you in the way of righteousness, and ye beleued him not: but the Publicanes, & the harlots beleued him, and ye, though ye sawe it, were not moued with repentance afterwarde, that ye might beleue him.

Hearre another parable, There was a certaine housholder, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and made a winepresse therein, and buylt a tower, and let it out to housband men, and went into a strange country.

And when the time of the frute drewe nere, he sent his seruants to the housband men to receiue the frutes thereof.

And the housbandme toke his seruants and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

Againe he sent other seruants, mo the first: and they did the like vnto them.

But last of all he sent vnto the his owne sonne, saying, They wil reuerence my sonne.

But when the housbandmen sawe the sonne, they said among them selues, * This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, & let vs take his inheritance.

So they toke him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slewe him.

When therefore the Lord of the vineyard shal come, what wil he do to those housbandmen?

They said vnto him, He wil cruelly destroye those wicked men, and wil let out his vineyard vnto other housbandmen, which shal deliuer him the frutes in their seasons.

Iesus said vnto them, Red ye neuer in the Scriptures, * The stone which y buylders refused, the same is made the head of the corner? This was the Lords doing, and it is marueilous in our eyes.

Therefore say I vnto you, the kingdome of God shalbe taken from you, & shalbe giuen to a naciō, which shal bring forth the frutes thereof.

* And whosoever shal fall on this stone, he shalbe broken: but on whomefoeuer it shal fall, it wil grinde him to powder.

And when the chief Priests and Pharises had heard his parables, they perceiued that he spake of them.

And they seeking to lay hands on him, feared the people, because they toke him as a Prophet.

The parable of the marriage. 9 The vocation of the Gentiles. 11 The marriage garment. 17 Of paying of tribute. 23 Of the resurrection. 36 The Scribes question. 44 Christs dominion.

Then Iesus answered, and spake vnto them againe in parables, saying,

The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a certaine King which married his sonne,

And sent forth his seruants, to call them that were bid to the wedding, but they wolde not come.

Againe he sent forth the other seruants, saying, Tel the which are bidden, Beholde, I haue prepared my dinner: mine oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are readie: come vnto the marriage.

But they made light of it, and went their wayes, one to his ferme, & another about his marchandise.

And the remnant toke his seruants, & intreated them sharply, and slewe them.

But when the King heard it, he was wroth, & sent forth his warriers, & destroyed those murderers, and burnt vp their citie.

Then said he to his seruants, Truly the wedding is prepared: but they which were bidden, were not worthy.

Go ye therefore out into the high wayes, and as manie as ye finde, bid them to the marriage.

So those seruants went out into the high wayes and gathered together all that euer they founde, bothe good and bad: so the wedding was furnished with ghestes.

The King came in, to se the ghestes, and saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment.

And he said vnto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither, & hast not on a wedding garment? And he was speacheles.

Then said the King to the seruants, Bind him hand and fote: take him away, and cast him into viter darkenes: there shal he weeping and gnashing of teeth.

17 Tell vs therefore, how thinkest thou? Is it lawful to giue tribute vnto Cesar, or

But Iesus perceived their wickednes, &
said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?
Shewe me the <sup>a</sup> tribute money. And thei

18 And he said vnto them, Whose is this and left him, and went their way.

21 ¶ * The same day the Sadduces came to him (which say that there is no resurrec

25 And last of all the woman dyed also.

26 Therefore in the resurrection, whose wife shal she be of the seuen? for all had her.

27 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto the,
Ye <sup>a</sup> are deceived, not knowing the Scrip

28 For in the resurrection they nether mar

not the God of the dead, but of the liuing.

31 And when the people heard it, they were astonied at his doctrine.

32 ¶ * But when the Pharises had heard,
that he had put the Sadduces to silence,
they assembled together.

33 And one of them, which was an expoun
der of the Law, asked him a question, rep

34 Master, which is the great commande ment in the Law?

35 Iesus said to him, * Thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, with all thy soule, and with all thy minde.

36 This is the first and the great comman dement.

37 And the seconde is like vnto this, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy self.

38 On these two commandements hageth
the whole Law, and the Prophetes.

39 ¶ * While the Pharises were gathered together, Iesus asked them,

40 Saying, What thinke ye of Christ? who se sonne is he? They said vnto him, Da

41 He said vnto them, How then doeth Da

43 If then Dauid call him Lord, how is he 44 And none colde answer him a worde,

When s<sup>e</sup> y<sup>e</sup> therefore shal se the abomination of desolation spoken of by Daniel the Prophet, standing in the holie place, (let him that readeth consider it.)

Then let them which be in Iudea, flee
into the mountaines.

Let him w<sup>h</sup> is on the house top, not come
downe to fetch any thing out of his house.

And he that is in the field, let not him
returne backe to fetch his clothes.

And wo shalbe to them that are with childe, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes.

But pray that your flight be not in the winter, nether on the Sabbath day.

For then shalbe great tribulation, suche
as was not fro the beginning of the worlde
to this time, nor shalbe.

And except those dayes shulde be shortened, there shulde no flesh be saved: but for the electes sake those dayes shalbe shortened.

Then if anie shal say vnto you, Lo, here
is Christ, or there, beleue it not.

For there shal arise false Christs, & false prophetes, & shal shewe great signes
and wonders, so that if it were possible,
they shulde deceiue the verie elect.

Beholde, I haue tolde you before.

Wherefore if they shal say vnto you,
Beholde, he is in the desert, go not thither:
Beholde, he is in the secrete places, beleue
it not.

For as the lightning cometh out of the East, and shineth in to the West, so shal
also the comming of the Sonne of man be.

For wheresoeuer a dead carkeis is, thither wil the egles resort.

And immediatly after the tribulatio<sup>n</sup>
of those dayes, shal the sunne be darkened, & the moone shal not giue her light,

and the starres shal fall from heauen, & the powers of heauen shalbe shaken.

And then shal appeare the signe of the Sonne of man in heauen: and then shal all the kinreds of the earth mourne, and they shal se the Sonne of ma come in y<sup>e</sup> cloudes
of heauen with power and great glorie.

And he shal send his Angels with a great sounde of a trumpet, and they shal gather together his elect, from the foure windes
from the one end of the heauen vnto
the other.

Now learne the parable of the figge tree,
wh<sup>e</sup> her bough is yet tender, & it bringeth li-
for the leaues, ye knowe y<sup>e</sup> sommer is nere.

So likewise ye, wh<sup>e</sup> ye se all these things,
knowe that the kingdome of God is nere, euen
at the dores.

Verely I say vnto you, this generation
shal not passe, til all these things be done.

Heauen and earth shal passe away: but
my wordes shal not passe away.

But of that day and houre knoweth no man, no not the Angels of heauen, but my Father onely.

But as the dayes of Noe were, so likewise
shal the comming of the Sonne of ma be.

For as in the dayes before the flood they did eat and drinke, mary and giue in ma-riage, vnto the day that Noe entred into the Arke,

And knewe nothing, til the flood came,
and toke them all awaye, so shal also the comming of the Sonne of man be.

The two men shalbe in the fields, the one shalbe receiued, and the other shalbe refused.

Two women shalbe grinding at the mille, the one shalbe receiued, & the other shal-
be refused.

Wake therefore: for ye knowe not what houre your master wil come.

Of this be sure, that if the good man of the house knewe at what watche the thief
wolde come, he wolde surely watche,
and not suffre his house to be digged
through.

Therefore be ye also readie: for in the houre that ye thinke not, wil the Sonne of man come.

Who then is a faithful seruant & wife,
whome his master hath made ruler ouer
his householde, to giue the meat in season?

Blessed is that seruāt whome his master,
when he cometh, shal finde so doing.

Verely I say vnto you, he shal make him
ruler ouer all his goods:

But if that euil seruāt shal say in his heart, My master doeth deferre his coming,

And begin to smite his felowes, and to eat and to drinke with the drunken,

That seruants master wil come in a day,
when he loketh not for him, & in an houre

Conspiracie of the Priests against Christ. 20 He ex
cussith Magdalene. 26 The institution of the Lords supper. 31 The disciples weakenes. 45 The trason
of Iudas. 62 The sword. 64 Because Christ calleth himself the Sonne of God, he is iudged worthis to dye.
69 Peter denieth, and repenteth.

And * it came to passe, whē Iesus had finished all these sayings, he said vn
to his disciples,
Ye knowe that within two dayes is the Passeouer, and the Sonne of man shalbe
deliuered to be crucified.
* Then assembled together y<sup>e</sup> chief Priests and the Scribes, and the Elders of the people into the hall of the high Priest, cal led Caiaphas,
And consulted how they might take Ie
sus by subtiltie, and kill him.
But they said, Not on the feast day, lest
anie vprore be among the people.
* And when Iesus was in Bethania, in the house of Simon the leper,
There came vnto him a womā, which had a boxe of verie costelie ointemēt, & pow
red it on his head, as he sate at the table.
And whē his disciples sawe it, thei had bin
dignation, saying, What neded this wastē?
For this ointment might haue bene solde
for muche, and bene giuen to the poore.
To And Iesus knowing it, said vnto them,
Why trouble ye the woman? for she hathe
wroght a good worke vpon me.
* For ye haue the poore alwayes with you,
but me shal ye not haue alwayes.
For in that she powred this ointment on my bodie, she did it to<sup>d</sup> burye me.
Verely I say vnto you, Where soeuer this Gospel shalbe preached, throughout all y<sup>e</sup>

worlde, there shal also this that she hathe
done, be spoken of for a memorial of her.
* Then one of the twelue, called Iudas
Isariot, went vnto the chief Priests,
And said, What wil ye giue me, and I wil
deliuer him vnto you? and they appointed vnto him thirtie<sup>o</sup> pieces of siluer.
And from that time, he sought opportu nity to betraye him.
* Now on y<sup>e</sup> first day of the feast of vn
leavened bread y<sup>e</sup> disciples came to Iesus, saying vnto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the Passeouer?
And he said, Go into the citie to suche a man, & say to him, The master saith, My time is at hand: I wil kepe the Passeouer
at thine house with my disciples.
And the disciples did as Iesus had giuen
them charge, and made ready the Passe
ouer.
* So when the euen was come, he sate
downe with the twelue.
And as they did eat, he said, Verely I say
vnto you, that one of you shal betraye me.
And they were excedding sorowful, and began euerie one of them to say vnto him,
Is it I, Master?
And he answered and said, He that s<sup>d</sup> dip
peth his hand with me in the dish, he shal
betraye me.
Surely the Sonne of man goeth his way,
as it is written of him: but wo be to that man, by whome the Sonne of man is be trayed: it had bene good for that mā, if he had neuer bene borne.
Then Iudas which betrayed him, answer ed, and said, Is it I, Master? He said vnto him, Thou hast said it.
* And as they did eat, Iesus toke the bread: and when he had giuen thanks, he brake it, and gaue it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat: this is my bodie.
Also he toke y<sup>e</sup> cup, & when he had giuen
thanks, he gaue it them, saying, Drinke
ye all of it.
For this is my<sup>k</sup> blood of the Newe tes tament, that is shed for manie, for the re mission of sinnes.
I say vnto you, that I wil not drinke
hence forth of this frute of the vine vntil that day, when I shal drinke it newe with you in my Fathers kingdom.
And when they had sung a psalme, they
went out into the mount of oliues.
* Then said Iesus vnto them, All ye shal be<sup>o</sup> offended by me this night: for it is written, I<sup>o</sup> wil smite the shepherd, and
the shepe of the flocke shalbe scatterd.
But * after I am risen againe, I wil go before you into Galile.
But Peter answered, and said vnto him,
* Though that all men shulde be offended
by thee, yet wil I neuer be offended.

CHAP. XXVII.

Christ is deliuered vnto Pilate. s Iudas hangeth him self. 24 Christ is pronounced innocent by the iudge, and yet is condemned, and crucified among thieves. 26 He prayeth vpon the crosse. 32 The vaille is rent. 33 The dead bodies arise. 37 Ioseph buryeth Christ. 64 Watchmen kepe the graue.

When the morning was come, all the chief Priests, & the Elders of the people toke counsel against Iesus, to put him to death,

And led him away bounde, and deliuered
him vnto Pontius Pilate the gouernour.

Then when Iudas which betrayed him,
sawe that he was condemned, he repented him self, and broght againe the thir-
tie pieces of siluer to the chief Priests, and Elders,

Saying, I haue sinned betraying the innocēt blood. But they said, What is that to vs? se thou to it.

And whē he had cast downe the siluer pieces in the Temple, he departed, and went,
and hanged him self.

And the chief Priests toke the siluer pieces, and said, It is not lawful for vs to put them into the treasure, because it is the price of blood.

And they toke counsel, and boght with them a potters field, for the buryal of strangers.

Wherefore that field is called, * the field
of blood, vntil this day.

(Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Ieremias the Prophet, saying, * And they toke thirtie siluer pieces, the price of him that was valued, whome they of the children of Israel valued.

And they gaue them for the potters field,
as the Lord appointed me.)

* And Iesus stode before the gouernour,
and the gouernour asked him, saying, Art thou the King of y Iewes? Iesus said vnto him, Thou saist it.

And when he was accused of the chief
Priests and Elders, he answered nothing.

The said Pilate vnto him, Hearst thou now many things they laye against thee?

But he answered him not to one worde,
in so muche that the gouernour maruei-
led greatly.

Now at the feast, y gouernour was wont
to deliuer vnto the people a prisoner,
whome they wolde.

And they had the notable prisoner, called Barabbas.

* When they were then gathered together, Pilate said vnto them, Whether wil
ye that I let loose vnto you Barabbas, or Iesus which is called Christ?

(For he knewe wel, that for enuie they had deliuered him.)

Also whē he was set downe vpo the iudge-mēt seat, his wife sent to him, saying, Haue thou nothing to do with that iuste man:
for I haue suffered many things this day in a dreame by reason of him.)

* But the chief Priests & the Elders had persuaded the people that they shulde aske
Barabbas, and shulde destroy Iesus.

Then the gouernour answered, and said
vnto them, Whether of the twaine wil ye that I let loose vnto you? And they said, Barabbas.

Pilate said vnto them, What shal I do
then with Iesus which is called Christ?
Thei all said to him, Let him be crucified.

Then said the gouernour, But what euil hathe he done? Then thei cryed the more,
saying, Let him be crucified.

When Pilate sawe that he auailed nothing, but that more tumulte was made, he toke water and wasshed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this iust man: loke you to it.

Then answered all the people, and said,
His blood be on vs, and on our children.

Thus let he Barabbas loose vnto them,
and scourged Iesus, and deliuered him to be crucified.

* The souldiours of the gouernour
toke Iesus into the commune hall, and gathered about him the whole bande.

And thei stripped him, & put vpon him a scarlet robe,

And platted a crowne of thornes, and put it vpo his head, and a rede in his right hand, and bowed their knees before him,
and mocked him, saying, God saue thee
King of the Iewes,

And spited vpon him, and toke a rede,
and smote him on the head.

Thus when they had mocked him, they
toke the robe from him, and put his owne raiment on him, and led him away to cru-cifie him.

* And as they came out, they founde a man of Cyrene, named Simon: him they compelled to beare his crosse.

* And when they came vnto the place cal-

35 ¶ And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, & did cast lottes, that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, * They deuider my garments among them, and vpon my vesture did cast lottes.

36 And they sate, and watched him there.

37 ¶ They set vp also ouer his head his cause written, ° THIS IS IESVS THE KING OF THE IEWES.

38 ¶ And there were two thieues crucified with him, one on the right hand, and another on the left.

39 And they that passed by, reuiled him, wagging their heads,

40 And saying, * Thou that destroyest the Temple, and buydest it in three dayes, saue thy self: if thou be the Sonne of God, come downe from the crosse.

41 Likewise also the hie Priests mocking him, with the Scribes, and Elders, and Pharises, said,

42 He saued others, but he can not saue himself: if he be the King of Israel, let him now come downe from the crosse, and we wil beleue him.

43 * Her trusteth in God, let him deliuer him now, if he wil haue him: for he said, I am the Sonne of God.

44 That same also the thieues which were crucified with him, cast in his teeth.

45 Now from the sixt houre was there darkenes ouer all the land, vnto the ninth houre.

46 And about the ninth houre Iesus cryed with a loude voyce, sayig, * Eli, Eli, lama sabachani: that is, * My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

47 And some of them that stode there, whē they heard it, said, This man calleth Elias.

48 And straight way one of them ran, and toke a sponge, and filled it with vineger, and put it on a rede, and gaue him to drinke.

49 Other said, Let be: let vs se, if Elias wil come and saue him.

50 Then Iesus cryed againe with a loude voyce, and yelded vp the goft.

51 And beholde, * the vaile of the Temple was rent in twayne, from the top to the botome, and the earth did quake, and the stones were clouen,

52 And the graues did open them selues, & many bodies of the Sainctes which slept, arose,

53 And came out of the graues after his resurrection, and went into the holie Citie, and appeared vnto many.

54 When the Centurion, & they that were with him watching Iesus, sawe the earthquake, and the things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Sonne of God.

55 ¶ And many women were there, beholding him a farre of, which had followed Iesus from Galile, ministring vnto him.

56 Among whome was Marie Magdalene, and Marie the mother of Iames & Ioseph, and the mother of Zebedeus sonnes.

57 ¶ And when the euen was come, there came a riche man of Arimathea, named Ioseph, who had also him self bene Iesus disciple.

58 He went to Pilate, and asked the bodie of Iesus. Then Pilate commanded the bodie to be deliuered.

59 So Ioseph toke the bodie, and wrapped it in a cleane linnen cloth,

60 And put it in his newe trombe, which he had hewen out in a rocke, & rolled a great stone to the dore of the sepulchre, and departed.

61 And there was Marie Magdalene, and the other Marie sitting ouer against the sepulchre.

62 ¶ Now the next day that followed the Preparation of the Sabbath, the hie Priests and Pharises assembled to Pilate,

The office, doctrine & life of Iohn the Baptiste. 9 Christ

cleaseth the leper, and healeth diuers others.

He a beginning of the Gospel of Iesus Christ,
the Sonne of God:
As it is written in the Prophetes, * Beholde, I send my messenger before thy face, which shal
prepare thy way before thee.

* The voyce of him that cryeth in y wil-dernes, * Prepare the way of the Lord:
make his paths straight.
* Iohn did baptize in the wildernes, and preache the baptisme of amendement
of life, for remission of sinnes.
And all the country of Iudea, and they
of Ierusalem went out vnto him, and were
all baptized of him in the riuier Iordan,
confessing their sinnes.
Now Iohn was clothed with camels heere, and with a girdle of a skinne about his loines: and he did eat * locustes & wilde
honie,
And preached, saying, A stronger then I cometh after me, whose shoes I latcher I am not worthie to stoupe downe, & vnloose.

13 Saying, Say, His disciples came by night
and stole him away while we slept.
14 And if y gouernour heare of this, we will persuade him, and saue you harmeles.
15 So they toke the money, & did as they were taught: and this saying is noised
among the Iewes vnto this day.
16 ¶ Then the eleuen disciples went into Galile, into a mountaine, where Iesus had appointed them.
17 And when they sawe him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.
18 And Iesus came, and spake vnto them, saying, * All power is giuen vnto me in heaven, and in earth.
19 * Go therefore, and teache all nacions,
baptizing them in the Name of the Father, and the Sonne, and the holie Gost, 20 Teaching them to obserue all things, whatsoeuer I haue commanded you: &
lo, * I am with you alway, vntil the end of the worlde, Amen.

8 Trueth it is, I haue * baptized you with water: but he will baptize you with the holie Gost.
9 ¶ * And it came to passe in those dayes,
that Iesus came from Nazaret a citie of Galile, and was baptized of Iohn in Iordan.
10 And assone as he was come out of the water, Iohn sawe the heavens clothen in twaine, and the holie Gost descending vpon him like a doue.
11 Then there was a voyce from heauen, saying, Thou art my beloued Sonne, in whome I am wel pleased.
12 * And immediatly the Spirit driueh
him into the wildernes.
13 And he was there in the wildernes fortie daies, and was tempted of Satan: he was also with the wilde beafts, and the Angels
ministred vnto him.
14 ¶ * Now after that Iohn was committed to prison, Iesus came into Galile, preaching
the Gospel of the kingdome of God, 15 And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdome of God is at hand: repent
and beleue the Gospel.
16 ¶ * And as he walked by the sea of Ga-
lile, he sawe Simon, and Andrewe his brother, casting a nette into the sea, (for they were fishers.)
17 The Iesus said vnto them, Followe me,

Saying, Ah, what haue we to do with thee, o Iesus of Nazaret? Art thou come to destroy vs? I knowe thee what thou art, euen that holie one of God.

m Christ wol-

the father of

And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

And the vnclane spirit tare him, and cryed with a loude voyce, and came out
of him:

And they were all amased, so that they demanded one of another, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this?
for he commandeth the foule spirits with authoritie, and they obey him.

And immediately his fame spred abroad throughout all the region bordering on Galile.

¶ And assonne as they were come out of the Synagogue, they entred into the hou-

Iohn.

And Simons wiues mother in law laye

of her.

And he came & toke her by the hand, &
lift her vp, and the feuer forsoke her by &

And when euen was come, and the sunne
was downe, they brought to him all that were diseased, and them that were posses-

And the whole citie was gathered toge-

And he healed manie that were sick of diuers diseases: and he cast out manie deu-

o Christ wolde

And in the morning verie earely, before

And Simon, and they that were with him,
followed after him.

And when they had founde him, they said vnto him, All men seke for thee.

Then he said vnto them, Let vs go into the next townes, that I may preache there also; for I came out for that purpose.

And he preached in their Synagogues,
throughout all Galile, and cast the deuils
out.

¶ And there came a leper to him, beseching him, and kneeled downe vnto him, &
said to him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

And Iesus had compasion, and put for-

to him, I wil be thou cleane.

And assonne as he had spoken, immedi-

was made cleane.

And after he had giuen him a streit

And said vnto him, Se thou say nothing
to anie man, but get thee hence, & shew thy self to the Priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things, which Moses commanded, for a testimonial vnto them.

But when he was departed, he beganne
to tel manie things, and to publish the matter: so that Iesus coulde no more openly enter into the citie, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from euery quarter.

he taught them.

And as Iesus passed by, he sawe Leuithe
sonne of Alpheus sit at the receite of custome, & said vnto him, Followe me. And he arose and followed him.

And it came to passe, as Iesus sate at table in his house, many Publicanes & sinners sate at table also wth Iesus, & his disciples: for there were many y<sup>e</sup> followed him.

And when the Scribes and Pharises sawe him eat with y<sup>e</sup> Publicanes & sinners, they said vnto his disciples, How is it, that he eateth and drinketh with Publicanes and sinners?

Now when Iesus heard it, he said vnto them, The whole haue no nede of the physicion, but the sicke.* I came not to call the righteous, but the sinners to repentance.

And the disciples of Iohn, & the Phari-
ses did fast, and came and said vnto him, Why do the disciples of Iohn and of the Pharises fast, and thy disciples fast not?

And Iesus said vnto them, Can the children of the mariage chamber fast, whiles
the bridegrome is with them? as long as they haue the bridegrome with them, they can not fast.

But the dayes wil come, when the bridegrome shalbe taken from them, and then shal they fast in those dayes.

Also no mā soweth a peece of new cloth
in an olde garment: for els the new peece
taketh away the filling vp from the olde,
and the breache is worse.

Likewise, no man putteth new wine into
olde vessels: for els the new wine breaketh
the vessels, and the wine runneth out, and the vessels are lost: but new wine must be put into new vessels.

* And it came to passe as he wēt through the corne on the Sabbath day, that his disciples, as they went on their way, began to plucke the eares of corne.

And the Pharises said vnto him, Beholde, why do they on the Sabbath day, that which is not lawfull?

25 And he said to them, Haue ye neuer
red what Dauid did, when he had nede;
and was an hungred, both he, and they that were with him?

26 How he went into the house of God, in the dayes of Abiathar the hie Priest, and did eat the shewe bread, which were not lawfull to eat, but for the Priests, and gaue
also to them which were with him?

27 And he said to them, The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath.

28 Wherefore the Sonne of man is Lord,
euen of the Sabbath.

CHAP. III.

1 He healeth the man with the dried hand. 14 He cho-seth his Apostles. 21 Christ is thoght of the worldlings to be besides him self. 22 He casteth out the vncleane spirits, which the Pharises ascribe vnto the deuil.
29 Blasphemie against the holie Ghost. 35 The brother,
sister and mother of Christ.

And he entred againe into the Synagogue, and there was a man which had a withered hand.

2 And they watched him, whether he wolde
heale him on the Sabbath day, that they might accuse him.

3 Then he said vnto the man which had the withered hand, Arise: stand forth in the middes.

4 And he said to them, Is it lawfull to do a good dede on the Sabbath day, or to do euill: to saue y<sup>e</sup> life, or to kill? But thei helde their peace.

5 Then he loked rounde about on them bangerly, mourning also for the hardenes of their hearts, and said to the man, Stretch forth thine hād. And he stretched it out:
and his hand was restored, as whole as the other.

¶ And the Pharises departed, & straightwaye gathered a councel with the Herodi-ans against him, that they might de-stroye him.

7 But Iesus auoyded with his disciples to the sea: and a great multitude followed him from Galile, and from Iudea,

8 And from Ierusalem, and from Idumea,
and beyonde Iordan: and they that dwelled about Tyrus and Sidon, when thei had heard what great things he did, came vnto
him in great number.

9 And he commanded his disciples, that a ship shulde waite for him, because of the multitude, lest they shulde throng him.

10 For he had healed many, insomuche that they preassed vpon him, to touche him as many as had plagues.

11 And when the vncleane spirits sawe him,
they fel downe before him, and cryed, saying, Thou art the Sonne of God.

12 And he sharply rebuked the, to the end
they shulde not viter him.

But they that haue receiued fede in good

and receiue it, and bring forth the frute, one

¶ Also he said vnto them, * Is e the can-vnder the table, and not to be put on a candlestick?

* For there is nothing hid, that shal not be opened: neither is there a secret, but that it shal come to light.

If any man haue eares to heare, let him
heare.

And he said vnto them, Take hede what it shalbe measured vnto you: & vnto you that heare, shal more be giuen.

For vnto him that hathe, shal it be giue,
and from him that hathe not, shalbe taken away, euen that he hathe.

¶ Also he said, So is the kingdome of God, as if a man shulde cast fede in the
grounde,

And shulde slepe, and rise vp night and day, and the fede shulde spring and grow
vp, he not knowing how.

For the earth bringeth forth the frute of her self, first the blade, then the eares, after that ful come in the eares.

And as sone as the frute sheweth it self,
anone he putteth in the sickle, because the haruest is come.

¶ He said moreover, Whereunto shal
we liken the kingdome of God? or with what comparison shal we compare it?

It is like a graine of mustarde fede, which when it is sowed in the earth, is the least of all fedes that be in the earth:

But after that it is sowed, it groweth vp,
and is greatest of all herbes, and beareth
great braches, so that the fowles of heauen
may builde vnder the shadow of it.

¶ And with many suche parables he preached the worde vnto them, as they were able to heare it.

And without parables spake he nothing
vnto them; but he expounded all things to his disciples aparte.

¶ Now the same day when euen was come, he said vnto them, Let vs passe ouer
vnto the other side.

And they left the multitude, and toke
him as he was in the ship: and there were also with him other shippes.

And there arose a great storme of winde,

& the waues, dashed into the ship, so that it was now ful.

And he was in the sterne a slepe on a pillowe: and they awoke him, and said to him, Master, carest thou not that we perish?

And he rose vp, and rebuked the winde,
and said vnto the sea, Peace, and be stil.
So the winde ceased, and it was a great calme.

Then he said vnto them, Why are ye so
feareful? how is it that ye haue no faith?

And they feared exceedingly, & said one to another, Who is this, that bothe the winde and the sea obey him?

And they went out and preached, that

And they call out manie deuils: and they * Then King Herode heard of him (for his name was spred abroad) & said, Iohn Baptist is risen againe frō the dead: & therefore great workes are wrought by him.

Other said, It is Elias: and some said, It is a Prophet, or as one <sup>k</sup> of the Prophetes.

* So when Herode heard it, he said, It is Iohn whome I beheaded: he is <sup>i</sup> risen frō
the dead.

For Herode him self had sent forth, &
had taken Iohn, and bounde him in prison
for Herodias sake, which was his brother
Philippes wife, because he had married her.

For Iohn said vnto Herode, <sup>e</sup> It is not lawful for thee to haue thy brothers wife.

Therefore Herodias had a quarel against him, & wolde haue killed him, but he colde not:

For Herode feared Iohn, knowing that he was a iuste man, and an holie, and reuerenced him, & when he heard him, he did manie things, and <sup>a</sup> heard him gladly.

But the time being conuenient, when Herode on his birth day made a banquet
to his princes & captaines, and chief estates of Galile:

And the daughter of the same Herodias
came in and danced, and pleased Herode and them that sate at table together, the King said vnto <sup>y</sup> maide, Aske of me what thou wilt, and I wil giue it thee.

And he sware vnto her, Whatsoeuer
thou shalt aske of me, I wil giue it thee,
euen vnto the halfe of my kingdome.

* So she went forth, and said to her mother, What shal I aske? And she said, Iohn Baptists head.

Thē she came in straight way with haste

vnto the King, and asked, saying, I wolde
that thou shuldest giue me euen now in a charger the head of Iohn Baptist.

26 Then the King was verie forye: yet for his othes sake, and for their sakes which sate at table with him, he wolde not refuse her.

27 And immediatly the King sent the hā-
man, and gaue charge that his head shul-de be broght. So he went & beheaded him
in the prison,

28 And broght his head in a charger, and
gaue it to the <sup>e</sup> maide, and the maide gaue
it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples heard it, they came and toke vp his <sup>a</sup> bodie, and put it in a tombe.

30 * And the Apostles gathered them sel-ues together to Iesus, and <sup>a</sup> tolde him all things, bothe what they had done, & what they had taught.

And he said vnto them, Come ye aparte
into the wildernes, <sup>e</sup> and reste a while: for there were manie commers & goers, that they had not leasure to eat.

32 * So they went by ship out of the way in-
to a desert place.

33 But the people saw thē when they departed, & manie knewe him, & ranne a foote
thither out of all cities, and came thither
before them, and assembled vnto him.

34 * Then Iesus went out, and sawe a great multitude, and had cōpassion on them, because they were like <sup>e</sup> shepe which had no
shepherde: <sup>a</sup> and he began to teache them
manie things.

35 * And when the day was now farre spent,
his disciples came vnto him, saying, This is a desert place, and now the day is farre passed.

36 Let them departe, that they may go into the villages and townes about, & bye thē
bread: for they haue nothing to eat.

37 But he answered, & said vnto them, Giue ye them to eat. And thei said vnto him,
Shal we go and bye <sup>e</sup> two hundreddenie

38 * Then he said vnto them, How manie loaves haue ye? go and loke. And whē thei knewe it, they said, Fiue, and two fishes.

39 So he commanded them, to make them
all sit downe by <sup>e</sup> companies vpon the gre-

40 Then they sate downe by <sup>e</sup> rowes, by hu-

disciples to set before them; and the two fishes he deuided among them all.

¶ The disciples eat with vnwashed hands. ¶ The commandement of God is transgressed by mans traditions. 22 What defileth man. 24 Of the woman of Syrophenissa. 32 The healing of the domme. 37 The people graße Christ.

Mat. 15. 2.

¶ Then * gathered vnto him the Pharises, and certeine of the Scribes which came from Ierusalem.

¶ The Pharisees wolde not eat with vnwashed hands, because they thought that the commune handling of things defiled them, so that they made holines and religion to depend in hands washing. ¶ Or contentiously, struing to wash best.

2 And when they sawe some of his disciples eat meat with cōmune * hands, (that is to say vnwashed) they complained.

3 (For the Pharises, & all the Iewes, except they wash their hāds <sup>b</sup> oft, eat not, holding the tradition of the Elders.

4 And when they come from the market, except they washe, they eat not: and manie other things there be, which they haue taken vpon them to obserue, as the washing of cuppes, and * pottes, and of brassen vessels, and of tables.)

5 Then asked him the Pharises and Scribes, Why walke not thy disciples according to the tradition of the Elders, but eat * meat with vnwashed hands?

6 Then he answered and said vnto them, Surely * Elai hathe prophesied wel of you, hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoreth me with their * lippes, but their heart is farre away from me.

7 But they worship me in vaine, teaching for doctrines the * cōmandements of men.

8 For ye laye the cōmandement of God aparte, and obserue the tradition of men, as the washing of pottes and of cuppes, & manie other suche like things ye do.

9 And he said vnto them, Wel, ye reiect the cōmandement of God that ye may obserue your owne tradition.

10 For Moses said, * Honour thy father, and thy mother: &, * Whosoever shal curse father or mother, let him <sup>e</sup> dye the death.

11 But ye say, If a man say to father or mother, Corban, <sup>that is</sup> By the gift that is offered by me, thou maist haue profited, <sup>he</sup> shal be free.

12 So ye suffre him no more to do anie thing for his father, or his mother,

13 Making the worde of God of none autoritie, by your tradition which ye haue ordeined: and ye do manie suche like things.

14 ¶ Then he called the whole multitude vnto him, and said vnto them, Heare ye you all vnto me, and vnderstand.

15 There is nothing without a man, that can defile him, when it entrech into him: but the things which procede out of him, are they which defile the man.

16 If anie haue eares to heare, let <sup>h</sup> him heare.

17 And when he came into an house away from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.

18 And he said vnto the, What are ye without vnderstanding also? Do ye not knowe that whatsoeuer thing from without entrech into a man, can not defile him,

19 Because it entrech not into his heart, but into the bellie, and goeth out into the draught which is y<sup>e</sup> purging of all meates?

20 Then he said, That which cometh out of man, that defileth man.

21 ¶ For frō within, euen out of the heart of men, procede euill thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders,

22 Theftes, couetousnes, wickednes, disceite, vnclennes, a wicked eye, backebiting, pride, foolishnes.

23 All these euill things come from within, and defile a man.

24 ¶ And from thence he rose, and went into the borders of Tyrus and Sidon, and entred entred into an house, a man shulde haue knowen, and be hid.

25 For a certeine woman ther had an vnclane spirit, and came, and fell at his feet.

26 (And the woman was phenisian by nation) that he wolde cast out her daughter.

27 But Iesus said vnto her, dremfirst be fed: for it is the childrens bread, and I whelpes.

28 Then she answered, a Trueth, Lord: yet in de vnder the table of the mes.

29 Then he said vnto her, go thy way: the deuil daughter.

30 And when she was in house, she founde the daughter liying on.

¶ And he departed agast of Tyrus and Sidon, the sea of Galile, thro the coasts of Decapolis.

31 And they brought vnto deafe, and stambred in.

32 Then he toke him as multitude, and put his finger,

33 And spak, and touched his eares, and said vnto him, Ephphata.

(And the woman was a Greke, a Syrophenician by nation) & she besought him that he wolde cast out the deuill out of her daughter.

But Iesus said vnto her, Let the children first be fed: for it is not good to take the childrens bread, and to cast it vnto the whelpes.

Then she answered, and said vnto him, True, Lord: yet in dede the whelpes eat vnder the table of the childrens crommes.

Then he said vnto her, For this saying go thy way: the deuill is gone out of thy daughter.

And when she was come home to her house, the founde the deuill departed, and her daughter lying on the bed.

And he departed againe from the coasts of Tyrus and Sidon, and came vnto the sea of Galile, through the middes of the coasts of Decapolis.

And they brought vnto him one that was deafe, and stambred in his speache, and prayed him to put his hand vpon him.

Then he toke him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers in his eares, and did spit, and touched his tongue.

And looking vp to heauen, he sighed, & said vnto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened.

And straight way his eares were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plaine.

And he comanded them, that thei shulde tell no man: but how muche soeuer he forbad them, the more a great deale they published it.

The miracle of the seuen loaves. 11 The Pharises aske a signe. 12 The leauen of the Pharises. 22 The blinde receiueth his sight. 29 He was knowne of his disciples. 33 He reproveth Peter, 34 And sheweth how necessary persecution is.

In those dayes, when there was a verie great multitude, and had nothing to eat, Iesus called his disciples to him, and said vnto them,

I haue a compassio on the multitude, because they haue now continued with me three daies, and haue nothing to eat.

And if I send them away fasting to their owne houses, they wolde faint by the way:

for some of them came from farre.

Then his disciples answered him, How can a man satisfie these with bread here in the wilderness?

And he asked them, How manie loaves haue ye? And they said, Seuen.

Then he commanded the multitude to sit downe on the ground: and he toke the seuen loaves, & gaue thanks, brake them, & gaue to his disciples to set before them, and they did set them before the people.

Thei had also a fewe smale fishes: & when he had giuen thanks, he commanded the also to be set before them.

So they did eat, and were sufficed, and they toke vp of the broken meat that was left, seuen baskets ful.

(And thei that had eaten, were about foure thousand) so he sent them away.

And anon he entred into a ship with his disciples, and came into the parties of Dalmanutha.

And the Pharises came forth, and beganne to dispute with him, seeking of him a signe from heauen, and tempting him.

Then he sighed deeply in his spirit, & said, Why doeth this generation seke a signe? Verely I say vnto you, a signe shall not be giuen vnto this generation.

So he left them, & went into the ship againe, and departed to the other side.

And thei had forgotte to take bread, neither had thei in the ship with them, but one loafe.

And he charged them, saying, Take heed, and beware of the leauen of the Pharises, and of the leauen of Herode.

And they thought among them selues, saying, It is, because we haue no bread.

And when Iesus knewe it, he said vnto them, Why reason you thus because ye haue no bread? perceiue ye not yet, neither vnderstand? haue ye your hearts yet hardened?

Haue ye eyes and see not? and haue ye eares, and heare not? & do ye not remeber?

When I brake the five loaves among five thousand, how manie baskets ful of broken meat toke ye vp? They said vnto him, Twelue.

And when I brake seuen among foure thousand, how manie baskets of the leaues of broken meat toke ye vp? And thei said, Seuen.

Then he said vnto them, How is it that ye vnderstand not?

And he came to Bethsaida, & thei brought a blinde man vnto him, and desired him to touche him.

Then he toke the blinde by the hand, & led him out of the towne, and spit in his eyes, and put his hands vpon him, & asked him, if he sawe ought.

And straight way the father of the childe crying with teares, said, Lord, I beleue: helpe my vnbeliefe.

When Iesus sawe that the people came running together, he rebuked the vnclane spirit, saying vnto him, Thou domme & deafe spirit, I charge thee, come out of him, and entre no more into him.

Then the spirit cryed, and rent him sore, and came out, and he was as one dead, in so muche that manie said, He is dead.

But Iesus toke his hand and lift him vp and he rose.

And whē he was come into the house, his disciples asked him secretly, Why coldest thou we cast him out?

And he said vnto them, This kinde can by no other meanes come forth, but by prayer, and fasting.

* And they departed thence, and went through Galile, & he wolde not that anie shulde haue knowen it.

For he taught his disciples, and said vnto them, The Sonne of man shal be deliuered into the hands of men, and they shal kill him, but after that he is killed, he shal rise againe the third day.

But they vnderstode not that saying, and were afraide to aske him.

* After he came to Capernaum: and whē he was in the house, he asked them, What was it y ye disputed amōg you by the way?

And thei held their peace: for by the way they reasoned among them selues, who shulde be the chiefeist.

And he satte downe, and called the twelve, and said to them, If anie man desire to be first, the same shalbe last of all, and seruant vnto all.

And he toke a litle childe and set him in the middes of them, and toke him in his armes, and said vnto them,

Whosoever shal receiue one of suche litle children in my Name, receiue me: and whosoever receiuer me, receiue me not me, but him that sent me.

* Then Iohn answered him, saying, Master, we sawe one casting out deuils by thy Name, which followeth not vs, & we forbade him, because he followeth vs not.

* But Iesus said, Forbid him not: for the

For whosoever is not against vs, is on our parte.

* And whosoever shal giue you a cup of water to drinke for my Names sake, because ye belong to Christ, verely I say vnto you, he shal not lose his rewarde.

* And whosoever shal offend one of these litle ones, that beleue in me, it were better for him rather, that a millstone were hanged about his necke, and that he were cast into the sea.

* Wherefore if thine hand cause thee to offend, cut it of: it is better for thee to entre into life, maimed, the hauing two hads, to go into hel into the fyre that neuer shal be quenched,

Likewise, if thy foote cause thee to offend, cut it of: it is better for thee to go halt into life, then hauing two feete to be cast into hel into the fyre that neuer shalbe quenched,

Where their worme dyeth not, and the fyre neuer goeth out.

And if thine eye cause thee to offend, plucke it out: it is better for thee to go into the kingdome of God with one eye, the hauing two eyes, to be cast into hel fyre,

Where their worme dyeth not, and the fyre neuer goeth out.

For euerie man shal be salted with fyre: and * euerie sacrifice shalbe salted with salte.

10 And in the house his disciples asked him againe of that matter.

11 And he said vnto the, * Whosoever shal put away his wife and marie another,<sup>b</sup> committeth adulterie against her.

12 And if a womā put away her husband, & be maried to another, she committeth adulterie.

13 ¶ Then they brought litle childre to him that he shulde touche them: and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

14 But when Iesus sawe it, he was displeased, and said to them, Suffre the litle childre to come vnto me, & forbid them not: for of such is the kingdome of God.

15 Verely I say vnto you, Whosoever shal not receiue the kingdome of God as <sup>c</sup> a litle childe, he shal not entre therein.

16 And he toke them vp in his armes, & put his hands vpon them, and <sup>d</sup> blessed them.

17 ¶ And when he was gone out on the way, there came one<sup>e</sup> running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shal I do, that I may possesse eternal life?

18 Iesus said to him, Why callest thou me good? there is none <sup>e</sup> good but one, euen God.

19 Thou knowest the comandemēts, * Thou shalt not commit adulterie. Thou shalt not kil. Thou shalt not steale. Thou shalt not beare false witness. Thou shalt honour thy father and mother.

20 Then he answered, and said to him, Master, all these things I haue obserued from my youth.

21 And Iesus behelde him, and <sup>f</sup> loued him, and said vnto him, One thing is lacking vnto thee, Go <sup>g</sup> & sell all that thou hast, and giue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come, follow me, and take vp the crosse.

22 But he was sad at that saying, and went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions.

23 And Iesus looked rounde about, and said vnto his disciples, How hardely do they that haue riches, entre into the kingdome of God!

24 And his disciples were astonied at his wordes. But Iesus answered againe, and said vnto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches, to entre into the kingdome of God!

25 It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, then for a riche man to entre into the kingdome of God.

26 And they were muche more astonied, saying with them selues, Who then can be saved?

27 But Iesus looked vpo them, & said, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible.

28 ¶ The Peter began to say vnto him, Lo, we haue forsake all, & haue followed thee.

29 Iesus answered, and said, Verely I say vnto you, there is no man that hath forsaken house or brethren or sisters, or father or mother, or wife, or children, or lands for my sake and the Gospels,

30 But he shal receiue an hundredfold now at this present: houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands with persecutions, & in the worlde to come, eternal life.

31 * But manie that are <sup>h</sup> first, shalbe last, and the last, first.

32 ¶ And they were in the way going vp to Ierusalem, and Iesus went before them, & they were amazed, and as they followed, they were afraide, & Iesus toke the twelue againe, and began to tel them what things shulde come vnto him,

33 Saying, Beholde we go vp to Ierusalem, and the Sonne of man shalbe deliuered vnto the high Priests, & to the Scribes, and they shal condemne him to death, and shal deliuer him to the Gentiles.

34 And they shal mocke him, and & scourge him, and spit vpon him, and kil him: but the thirde day he shal rise againe.

35 ¶ The Iames and Iohn the sonnes of Zebedeus came vnto him, saying, Master, we wolde that thou shuldest do for vs that that we desire.

36 And he said vnto them, What wolde ye, I shulde do for you?

37 And they said to him, Grante vnto vs, that we may sit one at thy right hand, & the other at thy left hand in thy glorie.

38 But Iesus said vnto them, Ye knowe not what ye aske. Can ye <sup>i</sup> drinke of the cup that I shal drinke of, and be baptized with the baptisme that I shalbe aptized with?

39 And they said vnto him, We can. But Iesus said vnto them, Ye shal drinke in dede of the cup that I shal drinke of, and be baptized with the baptisme wherewith I shalbe baptized:

40 But to sit at my right hand & at my left, is not <sup>j</sup> mine to giue, but it shal be giuen to them for whome it is prepaed.

41 And when the ten heard that, they began to disdaine at Iames and Iohn.

42 But Iesus called them vnto him, and said to them, * Ye knowe that they which desire to beare rule among the Gentiles, haue dominie ouer them, and they that be great among them, exercise autoritie ouer them.

44 And whosoever wil be chief of you, shal
be the seruant of all.

45 For euen the Sonne of man came not to
be serued, but to serue, and to giue his life
for the ransom of manie.

46 ¶ Then they came to Iericho: and as he went out of Iericho with his disciples, and a great multitude, Bartimeus the sonne
of Timeus a blinde man, sat by the wayes side begging.

47 And when he heard that it was Iesus of Nazaret, he began to crye and to say, Iesus
the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me.

48 And manie rebuked him, because he shulde holde his peace: but he cryed much more, O Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie
on me.

49 Then Iesus stode stil, and commanded him to be called: and they called the blin-
de, saying vnto him, Be of good comfort:
arise, he calleth thee.

50 So he threwe away his cloke, and rose &
came to Iesus.

51 And Iesus answered, and said vnto him,
What wilt thou that I do vnto thee? And the blinde said vnto him, Lord, that I may receiue sight.

52 Then Iesus said vnto him, Go thy way:
thy faith hath saued thee. And by and by,
he receiued his sight, and followed Iesus in the way.

CHAP. XI.

1 Christ rideth to Ierusalem. 13 The figge tree dryeth
up. 15 The biers and sellers are cast out of the Temple. 24 He declareth the vertue of faith and how we shulde pray. 27 The Pharisees question with Christ.

1 And ¶ when they came nere to Ierusalem, to Bethphage and Bethania vnto the mount of oliues, he sent forthe two of his disciples,

2 And said vnto them, ¶ Go your wayes into that towne that is oueragainst you, and asone as ye shal entre into it, ye shal finde
a colte bounde, whereon neuer man sate:
lose him and bring him.

3 And if anie man say vnto you, Why do ye
this? Say that the Lord hath nede of him, and straight way he wil send him hither.

4 And they went their way and founde a colte tied by the dore without, in a place
where two wayes met, and thei losted him.

5 Then certeine of them, that stode there,
said vnto the, What do ye losing y colte?

6 And they said vnto them, as Iesus had comanded them. So they let them go.

7 ¶ And they broght the colte to Iesus,
and cast their garments on him, and he sate vpon him.

8 And manie spred their garments in the way: other cut downe braches of the trees
and strawed them in the way.

9 And they that went before, and they that followed, cryed, saying, Hofanna: blessed

be he y cometh in the Name of the Lord.
10 Blessed be the kingdome that cometh in the Name of the Lord of our father ¶ Da-uid: Hofanna, o thou which art in the hiest heauens.

11 ¶ So Iesus entred into Ierusalem, and into the Temple: and when he had looked about on all things, & now it was euenig, he wet forthe vnto Bethania with the twelue.

12 ¶ And on the morow when they were come out from Bethania, he was hungrie.

13 And seing a figge tre a farre of, that had leaves, he went to se if he might finde any thing thereon: but whē he came vnto it, he founde nothing but leaues: for the time of figges was not yet.

14 Then Iesus answered, & said to it, ¶ Ne-
uer man eat frute of thee hereafter while the worlde standeth: and his disciples heard it.

15 ¶ And they came to Ierusalem, and Iesus
went into the Temple, and began to cast
out them that solde & bought in the Temple, and ouerthrew the tables of the money
changers, & the seates of them that solde
doves.

16 Nether wolde he suffer that any mā shul-
de cary a vessel through the Temple.

17 And he taught, saying vnto them, Is it not writtē, ¶ Mine House shalbe called the House of prayer vnto all nacions: but you
haue made it a denne of theues.

18 And the Scribes and hie Priests heard it,
and soght how to destroye him: for they feared him, because the whole multitude was astonied at his doctrine.

19 But when euen was come, Iesus went out of the citie.

20 ¶ And in the morning as they passed by, they sawe the figge tre dried vp from the rootes.

21 Then Peter remembred, and said vnto him, Master, beholde, the figge tre which thou cursedst, is withered.

22 And Iesus answered, and said vnto them,
Haue faith in God.

23 For verely I say vnto you, that whoso-uer shal say vnto this mountaine, Take thy self away, and cast thy self into the sea, and shal not wauer in his heart, but shal beleue
that those things which he saith, shal come to passe, whatsoeuer he saith, shalbe done
to him.

24 ¶ Therefore I say vnto you, whatsoeuer
ye desire when ye pray, beleue that ye shal
haue it, and it shalbe done vnto you.

25 ¶ But when ye shal stand, and pray, forgi-
ue, if ye haue any thing against any man, y your Father also which is in heauen, may
forgiue you your trespasses:

26 For if you wil not forgiue, your Father which is in heauē, wil not pardon you your trespasses.

CHAP. XII.

The vineyard is let out. 14 Obedience and tribute due to princes. 25 The resurrection of the dead. 28 The summe of the Law. 35 Christ the sonne of David. 38 Hypocrites must be eschewed. 41 The offering of the poore widow.

¶ And he began to speake vnto them in parables, * A certeine man planted a vineyard, and compassed it with an hedge, and digged a pit for the * winepresse, and buylt a towre in it, and let it out to housbandmen, and went into a strange countrey.

2 And at a time, he sent to the housbandmen a seruant, that he might receiue of the housbandmen of the frute of y vineyard.

3 But they toke him, and bet him, and sent him away empty.

4 And againe, he sent vnto them another seruant, and at him they cast stones, and brake his head, and sent him away shamefully handled.

5 And againe he sent another, & him they slewe, and manie other, beating some, and killing some.

6 Yet had he one sonne, his derebeloued: him also he sent the last vnto the, saying, They wil reuerence my sonne.

7 But the housbandmen said among the selues, This is the heire: come, let vs kil him, and the inheritance shal be ours.

8 So they toke him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 What shal then the Lord of the vineyard do? He wil come and destroye these housbandmen, and giue the vineyard to others.

10 Hauē ye not red so muche as this Scripture? * The stone which y buylders did refuse, is made the head of the corner.

11 This was done of the Lord, & it is marueilous in our eyes.

12 Then they went about to take him, but they feared the people: for they perceiued that he spake that parable against them: therefore they left him, & went their way.

13 ¶ And they sent vnto him certeine of the Pharises, and of the Herodians that they might take him in his talke.

14 And whē they came, they said vnto him, Master, we knowe that thou art true, & carest for no man: for thou considerest not the persone of me, but teachest the way of God truely. Is it lawfull to giue tribute to Cesar, or not?

15 Shulde we giue it, or shulde we not giue it? But he knewe their hypocrisie, and said vnto them, Why tempt ye me? Bring me a penie, that I may se it.

16 So they broght it, and he said vnto the, Whose is this image and superkription? and they said vnto him, Cefars.

17 Then Iesus answered, & said vnto them, Giue to Cesar the things that are Cefars, and to God, those that are Gods: and they marueiled at him.

18 ¶ Then came the Sadduces vnto him, (which say, there is no resurrection) and they asked him, saying,

19 Master, * Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mā brother dye, and leaue his wife, and leaue no children, that s his brother shulde take his wife, and raise vp sede vnto his brother.

20 There were seuen brethren, and the first toke a wife, and when he dyed, left no yssue.

21 Then the seconde toke her, and he dyed, nether did he yet leaue yssue, & the thirde likewise.

22 So seuen had her, and left no yssue: last of all the wife dyed also.

23 In the resurrection then, when they shal rise againe, whose wife shal she be of them? for seuen had her to wife?

24 Then Iesus answered, & said vnto them, Are ye not therefore deceiued, because ye knowe not the Scriptures, nether y power of God?

25 For when they shal rise againe from the dead, nether men mary, nor wiues are married, but are as the Angels which are in heauen.

26 And as touching the dead, that they shal rise againe, haue ye not red in the booke of Moses, how in the bush God spake vnto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob?

47 Then he called vnto him his disciples, and said vnto the, Verely I say vnto you, that this poore widowe hath cast more in, then all they which haue cast into the treasure.

48 For they all did cast in of their superfluitie: but she of her pouertie did cast in all that she had, euen all her liuing.

CHAP. XIII.

2 The destruction of Ierusalem. 10 The Gospel shalbe preached to all. 22 The persecutions and false Prophecies which shal be before the coming of Christ, whose houre is vncertaine. 33 He exhorteth every one to watch.

1 And * as he went out of the Temple, Mat. 24.1. Luk. 21.1. one of his disciples said vnto him, Master, se what stones, and what buyldings are here.

2 * Then Iesus answered and said vnto him, Luk. 19.45. Seest thou these great buyldings? there shal not be left one stone vpon a stone, that shal not be throwen downe.

3 And as he sate on y mount of oliues, ouer against the Temple, Peter, and James, and Iohn, and Andrew asked him secretly,

4 Tel vs, when shal these things be? & what shalbe the signe when all these things shalbe fulfilled?

5 And Iesus answered them, and began to say, * Take hede lest any man deceiue you.

6 For many shal come in my Name, say, I am Christ, and shal deceiue many.

7 Furthermore when ye shal heare of warres, and rumors of warres, be ye not troubled: for such things must nedes be: but the end shal not be yet.

8 For nation shal rise against nation, and kingdome against kingdome, and there shalbe earthquakes in diuers quarters, and there shalbe famine and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorowes.

9 But take ye hede to your selues: for they shal deliuer you vp to the Councils, and to the Synagogues: ye shal be beaten, and brought before rulers and Kings for my sake for a testimonial vnto them.

10 And the Gospel must first be published among all nacions.

11 * But when they lead you, and deliuer you vp, take ye no thought afore, nether premeditate what ye shal say: but whatsoever is given you at the same time, that speake: for it is not ye that speake, but the holie Gost.

The Priests conspire against Christ. 3 Marie Magdalene anointeth Christ. 12 The Passouer is eaten. 18 He telleth afore of the treason of Iudas. 22 The Lords supper is institute. 46 Christ is taken. 67 Peter denieth him.

1 And two dayes after followed the feast of the Passouer, and of vneleavened bread: and the hie Priests, and Scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.
2 But they said, Not in the feast day, lest there be any tumult among the people.
3 And when he was in Bethania in the house of Simon the leper, as he sate at table, there came a woman hauing a boxe of ointment of spikenarde, verie costlie, and she brake the boxe, and powred it on his head.
4 Therefore some disdeined among themselves, and said, To what end is this waste of ointment?
5 For it might haue bene solde for more than three hundred pence, & bene giuen vnto the poore, & they grudged against her.
6 But Iesus said, Let her alone: why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good worke on me.
7 For ye haue the poore with you alwayes, and when ye wil ye may do them good, but me ye shal not haue alwayes.
8 She hath done that she coulde: (she came afore hand to anoint my bodie to the burying.)
9 Verely I say vnto you, where soeuer this Gospel shal be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done, shal be spoken of in remembrance of her.
10 ¶ The Iudas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went away vnto the high Priests, to betray him vnto them.
11 And when they heard it, they were glad, & promised that they wolde giue him money: therefore he sought how he might conveniently betray him.
12 ¶ Now y first day of vneleavened bread, when they sacrificed the Passouer, his disciples said vnto him, Where wilt thou that we go & prepare, that thou maist eat the Passouer?
13 Then he sent forth the two of his disciples, and said vnto them, Go ye into the citie, and there shal a man mere you bearing a pitcher of water: followe him.
14 And whither soeuer he goeth in, say ye to the good man of the house, The Master saith, Where is y lodging where I shal eat the Passouer with my disciples?
15 And he wil shewe you an vpper chamber which is large, trimmed and prepared: there make it readie for vs.

17 ¶ And at euen he came.
18 ¶ And as they sate at table, Iesus said, Verely I say vnto you, of you shal betray me.
19 Then they began to chide, and say to him one by one, Is it I?
20 And he answered and said, He that hath eaten of the twelve this in the platter.
21 ¶ Truly the Sonne of man is written of that man, by whome he is betrayed: it had bene better if he had neuer bene born.
22 ¶ And as they did eate bread, and when he had brake it & gaue it to them, he said, this is my bodie.
23 ¶ Also he toke the cup, & giuen thankes, gaue it to them, and they dranke of it.
24 And he said vnto them, This is the new Testament in my blood, which is shed for many.
25 Verely I say vnto you, more of the fruite of the tree, that I drinke it no more of God.
26 And when they had sung, they went out to the mount of Olives.
27 ¶ Then Iesus said vnto them, shal be offended by me this night, as is written, I wil smite the shepe, shal be scattered.
28 But after that I am risen againe, I will go before you to Galilee.
29 And Peter said vnto them, men shulde be offended by me, though I should die with thee, this day, & yet I will not denie thee.
30 Then Iesus said vnto him, thou shalt denie me thrise.
31 But he said more earde, I will not denie thee, I will not denie thee.
32 ¶ After they came to Gethsemane: then he said vnto them, Sit ye here, til I haue prayed.
33 And he toke with him Peter, Iohn, and Iames, and began to pray, saying, Father, if thou wilt, take from me this chalice, for I cannot drinke of it.
34 And he said vnto them, watch, euē vnto the dawning.
35 So he went forwarde alone, and fell on the grounde, and was perswaded, that he should not be taken.

23 Also he toke the cup, and when he had more of the frute of the vine, vntil that day, that I drinke it new in the kingdome

of God.

26 And when they had sung a psalme, they went out to the mount of oliues.

27 ¶ Then Iesus said vnto them, All ye shal be offended by me this night: for it is written, I wil smite the shepherd, & the
shepe shal be scattered.

28 But after that I am risen, I wil go into Galilee before you.

29 And Peter said vnto him, Although all men shulde be offended, yet wolde not I.

30 Then Iesus said vnto him, Verely I say vnto thee, this day, even in this night, before the cocke crowe twise, thou shalt denie me thrise.

31 But he said more earnestly, If I shulde
dye with thee, I wil not denie thee: likewise
also said they all.

32 ¶ After they came into a place named Gethsemane: then he said to his disciples,
Sit ye here, til I haue prayed.

33 And he toke with him Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, and he began to be afraied, &
in great heauines,

34 And said vnto them, My soule is verie
heauie, even vnto the death: tary here and watch.

35 So he went forward a litle, & fel downe
on the grounde, and praied, that if it were possible, that houre might passe fro
him.

36 And he said, Abba, Father, all things are possible vnto thee: take away this cup

from me: neuertheles not that I wil, but that thou wilt, be done.

37 Then he came and founde them sleeping, and said to Peter, Simō, sleepest thou?
coldest not thou watch one houre?

38 ¶ Watch ye, and pray, that ye entre not into tētacion: the spirit in dede is readie,
but the flesh is weake.

39 And againe he went away, and prayed,
and spake the same wordes.

40 And he returned, and founde them asleepe againe: for their eyes were heauie;
neither knewe they what they shulde answer him.

41 And he came the thirde time, and said
vnto them, Sleepe hence forth, and take your rest: it is ynough: the houre is come:
beholde, the Sonne of man is deliuered
into the hands of sinners.

42 Rise vp: let vs go: lo, he that betrayeth
me, is at hand.

43 ¶ And immediatly while he yet spake, came Iudas that was one of the twelue, &
with him a great multitude with swordes
and staves from the hie Priests, and Scribes and Elders.

44 And he that betrayed him, had giuen
the a token, saying, Whome soeuer I shal
kisse, he it is: take him & leade him away safely.

45 And as sone as he was come, he went straight waye to him, and said, Master,
Master, and kissed him.

46 Then they layed their hands on him, &
toke him.

47 And one of them that stode by, drewe out a sword, and smote a seruant of the hie Priest, and cut of his eare.

48 And Iesus answered and said vnto the,
Ye become out as vnto a thefe with swordes
and with staves to take me.

49 I was dailely with you teaching in the Temple, & ye toke me not: but this is done
that the Scriptures shulde be fulfilled.

50 Then they all forsoke him, and fled.

51 And there followed him a certeine yong
man, clothed in linnen vpon his bare bodie,
and the yong men caught him.

52 But he left his linnē cloth, and fled from them naked.

53 ¶ So thei led Iesus away to the hie Priest,
and to him came all the hie Priests, and
the Elders, and the Scribes.

54 And Peter followed him a farre of, euen into the hall of the hie Priest, and sate with the seruants, and warmed him self at the fyre.

55 And the hie Priests, and all the Council sought for witness against Iesus, to put him to death, but founde none.

CHAP. XV.

Iesus is led to Pilate. 15 He is condemned, reuiled and put to death, 46 And is buried by Ioseph.

And anone in the dawning, the hie Priests helde a couñel with the Elders, and the Scribes, & the whole Council, and bounde Iesus, and led him away, and deliuered him to Pilate.

Then Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Iewes? And he answered, and said vnto him, Thou saiest it.

3 And the hie Priests accused him of many things.

4 * Wherefore Pilate asked him againe, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things thei witnes against thee.
5 But Iesus answered b no more at all, so that Pilate marueiled.

6 Now at the feast Pilate did deliuer a prisoner vnto them, whome soeuer they wolde desire.

7 Then there was one named Barabbas, w was boude with his fellowes, that had made insurrection, who in the insurrection had committed murder.

8 And the people cryed a loude, & began to desire that he wolde do as he had euer done vnto them.

9 Then Pilate answered them, and said, Wil ye that I let lose vnto you the King of the Iewes?

10 For he knewe that the hie Priests had deliuered him of enuie.

11 But the hie Priests had moued the people to desire that he wolde rather deliuer Barabbas vnto them.

12 And Pilate answered, and said againe vnto the, What wil ye then that I do with him, whome ye call the King of the Iewes?
13 And thei cryed againe, Crucifie him.

14 Then Pilate said vnto them, But what euil hath he done? And they cryed the more feruently, Crucifie him.

15 So Pilate willing to contēt the people, losed them Barabbas, and deliuered Iesus when he had scourged him, that he might be crucified.

16 Then the souldiers led him away into the hall, which is the commune hall, and called together the whole band,

17 And clad him with purple, and platted a crowne of thornes, & put it about his head,
18 And began to salute him, saying, Haile, King of the Iewes.

19 And they smote him on the head with a reede, and spat vpon him, and bowed the knees, & did him reuerence.

20 And when they had mocked him, they toke the purple of him, and put his owne clothes on him, and led him out to crucifie him.

21 * And they compelled one that passed by, called Simon of Cyrene (which came out of the country, and was father of Alexander and Rufus) to beare his crosse.

22 * And they broght him to a place named Golgotha, which is by interpretation, the place of dead mens skulles.

23 And they gaue him to drinke wine mingled with myrrhe: but he receiued it not.

And whē he knewe the truth of the Cen-

And whē the Sabbath daye was past,

Therefore early in the morning, the first day of the weeke, they came vnto the se-

And they said one to another, Who shal

the sepulchre?

And when they looked, they sawe that the stone was rolled away (for it was a very great one.)

* So they went into the sepulchre, and
sawe a yong man sitting at the right side, clothed in a long white robe: and they we-

But he said vnto them, Be not afraied: ye

But go your way, and tel his disciples, &

you.

And they went out quickly and fled
from the sepulchre: for they trembled and were amased: nether said they any thing to any

And when Iesus was risen againe, in the

And he went and tolde them that had

CHAP. I.

Of Zacharias, and Elisabet. 11 The Angel sheweth him of the natiuitie of Iohn Baptist. 20 His incredulitie is punished. 28 The talke of the Angel, and Marie. 46 Her song. 57 The birth, Circumcision, and gra- ces of Iohn. 68 Zacharias giueth thanks to God, & proph- ceth.

Or as muche as many haue take in hand to set forth the storie of those things, whereof we are fully persuaded,

* As they haue deliue- red them vnto vs, which from the beginning sawe the their selues, and were ministers of the worde,

It seemed good also to me (moste noble Theophilus) afforse as I had seached out perfectly all things fro the beginning, to write vnto thee thereof from point to point,
That thou mightest acknowledge the cer- teintie of those things, whereof thou hast bene instructed.

IN the time of * Herode King of Iudea, there was a certeine Priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abia: & his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabet.

Bothe were iust before God, and walked in all the commandements and ordinances of the Lord, without reprove.

And thei had no childe, because that Elisabet was barren: & bothe were wel stricken in age.

And it came to passe, as he executed the Priests office before God, as his course came in order,

According to the custome of the Priests office, his lot was to burne incense, when he went into the Temple of the Lord.

As ment the outward obseruation of the ceremonies commanded by God. 1 The Temple was divided into three parts: the first was the holie of holies, where the Priests and Leuit were: and the third Sanctum Sanctorum, into the which the high Priest entered once a yere to sacrifice.

And the whole multitude of the people were without in prayer, * while the incense was burning.

Then appeared vnto him an Angel of the Lord standing at the right side of the altar of incense.

And when Zacharias sawe him, he was troubled, and feare fel vpon him.

But the Angel said vnto him, Feare not, Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard, and thy wife Elisabet shal beare thee a sonne, and thou shalt call his name * Iohn.

And thou shalt haue ioye and gladnes, & many shal reioyce at his birth.

For he shalbe great in the sight of the Lord, & shal nether drinke wine, nor strōg drink: and he shalbe filled with the holie Ghost, euen from his mothers wombe.

* And many of the children of Israel shal he turne to their Lord God.

* For he shal go before him in the spirit & power of Elias, to turne the hearts of the fathers to the children, & the disobedient to the wisdom of the iust men, to make readie a people prepared for the Lord.

Then Zacharias said vnto the Angel, Whereby shal I knowe this? for I am an olde man, and my wife is of a great age.

And the Angel answered, and said vnto him, I am * Gabriell that stand in the presence of God, and am sent to speake vnto thee, & to shewe thee these good tidings.

And beholde, thou shalt be domme, and not be able to speake, vntil the day that these things be done, because thou beleuedst not my wordes, which shalbe fulfilled in their season.

Now the people waited for Zacharias, and marueiled that he taried so long in the Temple.

And whē he came out, he colde not speake vnto them: then they perceived that he had had sene a vision in the Temple: for he made signes vnto them, and remained

And it came to passe, when the dayes of his office were fulfilled, that he departed

And after those dayes, his wife Elisabet conceiued, and hid her self siue moneths,
saying,

Thus hath the Lord dealt with me, in the dayes wherein he looked on me, to take
from me my rebuke among men.

¶ And in the sixt moneth, the Angel Gabriel was sent frô God vnto a citie of Gab-
lile, named Nazaret,

To a virgine affianced to a man whose name was Ioseph, of the house of Dauid, &
the virgins name was Marie.

And the Angel went in vnto her, & said,
Haile thou that art freely beloued: y Lord
is with thee: blessed art thou amôg womē.

And when she sawe him, she was troubled
at his saying, & thought what maner of salutation th at shulde be.

Then y Angel said vnto her, Feare not,
Marie: for thou hast founde fauour with God.

¶ For lo, thou shalt conceiue in thy wom-
be, and beare a sonne, and shalt call his name IESVS.

He shalbe great, & shalbe called the Sonne of the moste High, and the Lord God
shal giue vnto him the throne of his father Dauid.

¶ And he shal reigne ouer y house of Iacob
for euer, & of his kingdome shalbe no end.

Then said Marie vnto the Angel, How
shal this be, seing, I know no man?

And the Angel answered, and said vnto
her, The holie Gost shal come vpon thee,
& the power of the most High shal ouer-shadowe thee: therefore also that y holie thing which shalbe borne of thee, shalbe
called the Sonne of God.

¶ And beholde, thy cousin Elisabet, she ha-
the also conceiued a sonne in her olde age:
and this is her sixt moneth, which was called barren.

For with God shal nothing be vnpossi-ble.

¶ Then Marie said, Beholde, the seruant of the Lord: be it vnto me according to thy worde. So the Angel departed from her.

¶ And Marie arose in those dayes, and went into the hill country with haste to a citie of Iuda,

And entred into the house of Zacharias,
and saluted Elisabet.

¶ And it came to passe, as Elisabet heard
the salutation of Marie, the babe sprang

in her bellie, & Elisabet was filled with the
holie Gost.

¶ And she cryed with a loude voyce, and said, Blessed art thou among women, because the frute of thy wombe is blessed.

¶ And whence cometh this to me, that the mother of my Lord shulde come to me?

¶ For lo, as sone as the voyce of thy salu-tatiô sounded in mine eares, the babe sprang
in my bellie for ioie.

¶ And blessed is she that beleued: for those things shalbe performed, which were tolde her from the Lord.

¶ Then Marie said, My soule magnifieth
the Lord,

¶ And my spirit reioyceth in God my Saviour.

¶ For he hath looked on the poore degre
of his seruant: for beholde, from hence forth shal all ages call me blessed.

¶ Because, he that is mightie, hath done
for me great things, & holie is his Name.

¶ And his mercie is from generacion to generacion on them that feare him.

¶ He hath shewed strength with his arme: he hath scattered the proude in the h imagination of their hearts.

¶ He hath put downe the mightie from their seates, and exalted the of lowe degre.

¶ He hath filled the hungrie with good things, and sent away the riche emptye.

¶ He hath vpholden Israel his seruant,
being mindeful of his mercie

¶ (* As he hath spoken to our fathers, to witt, to Abraham and his seds) for euer.

¶ And Marie abode with her about thre
moneths; after, she returned to her owne house.

¶ Now Elisabets time was fulfilled, that she shulde be deliuered, and she brought forthe a sonne.

¶ And her neighbours, & cousins heard tel-
how the Lord had shewed his great mercie vpon her, and they reioyced with her.

¶ And it was so that on the eight day they came to circumcise the babe, & called him
Zacharias, after the Name of his father.

¶ But his mother answered, and said, No,
so, but he shalbe called Iohn.

¶ And they said vnto her, There is none
of thy kindred, y is named with this Name.

¶ Then they made signes to his father,
how he wolde haue him called.

¶ So he asked for writing tables, & wrote,
saying, His name is Iohn, and they mar-
uelled all.

¶ And his mouth was opened immediatly,
and his tongue loosed, and he spake & praised God.

¶ Then feare came on all them that dwelt nere vnto them, and all these wordes were noised abroade throughout all the hill coun-trei of Iudea.

7 The birth and circumcision of Christ. 22 He was re-ceined into the Temple. 28 Simeon and Anna prophecie of him. 46 He was founde among the doctours.

51 His obedience to father and mother.

And it came to passe in those dayes,
that there came a comandement fro Augustus Cesar, that all the <sup>a</sup> worlde shul-
de be <sup>a</sup> taxed.

(This first <sup>a</sup> taxing was made when Cyrenius was gouernour of Syria.)

Therefore went all to be taxed euerie mā
to his owne cite.

And <sup>a</sup> Ioseph also went vp from Galile
out of a citie called Nazaret, into Iudea, vnto the citie of <sup>a</sup> Dauid, which is called Beth-lehem (because he was of the house and lineage of Dauid.)

To be taxed with Marie that was giuen

him to wife, which was with childe.

¶ And so it was, that while they were there,
the daies were accomplished that she shulde be deliuered.

And she brought forth her first begotten
sonne, & wrapped him in swadding clothes
and laid him in <sup>a</sup> cratche, because there was no rowme for them in the ynne.

¶ And there were in the same countrey shepherds, abiding in the field, and keeping watch by night becaufe of their flocke.

And lo, the Angel of the Lord came vpon
them, and the glorie of the Lord shone
about them, and they were fore afraide.

Then the Angel said vnto them, Be not afraide: for beholde, I bring you tidings
of great ioye, that shalbe to all the people:

That is, that vnto you is borne this day in the citie of <sup>a</sup> Dauid, a Sauour, which is Christ the Lord.

And <sup>a</sup> this shalbe a signe to you, Ye shal
finde <sup>a</sup> childe swaddled, & laid in a cratch.

And straight way there was with the Angel a multitude of heauenlie souldiers,
praying God, and saying,

¶ Glorie be to God in the high heauens,
and peace in earth, & towards men <sup>a</sup> good wil.

And it came to passe when the Angels
were gone away from them into heauen, that <sup>a</sup> the shepherds said one to another, Let vs go then vnto Beth-lehem, and se this thing that is come to passe, which the Lord hath shewed vnto vs.

So they came with haste, & founde bothe
Marie and Ioseph, and the babe laid in the cratch.

And when they had sene it, they published abroad the thing, which was tolde
them of that childe.

And all that heard it, wōdred at <sup>a</sup> things
which were tolde them of the shepherds.

But Marie kept all those sayings & pondered
them in her heart.

And the shepherds returned, glorifying
and praising God, for all that they had heard & sene, as it was spoken vnto them.

¶ And whē the eight daies were accomplished, that they shulde circumsise the childe, his name was then called <sup>a</sup> IESVS, which was named of the Angel, before he was conceived in the wombe.

whose name was Simeon: this man was iust ste, and feared God, and waited for the consolation of Israel, and the holie Gost was vpon him.

And a reuelation was given him of the holie Gost, that he shulde not se death, be fore he had sene the Lords Christ.

And he came by the motion of y Spirit in to the Temple, & when the parēts broght
in the childe Iesus, to do for him after the custome of the Law,

Then he toke him in his armes, and prai
sed God, and said,

Lord, now lettest thou thy seruante de
parte in peace, according to thy worde.

For mine eyes haue sene thy salua
tion,

Which thou hast prepared before the fa ce of all people:

A light to be reueiled to the Gentiles, &
the glorie of thy people Israel.

And Ioseph and his mother marueiled
at those things, which were spoken tou ching him.

And Simeon blessed them, and said vn
to Marie his mother, Beholde, this childe is appointed for the fall and rising againe

of manie in Israel, & for a signe which shalbe spoken against,

(Yea in a word shal pearce through arts may be opened.

And there was a Prophetesse, one Anna
the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser, which was of a great age, & had li ued with an hous band seuen yeres frō her virginitie.

And she was widowe about foure score,
and foure yeres, and went not out of the Temple, but serued God with fastings and prayers, night and day.

She the coming at the same instant vpon
them, confessed likewise the Lord, & spa
ke of him to all that looked for redemption
in Ierusalem.

And when thei had performed all things
according to the Law of the Lord, they returned into Galile to their owne citie Nazaret.

And the childe grewe, and waxed strōg
in Spirit, and was filled with wisdom, and the grace of God was with him.

Now his parēts went to Ierusalē eue
rie yere, at the feast of the Passeouer.

And when he was twelue yere olde, and they were come vp to Ierusalem, after the
custome of the feast,

And had finished the dayes thereof, as they returned, the childe Iesus remained in Ierusalem, and Ioseph knewe not nor his mother,

But they supposing, that he had bene in the companie, went a dayes iorney, and

soght him among their kinnsfolke, and ac quaintance.

And whē they founde him not, they tur ned backe to Ierusalem, and soght him.

And it came to passe thre dayes after,
that they founde him in the Temple, sit ting in the middes of the doctours, bothe
hearing them, and asking them questions.

And all that heard him, were astonied at his vnderstanding, and answers.

So when thei saw him, they were amased,
and his mother said vnto him, Sonne,
why hast thou thus dealt with vs? behol
de, thy father and I haue soght thee with heauie hearts.

Then said he vnto them, How is it that ye soght me? knewe ye not, that I must go about my fathers busines?

But they vnderstode not the worde that he spake to them.

Then he wēt downe with them, & came to Nazaret, and was subiect to them: & his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

And Iesus increased in wisdom, & sta ture, and in fauour with God and men.

(*When Annas and Caiaphas were the

vnto Iohn, the sonne of Zacharias in the

croked things shalbe made straight, & the rough wayes shalbe made smoorhe.

And all flesh shal se the saluation of God.

But Iesus answered him, and said, Hence from me, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and
him alone thou shalt serue.

Then he broght him to Ierusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the Temple, and said vnto him, If thou be the Sonne of God, cast thy self downe from hence,

For it is written, That he wil giue his Angels charge ouer thee to kepe thee:

And with their hands they shal lift thee
vp, lest at anie time thou shuldest dash thy foote against a stone.

And Iesus answered and said vnto him,
It is said, Thou shalt not tept the Lord
thy God.

And when the deuil had ended all the tentacion, he departed from him for a season.

¶ And Iesus returned by the power of spirit into Galilee: and there went a fame
of him throughout all the region rounde about.

For he taught in their Synagogues, and was honoured of all men.

¶ And he came to Nazaret where he had bene broght vp, and (as his custome was)
went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath
day, and stode vp to reade.

And there was deliuered vnto him the booke of the Prophet Esaias: and when he had opened the booke, he founde the place,
where it was written,

* The Spirit of the Lord is vpon me, because he hath anointed me, that I shulde preache the Gospel to the poore: he hath sent me, that I shulde heale the brokē
hearted, that I shulde preache deliuerance
to the captiues, and recovering of sight to the blinde, that I shulde set at libertie the
that are bruiſed,

¶ And that I shulde preache the acceptable yere of the Lord.

¶ And he closed the booke, and gaue it again to the minister, and sat downe: and the eyes of all that were in the Synagogue were fastened on him.

¶ Then he began to say vnto them, This daye is this Scripture fulfilled in your eares.

¶ And all bare him witnes, & wondered
at the gracious wordes, which proceeded out of his mouth, and said, Is not this Io-sephs sonne?

¶ Then he said vnto them, Ye wil surely saye vnto me this prouerbe, Physicion, ¶ heale thy self: whatsoeuer we haue heard done in Capernaum, do it here likewise
in thine owne countrey.

¶ And he said, Verely I saye vnto you,
¶ No Prophet is accepted in his owne country.

¶ But I tell you of a trueth, manie wid-dowes were in Israel in the dayes of Elias, when heauen was shut thre yeres and six moneths, when great famine was throughout all the land,

¶ But vnto none of them was Elias sent,
saue into Sarepta, a cite of Sidon, vnto a certeine widdowe.

¶ Also manie lepers were in Israel, in the time of Eliseus the Prophet: yet none of them was made cleane, sauing Naaman
the Syrian.

¶ Then all that were in the Synagogue,
whē thei heard it, were filled with wrath,

¶ And rose vp, and thrust him out of the cite, and led him vnto the edge of the
hil, whereon their cite was buylt, to cast
him downe headlong.

¶ But he passed through the middes of them, and went his way,

¶ ¶ And came downe into Capernaum a cite of Galile, and there taught them on the Sabbath dayes.

¶ And thei were astonied at his doctrine:
for his worde was with autoritie.

¶ And in the Synagogue there was a man
which had a spirit of an vncleane deuil,
which cryed with a loude voyce,

¶ Saying, Oh, what haue we to do with thee, thou Iesus of Nazaret? art thou come to destroy vs? I knowe who thou art,
euen the Holie one of God.

¶ And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Holde thy peace, and come out of him. The deuil throwing him in the middes of them,
came out of him, and hurt him not.

¶ So feare came on them all, and they spake among them selues, saying, What thing is this? for with autoritie and power
he commandeth the foule spirits, and they come out?

¶ And the same of him spred abroad
throughout all the places of the countrey rounde about.

¶ ¶ And he rose vp, and came out of the Synagogue, & entred into Simons house.
And Simons wiues mother was taken with a great feuer, and they required him for
her.

¶ Then he stode ouer her, and rebuked the feuer, and it left her: and immediatly she arose, and ministred vnto them.

¶ Now whē the sunne was downe, all they had sicke felles of diuers diseases, broght them vnto him, and he laied his hands on euerie one of them, and healed them.

¶ ¶ And deuils also came out of manie,
crying, and saying, Thou art the Christ
the Sonne of God: but he rebuked them, & suffred them not to say that thei knewe
him to be the Christ.

¶ And whē it was day, he departed & went into Bethsaida.

Then *it came to passe, as the people pressed vpon him to heare the worde of God, that he stode by the lake of Gennesaret,

2 And sawe two shippes stand by the lake side, but the ffishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nettes.

As to the intent that he might not be thought of preaching, & also that he might the better be heard.

3 And he entred into one of the shippes, which was Simons, and required him that he wolde thrust of a litle from the land: and he sate downe, and taught the people out of the ship.

4 ¶ Now when he had left speaking, he said vnto Simon, Lanche out into the deepe, and let downe your nettes to make a draught.

The worde signifieth him that he is made ruler ouer a litle thing. He sheweth his prompt obedience to Christs commandment.

5 Then Simon answered, & said vnto him, Master, we haue trauailed all night, and haue taken nothing: neuertheles at thy worde I wil let downe the net.

6 And when they had so done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes, so that their net brake.

7 And they beckened to their partners, which were in y other ship, that they shulde come and helpe them, who came then, and filled bothe the shippes, that they did not sinke.

They were so laden that they almoste sunke.

8 Now when Simon. Peter sawe it, he fell downe at Iesus knees, saying, Lord, go fro me: for I am a vntill man.

The feeling of Gods presence maketh afraied.

9 For he was vtterly astonied, and all that were with him, for the draught of fishes, which they toke.

10 And so was also Iames and Iohn the sonnes of Zebedeus, which were companions with Simon. Then Iesus said vnto Simon, Feare not: from hence forth thou shalt catch men.

He appointeth him to the office of an Apostle.

11 And when they had broght the shippes to land, they forsoke all, & followed him.

Mat. 5. 2.
Mar. 1. 40.

12 ¶ Now it came to passe, as he was in a certeine citie, beholde, there was a man full of leprosie, and when he sawe Iesus, he fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord if thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

13 So he stretched forth his hand, & touched him, saying, I wil, be thou cleane. And immediately the leprosie departed from

him.

14 And he commanded him that he shulde tell it no man: but God, saith he, and shewe thy self to the Priest, and offer for thy cleansing, as * Moses hath commanded, for a witnes vnto them.

15 But so muche more went there a faine abroad of him, and great multitudes came together to heare, and to be healed of him of their infirmities.

16 But he kept him self aparte in the wilderness, and praised.

17 ¶ And it came to passe, on a certeine daye, as he was teaching, that the Pharises & doctours of the Law sate by, which were come out of euerie towne of Galilee, and Iudea, and Ierusalem, & the power of the Lord was in him to heale them.

18 ¶ Then beholde, men broght a man lyfing in a bed, which was taken with a palsey, and they sought meanes to bring him in, and to laie him before him.

19 And when they coulde not finde by what way they might bring him in, because of the presse, they went vp on the house, & let him downe through the tiling, bed & all, in the middes before Iesus.

20 And when he sawe their faith, he said vnto him, Man, thy sinnes are forgiven thee.

21 Then the Scribes and the Pharises began to thinke, saying, Who is this that speaketh blasphemies: who can forgive sinnes, but God onely?

22 But when Iesus perceiued their thoughts, he answered, and said vnto them, What thinke ye in your hearts?

23 Whether is easier to say, Thy sinnes are forgiven thee, or to say, Rise and walke?

24 But that ye may knowe that the Sonne of man hath the autoritie to forgive sinnes in earth, (he said vnto the sicke of the palsey) I say to thee, Arise: take vp thy bed, & go to thine house.

25 And immediately he rose vp before them, and toke vp his bed whereon he laie, and departed to his owne house, praising God.

26 And they were all amased, and praised God, and were filled with feare, saying, Doubteles we haue sene strange things to daye.

27 ¶ And after that, he went forth and sawe a Publicane named * Leui, sitting at the receite of custome, & said vnto him, Followe me.

28 And he left all, rose vp, and followed him.

Christ standeth in his disciples defence and his owne,
as touching the breach of the Sabbath. 12 After maching and prayer he eleaseth his Apostles. 18 He healeth and teacheth the people. 20 He sheweth who are blessed. 27 To loue our enemies. 37 Not to iudge rashly. 41 And to auoid hypocrisie.

And it came to passe on the seconde
Sabbath, after the first, that he went through the corne fields, and his disciples
plucked the eares of corne, and did eate,
and rubbe them in their hands.

And certeine of the Pharises said vnto
them, Why do ye that which is not lawful to do on the Sabbath dayes?

Then Iesus answered them, & said, * Haue ye not red this, that Dauid did when he him self was an hungred, & they which

How he went into the house of God, and not lawful to eate, but for the *Priests

onely?

And he said vnto them, The Sonne of mā
is Lord also of the Sabbath day.

* It came to passe also on another Sabbath, that he entred into the Synagogue & taught, and there was a man, whose right hand was dried vp.

And the Scribes and Pharises watched

him, whether he wolde heale on the Sabbath day, that they might finde an accusation against him.

But he knewe their thoghts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Arise, & stand vp in the middes. And he arose, and stode vp.

Then said Iesus vnto the, I wil aske you a question, Whether is it lawfull on the Sabbath dayes to do good, or to do euill: to saue "life, or to destroye it?

And he behelde them all in compasse, &
said vnto the mā, Stretch forth thine had.
And he did so, and his hand was restored
again, as whole as the other.

Then they were filled ful of madnes, & communiced one with another, what they might do to Iesus.

* And it came to passe in those dayes, y
he went into a mountaine to pray, & spend the night in prayer to God.

* And whē it was day, he called his disciples, and of them he chose twelue, which also he called Apostles.

Mathewe, and Thomas: Iames the sonne
of Alpheus, and Simon called zelous,

Then he came downe with them, and
stode in a plaine place, with the compa-
nie of his disciples, and a great multitude of people out of all Iudea, and Ierusa-

healed of their diseases:

And they that were vexed with foule
spirits, and they were healed.

And the whole multitude soght to touch healed them all.

* And he lifted vp his eyes vpō his disci-

yours is the kingdome of God.

* Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shalbe satisfied: blessed are ye that wepe
now: for ye shal laugh.

* Blessed are ye when men hate you, and when they separate you, and reuile you, & put out your name as euil, for the Sonne
of mans sake.

Reioyce ye in that day, and be glad: for
beholde, your rewarde is great in heauen:
for after this maner their fathers did to the Prophetes.

* But wo be to you that are riche: for ye haue receiued your consolation.

26 Wo be to you whē all * men speake wel of you: for so did their fathers to the false prophetes.

27 ¶ But I say vnto you which heare, Loue your enemies: do wel to the w hate you.

28 Blesse them that curse you, and pray for them which hurt you.

29 ¶ And vnto him that smiteth thee on the one cheke, offer also the other: & him that taketh away thy cloke, forbid not to take thy coate also.

30 Giue to euery man that asketh of thee: and of him that taketh away thy goods, make them not againe.

31 * And as ye wolde that men shulde do to you, so do ye to them likewise.

32 ¶ For if ye loue them which loue you, what thanke shal ye haue for euen the sinners loue those that loue them.

33 And if ye do good for them which do good for you, what thanke shal ye haue for euen the sinners do the same.

34 ¶ And if ye lend to them of whome ye hope to receiue, what thanke shal ye haue for euen the sinners lend to sinners, to receiue the like.

35 Wherefore loue ye your enemies, and do good, and lend, looking for nothing againe, and your rewarde shalbe great, and ye shalbe the children of * the moste High: for he is kinde vnto the vnkinde, & to the euil.

36 Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful.

37 ¶ Iudge not, and ye shal not be iudged: condemne not, and ye shal not be condemned: forgiue, and ye shalbe forgiven.

38 Giue, and it shalbe giuen vnto you: * a good measure, pressed downe, shakē together and running ouer shal men giue into your bosome: for with what measure ye mette, with the same shal men mette to you againe.

39 And he spake a parable vnto them, * Can the blinde lead the blinde? shal they not bothe fall into the ditch?

40 ¶ The discipule is not aboue his master: but whosoever wilbe a perfite discipule, shal be as his master.

41 ¶ And why seekest thou a mote in thy brothers eye, and considerest not the beame, that is in thine owne eye?

42 Either how canst thou saye to thy brother, Brother, let me pul out the mote that is in thine eye, whē thou seest not the beame that is in thine owne eye? Hypocrite, cast out the beame out of thine owne eye first, & then shalt thou se perfectly, to pul out the mote that is in thy brothers eye.

43 ¶ For it is not a good tre that bringeth forth the euil frute: nether an euil tre, that bringeth forth the good frute.

44 ¶ For euery tre is knowen by his owne

frute: * for nether of thornes gather me figes, nor of bushes gather they grapes.

45 A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth the good, and an euil man out of the euil treasure of his heart bringeth forth the euil: for of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

46 ¶ But why call ye me Master, Master, and do not the things that I speake?

47 Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my wordes, & doeth the same, I wil shewe you to whome he is like.

48 He is like a man which buyeth an house, and digged depe, and laid the fundation on a rocke: and when the waters arose, the flood bet vpon that house, and colde not shake it: for it was grounded vpon a rocke.

49 But he that heareth and doeth not, is like a man that buyeth an house vpon y earth without fundacio, against which the flood did beat, and it fel by and by: and the fall of that house was great.

3 And when he heard of Iesus, he sent vnto him y Elders of the Iewes, beseeching him that he wolde come and heale his seruant.

4 So they came to Iesus, and besoght him instantly, saying that he was worthie that he shulde do this for him.

5 For he loueth, said they, our nacion, and he hath buyt vs a Synagogue.

6 Then Iesus went with them: but when he was now not farre from the house, the Centurion sent friends to him, saying vnto him, Lord, trouble not thy self: for I am not worthie that thou shuldest enter vnder my rooffe.

7 Wherefore I thought not my self worthie to come vnto thee: but say the wordes, & my seruant shalbe whole.

8 For I likewise am a man set vnder autoritie, and haue vnder me souldiers, and I say vnto one, Go, and he goeth, & to another, Come, and he cometh, and to my seruant, Do this, and he doeth it.

9 When Iesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, & turned him, & said to the people, that followed him, I say vnto you, I haue not found so great faith, no not in Israel.

11 And it came to passe the day after, that he went into a citie called <sup>1</sup>Nain, and manie of his disciples went with him, and a great multitude.

12 Now when he came nere to the gate of the citie, beholde, there was a dead man caried out, who was the onelie begotten sonne of his mother, which was a widowe, &
much people of the citie was with her.

13 And when the Lord sawe her, he had compassion on her; and said vnto her, Wepe not.

14 And he went and touched the <sup>2</sup>coffin
(and they that bare him, stood stil) and he said, <sup>3</sup>Yong man, I say vnto thee, Arise.

15 And he that was dead, sat vp, & begā to speake, & he deliuered him to his mother.

16 The there came a feare on them all, and they glorified God, saying, A great Prophet is raised vp among vs, and God hathē <sup>4</sup>visited his people.

17 And this rumour of him went forth
throughout all Iudea, and throughout all the region rounde about.

18 ¶ And the disciples of Iohn shewed him
of all these things.

19 So Iohn called vnto him two certaine
men of his disciples, and sent them to Ie-sus, saying, Art thou <sup>5</sup>he that shulde come,
or shal we waite for another?

20 And when the mē were come vnto him,
they said, Iohn Baptist hathe sent vs vnto thee, sayig, Art thou <sup>6</sup>he that shulde come,
or shal we wait for another?

21 And at that time, he cured manie of their sickenes, and plagues, and of euil spirits, and vnto manie blinde men he ga-ue sight.

22 And Iesus answered, and said vnto the,
Go your wayes and shewe Iohn, <sup>7</sup>what things ye haue sene and heard: <sup>8</sup>y<sup>e</sup> the blind
se, the halfe go, the lepers are clenfed,
the deafe heare, the dead rise againe, & the <sup>9</sup>poore receiue the Gospel.

23 And blessed is he, that shal not be <sup>10</sup>offended in me.

24 And when the messengers of Iohn were departed, he began to speake vnto the people of Iohn, What wēt ye out into the wildernes to se? A <sup>11</sup>rede shaken with the winde?

25 But what went ye out to se? A man clothed in soft raiment? beholde, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and liue delicately, are in Kings courtes.

26 But what wēt ye forth to se? A Prophet?
yea, I say to you, & greater thē a Prophet.

27 This is he of whome it is writē, <sup>12</sup>*Beholde, I send my <sup>13</sup>messenger before thy face,
which shal prepare thy way before thee.

28 For I say vnto you, there is no greater

Prophet then Iohn, among them that are begotten of women: neuertheles, he that is the least in <sup>14</sup>y<sup>e</sup> kingdome of God is greater then he.

29 Then all the people that heard, and the Publicanes <sup>15</sup>o iustified God, being baptized with the <sup>16</sup>p baptisme of Iohn.

30 But the Pharises & the expōiders of the Law despised the counfel of God <sup>17</sup>agaīnst
them selues, & were not baptized of him.

31 *And the Lord said, Whereunto shal I liken the men of this generacion? & what thing are they like vnto?

32 They are like vnto childrē sitting in the market place, and crying one to another, and saying, <sup>18</sup>We haue piped vnto you, & ye haue not danced: we haue mourned to you, and ye haue not wept.

33 For Iohn Baptist came, nether eating bread, nor drinking wine: and ye say, He hathe the deuil.

34 The Sonne of man is come, and <sup>19</sup>eateth
and drinketh: and ye say, Beholde, a man
which is a glotten, and a drinker of wine, a friend of Publicanes and sinners.

35 But wisdom is <sup>20</sup>iustified of all her children.

36 ¶ And one of the Pharises desired him that he wolde eat with him: and he went into the Pharises house, and sate downe at table.

37 And beholde, a womā in the citie, which was a sinner, when she knewe that Iesus sate at table in <sup>21</sup>y<sup>e</sup> Pharises house, she broght
a boxe of ointement.

38 *And she stode at his fete behinde him
weeping, and began to wash his fete with teares, and did wipe them with the heeres
of her head, & kissed his fete, & anointed
them with the ointment.

39 Now when the Pharise which bade him,
sawe it, he spake within him self, saying, If this man were a Prophet, he wolde surely haue knowne who, and what manner of woman this is which toucheth him: for she is a sinner.

40 And Iesus answered, and said vnto him,
Simon, I haue somewhat to say vnto thee.
And he said, Master, say on.

41 There was a certaine lender which had two detters: the one oght siue hundreth

said vnto him, Thou hast truely iudged.

CHAP. VIII.

Christ with his Apostles go from towne to towne and preach. 3 The women minister vnto them of their goods. 5 He sheweth the parable of the sēde. 21 He telleth who is his mother and his brother. 24 He stilleth the raging of the lake. 27 He delivereth the possessed. 33 The devils enter into the heard of swine. 41 He healeth the sicke woman, and Lairs daughter.

And it came to passe afterwarde, that he him self went through euerie cite and towne, preaching, and publishing the kingdome of God, & the twelue were with him.

2 And certaine women, which were healed of euil spirits, and infirmities, as Marie which was called Magdalene, out of whome were seuen devils,

3 And Ioanna the wife of Chuza Herodes steward, & Sufanna, & manie other which ministred vnto him of their substance.

4 Now whē muche people were gathered together, and were come to him out of all cities, he spake by a parable,

5 A sower went out to sowe his seed, and as he sowed, some fel by the way side, and it was troden vnder fete, and the foules of heauen deuoured it vp.

6 And some fel on the stones, and when it was sprong vp, it withered away, because it lacked moistnes.

7 And some fel among thornes, and thornes sprang vp with it, and choked it.

8 And some fel on good ground, and sprang vp, and bare frute, an hundred fold. And as he said these things, he cried, He that hathe eares to heare, let him heare.

9 The his disciples asked him, demāding, what parable that was?

10 And he said, Vnto you it is giuen to know the secrets of the kingdome of God, but to other in parables, that when they see, they shulde not see, and when they heare, they shulde not vnderstand.

11 The parable is this, The sēde is the worde of God.

12 And thei that are beside the way, are thei

that heare: afterwarde commeth the deuill, and taketh away the worde out of their hearts, lest they shulde beleue, & be saved.

13 But they that are on the stones, are they which when they haue heard, receiue the worde with ioye: but they haue no rootes, which for a while beleue, but in the time of tentation go away.

14 And that which fel among thornes, are they which haue heard, & after their departure are choked with cares and riches, and voluptuous liuing, and bring forth no frute.

15 But that which fel in good ground, are they which with an honest & good heart heare the worde, and kepe it, & bring forth the frute with patience.

16 ¶ No man when he lighteth a candle, couereth it vnder a vessel, neither putteth it vnder the table, but setteth it on a candlestick, that they that entre in, may see the light.

17 For nothing is secret, that shal not be euident: neither any thing hid, that shal not be known, and come to light.

18 Take hede therefore how ye heare: for whosoever hathe, to him shal be giuen: and whosoever hathe not, fro him shal be taken euen that, which is semeth that he hathe.

19 ¶ Then came to him his mother & his brethren, and colde not come mere to him for the preasse.

20 And it was tolde him by certaine which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, and wolde see thee.

21 But he answered, & said vnto them, My mother, and my brethren are these which heare the worde of God, and do it.

22 ¶ And it came to passe on a certaine day, that he went into a ship with his disciples, and he said vnto them, Let vs go ouer vnto the other side of the lake. And they lunched forth.

23 And as they sailed, he fel a sleepe, & there came downe a storme of winde on the lake, and they were filled with water, and were in ieopardie.

24 Then they went to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we perishe. And he arose, and rebuked the winde, & the waues of water: & they ceased, and it was calme.

25 Then he said vnto them, Where is your faith? they feared, & wondered among them selues, saying, Who is this that commandeth bothe the windes and water, and they obey him!

26 ¶ So they sailed vnto the region of the Gadarenes, which is ouer against Galilee.

27 And as he wēt out to land, there met him a certaine man out of the cite, which had a deuill long time, and he ware no clothes, neither abode in house, but in the graues.

28 And when he sawe Iesus, he cried out, & fel

fel downe before him.

ce said, What haue I done? Iesus the Sonne of God, seche thee torment.

29 For he commanded him to come out of the mā: he caught him: therefore chaines, and kept him in the bandes, and was into wildernes.

30 Then Iesus asked him, thy name? And he said, my name is Legion, for many devils were entered into me.

31 And they besought him, not to commande them to depart.

32 And there was there a swine, feeding on anie.

33 Then went the devils out of him, and entred into the swine, & they were caried with violence into the lake, & there they perished.

34 When the herdmen sawe this, they fled: and when they tolde it in the countrey.

35 Then they came out, and came to Iesus, & ofwhome the devils were at the fete of Iesus, & ofwhome the devils were in the minde: and they were healed.

36 They also which were with him, what meanes he that the deuill, was healed?

37 Then the whole countrey about the Gadarenes, he wolde departe from them, & taken with a great feare, the ship, and returned.

38 Then the man, ofwhome the devils were departed, might be with him in his way, saying,

39 Returne into the countrey, & shewe what great things Iesus hath done vnto thee. So he went into the countrey, & shewed them.

For he commanded the foule spirit to come out of the mā: (for oft times he had caught him: therefore he was bound with chaines, and kept in fetters: but he brake
the bandes, and was caryed of the deuill into wildernesses.)
Then Iesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And he said, Legion, because many deuils were entred into him.
And they besoght him, that he wolde not commande them to go out into the deepe.
And there was there by, an herd of many swine, feeding on an hill, and the deuils besoght him, that he wolde suffre the to entre into them. So he suffred them.
Then went the deuils out of the man, and entred into the swine: and the herd was caryed with violence from a stepe downe
place into the lake, and was choked.
When the herdmen sawe what was done, they fled: and when they were departed, they tolde it in the cite and in the countrey.
Then they came out to se what was done,
and came to Iesus, & founde the man, out of whome the deuils were departed, sitting at the fete of Iesus, clothed, & in his right
minde: and they were afraid.
They also which sawe it, tolde them by what meanes he that was possessed with the deuil, was healed.
Then the whole multitude of the coun-trei about the Gadarenes, besoght him, y
he wolde departe fro them: for they were taken with a great feare: and he went into the ship, and returned.
Then the man, out of whome the deu-ils were departed, besoght him that he might be with him: but Iesus sent him away, saying,
Returne into thine owne house, and shewe what great things God hathe done to thee. So he went his way, and preached through out all y<sup>e</sup> cite, what great things
Iesus had done vnto him.
And it came to passe when Iesus was come againe, that y<sup>e</sup> people receiued him:
for they all waited for him.
And beholde, there came a man named Iairus, and he was the ruler of the Synagogue, who fel downe at Iesus fete,
and besoght him that he wolde come into his house.
For he had but a daughter onely, about twelue yeres of age, & she laye a dying (&
as he went, the people thronged him.
And a woman hauing an yssue of blood,
twelue yeres long, which had spent all her substance vpon physicions, and colde not be healed of any:

Whē she came behide him, she touched
the hem of his garment, and immediatly
her yssue of blood stanchēd.
Then Iesus said, Who is it that hathe touched me? When euerie man denyed, Peter said & thei that were with him, Master, the multitude thrust thee, & tread on thee, and sayett y, Who hathe touched me?
And Iesus said, Some one hathe touched me: for I perceiue that vertue is gone out of me.
When the woman sawe that she was not hid, she came trembling, & fel downe
before him, & tolde him before all y<sup>e</sup> people, for what cause she had touched him,
and how she was healed immediatly.
And he said vnto her, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hathe made thee whole: go in peace.)
While he yet spake, there came one fro
the ruler of the Synagogues house, which said to him, Thy daughter is dead: discese not the Master.
When Iesus heard it, he answered him,
saying, Feare not: beleeue onely, & she shal
be made whole.
And when he went into the house, he suf-
fred no man to go in with him, saue Peter,
and Iames, and Iohn, and the father & mother of the maide.
And all wept, and sorowed for her: but he said, Wepe not: for she is not dead, but sleepeth.
And they laught him to skorne, knowing
that she was dead.
So he thrust them all out, and toke her
by the hand, and cryed, saying, Maid, arise.
And her spirit came againe, and she rose straight way: and he commanded to giue her meat.
Then her parents were astonied: but he commanded them that they shulde tell no man what was done.

The five loaves.

S. Luke. The transfiguration.

4 And whatsoever house ye entre into, there abide, and thence departe.

5 And whosoever will not receive you, whē ye go out of that citie, shake of the very dust from your fete for a testimonie against them.

6 And they went out, and went through euerie towne preaching the Gospel, and healing euerie where.

7 ¶ Now Herode the tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and he doubted, because that it was said of some, that Iohn was risen againe from the dead:

8 And of some, that Elias had appeared: & of some, that one of the olde Prophetes was risen againe.

9 Then Herode said, Iohn haue I beheaded: who then is this of whome I heare suche things? and he desired to see him.

10 ¶ And whē the Apostles returned, they tolde him what great things they had done. ¶ Then he toke them, & went aside into a solitarie place, nere to the citie called Bethsaida.

11 But when the people knewe it, they followed him: and he receined them, & spake vnto them of the kingdome of God, & healed them that had neede to be healed.

12 ¶ And whē the day began to weare away, the twelue came, and said vnto him, Send the people away, that they may go into the townes and villages rounde about, & lodge, and get meat: for we are here in a desert place.

13 But he said vnto them, Giue ye them to eat. And they said, We haue no mo but five loaves & two fishes, except we shulde go and bye meat for all this people.

14 For they were about five thousand men. Then he said to his disciples, Cause them to sit downe by fifties in a companie.

15 And they did so, and caused all to sit downe.

16 Then he toke the five loaves, and the two fishes, and loked vp to heauen, and blessed them, and brake, and gaue to the disciples, to set before the people.

17 So they did all eat, and were satisfied: & there was takē vp of that remained to the, twelue baskets full of broken meat.

18 ¶ And it came to passe as he was alone praying, his disciples were with him, and he asked the, saying, Whome say the people that I am?

19 They answered, and said, Iohn Baptist: and others say, Elias: & some say, that one of the olde Prophetes is risen againe.

20 And he said vnto them, But whome say ye that I am? Peter answered, & said, The Christ of God.

21 And he warned, and commanded them, that they shulde tell that to no man,

22 Saying, ¶ The Sonne of man must suffre

many things, and be reprovēd of the Elders, & of the hie Priests and Scribes, and be slaine, and the thirde day rise againe.

23 ¶ And he said to them all, If any man wil come after me, let him denye him self, and take vp his crosse daily, and followe me.

24 For whosoever wil saue his life, shal lose it: and whosoever shal lose his life for my sake, the same shal saue it.

25 For what auarageth it a man, if he winne the whole worlde, and destroye him self, or lose him self?

26 ¶ For whosoever shal be ashamed of me, and of my wordes, of him shal the Sonne of man be ashamed, when he shal come in his glorie, and in the glorie of the Father, and of the holie Angels.

27 ¶ And I tell you of a surer, there be some standing here, which shal not taste of death, til they haue sene the kingdome of God.

28 ¶ And it came to passe about an eight dayes after those wordes, that he toke Peter, & Iohn, and Iames, and went vp into a mountaine to pray.

29 And as he prayed, the facion of his countenance was changed, & his garment was white and glistered.

30 And beholde, two men talked with him, which were Moses and Elias,

31 Which appeared in glorie, and tolde of his departing, which he shulde accomplish at Ierusalem.

32 But Peter and they that were with him, were heauie with slepe, and when they awooke, they sawe his glorie, and the two men standing with him.

33 And it came to passe, as they departed from him, Peter said vnto Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to be here: let vs therefore make thre tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias, and wike not what he said.

34 While he thus spake, there came a cloude & overshadowed them, & they feared when these were entering into the cloude.

35 ¶ And there came a voyce out of the cloude, saying, This is my beloued Sonne, heare him.

36 And when the voyce was past, Iesus was founde alone: and they kept it close, and tolde no man in those dayes any of those things which they had sene.

37 ¶ And it came to passe on the next day, as they came downe from the mountaine, muche people met him.

38 ¶ And beholde, a man of the companie cryed out, saying, Master, I beseeche thee, beholde my sonne: for he is all that I haue.

And whiles he was yet comming, the deuill rent him, and tare him: and Iesus rebuked the vnclane spirit, and healed the childe, and deliuered him to his father.

And thei were all amazed at the migh-

dred at all things, which Iesus did, he said
vnto his disciples,

Marke these wordes diligently: for it
shal come to passe, that the Sonne of man
shal be deliuered into the hands of men.

But they vnderstode not that worde: for it was hid from them, so that they coude not perceiue it: and they feared to aske him of that worde.

¶ Then there arose a disputacion among them, which of them shulde be the greatest.

When Iesus sawe the thoughts of their hearts, he toke a litle childe, and set him
by him,

And said vnto them, Whosoever recei-
ueth this litle childe in my Name, recei-ueth me: and whosoever shal receiue me, receiueth him that sent me: for he that is least among you all, he shal be great.

¶ And Iohn answered, & said, Master,
we sawe one casting out deuils in thy Name, and we forbade him, because he fol-
loweth thee not with vs.

Then Iesus said vnto him, Forbid ye him not: for he that is not against vs, is with vs.

¶ And it came to passe, when the dayes
were accomplished, that he shulde be re-ceiued vp, he setteled him self fully to go to Ierusalem,

And sent messengers before him: and they went and entred into a towne of the Samaritans, to prepare him lodging.

But they wolde not receiue him, because his behauiour was, as though he wolde
go to Ierusalem.

And when his disciples, James and Iohn
sawe it, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we commande, that fyre come downe from heauen, and consume them, euen as Elias did?

But Iesus turned about, & rebuked the,
and said, Ye knowe not of what spirit
ye are.

¶ For the Sonne of man is not come to destroye mens liues, but to saue the. Then they went to another towne.

¶ And it came to passe that as they went
in the way, a certeine man said vnto him,

I wil followe thee, Lord, whether soeuer
thou goest.

And Iesus said vnto him, The foxes
haue holes, and the birdes of the heauen
haue nestes, but the Sonne of man hath not whereon to laie his head.

But he said vnto another, Followe me.
And the same said, Lord, suffer me first to go and burye my father.

And Iesus said vnto him, Let the dead
burye their dead: but go thou and preache
the kingdome of God.

Then another said, I wil followe thee,
Lord: but let me first go bid the fare wel,
which are at mine house.

And Iesus said vnto him, No man y put-teth his hand to the plough, and looketh
backe, is apte to the kingdome of God.

CHAP. X.

He sendeth the seuentie before him to preache, and gi-

therefore the Lord of the haruest to send forthe laborers into his haruest.

17. ¶ And the sequente turned againe with Ioye, saying, Ioye, euen the deuils are subdued to vs through thy Name.
18. And he said vnto them, I sawe Satan,
like lightening, fall downe from heauen.
19. Beholde, I giue vnto you power to trea-

20. Neuertheles, in this reioyce not, that y spirits are subdued vnto you: but rather reioyce, because your names are written in heauen.
21. ¶ That same houre, Ioyced Iesus in the spirit, and said, I confesse vnto thee, Father, Lord of heauen & earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and learned, and hast reueiled them to babes:
euen so, Father, because it so pleased thee.
22. Then he turned to his disciples, and said, All things are giuen me of my Father: and no man knoweth who the Sonne
is, but the Father: neither, who the Father is, saue the Sonne, and he to whome
the Sonne wil reueile him.
23. ¶ And he returned to his disciples, and said secretly, Blessed are the eyes, which see that ye see.
24. For I tell you that manie Prophetes &
Kings haue desired to see those things, which ye see, and haue not sene them: and to heare those things, which ye heare, & haue
not heard them.
25. ¶ Then beholde, a certeine expounder
of the Law stood vp, and tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I do, to inherite
eternal life?
26. And he said vnto him, What is written in the Law? how readest thou?
27. And he answered, and said, Thou shalt loue thy Lord God with all thine heart, &
with all thy soule, & with all thy strength, & with all thy thought, & thy neighbour
as thy self.
28. Then he said vnto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, & thou shalt liue.
29. But he willing to iustifie him selfe, said
vnto Iesus, Who is then my neighbour?

30. And Iesus answered, and said, A certeine man went downe from Ierusalem to Jericho, and fell among theues, and they robbed him of his rayment, and wounded
him, & departed, leauing him halfe dead.
31. And by chance there came downe a cer-teine Priest that same way, and when he
sawe him, he passed by on the other side.
32. And likewise also, a Leuite, when he was come nere to the place, went and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.
33. Then a certeine Samaritan, as he iourneyed, came nere vnto him, and when he sawe him, he had compassion on him,
34. And went to him, & bounde vp his woundes, and powred in oyle and wine, and put him on his owne beast, and broght him to an ynne, and made prouision for him.
35. And on the morowe when he departed, he toke out two pence, and gaue them to the hostler, and said vnto him, Take care of him, and whatsoeuer thou spendest more,
when I come againe, I will recompense
thee.
36. Which now of these thre, thinkest thou, was neighbour vnto him, that fell among
the theues?
37. And he said, He that shewed mercie on him. Then said Iesus vnto him, Go, & do thou likewise.
38. ¶ Now it came to passe as they wet, that he entred into a certeine towne, and a cer-teine woman named Martha, receiued him into her house.
39. And she had a sister called Marie, which also sat at Iesus fete, and heard his preaching.
40. But Martha was combred about muche seruing, and came to him, & said, Master,
doest thou not care that my sister haue
left me to serue alone? bid her therefore,
that she helpe me.
41. And Iesus answered, and said vnto her, Martha, Martha, thou carest, & art troubled about manie things.
42. But one thing is needefull, Marie hath chosen the good parte, which shall not be taken away from her.

Moreover he said vnto them, Which
of you shal haue a friend, and shal go to

For a friend of mine is come out of the way to me, and I haue nothing to set be-

And he within shulde answer, and say, Trouble me not: the doie is now shut, and my children are with me in bed: I can not

I say vnto you, though he wolde not arise
and giue him, because he is his friend, yet

And I say vnto you, Aske, and it shal be

and it shal be opened vnto you.

For euerie one that asketh, receiuethe: &
he that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shal be opened.

If a sonne shal aske bread of any of you that is a father, wil he giue him a stone? or if he aske a fishe, wil he for a fishe giue him
a serpent?

Or if he aske an egge, wil he giue him a scorpion?

If ye then which are euil, can giue good giftes vnto your children, how muche more shal your heauēlie Father giue the ho-lie Gost to them, that desire him?

Then he callt out a deuill which was
dorme: and when the deuill was gone out,
the dorme spake, and the people wondered.

But some of them said, He casteth out deuils through Beelzebub the chief of the deuils.

And others tempted him, seeking of him
a signe from heauen.

But he knewe their thoghtes, and said
vnto them, Euerie kingdome deuied against it self, shal be desolare, and an house
deuied against an house, falleth.

So if Satan also be deuied against him self, how shal his kingdome stand, because ye say that I cast out deuils through Beelzebub?

If I through Beelzebub cast out deuils,
by whome do your children cast them
out? Therefore shal they be your iudges.

But if I by the finger of God cast out deuils, douteles the kingdome of God is come vnto you.

When a strong man armed, kepeth his palace, the things that he possesseth, are in peace.

But when a stronger then he, cometh
vpon him, and ouercommeth him: he ra-keth from him all his armour wherein he trusted; and deuiceth his spoiles.

He that is not with me, is against me:
and he that gathereth not with me, scat-tereth.

When the vnclane spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through drye places, seeking rest: and when he findeth none, he saith, I wil returne vnto mine house whence I came out.

And when he cometh, he findeth it swept and garnished.

Then goeth he, and taketh to him se-
uen other spirits worse then him self: and
they entre in and dwell there, so the last
state of that man is worse then the first.

And it came to passe as he said these things, a certaine woman of the companie
listd vp her voyce, & said vnto him, Ble-sed is the wombe that bare thee, and the pappes which thou hast sucked.

But he said, Yea, rather blessed are they
that heare the worde of God; and keepe it.

And when the people were gathered thicke together, he began to say, This is a wicked generation: they seke a signe, and there shal no signe be giuen them, but the signe of Ionas the Prophet.

For as Ionas was a signe to the Nineu-ites, so shal also the Son of man be to this generation.

The Quene of the South shal rise in iudgement, with the men of this generation, and shal condemne them: for she came from the vtmost partes of the earth to heare the wisdom of Solomon, and behol-

The men of Nineue shal rise in iudge-
ment with this generation, and shal con-
demne it: for they repented at the preaching of Ionas: and beholde, a greater then Ionas is here.

No man lighteth a candel, & putteth
it in a priuie place, nether vnder a bushel:
but on a candlesticke, that thei which co-

The light of the bodie is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, then is thy whole bodie light: but if thine eye be euil, then thy bodie is darke.

Take hede therefore, that light which is in thee, be not darkened.

If therefore thy whole bodie shal be light,
hauing no parte darke, the shal all be light,
euen as when a candel doeth light thee
with the brightnes.

And he said, This wil I do, I wil pul downe my barnes, and buyde greater, & therein wil I gather all my frutes, and my goods.

And I wil say to my soule, Soule, thou hast muche goods laid vp for many ye-pastime.

But God said vnto him, O foole, this night wil they fetch away thy soule from thee: the whose shal those things be which thou hast provided?

So is he that gathereth riches to him self,
and is not riche in God.

And he spake vnto his disciples, Therefore I say vnto you, * Take no thought for your life, what ye shal eat: nether for your bodie, what ye shal put on.

The life is more then meat: and the bodie
more then the raiment.

Consider the rauen: for they nether
sowe nor reape: which nether haue store
house nor barn, & yet God fedeth them:
how muche more are ye better then foules?

And which of you with taking thought,
can adde to his stature one cubit?

If ye then be not able to do the least thing, why take ye thought for the reman-ent?

Consider the lilies how they grow: they labour not, nether spin in they: yet I say vnto
you, y<sup>e</sup> Solomon him self in all his royaltie
was not clothed like one of these.

If then God so clothe the grasse which is to day in the field, & to morow is cast into the ouë, how muche more wil he clothe you,
o ye of litle faith?

Therefore aske not what ye shal eat, or what ye shal drinke, nether stand in doute.

For all suche things the people of the worlde seke for: and your Father knoweth
that ye haue nede of these things.

But rather seke ye after the kingdome of God, & all these things shalbe ministred
vnto you.

Feare not, litle flocke: for it is your Fathers pleasure, to giue you the kingdome.

* Sel that ye haue, and giue almes: make you bagges, which waxe not olde, a treasure that can neuer faile in heauen,
where no thefe commeth, nether moth
corrupteth.

For where your treasure is, there wil your hearts be also.

* Let your loines be girded about, and
your lights burning,

And ye your selues like vnto men that
wait for their master, when he wil returne
from the wedding, that when he commeth
and knocketh, they maye open vnto him

immediatly.

Blessed are those seruants, whome the Lord when he cometh shal finde waking:
verely I say vnto you, he wil<sup>m</sup> girdle him self about, and make them to sit downe at table, and wil come forth, & serue them.

And if he come in the seconde watche;
or come in the thirde watche, & shal finde
them so, blessed are those seruants.

* Now vnderstande this, that if the good man of y<sup>e</sup> house had knowen at what houre
the thefe wolde haue come, he wolde haue watched, and wolde not haue suffered his house to be digged through.

Be ye also prepared therefore: for the Sonne of man wil come at an houre when ye thinke not.

Then Peter said vnto him, Master, tel-
lest thou this parable vnto vs, or euen
to all?

And the Lord said, Who is a faithful steward, & wise, whome the master shal
make ruler ouer his housholde, to giue
them their<sup>a</sup> portion of meat in season?

Blessed is that seruant, whome his master
when he cometh, shal finde so doing.

Of a trueth I say vnto you, that he wil
make him ruler ouer all that he hath.

But if that seruant say in his heart, My master doeth deferre his comming, and shal beginne to smite the seruants, and maidens, and to eat, and drinke, and to be drunken,

The master of that seruāt wil come in a day whē he thinketh not, & at an houre whē
he is not ware of, and wil cut him of, & gi-
ue him his portion with the vnbelouers.

* And that seruant that knewe his mas-

did according to his wil, shalbe beatē with

But he that knewe it not, and yet did com-

* Thinke ye that I am come to giue peace

For from hence forth there shalbe fue-

* The father shalbe deuided against the

35 Hypocrites, ye can discerne the face of the earth, and of the skie: but why discerne ye not this time?

CHAP. XIII.

The crueltie of Pilate. 2 We ought not to condemne all to be wicked men which suffer. 3 Christ exhorteth to repentance. 11 He healeth the crooked woman. 15 Answereth to the master of the Synagogue. 18 By diuers similitudes he declarith what the kingdome of God is. 23 Also that the number of them which shall be saved, is small. 33 Finally he sheweth that no worldlye policie or force can let the worke and counsell of God.

There were certeine men present at the same season, that shewed him of y Galileas, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their owne sacrifices.

2 And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Suppose ye, y these Galileans were greater sinners then all the other Galileans, because they haue suffered suche things?

3 I tell you, nay: but except ye amende your liues, ye shall all likewise perish.

4 Or thinke you that those eightene, vpon whome the towne in Siloam fel, & slewe them, were sinners aboue all men that dwell in Ierusalem?

5 I tell you, nay: but except ye amede your liues, ye all shall likewise perish.

6 ¶ He spake also this parable, A certeine man had a figge tre planted in his vineyard: and he came and sought fruite thereon, and founde none.

7 Then said he to the dresser of his vineyarde, Beholde, this thre yeres haue I come and sought fruite of this figge tre, and finde none: cut it downe: why keepeth it also the ground barren?

8 And he answered, & said vnto him, Lord, let it alone this yere also, til I digge round about it, and dongue it.

9 And if it beare fruite, wel: if not, the after thou shalt cut it downe.

10 ¶ And he taught in one of the Synagogues on the Sabbath day.

11 And beholde, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmities eightene yeres,

Whome Satan had stroken with a disease, as the spirit of that spirit, that maketh a man couetous.

& was bowed together, and colde not lift vp herself in anie wise.

12 When Iesus sawe her, he called her to him, and said to her, Woman, thou art loosed from thy disease.

13 And he laid his hands on her, and immediately she was made straight againe, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the Synagogue answered with indignation because that Iesus had healed on the Sabbath day, & said vnto the people, There are six dayes in which men ought to worke: in the therefore come and be healed, and not on the Sabbath day.

15 Then answered him the Lord, and said, Hypocrite, doest not eiche one of you on the Sabbath day lase his oxe or his asse fro the stall, & lead him away to y water?

16 And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whome Sara had bounde, lo, eighrene yeres, be loosed from this bonde on the Sabbath day?

17 And when he said these things, all his aduersaries were ashamed: but all the people reioyced at all the excellent things, that were done by him.

18 ¶ Then said he, What is the kingdome of God like? or whereto shal I compare it?

19 It is like a graine of mustarde seed, which a man toke and sowed in his garden, and it grewe, and waxed a great tre, and the fowles of the heauen made nestes in the branches thereof.

20 ¶ And againe he said, Whereunto shal I liken the kingdome of God?

21 It is like leauen, which a woman toke, and hid in thre peckes of floure, til all was leauened.

22 ¶ And he went through all cities and townes, teaching, & iourneying towards Ierusalem.

23 Then said one vnto him, Lord, are there fewe y shall be saved? And he said vnto the,

24 ¶ Striue to entre in at the strait gate: for manie, I say vnto you, wil seke to enter in, and shal not be able.

25 When the good man of the house is risen vp, and hath shut to the dore, and ye beginne to stand without, and to knocke at the dore, saying, Lord, Lord, open to vs, and he shal answer and say vnto you, I knowe you not whence ye are,

26 ¶ Then shal ye beginne to say, We haue eaten and drunke in thy presence, & thou hast taught in our stretes.

27 ¶ But he shal say, I tel you, I know you not whence ye are: departe from me, all ye workers of iniquitie.

28 There shal be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shal see Abraham and Isaac, and Iacob, and all the Prophetes in the kingdome of God, and your selues thrust out.

29 Then shal come men from the West; and from the South, and from the North, and shall come into the kingdome of God.

32 Neuertheles I must to morowe, and the day after to morowe, can not be, that a Pharisee should be out of Ierusalem.

33 ¶ O Ierusalem, I sent to thee, how oft I desired thy children, gathered her broode, y wouldest not!

CHAP. XIII.

Iesus eateth with the Pharise. 4 Healeth the dropse
vpon the Sabbath. 8 Teacheth to be lowlie & to bid
the poore to our table. 15 He telleth of the great supper.
18 He warneth them that wil followe him, to lay their accounes before, what it wil cost them. 34 The salt
of the earth.

And it came to passe that whē he was entred into the house of one of the chief Pharises on the Sabbath day, to eat bread, they watched him.

And beholde, there was a certeine mā before him, which had the dropse.

Then Iesus answering, spake vnto the expounders of the Law, and Pharises, saying,
Is it lawful to heale on the Sabbath day?

And they held their peace. Then he toke
him, and healed him, and let him go,

And answered them, saying, Which of you shal haue an asse, or an oxe fallen into a pit, and wil not straightway pul him out on the Sabbath day?

And they colde not answer him againe
to those things.

He spake also a parable to the ghests,
when he marked how they chose out the chief rournes, and said vnto them,

When thou shalt be bidden of anie mā
to a wedding, set not thy self downe in the chiefest place, lest a more honorable man
then thou, be bidden of him,

And he that bade bothe him and thee, come, and say to thee, Giue this man rounge,
and thou then beginne with shame to take
the lowest rounge.

* But whē y<sup>e</sup> art bidden, go & sit downe in
the lowest rounge, that when he that bade
thee, cometh, he may say vnto thee, Friend, sit vp hier: the shal then haue worship in the presence of them that sit at table with
thee.

* For whosoever exalteth him self, shal-
be broght low, and he that humbleth him self, shalbe exalted.

The said he also to him that had bidden him, * When thou makest a dyner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor the riche
neighbours, lest they also bid thee againe,
and a recompense be made thee.

But when thou makest a feast, call the
poore, the maimed, the lame, & the blind,

And thou shalt be blessed, because they
cā not recōpense thee: for thou shalt be re-
cōpensed at the resurrection of the iuste.

Now whē one of them that sate at table, heard these things, he said vnto him, Blessed is he that eateth bread in the king-
dome of God.

Then said he to him, * A certeine man
made a great supper, and bade manie,

And sent his seruant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come: for all things are now ready.

But they all with one minde begā to make excuse: The first said vnto him, I haue bought a ferme, and I must nedes go out &
se it: I pray thee haue me excused.

And another said, I haue bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to proue them: I pray thee, haue me excused.

And another said, I haue married a wife,
and therefore I can not come.

So y<sup>e</sup> seruant returned, & shewed his master these things. The was the good mā of the house angrie, & said to his seruāt, Go out quickly into y<sup>e</sup> places & stretes of the citle, and bring in hither the poore, & the maimed, and the halt, and the blinde.

And the seruant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast cōmāded, & yet there is rounge.

Then the master said to the seruant, Go out into the <sup>bie</sup> wayes, and hedges, and compel them to come in, that mine house
may be filled.

For I say vnto you, that none of those men which were bidden, shal taste of my supper.

Now there went great multitudes with him, and he turned and said vnto them,

If anie man come to me, and hate not
his father, and mother, & wife, & children,
and brethren, and sisters: yea, and his owne
life also, he can not be my disciple.

The Pharifeſ murmure becauſe Chriſt receiuet ſinners. 4 The louing mercie of God is openly ſet forth in the parable of the hundred ſhepe, 7 Ioye in heauen
for one ſinner. 12 Of the prodigal ſonne.

1 Then reſorted vnto him all the Publi-
canes, and ſinners, to heare him.
2 Therefore the Pharifeſ and ſcribes murmured, ſaying, He receiuet ſinners, & eareth with them.
3 Then ſpake he this parable to them,
ſaying,
4 *What man of you hauing an hundred
ſhepe, if he looſe one of them, doeth not leauē ninetie and nine in the wildernes, &
go after that which is loſt, vntill he finde it?
5 And when he hath founde it, he laieth
it on his ſhoulders with ioye.
6 And whē he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, ſaying vnto them, Reioyce with me: for I haue founde my ſhepe, which was loſt.
7 I ſay vnto you, that likewiſe ioye ſhal be in heauen for one ſinner that conuerteth,
more then for ninetie and nine iuſte men,
which nede none amendement of life.
8 Either what woman hauing ten b pieces of ſiluer, if ſhe looſe one piece, doeth not light a candle, & ſwepe the houſe, and ſeek
diligently till ſhe finde it?
9 And when ſhe hath founde it, ſhe calleth
her friends, and neighbours, ſaying, Re-ioyce with me: for I haue founde the piece
which I had loſt.
10 Likewiſe I ſay vnto you, there is ioye

in the preſence of the Angels of God, for one ſinner that conuerteth.

11 ¶ He ſaid moreover, A certaine man had two ſonnes.
12 And the yonger of the ſaid to his father,
Father, giue me the portion of the goods
that falleth to me. So he deuided vnto them his ſubſtance.
13 So not long after, when the yonger ſon-ne had gathered all together, he toke his iourney into a farre countrey, and there he waſted his goods with riotous liuing.
14 Now when he had ſpent all, there aroſe
a great dearth throughout that land, and
he began to be in neceſſitie.
15 Then he went and claue to a citizen of that countrey, and he ſent him to his far-
me, to feede ſwine.
16 And he wolde faine haue filled his bellie with ſ huskes, that the ſwine ate: *but no man gaue them him.
17 Then he came to him ſelf, and ſaid, How bread ynough, and I dye for hunger?

18 I wil riſe and go to my father, and ſay
vnto him, Father, I haue ſinned againſt
heauen, and before thee, 19 And am no more worthe to be called thy
ſonne: make me as one of thy hired ſeruants.
20 So he aroſe and came to his father, and
whē he was yet a great way of, his father ſawe him, and had compaſſion, and ran &
fel on his necke, and kiſſed him.
21 And the ſonne ſaid vnto him, Father,
I haue ſinned againſt heauen, and before thee, and am no more worthe to be called

22 Then the father ſaid to his ſeruants, Bring forth the beſt robe, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and ſhoes

23 And bring the fat calfe, and kil him, and let vs eat, and be merie.
24 For this my ſonne was dead, and is aliue
again: and he was loſt, but he is founde.
And they began to be merie.
25 Now the Elder brother was in the field,
and when he came and drew nere to the
houſe, he heard melodie, and dancing, 26 And called one of his ſeruants, & asked
what thoſe things meant.
27 And he ſaid vnto him, Thy brother is come, and thy father hath kiſſed the fattened calfe, becauſe he hath receiued him

28 Thē he was angrie, & wolde not go in:
therefore came his father out and entrea-

CHAP. XVI.

*Christ exhorteth his to wisdom and liberalitie by the example of the steward. 13 None can serue two masters. 14 He reprehendeth the couetousnes and hypocrisie of the Pharises. 16 Of the end and force of the Law.
18 Of the holie state of mariage. 19 Of the riche and Lazarus.*

32 And he said also vnto his disciples,
<sup>a</sup> There was a certeine riche man,
which had a steward, and he was accused
vnto him, that he wasted his goods.

And he called him, and said vnto him,
How <sup>is it</sup> that I heare this of thee? Giue accounts of thy stewardship: for thou maiest be no longer steward.

33 Then the steward said within him self,
What shal I do: for my master wil take away from me the stewardship? I can not digge, & to begge I am ashamed.

34 I knowe what I wil do, that when I am put out of the stewardship they may receiue
me into their houses.

Then called he euerie one of his masters
detters, & said vnto the first, How muche
owest thou vnto my master?

35 And he said, An hūdreth measures of oyle.
And he said to him, Take thy writing,
and sit downe quickly, and write fiftie.

36 Then said he to another, How muche
owest thou? And he said, An hūdreth measures of wheat. Then he said to him, Take thy writing, and write foure score.

37 And the Lord commended <sup>h</sup> the vniust
steward, because he had done wisely.
Wherefore the children of this worlde are in their generacion wiser the children of light.

38 And I saye vnto you, Make you friends with the riches of iniquitie, that when ye shal want, they may receiue you into euerlasting habitacions.

39 He that is faithful in the least, he is also faithful in muche: and he that is vniust in the least, is vniust also in muche.

40 If the ye haue not bene faithful in <sup>a</sup> the wicked riches, who wil trust you in <sup>h</sup> true treasures?

41 And if ye haue not bene faithful in <sup>a</sup> another mans goods, who shal giue you that which is yours?

42 No seruant can serue two masters: for ether he shal hate the one, and loue the other: or els he shal leane to the one, & despise the other. Ye can not serue God and riches.

14 All these things heard the Pharises also which were couetous, and they <sup>s</sup> mocked
him.

15 Then he said vnto them, Ye are they,
which <sup>h</sup> iustifie your selues before men:
but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed amōg men, is abomination in the sight of God.

16 * The Law and the Prophetes endured vntil Iohn: and since that time the kingdome of God is preached, and euerie man <sup>i</sup> preasseth into it.

17 * Now it is more easie that heauen and earth shulde passe away, then that one title of the Law shulde fall.

18 ¶ Who soeuer putteth away his wife, &
marieth another, committeth adulterie: &
who soeuer marieth her that <sup>h</sup> is put away
from her housband, committeth adulterie.

19 ¶ There was a <sup>l</sup> certeine riche mā, which was clothed in purple and fine linen, and sared wel and delicately euerie day.

20 Also there was a certeine begger named Lazarus, which was laied at his gate ful of sores,

21 And desired to be refreshed with the
crommes that fell from the riche mans table: yea, and the dogs came and licked his
sores.

22 And it was so that the begger dyed, and was caryed by the Angels into <sup>m</sup> Abrahams <sup>b</sup> bosome. The riche man also dyed and was buried.

23 And being in hel in torments, he liue vp his eyes, and sawe Abraham a farre of, & Lazarus in his bosome.

24 Then he cryed, and said, Father Abraham, haue mercie on me, and send Lazarus that he may dippe <sup>h</sup> typ of his <sup>o</sup> finger
in water, and coole my tongue: for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham said, <sup>p</sup> Sonne, remember that thou in thy life time receiuedst thy pleasures, and likewise Lazarus <sup>p</sup> paines:
now therefore is he comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 Besides all this, betwene you and vs there is a great <sup>g</sup> gulfe set, so that they which wolde go from hence to you, can not, nether can they come from thence to vs.

27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore father, that thou woldest send him to my fathers house,

28 (For I haue fise brethre) that he may testifie vnto them, lest they also come into
this place of torment.

29 Abraham said vnto him, They haue

Christ teacheth his disciples to auoide occasions of offence, 3 One to forgive another. 5 We ought to pray for the increase of faith. 6 He magnifieth the Vertue of faith, 10 And sheweth the vnhabilitie of man, 11 Healeth ten lepers. 20 Speaketh of the latter dayes, and of the end of the world.

Mat. 18. 7.
mar. 9. 42.

Then said he to the disciples, * It can not be auoided, but that offences wil come, but wo be to him by whome they come.

It were better for him that a great millstone were hanged about his necke, and that he were cast into the sea, then that he shulde offend one of these litle ones.

a That is, to turne him backe from y<sup>e</sup> knowledge of God, and his saluation.

Take hede to your selues: if thy brother trespace against thee, rebuke him: & if he repent, forgive him.

Mat. 18. 21.

* And thogh he sinne against thee <sup>b</sup> seven times in a daye, and seven times in a daye turne againe to thee, saying, I repenteth me, thou shalt forgive him.

Mat. 17. 20.

* And the Apostles said vnto the Lord, Increase our faith.

c That is, if thou had neuer so litle of pure and perfite faith.
d Meaning, thou shuldest do wonderful and incredible things.

And the Lord said, * If ye had faith as muche as <sup>c</sup> a graine of mustard seede, and shulde say vnto this mulberry tre, <sup>d</sup> plucke thy self vp by the rootes, and plante thy self in the sea, it shulde euen obey you.

* Who is it also of you that hauing a seruant plowing or feding cattel, wolde saye vnto him by & by, when he were come fro the field, Go, and sit downe at table?

e Iheremy is declared y<sup>e</sup> it is not yough to do a piece of our dutie for a time, but also we must continue. so the end.

And wolde not rather say to him, * Dresse wherewith I may suppe, and girde thy self, and serue me, til I haue eaten and drunken, and afterward eat thou, & drinke thou?

Doeth he thanke that seruant, because he did that which was commaded vnto him? I trowe not.

f For God requeneth nothing of vs, whereby he shulde haue boide vnto vs.

So likewise ye, when ye haue done all those things, which are commanded you, say, We are <sup>f</sup> vnprofitable seruants: we haue done that which was our dutie to do.

* And so it was when he went to Ierusalem, that he passed through the middes of Samaria and Galilee.

And as he entred into a certeine towne, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stode a farre of.

And they lift vp their voyces and said, Iesus, Master, haue mercie on vs.

Leui. 14. 2.

And when he sawe them, he said vnto them, * Go, shewe your selues vnto the Priests. And it came to passe, that as they went, they were censed.

Then one of them, when he sawe that he was healed, turned backe, and with a loud voyce praised God,

And fell downe on his face at his fete, and gaue him thanks: and he was a Samaritan.

And Iesus answered, and said, Are there not ten censed? but where are the <sup>h</sup> nine?

There are none founde that returned to giue God praise, saue this stranger.

And he said vnto him, Arise, go thy way, thy faith hath made thee whole.

* And when he was demanded of the Pharises, when the kingdome of God shulde come, he answered them, & said, The kingdome of God cometh not with obseruation.

Nether shal men say, Lo here, or lo there: for beholde the kingdome of God is <sup>i</sup> within you.

And he said vnto the disciples, The dayes wil come, when ye shal desire to see <sup>j</sup> one of the dayes of the Sonne of man, and ye shal not see it.

* Then they shal saye to you, Beholde here, or beholde there: but go not thither, nether followe them.

For as the lightening that lighteneth out of the one parte vnder heaven, shineth vnto the other parte vnder heaven, so shal the Sonne of man be in his <sup>k</sup> daye.

But first must he suffer manie things, & be reprobued of this generation.

* And as it was in the <sup>l</sup> dayes of Noe, so shal it be in the dayes of the Sonne of man.

They ate, they dranke, they married wives, and gaue in marriage vnto the daye that Noe went into the Arke: & the flood came, and destroyed them all.

* Likewise also, as it was in the dayes of Lot: they ate, they dranke, they bought, they solde, they planted, they buyt.

But in the daye that Lot went out of Sodom, it rained fyre and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all.

After these ensamples shal it be in the daye when the Sonne of man shal be reueiled.

At that daye he that is vpon the <sup>m</sup> house, and his stuffe in the house, let him not come downe to take it out: and he that is in the field likewise, let him not turne backe to that he left behinde.

* Remember Lots wife.

* Whosoever wil seke to saue his soule, shal lose it: & whosoever shal lose it, shal get it life.

* I tell you, in that night there shalbe

two in one bed: the one shal be taken, and the other shal be left. And they answered, Where, Lord? And he said, Where soeuer y<sup>e</sup> be, the egles resorte.

By the example of the widowe, and the Publicane,

And he spake also a parable vnto the,
to this end, that they ought alwayes to pray, and not to waxe fainte,

Saying, There was a iudge in a certeine
citic, which feared not God, neither reuer-ed man.

And there was a widowe in y<sup>e</sup> citic, which came vnto him, saying, " Do me iustice against mine aduersaire.

And he wolde not for a time: but afterwarde he said with him self, Though I fea-
re not God, nor reuerence man,

Yet because this widowe troubleth me,
I wil do her right, lest at the last she come
and make me wearie.

And the Lord said, Heare what the vn-

Now shal not God aduenge his elect, w<sup>h</sup>
crye day and night vnto him, yea, though
he suffer long for them?

I tel you he wil aduenge the quickly: but when the Sonne of man cometh, shal he finde faith on the earth?

¶ He spake also this parable vnto certiene which trusted in them selues that they were iuste, and despised other,

Two men wet vp into y<sup>e</sup> Tēple to pray:
the one a Pharise, and the other a Publicā.

The Pharise stood & prayed thus with him self, O God, I thanke thee that I am not as other mē, extortioners, vnjust, adulterers, or euen as this Publican.

I fast twise in the weeke: I giue tithe of all that euer I possesse.

But the Publicane standing a farre of,
wolde not lift vp so muche as his eyes to heauē, but smote his breast, saying, O God,
be merciful to me a sinner.

I tel you, this man departed to his house iustified, rather than the other: * for e-uerie man that exalteth him self, shalbe brought low, & he that humbleth him self,
shalbe exalted.

¶ They brought vnto him also babes,
that he shulde touche them. And when his disciples sawe it, they rebuked them.

But Iesus called s<sup>t</sup> them vnto him and said, Suffer the babes to come vnto me, &

forbid them not: for of such is the king-
dome of God.

Verely I say vnto you, whosoever recei-ueth not the kingdome of God as a babe, he shal not enter therein.

* Thē a certeine ruler asked him, saying,
Good master, what ought I to do, to inheri-
te eternal life?

And Iesus said vnto him, Why callest
thou me good? none is good, saue one,
euen God.

Thou knowest the commandements,
* Thou shalt not commit adulterie: Thou shalt not kill: Thou shalt not steale: Thou shalt not beare false witnes: Honour thy father and thy mother.

And he said, All these haue I kept from
my youth.

Now whē Iesus heard that, he said vnto him, Yer lackest thou one thing. Sel all y<sup>e</sup>
euer thou hast, & distribute vnto the poe-
re, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen,
and come, folowe me.

But when he heard those things, he was
verie heauie: for he was marueilous riche.

And when Iesus sawe him sorowful, he said, With what difficultie shal they that haue riches, entre into the kingdome of God?

Surely it is easier for a camel to go through a needles eye, then for a riche man
to entre into the kingdome of God.

Then said they that heard it, And who
then can be saued?

And he said, The things which are vn-
possible with mē, are possible with God.

* Then Peter said, Lo, we haue left all,
and haue followed thee.

And he said vnto the, Verely I say vnto
you, there is no man that hath left house,
or parents, or brethren, or wife, or childre
for the kingdome of Gods sake,

Which shal not receiue muche more
in this worlde, and in the worlde to come life euerlasting.

* Then Iesus toke vnto him the twelue,
and said vnto them, Beholde, we go vp to Ierusalem, and all things shalbe fulfilled to the Sonne of man, that are written by the Prophetes.

For he shalbe deliuered vnto the Gētiles
and shalbe mocked, and shalbe spitefully
entreated, and shalbe spit on.

And when they haue scourged him, they wil put him to death: but the third day he shal rise againe.

But thei vnderstode none of these thi-
gs, and this saying was hid from them, nether perceiued they the things, which were spoken.

40 And Iesus stode still, and commanded him to be broght vnto him. And when he was come nere, he asked him, 41 Saying, What wilt thou that I do vnto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receiue my sight.

42 And Iesus said vnto him, Receiue thy sight: thy faith hath saved thee.

43 Then immediatly he receiued his sight, and followed him, praising God: and all the people, when they sawe this, gaue praise to God.

2 Of Zaccheus. 12 The ten pieces of money. 28 Christ rideth to Ierusalem, & wepech for it. 45 He chaſteth out the marchants, 47 And his enemies ſeke to deſtroy him.

Now when Iesus entred and passed through Iericho,

Beholde, there was a mā named Zaccheus, which was the chief receiuer of the tribute, and he was riche.

And he sought to se Iesus, who he shulde be, and coulde not for the preasse, because he was of a lowe stature.

Wherefore he ran before, and climed vp into a wilde figge tre, that he might se him: for he shulde come that way.

And when Iesus came to the place, he looked vp, and sawe him, and said vnto him, Zaccheus, come downe at once: for to day I must abide at thine house.

Then he came downe hastily, and receiued him ioyfully.

And when all they sawe it, they murmured, saying, that he was gone in to lodge with a sinneful man.

And Zaccheus stode forth, & said vnto the Lord, Beholde, Lord, the halfe of my goods I giue to the poore: and if I haue taken fro anie man by forged cauillation, I restore him foure folde.

Then Iesus said to him, This day is saluation come vnto this house, forasmuch as he is also become the sonne of Abraham.

For the Sonne of man is come to seke, and to saue that which was lost.

And whiles they heard these things, he continued and spake a parable, because he was nere to Ierusalem, and because also they thought that the kingdome of God shulde shortly appeare.

And Iesus said vnto them, There were two men, which went downe to Ierusalem.

He said therefore, * A certeine noble. Mat. 21. 34. mā went into a farre country, to receiue for him self a kingdome, and so to come againe.

And he called his ten seruants, and deliuered them ten pieces of money, and said vnto them, * Occupie til I come.

Now his citizens hated him, and sent an ambassage after him, saying, We wil not haue this man to reigne ouer vs.

And it came to passe, when he was come againe, and had receiued his kingdome, he comanded the seruants to be called to him, to whome he gaue his money, that he might knowe what euerie mā had gained.

The first came, saying, Lord, thy piece hath encreased ten pieces.

And he said vnto him, Wel, good seruant: because thou hast bene faithful in a verie little thing, I will make thee ruler ouer ten cities.

And the seconde came, saying, Lord, thy piece hath encreased fve pieces.

And to the same he said, Be thou also ruler ouer fve cities.

So the other came and said, Lord, beholde thy piece, which I haue laid vp in a napkin.

For I feared thee, because thou art a strait man: thou takest vp, that thou laidest not downe, and reapest that thou diddest not sowe.

Then he said vnto him, Of thine owne smouth wilt I iudge thee, thou euil seruant. Thou knewest that I am a strait man, taking vp that I laid not downe, and reaping that I did not sowe.

Wherefore thus gauest thou my money into the bake, that at my comming I might haue required it with vantage?

And he said to them that stode by, Take from him that piece, and giue it him that hath ten pieces.

(And they said vnto him, Lord, he hath ten pieces.)

* For I say vnto you, that vnto all them that haue, it shalbe giuen: and from him that hath not, euen that he hath, shalbe taken from him.

Moreouer those mine enemies, which wolde not that I shulde reigne ouer them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

* And when he had thus spoken, he went forth: & before ascending vp to Ierusalem.

So they that were sent, went their way,

And as they were losing the colte, the

of thy visitation.

¶ He went also into the Temple, and began to cast out them that solde therein,

and them that boght,

Saying vnto them, It is written, Mine

him with the Elders,

And spake vnto him, saying, Tell vs by what autoritie thou doest these things, or who is he that hathe giuen thee this au-

toritie?

And he answered and said vnto them, I

also wil aske you one thing: tell me therefore:

The baptisme of Iohn was it from hea-

uen, or of men?

And they reasoned within them selues,

saying, If we shal say from heauen, he wil

say, Why then beleued ye him not?

But if we shal say, Of men, all the people wil stone vs: for thei be persuaded that

Iohn was a Prophet.

Therefore they answered, that they coulde

not tell whence it was.

Then Iesus said vnto them, ¶ Nether tell

I you, by what autoritie I do these things.

¶ The began he to speake to the people

this parable, ¶ A certeine man plantēd a vineyarde, & let it forth to hous band-

men: and went into a strange countrey, for a great season.

And at a time he sent a seruāt to the

hous band men, that they shulde giue him

of the frute of the vineyarde, but the hous

band men did beat him, and sent him away emptie.

¶ Againe he sent yet another seruāt: and they did beat him, and fowle entreated

him, and sent him away emptie.

¶ Moreouer, he sent the third, and him

they wounded, and cast out.

¶ Then said the Lord of the vineyarde,

What shal I do? I wil send my beloued

sonne: it may be that thei wil do reuerēce,

when they se him.

¶ But when the hous band men sawe him,

they reasoned with them selues, saying,

This is the heire: come, let vs kil him, that the enheritance may be ours.

¶ So they cast him out of the vineyarde, &

killed him. What shal the Lord of the vi-neyarde therefore do vnto them?

For I wil giue you a mouth and wisdom,

Yea, ye shalbe betrayed also of your pa-

And ye shal be hated of all men for my * Yet there shal not one heere of your

* And when yese Ierusalem besieged with souldiers, then vnderstand that the

Then let them which are in Iudea, flee to the mountaines: and let them which are in the middes thereof, departe out: and let not them that are in the countrey, enter therein.

For these be the dayes of vengeance, to fulfil all things that are written.

But wo be to them that be with childe, & to them that giue sucke in those dayes: for there shalbe great distresse in this land, &
wrath ouer this people.

And they shal fall on the edge of the sword, and shalbe led captiue into all nations, and Ierusalem shalbe troden vnder
foote of the Gentiles, vntil the time of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

* Then there shalbe signes in the sunne,
and in the moone, and in the starres, and
vpon the earth trouble among the nations
with perplexitie: the sea and the waters
shal roare.

And mens hearts shal faile them for feare, and for loking after those things which shal come on the worlde: for the powers
of heauen shal be shaken.

And then shal they se the Sonne of man come in a cloude, with power and great glorie.

And when these things begin to come to passe, then loke vp, and lift vp your heads: * for your redemption draweth
nere.

And he spake to them a parable, Behol-
de, the figge tre, and all trees,

When they now shote forth, ye seeing them, knowe of your owne selues, that sommer is then nere.

So likewise ye when yese these things
come to passe, knowe ye that the kingdome of God is nere.

Verely I say vnto you, This age shal not passe, til all these things be done.

Heauen and earth shal passe away, but my wordes shal not passe away.

Take hede to your selues, lest at any time your hearts be opprest with surfeting and drunkennes, and cares of this life, and lest that day come on you at vn-wares.

For as a snare shal it come on all them
that dwell on the face of the whole earth.

Watche therefore, & pray continually,
that ye may be counted worthie to escape
all these things that shal come to passe, and that ye may stand before the Sonne of mā.

* Now in the day time he taught in the Temple, & at night he went out, and abode
in the mount that is called the mount of olives.

And all the people came in the morning
to him, to heare him in the Temple.

Mat. 10. 9.

14 *And when the houre was come, he sate
downe, and the twelue Apostles with him.
15 Then he said vnto them, I haue earnestly desired to eat this Passeouer with you before I suffre.

16 For I say vnto you, Hence forth I wil
not eat of it any more, vntil it be fulfilled
in the kingdome of God.

17 And he toke the cup, and gaue thanks,
and said, Take this, and deuide it among
you.

18 For I say vnto you, I wil not drinke of the frute of the vine, vntil the kingdome
of God be come.

19 *And he toke bread, and when he had gi

uen thanks, he brake it, and gaue to them,
saying, This is my bodie, which is giuen
for you: do this in the remembrance of me.

20 Likewise also after supper he toke the cup, saying, This cup is the new Testa ment in my blood, which is shed for you.

21 *Yet beholde, the hand of him that be

trayeth me, is with me at the table.
22 And truly the Sonne of man goeth as it is appointed: but wo be to that man, by whome he is betrayed.

23 Then they began to enquire among the
selues which of the it shulde be, that shul

de do that.
24 *And there arose also a strife among the,

which of them shulde seme to be the great est.

25 But he said vnto them, The Kings of the Gentiles reigne ouer them, and they that beare ruld ouer the, are called Gracious lords.

26 But ye shal not be so: but let the greatest

among you be as the least: & the chiefest
as he that serueth.

27 For who is greater, he that sitteth at ta ble, or he that serueth? Is not he that sitteth at table? And I am among you as he that serueth.

28 And ye are they which haue continued

with me in my tentations.
29 Therefore I appoint vnto you a king

dome, as my Father hath appointed to me, 30 That ye may eat, and drinke at my ta ble in my kingdome, and sit on seates, and iudge the twelue tribes of Israel.

31 *And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, be holde, Satan hath desired you, to wy

nowe you, as wheat.

32 But I haue prayed for thee, that thy faith

faile not: therefore when thou art conuer

ted, strengthen thy brethren.

33 *And he said vnto him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee into prison, and to death.

34 But he said, I tell thee, Peter, the cocke

shal not crowe this day, before thou hast

thrice denied that thou knowest me.

35 *And he said vnto the, *Whē I sent you without bagge, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing? And they said, Nothing.

36 Then he said to them, But now he that hath a bagge, let him take it, and likewise
a scrip: and he that hath none, let him sel
his coare, and bye a sword.

37 For I say vnto you, That yet the same which is written, must be performed in me, *Euen with the wicked was he nomi

ned: for douteles those things which are written of me, haue an end.

38 And they said, Lord, beholde, here are two swordes. And he said vnto them, It is ynough.

39 *And he came out, and went (as he was wont) to the mounte of oliues: and his disciples also followed him.

40 *And when he came to the place, he said
to them, Pray, lest ye enter into tentation.

41 And he gate him self from them, about a stones cast, and kneeled downe, & prayed,

42 Saying, Father, if thou wilt, take away
this cup from me: neuertheles, not my wil, but thine be done.

43 And there appeared an Angel vnto him
from heauen, comforting him.

44 But being in an agonie, he prayed more earnestly: and his sweate was like dropes
of blood, trickling downe to the grounde.

45 And he rose vp from prayer, & came to his disciples, and founde them sleeping for heauines.

46 *And he said vnto them, Why slepe ye?
rise and pray, lest ye entre into tentation.

47 *And while he yet spake, beholde a co

pantie, and he that was called Iudas one of the twelue, went before them, and came

neere vnto Iesus to kisse him.
48 And Iesus said vnto him, Iudas, betrayest

thou the Sonne of man with a kisse?
49 Now when they which were about him,

sawe what wolde followe, they said vnto
him, Lord, shal we smite with sword?

50 And one of them smote a seruant of the
hie Priest, and strake of his right eare.

51 Then Iesus answered, and said, Suffre them thus farre: and he touched his eare, & healed him.

52 Then Iesus said vnto the hie Priests, &
captaines of the Temple, and the Elders

which were come to him, Be ye come out

53 When I was daily with you in the Tēple, ye stretched not forth the hands against me: but this is your very houre, and the power of darkenes.

54 *Then toke they him, and led him, and brought him to the hie Priests house. And Peter followed a farre of.

Then said they all, Art thou then the Sonne of God? And he said to thei, Ye say that I am.

CHAP. XXIII.

Iesus is brought before Pilate and Herode. 19 Of Barabbas. 26 Of Simon the Cyrenian. 27 The women make lamentation. 33 Christ crucified. 34 He praieth for his enemies. 40 He converteth the thefe & manie others at his death. 53 And is buried.

Then * the whole multitude of them arose, and led him vnto a Pilate.

And they began to accuse him, saying, We haue founde this man peruertering the people, and forbidding to paye tribute to Cesar, saying, That he is Christ a King.

* And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Iewes? And he answered him, and said, Thou saist it.

Then said Pilate to the hie Priests, and to the people, I finde no faute in this man.

But they were the more fierce, saying, He moueth the people, teaching through out all Iudea, beginning at Galile, euen to this place.

Now when Pilate heard of Galile, he asked whether the man were a Galilean.

And when he knewe that he was of Herodes iurisdiction, he sent him to Herode, which was also at Ierusalem in those daies.

And when Herode sawe Iesus, he was exceedingly glad: for he was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard manie things of him, and trusted to haue sene some signe done by him.

Then questioned he with him of manie things: but he answered him nothing.

The hie Priests also and Scribes stood forth and accused him vehemently.

¶ And Herode with his men of warre, despised him, and mocked him, and arrayed him in white, and sent him againe to Pilate.

* And the same daye Pilate and Herode were made friends together: for before they were enemies one to another.

¶ Then Pilate called together the hie Priests, and the rulers, and the people,

And said vnto them, Ye haue broght this man vnto me, as one that peruerterd the people: and beholde, I haue examined him before you, and haue founde no faute in this man, of those things whereof ye accuse him:

No, nor yet Herode: for I sent you to him: and lo, nothing worthe of death is done to him.

I wil therefore chastise him, and let him lowse.

(For of necessitie he must haue let one lowse vnto them at the feast.)

Then all the multitude cryed at once, saying, Away with him, and deliuer to vs Barabbas:

Which for a certeine insurrection made in the citie, & murder was cast in prison.

Then Pilate spake againe to them, willing to let Iesus lowse.

But they cryed, saying, Crucifie, crucifie him.

And he said vnto them the third time, But what euil hathe he done? I finde no cause of death in him: I wil therefore chastise him, and let him lowse.

But they were instant with loude voyces, and required that he might be crucified: and the voyces of them and of the hie Priests preuailed.

So Pilate gaue sentence, that it shulde be as they required.

And he let lowse vnto them him that for insurrection and murder was cast into prison, whome thei desired, and deliuered Iesus to do with him what they wolde.

¶ And as they led him awaye, they caught one Simon of Cyrene, comming out of the field, and on him they laid the crosse, to beare it after Iesus.

27 And there followed him a great multitude of people, and of women, which women bewailed and lamented him.

28 But Iesus turned backe vnto them, and said, "Daughters of Ierusalem, wepe not for me; but wepe for your selues, and for your children.

29 For beholde, the daies wil come, when men shal say, Blessed are the barren, & the wombes that neuer bare, and the pappes which neuer gaue sucke.

30 Then shal they beginne to say to the mountaines, * Fall on vs: and to the hilles, Couer vs.

31 * For if they do these things to a greene tre, what shalbe done to the drye?

32 * And there were two others, which were euil doers, led with him to be slayne.

33 And when they were come to the place, which is called "Caluerie, there thei crucified him, and the euil doers: one at the right hand, and the other at the left.

34 Then said Iesus, Father, forgieue them: for they knowe not what they do. And thei parted his rayment, and cast lots.

35 And the people stode, and behelde: and the rulers mocked him with them, saying, He saued others: let him saue him self, if he be the Christ, the Chosen of God.

36 The souldiers also mocked him, and came and offered him a vineger,

37 And said, If thou be the King of the Iewes, saue thy self.

38 And a superscription was also written ouer him, in Greke lettres, and in Latin, & in Hebrew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE IEWES.

39 ¶ And one of the euil doers, which were hanged, railed on him, saying, If thou be the Christ, saue thy self and vs.

40 But the other answered, and rebuked him, saying, Fearest thou not God, seig thou art in the same condemnation?

41 We are in dede righteously here: for we receiue things worthie of that we haue done: but this man hath done nothing amisse.

42 And he said vnto Iesus, Lord, remember me, when thou comest into thy kingdom.

43 Then Iesus said vnto him, Verely I say vnto thee, to day shalt thou be with me in Paradise.

44 ¶ And it was about the sixth houre: and there was a darkenes ouer all the land, vntil the ninth houre.

45 And the sunne was darkened, and the vaile of the Temple rent through the middes.

46 And Iesus cryed with a loude voyce, and said, * Father, into thine hands I commēd my spirit. And when he thus had said, He gaue vp the goft.

47 ¶ Now when the Centurion sawe what was done, he glorified God, saying, Of a suretie this man was iuste.

48 And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things, which were done, smote their brefts, and returned.

49 And all his acquaintance stode a farre of, & the women that followed him from Galile, beholding these things.

50 ¶ And beholde, there was a mā named Ioseph, which was a counsellor, a good mā and a iust.

51 He did not consent to the counsel and dede of them, which was of Arimathea, a citie of the Iewes: who also him self waited for the kingdome of God.

52 He went vnto Pilate, and asked the bodie of Iesus,

53 And toke it downe, and wrapped it in a linnen cloth, & laid it in a tounge hewn out of a rocke, wherein was neuer man yet laid.

54 And that day was the Preparation, & the Sabbath: drew on.

55 And the women also that followed after, which came with him from Galile, behelde the sepulchre, & how his bodie was laid.

56 And thei returned and prepared odors, and ointments, and rested the Sabbath day according to the commandement.

in him self at that which was come to passe.

13 ¶ And beholde, two of them went that same day to a towne which was from Ierusalem aboute thre score furlongs, called Emmaus.

14 And they talked together of all these things that were done.

15 And it came to passe, as they communed
together, and reasoned, that Iesus him self drew nere, and went with them.

16 But their eyes were holden, that they colde not knowe him.

17 And he said vnto them, What manner
of communications are these that ye haue
one to another as ye walke, and are sad?

18 And the one (named Cleopas) answered and said vnto him, Art thou onely a stranger in Ierusalem, & hast not knowen
the things which are come to passe therein
in these dayes?

19 And he said vnto them, What things?
And they said vnto him, Of Iesus of Nazareth,
which was a Prophet, mightie in dede
and in worde before God, and all the people;

20 And howe the hie Priests, and our rulers
deliuered him to be condemned to death,
and haue crucified him.

21 But we trusted that it had bene he that shulde haue deliuered Israel, and as touching
all these things, to day is the third day, that they were done.

22 Yea, and certeine women among vs made vs astonied, which came early vnto the sepulchre.

23 And whē they founde not his bodie, they came, saying, that they had also sene a visio
of Angels, which said that he was aliue!

24 Therefore certeine of them which were
with vs, went to the sepulchre, and founde
it even so as the women had said, but him
they sawe not.

25 Then he said vnto them, O fooles and slowe of heart to beleue all that the Prophets
haue spoken,

26 Ought not Christ to haue suffered these things, and to enter into his glorie?

27 And he began at Moses, & at all the Prophets,
and interpreted vnto them in all the Scriptures the things which were written

of him.

28 And they drew nere vnto the towne,
which they went to, but he made as though
he wolde haue gone further.

29 But they constrained him, saying, Abide with vs: for it is towards night, and the day is farre spent. So he went in to tarie
with them.

30 And it came to passe, as he sate at table
with them, he toke the bread, and gaue
thanks, and brake it, and gaue it to them.

31 The their eyes were opened, & thei knewe
him: but he was taken out of their sight.

32 And they said betwene them selves, Did not our hearts burne within vs, while he talked with vs by the way, and when he opened to vs the Scriptures?

33 And they rose vp the same houre, and returned to Ierusalem, and founde the Eleuen gathered together, and them that were
with them,

34 Which said, The Lord is risen in dede,
and hath appeared to Simon.

35 Then they tolde what things were done
in the way, and how he was knowen of the
in breaking of bread.

36 ¶ And as they spake these things, Iesus him self stode in the middes of them, and said vnto them, Peace be to you.

37 But they were abashed & afraid, supposing that they had sene a spirit.

38 Then he said vnto them, Why are ye troubled: and wherefore do doubt arise in your hearts?

39 Beholde mine hands and my fete: for it is I my self: handle me, and se: for a spirit
hath not flesh & bones, as ye se me haue.

40 And when he had thus spoken, he shewed
them his hands and fete.

41 And while they yet beleued not for ioye,
and wondered, he said vnto them, Haue ye
here any meat?

42 And they gaue him a piece of a broiled
fish, and of an honie combe,

43 And he toke it, & did eat before them.

44 And he said vnto them, These are the wordes, which I spake vnto you while I was yet with you, that all must be fulfilled which are written of me in the Law of Moses, and in the Prophetes, and in the Psalmes.

45 Then opened he their vnderstanding,
that they might vnderstand the Scriptures,

46 And said vnto them, Thus is it written,
and thus it behoued Christ to suffer, & to rise againe from the dead the thirde day,

47 And that repentance, and remission of sinnes shulde be preached in his Name
among all nacions, beginning at Ierusalem.

48 Now ye are witnesses of these things.

50 Afterwarde he led them out into Betha-

51 And it came to passe, that as he blessed them, * he departed from them, and was

caryed vp into heauen.

52 And they worshipped him, and returned to Ierusalem with great ioye, 53 And were continually in the Temple,
praising, and lauding God, Amen.

IN the beginning was the Worde, and
the Worde was with God
and that Worde was
God.

The same was <sup>b</sup> in
the beginning <sup>c</sup> with God.
3 All things were made by it, & without it was made nothing that was made.

4 In it was <sup>d</sup> life, and the life was the <sup>e</sup> light of men.

5 And the light shineth in <sup>f</sup> the darkenes, &
the darkenes comprehended it not.

6 <sup>g</sup> * There was a man sent from God, whose name was Iohn.

7 The same came for a witnes, to beare wit-
nes of the light, that all men through him might beleue.

8 He was not that light, but was sent to bea-
re witnes of the light.

9 That was the true light, which lighteth
euery man that cometh into the worlde.

10 He was in the worlde, and the worlde was <sup>h</sup> made by him: & the worlde <sup>i</sup> knewe him not.

11 He came vnto <sup>j</sup> his owne, and his owne
receiued him not.

12 But as many as receiued him, to them
he gaue <sup>k</sup> power to be the sonnes of God,
euen to them that beleue in his Name,

13 Which are borne not of blood, nor of the wil of the flesh, nor of the wil of man,
but of God.

14 <sup>l</sup> * And the Worde was made <sup>m</sup> flesh, and dwelt among vs, (and we <sup>n</sup> sawe the glorie thereof, as the glorie of the onely begotten Sonne of the Father) <sup>o</sup> ful of grace and trueth.

15 <sup>p</sup> ¶ Iohn bare witnes of him, & cryed, saying, This was he of whome I said, He
that cometh after me, is preferred before me: for he was <sup>q</sup> before me.

16 And of his fulnes haue all we receiued,
and grace for grace.

17 For the Lawe was giuen by Moses, but grace and trueth came by Iesus Christ.

18 <sup>r</sup> * No man hath seene God at any time:
the onely begotten Sonne, which is in the <sup>s</sup> bosome of the Father, he hath <sup>t</sup> declared him.

19 ¶ Then this is the recorde of Iohn, who
the Iewes sent Priests and Leuites from Ierusalem, to aske him, Who art thou?

20 And he confessed and denyed not, and said plainly, I <sup>u</sup> am not the Christ.

21 And they asked him, What then art thou?
Elias? And he said, I am not. Art thou the Prophet? And he answered, No.

22 And they asked him, What then art thou?
that we may giue an answer to them that sent vs? what saist thou of thy self?

23 He said, I <sup>v</sup> am the voyce of him that cryeth in the wilderness, Make straight the way of <sup>w</sup> the Lord, as said the Prophet Esaias.

24 Now they which were sent, were of the Pharisees.

25 And they asked him, and said vnto him,
Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not
the Christ, nether Elias, nor the Prophet?

26 Iohn answered them, saying, I baptize
with water: but there is one among you,
whome ye knowe not.

27 <sup>x</sup> * He it is that cometh after me, which is preferred before me, whose shoe latchet
I am not worthy to vnlose.

28 These things were done in Bethabara
beyond Jordan, where Iohn did baptize.

29 ¶ The next day Iohn seeth Iesus coming vnto him, and saith, Beholde the lambe of God, which taketh away the <sup>y</sup> sinne of
the worlde.

30 This is he of whome I said, After me commeth a man, which is preferred before me:
for he was before me.

31 And I knewe <sup>z</sup> him not: but because he shulde be declared to Israel, therefore am
I come, baptizing with water.

32 So Iohn bare recorde, saying, I sawe <sup>aa</sup> the Spirit come downe from heauen, like a doue, and it abode vpon him.

33 And I knewe him not: but he that sent me
to baptize with water, he said vnto me, Vpon whome thou shalt se the Spirit come downe, & tary stil on him, that is he which baptizeth with the <sup>ab</sup> holie Gost.

CHAP. II.

Christ turneth the water into wine. 24 He driueth
the buyers, and sellers out of the Tēple. 29 He forewar-neth his death and resurrection. 33 He conuerteth
many, and distressed man.

And the thirde day, was there a ma-riage in Cana a towne of Galile, &
the mother of Iesus was there.

2 And Iesus was called also, and his disciples vnto the marriage.

3 Now when the wine failed, the mother of Iesus said vnto him, They haue no wine.

4 Iesus said vnto her, Woman, what haue
I to do with thee? mine houre is not yet come.

5 His mother said vnto the seruants, Whatsoeuer he saith vnto you, do it.

6 And there were set there, six waterpottes
of stone, after the maner of the *purifying
of the Iewes, containing two or thre <sup>b</sup> fir-
kins a peece.

7 And Iesus said vnto them, Fil the waterpottes with water. Then they filled them vp to the brim.

8 Then he said vnto them, Drawe out now
& beare vnto the *gouernour of the feast.
So they bare it.

9 Now whē the gouernour of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, (for he knewe not whence it was: but <sup>c</sup> seruants, which drewe the water, knewe) the gou-
ernour of the feast called the bridegrome,

10 And said vnto him, All men at the beginning set forth the good wine, and when men haue wel drunke, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept backe the good wine vntill now.

11 This beginning of *miracles did Iesus in Cana a towne of Galile, and shewed forth
his glorie: & his disciples beleued on him.

12 After <sup>d</sup> he went downe into Capernaū,
he and his mother, and his * brethren, and his disciples: but they continued not manie dayes there.

13 For the Iewes Passeouer was at hand.
Therefore Iesus went vp to Ierusalem.

14 * And he founde in the Temple those that solde oxen, and shepe, and doves, and changers of money, sitting there.

15 Thē he made a scourge of smale cordes, & draue them all out of the Temple with the shepe, and oxen & powred out the changers money, and ouerthrewe the tables,

16 And said vnto them that solde doves,
Take these things hence: make not my Fathers house, an house of merchandise.

17 And his disciples remembred, that it was written, * The zeale of thine house hath eaten me vp.

18 Then answered the Iewes, and said vnto
him, What * signe shewest thou vnto vs,
that thou doest these things?

19 Iesus answered and said vnto them, * De-stroye this temple, and in thre dayes I wil
raise it vp againe.

20 Then said the Iewes, Fortie and six yeres was this Temple a buylding, and wilt thou reare it vp in thre dayes?

21 But he spake of the temple of his bodie.
22 As sone therefore as he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he thus said vnto them: and they beleued the Scripture, and the worde which Iesus had said.
23 Now when he was at Ierusalem at y Passeouer in y feast, many beleued in his Name, when they sawe his miracles w he did.
24 But Iesus did not commit him self vnto them, because he knewe them all,
25 And had no nede that any shulde testifie of man: for he knewe what was in man.

CHAP. III.

Christ instructeth Nicodemus in the regeneration. 12 Of faith. 16 Of the loue of God towards the worlde. 23 The doctrine and baptisme of Iohn, 28 And the times that he beareth of Christ.

There was now a mā of y Pharises named Nicodemus, a ruler of y Iewes. He came to Iesus by night, and said vnto him, Rabbi, we knowe that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man colde do these miracles that thou doest, except God were with him.

Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Verely, verely I say vnto thee; except a man be borne againe, he can not se the kingdom of God.

Nicodemus said vnto him, How can a man be borne which is olde? can he enter into his mothers wombe againe, and be borne?

Iesus answered, Verely, verely I say vnto thee, except that a man be borne of water and of the Spirit, he can not enter into the kingdom of God.

That which is borne of the flesh, is flesh: & that that is borne of the Spirit, is spirit. Marueile not that I said to thee, Ye must be borne againe.

The winde bloweth where it listeth, & thou hearest the sounde thereof, but canst not tel whence it cometh, and whether it goeth: so is euerie man that is borne of the Spirit.

Nicodemus answered, and said vnto him, How can these things be?

Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Art thou a teacher of Israel, and knowest not these things?

Verely, verely I say vnto thee, we speake that we knowe, & testifie, that we haue sene: but ye receiue not our witnes.

If when I tel you earthly things, ye beleue not, how shulde ye beleue, if I shall tell you of heauenlie things?

For no man ascendeth vp to heauen, but he that hath descended from heauen, the Sonne of man which is in heauen.

And as Moses lift vp the serpent in the wilderness, so must the Sonne of man be lift vp,

That whosoever beleueth in him, shal not perish, but haue eternal life.

For God so loued the worlde, that he hath giuen his onely begotten Sone, that whosoever beleueth in him, shal not perish, but haue euerlasting life.

For God sent not his Sonne into the worlde, that he shulde condemne the worlde, but that the worlde through him might be saued.

He that beleueth in him, shal not be condemned: but he that beleueth not, is condemned already, because he beleueth not in the Name of the onely begotten Sone of God.

And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the worlde, & me loued darkenes rather then light, because their dedes were euil.

For euerie man that euil doeth, hateth the light, nether commeth to light, lest his dedes shulde be reproued.

But he that doeth truth, commeth to the light, that his dedes might be made manifest, that they are wrought according to God.

After these things, came Iesus and his disciples into the land of Iudea, and there taried with them, and baptized.

And Iohn also baptized in Enon besides Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized.

For Iohn was not yet cast into prison.

There arose a questiō betwene Iohns disciples & the Iewes, about a purifying. And they came vnto Iohn, and said vnto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyonde Iordan, to whome thou barest witnes, behold, he baptizeth, and all men come to him.

Iohn answered, & said, A mā can receiue nothing, except it be giue him fro heauē.

Ye your selues are my witnes, that I said, I am not the Christ, but y I am sent before him.

He that hath the bride, is the bridegrome: but the frīd of the bridegrome which standeth and heareth him, reioyeth greatly, because of y bridegromes voice. This my ioye therefore is fulfilled.

He must increase, but I must decrease.

He that is come from on high, is above all: he that is of the earth, is of the earth, and speaketh of the earth: he that is come from heauen, is above all.

And what he hath sene and heard, that he testifieth: but no man receiueh his testimony.

He that hath receiued his testimony, hath sealed that God is true.

For he whome God hath sent, speaketh the wordes of God: for God giueth him not the Spirit by measure.

The Father loueth the Sonne, and hath giuen all things into his hand. He that beleueth in him, shall not see death: but shall haue euerlasting life, & he that shall not see death. God abideth on him.

There came a woman drawe water. Iesus said to her, drinke.

For his disciples were not with him, to buy meat.

Then said the woman to him, How is it, that thou keist drinke of me, when I am a Samaritan?

1 The communication of Christ with the woman of Samaria. 34 His gale towards his Father & his heruist. 39 The conuersion of the Samaritans. 45 And Galileans. 47 How he healeth the rulers some.

1 Now when the Lord knewe, how the Pharises had heard, that Iesus made and baptized mo disciples then Iohn, (Thogh Iesus him self baptized not: but his disciples)
He left Iudea, and departed againe into Galile.

2 And he must nedes go through Samaria.
3 Then came he to a citie of Samaria cal led "Sychar, nere vnto the possession that Iacob gaue to his sonne Ioseph.

4 And there was Iacobs well. Iesus the wea ried in the iorney, fate thus on the well: it was about the sixt houre.

5 There came a woman of Samaria to drawe water. Iesus said vnto her, Giue me drinke.

6 For his disciples were gone away into the
citie, to bye meat.

7 Then said the woman of Samaria vnto
him, How is it, that thou being a Iewe, askest drinke of me, which am a woman of Samaria? For the Iewes medle not with the Samaritans.

8 Iesus answered & said vnto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Giue me drinke, thou woldest haue asked of him, and he wolde
haue giuen thee "water of life.

9 The woman said vnto him, Syr, thou hast
nothing to drawe with, & the well is depe:
from whence then hast thou that water of life?

10 Art thou greater then our father Iacob,
which gaue vs the well, & he him self drake
thereof, & his children, and his catel?

11 Iesus answered, and said vnto her, Who soeuer drinketh of this water, shal thirst
againe:

12 But who soeuer drinketh of the water
that I shal giue him, shal neuer be more thirst: but the water that I shal giue him,
shal be in him a well of water, springing
vp into euerlasting life.

13 The woman said vnto him, Syr, giue me
of that water, that I may not thirst, nerher
come hither to drawe.

14 Iesus said vnto her, Go, call thine hous
band, and come hither.

15 The woman answered, and said I haue
no housband. Iesus said to her, Thou hast wel said, I haue no housband.

16 For thou hast had fise housbands, and he

whome thou now hast, is not thine hous
band: that saidest thou truly.

17 The womā said vnto him, Syr, I se that thou art a Prophet.

18 Our fathers worshiped in this mountai
ne, and ye say, that in Ierusalem is the pla ce where men ought to worship.

19 Iesus said vnto her, Woman, beleue me,
the houre cometh, when ye shal nether in this mountaine, nor at Ierusalem worship
the Father.

20 Ye worship that which ye knowe not: we worship that which we knowe: for salua
tion is of the Iewes.

21 But the houre cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shal worshipsse y Father in spirit, & truth: for the Father re
quireth euen suche to worship him.

22 *God is a Spirit, and they that worship
him, must worship him in spirit & truth.

23 The woman said vnto him, I know wel,
that Messias shal come, which is called Christ: when he is come, he wil tell vs all things.

24 Iesus said vnto her, I am he, that speake
vnto thee.

25 And vpon that came his disciples, and
marueiled that he talked with a woman:
yet no man said vnto him, What askest
thou? or why talkest thou with her?

26 The woman then left her waterpot, and
wet her way into the citie, & said to y me, 27 Come, se a mā which hathe tolde me all things that euer I did: is not he the Christ?

28 Then they went out of the citie, & came vnto him.

29 In the meane while, y disciples prayed
him, saying, Master, eat.

30 But he said vnto the, I haue meat to eat,
that ye knowe not of.

31 Then said the disciples betwene the fel
ues, Hathe anie man broght him meat?

32 Iesus said vnto them, My meat is that I may do the wil of him that sent me, and finish his worke.

33 Say not ye, There are yet foure moneths,
& then cometh haruest? Beholde, I say vn to you, Lift vp your eyes, and loke on the regions: *for they are white already vnto
haruest.

34 And he that reapeth, receiueh wages, &
gathereth frute vnto life eternal, that bo
the he that soweth, & he y reapeth, might reioyce together.

35 For herein is the "saying true, that one
soweth and another reapeth.

36 I sent you to reape that, whereon ye be stowed no labour: other men laboured, &
ye are entred into their labours.

37 Now manie of the Samaritans of y citie

46 And Iesus came againe into Cana a towne of Galile, where he had made of water wine. And there was a certeine ruler, whose sonne was sicke at Capernaum.

47 Whē he heard that Iesus was come out of Iudea into Galile, he went vnto him, & besought him that he wolde go downe, & heale his sonne: for he was euen ready to dye.

48 Then said Iesus vnto him, Except ye see signes and wonders, ye wil not beleue.

49 The ruler said vnto him, Sir, go downe before my sonne dye.

50 Iesus said vnto him, Go thy way, thy sonne liueth: and the man beleued the worde that Iesus had spoken vnto him, & went his way.

51 And as he was now going downe, his seruants met him, saying, Thy sonne liueth.

52 Then enquired he of the houre whē he began to amende. And they said vnto him, Yesterday the seuenth houre the feuer left him.

54 This seconde miracle did Iesus againe, after he was come out of Iudea into Galile.

CHAP. V.

¶ He healeth the man that was sicke eight and thirtie yeres. 10 The Iewes accuse him. 19 Christ answereth for him self, and reproveth them. 32 Shewing by the testimonie of his Father. 33 Of Iohn. 36 Of his workes. 39 And of the Scriptures who he is.

1 AFTER that, there was a feast of the Iewes, & Iesus wēt vp to Ierusalem. And there is at Ierusalem by the place of the shepe, a poole called in Ebrewe Bethesda, hauing fise porches:

Which signifieth the house of powring out, because the waters ranne out by conduits.

3 In the which lay a great multitude of sicke folke, of blinde, halte, & withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

4 For an Angel went downe at a certeine season into the poole, and troubled the water: whosoever then first, after the stirring of the water, stepped in, was made whole of whatsoeuer disease he had.

5 And a certeine man was there, which had bene diseased eight and thirtie yeres.

6 When Iesus sawe him lie, and knewe that he now long time had bene diseased, he said vnto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The sicke man answered him, Sir, I haue no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the poole: but while I am coming, another steppeth downe before me.

8 Iesus said vnto him, Rise: take vp thy bed, and walke.

9 And immediatly the man was made whole, and toke vp his bed, and walked: & the same day was the Sabbath.

10 The Iewes therefore said to him that was made whole, It is the Sabbath day: it is not lawful for thee to carie thy bed.

11 He answered them, He that made me whole, he said vnto me, Take vp thy bed, and walke.

12 Then asked they him, What man is that which said vnto thee, Take vp thy bed, & walke?

13 And he that was healed, knewe not who it was: for Iesus had conueyed him self away from the multitude that was in that place.

14 And after that, Iesus founde him in the Temple, and said vnto him, Beholde, thou art made whole: sinne no more, lest a worse thing come vnto thee.

15 ¶ The man departed, and tolde the Iewes that it was Iesus, which had made him whole.

16 And therefore the Iewes did persecute Iesus, & sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the Sabbath day.

17 But Iesus answered the, My Father worketh hitherto, and I worke.

18 Therefore the Iewes sought the more to kill him: not onely because he had broken the Sabbath: but said also that God was his Father, and made him self equal with God.

19 Then answered Iesus, & said vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, The Sonne can do nothing of him self, save that he seeth the Father do: for whatsoeuer things he doeth, the same things doeth the Sonne also.

20 For the Father loveth the Sonne, & sheweth him all things, whatsoeuer he him self doeth, and he wil shewe him greater workes then these, that ye shulde marueile.

the Father sent me.

And the * Father him self, which hath sent me, beareth witness of me. Ye haue not heard his voyce at anie time, * nether
haue ye sene his shape.

And his worde haue ye not abiding in you: for whome he hath sent, him ye beleue not.

* Search the Scriptures: for in them ye thinke to haue eternal life, & they are they which testifie of me.

But ye wil not come to me, & ye might

haue life.

I receiue not praise of men.

But I knowe you, that ye haue not the loue of God in you.

I am come in my Fathers Name, and ye receiue me not: if * another shal come in his owne name, him wil ye receiue.

How can ye beleue, which * receiue * honour one of another, and seke not the honour that cometh of God alone!

Do not thinke that I wil accuse you to my Father: there is one that * accuseth
you, euen Moses, in whome ye trust.

For had ye beleued Moses, ye wolde
haue beleued me: * for he wrote of me.

But if ye beleue not his writings, how
shal ye beleue my wordes!

CHAP. VI.

Iesus fideth five thousand men with five loaves & two fishes. He departeth away, that they shoulde not make him King. He reproveth the fleshy hearers of his worde. The carnal are offended at him. The fleshy professeth not.

After these things, Iesus went his way
ouer the sea of Galilee, or of Tiberias.

And a great multitude followed him, because they sawe his miracles, which he did on them that were diseased.

Then Iesus went vp into a mountaine,
and there he sate with his disciples.

Now * Passouer, a * feast of the Iewes,
was nere.

* Then Iesus lift vp his eyes, and seing that a great multitude came vnto him, he said vnto Philippe, Whence shal we bye bread, that these might eat?

(And this he said to proue him: for he him self knewe what he wolde do)

Philippe answered him, * Two hundred peny worthe of bread is not sufficient for them, that euerie one of them may take a little.

Then said vnto him one of his disciples,
Andreu, Simon Peters brother,

There is a little boye here, which hath five barlie loaves, and two fishes: but what are they among so manie?

And Iesus said, Make the people sit downe. (Now there was muche grasse in that place) Then the men sate downe in number, about fower thousand.

And Iesus toke the bread, and gaue
thanks, and gaue to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set downe: & likewise of the fishes as muche as they wolde.

And when they were satisfied, he said
vnto his disciples, Gather vp the broken meat which remaineth, that * nothing be lost.

Then they gathered it together, and filled twelue baskets with the broken meat

of the five barlie loaves, which remained vnto them that had eaten.

14 Then the men when they had sene the miracle that Iesus did, said, This is of a trueth the Prophet that shulde come into the worlde.

15 When Iesus therefore perceiued that they wolde come, and take him to make him a King, he departed againe into a mountaine him self alone.

16 ¶ Whē euen was now come, his disciples went downe vnto the sea,

17 * And entred into a ship, and went & ouer the sea towards Capernaum: and now it was darke, & Iesus was not come to them.

18 And the sea arose with a great winde that blew.

19 And when they had rowed about five & twentie, or thirtie furlongs, they sawe Iesus walking on the sea, and drawing nere vnto the ship: so they were afraied.

20 But he said vnto them, It is I: be not afraied.

21 Then willingly they receiued him into the ship, and the ship was by and by at the land, whether they went.

22 ¶ The day following, the people which stode on the other side of the sea, sawe that there was none other ship there, saue that one, whereinto his disciples were entred, and that Iesus went not with his disciples in the ship, but that his disciples were gone alone,

23 And that there came other shippes from Tiberias nere vnto the place where they ate the bread, after the Lord had giuen thanks.

24 Now when the people sawe that Iesus was not there, neither his disciples, thei also toke shipping, & came to Capernaum, seeking for Iesus.

25 And when they had founde him on the other side of the sea, thei said vnto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 Iesus answered them, and said, Verely, verely I say vnto you, ye seke me not, because ye sawe the miracles, but because ye ate of the loaves, and were filled.

27 Laboure not for the meat which perisheth, but for the meat that endureth vnto euerlasting life, which the Sonne of mā shal giue vnto you: for him hathe * God the Father sealed.

28 Then said they vnto him, What shal we do, that we might worke the workes of God?

29 Iesus answered, & said vnto them, * This is y<sup>e</sup> worke of God, that ye beleue in him, whome he hathe sent.

30 They said therefore vnto him, What signe shewest thou then, that we maye se it, and beleue thee? what doest thou worke?

31 * Our fathers did eat Māna in the desert, as it is written, He gaue them bread fro heauen to eat.

32 Then Iesus said vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, * Moses gaue you not bread from heauen, but my Father giueth you the true bread from heauen.

33 For the bread of God is he which cometh downe from heauen, and giueth life vnto the worlde.

34 Then thei said vnto him, Lord, euermore giue vs this bread.

35 And Iesus said vnto thei, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me, shal not hunger, and he that beleueth in me, shal neuer thirst.

36 But I said vnto you, that ye also haue sene me, and beleue not.

37 All that the Father giueth me, shal come to me: and him that cometh to me, I cast not away.

38 For I came downe from heauen, not to do mine owne wil, but his wil which hathe sent me.

39 And this is the Fathers wil which hathe sent me, that of all which he hathe giuen me, I shulde lose nothing, but shulde raise it vp againe at the last day.

40 And this is the wil of him that sent me, that euerie man which seeth the Sonne, & beleueth in him, shulde haue euerlasting life: and I wil raise him vp at the last day.

41 The Iewes then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread, which is come downe from heauen.

42 And they said, * Is not this Iesus the sonne of Ioseph, whose father & mother we knowe? how the faith he, I came downe from heauen?

43 Iesus then answered, & said vnto them, Murmure not among your selues.

44 No man can come to me, except the Father, which hathe sent me, drawe him: and I wil raise him vp at the last day.

45 It is written in the * Prophetes, And they shalbe all taught of God. Euerie man therefore that hathe heard, & hathe learned of the Father, cometh vnto me,

46 * Not that anie man hathe sene the Father, saue he which is of God, he hathe sene the Father.

47 Verely, verely I say vnto you, He that beleueth in me, hathe euerlasting life.

48 I am the bread of life.

49 * Your fathers did eat Manna in the wilderness, & are dead.

50 This is the bread, which cometh downe from heauen, that he which eateth of it, shulde not dye.

Manie therefore of his disciples (when

But Iesus knowing in him self, that his

It is the Spirit that quickeneth: the flesh

But there are some of you that beleue

which they were that beleued not, & who shulde betraye him.

And he said, Therefore said I vnto you,

From that time, manie of his disciples

And we beleue and knowe that thou art

Iesus answered thē, Haue not I chosen

Now he spake it of Iudas Iscariot the sonne of Simō: for he it was that shulde be-

CHAP. VII.

Iesus reproveth the ambition of his cousins. 13 There do vnto him. 47 The Pharisees rebuke the officers be-

Nicodemus for taking his parte.

After these things, Iesus walked in Galilee, and wolde not walke in Iu-dea: for the Iewes sought to kill him.

Now the Iewes * a feast of the Taberna-
cles was at hand.

His brethren therefore said vnto him,
Depart hence, and go into Iudea, that thy disciples may see thy workes that thou doest.

For there is no mā that doeth anie thing
secretly, & he him self seeketh to be famous.
If thou doest these things, shewe thy self
to the worlde.

For as yet his brethren beleued not in him.

Then Iesus said vnto thē, My time is not yet come: but your time is alway readie.

The worlde can not hate you: but me it hateth, because I testifie of it, that the workes thereof are euil.

Go ye vp vnto this feast: I wil not go vp
yet vnto this feast: for my time is not yet fulfilled.

These things he said vnto them, and abode stil in Galilee.

But assone as his brethren were gone vp, then wēt he also vp vnto the feast, not openly, but as it were priuely.

Then the Iewes sought him at the feast, &
said, Where is he?

And muche murmuring was there of him
among the people. Some said, He is a good man: other said, Naye: but he deceiueth
the people.

Howbeit no man spake openly of him
for feare of the Iewes.

Now whē half the feast was done, Iesus
went vp into the Temple and taught.

And the Iewes marueiled, saying, How knoweth this man the Scriptures, seeing that he neuer learned.

Iesus answered them, & said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.

If anie mā wil do his wil, he shal knowe

The people answered, and said, Thou

Iesus answered, and said to them, I haue done one worke, and ye all marueile.

3 Then the Scribes, & the Pharises broght vnto him a woman, taken in adulterie, & set her in the middes,

4 And said vnto him, Master, this woman was taken in adulterie, in the verie act.

5 *Now Moses in the Law commanded vs, that suche shulde be stoned: what saist thou therefore?

6 And this they said to tempt him, that they might haue, whereof to accuse him. But Iesus stouped downe, and with his finger wrote on the grounde.

7 And while they continued asking him, he lift him self vp, & said vnto them, *Let him that is among you without sinne, cast the first stone at her.

8 And againe he stouped downe, and wrote on the grounde.

9 And when they heard it, being accused by their owne conscience, they went out one by one, beginning at the eldest euen to the last: so Iesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the middes.

10 When Iesus had lift vp him self againe, and sawe no man, but the woman, he said vnto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

13 The Pharises then sayd, Thou bearest recorde that is not true.

14 *Iesus answered, saying, Though I beare recorde of mine self, yet is my recorde true: for I knowe what I say, & whether I go: but ye say I come, and whether I come, ye iudge after the man.

15 And if I also iudge, for I am not alone, but the Father that sent me, he also iudgeth with me.

16 And it is also written in the testimonie of two or three witnesses, that the Father that sent me, he also iudgeth with me.

And Iesus said, I am come vnto iudge-not, might se: & that they which se, might be made blinde.

And some of the Pharises which were

Iesus said vnto them, If ye were blinde,
ye shulde not haue sinne: but now ye say,

CHAP. X.

Christ is the true shepherd, and the dore. 29 Diuers opinions of Christ. 34 He is asked if he be Christ.
35 His worke declare that he is God. 36 The princes called gods.

Verely, verely I say vnto you, He that entrench not in by the dore into the shepefolde, but climeth vp another way,
he is a thefe and a robber.

But he that goeth in by the dore, is the shepherd of the shepe.

To him the porter openeth, and the shepe
heare his voyce, and he calleth his owne
shepe by name, and leadeth them out.

And when he hath sent forth his owne
shepe, he goeth before them, and the shepe
followe him: for they knowe his voyce.

And they wil not followe a stranger, but they flee from him: for they knowe not the voyce of strangers.

This parable spake Iesus vnto them: but they vnderstode not what things they were which he spake vnto them.

Then said Iesus vnto them againe, Vere-ly, verely I say vnto you, I am the dore
of the shepe.

All that euer came before me, are the-
ues & robbers: but the shepe did not hea-
re them.

I am the dore: by me if any man enter in,
he shalbe saued, and shal go in and go out, and finde pasture.

The thefe commeth not, but for to stea-
le, and to kill, and to destroye: I am come that they might haue life, and haue it in abundance.

I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giueth his life for his shepe.

But an hireling, and he which is not the shepherd, nether the shepe are his owne, seeth the wolfe coming, & he leaueth the shepe, and fleeth, and the wolfe catcheth
them, and scattereth the shepe.

So the hireling fleeth, because he is an hi-
reling, and careth not for the shepe.

I am the good shepherd, and knowe
mine, and am knowne of mine.

As the Father knoweth me, so knowe
I the Father: and I lay downe my life for my shepe.

Other shepe I haue also, which are not of this folde: them also must I bring,
and they shal heare my voyce: and there
shal be one shepefolde, & one shepherd.

Therefore doeth my Father loue me,
because I lay downe my life, & I might take it againe.

No man taketh it from me, but I lay it
downe of my self: I haue power to lay it
downe, and haue power to take it againe:
this commandement haue I receiued of my Father.

Then there was a dissention againe among the Iewes for these sayings.

And many of them said, He hath a deu-
il, and is madde: why heare ye him?

Others said, These are not the wordes of him that hath a deuil: can the deuil open
the eyes of the blinde?

And it was at Ierusalem the feast of the Dedication, and it was winter.

And Iesus dwelt in the Temple, in Solomon's porche.

The came the Iewes rounde about him,
and said vnto him, How long dost thou make vs doute? If thou be the Christ, tell vs plainly.

Iesus answered them, I tolde you, and ye beleue not: the workes that I do in my Fathers Name, they beare witness of me.

But ye beleue not: for ye are not of my shepe, as I said vnto you.

My shepe heare my voyce, and I knowe
them, and they followe me,

And I giue vnto them eternal life, and they shal neuer perishe, nether shal any plucke them out of mine hand.

My Father which gaue them me, is greater then all, and none is able to take them out of my Fathers hand.

CHAP. XI.

2 Christ raiseth Lazarus from death. 47 The hie Priests, and Pharisees gather a counsel against him. 50 Caiaphas prophesieth. 54 Christ getteth him out of the way.

And a certeine man was sicke, named Lazarus of Bethania, the towne of Marie, and her sister Martha.

2 (And it was that Marie which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feete with her heere, whose brother Lazarus was sicke.)

3 Therefore his sisters sent vnto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whome thou louest, is sicke.

4 When Iesus heard it, he said, This sickness is not vnto death, but for the glorie of God, that the Sonne of God might be glorified thereby.

5 Now Iesus loued Martha and her sister and Lazarus.

6 And after he had heard that he was sicke, yet abode he two dayes stil in y<sup>e</sup> same place where he was.

7 Then after that, said he to his disciples, Let vs go into Iudea againe.

8 The disciples said vnto him, Master, the Iewes lately soght to *stone thee, & dost thou go thither againe.

9 Iesus answered, Are there not twelue houres in the day? If a man walke in the day, he stoneth not, because he seeth the light of this worlde.

10 But if a man walke in the night, he stoneth, because there is no light in him.

11 These things spake he, and after he said vnto the, Our friend Lazarus slepeth: but I go to wake him vp.

12 Then said his disciples, Lord, if he slepe, he shal be safe.

13 Howbeit, Iesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of the natural slepe.

14 Then said Iesus vnto them plainly, Lazarus is dead.

15 And I am glad for your sakes, that I was not there, that ye may beleue: but let vs go vnto him.

16 Then said Thomas (which is called Didymus) vnto his fellowe disciples, Let vs also go, that we may dye with him.

21 Then said Martha vnto Iesus, Lord, if thou haddest bene here, my brother had not bene dead.

22 But now I knowe also, that whatsoeuer thou askest of God, God wil giue it thee.

23 Iesus said vnto her, Thy brother shal rise againe.

24 Martha said vnto him, I knowe that he shal rise againe in the resurrection at the last day.

25 Iesus said vnto her, I am the resurrection and the life: he that beleueth in me, thogh he were dead, yet shal he liue.

26 And who soeuer liueth, and beleueth in me, shal neuer dye. Beleuest thou this?

27 She said vnto him, Yea, Lord, I beleue that thou art the Christ the Sonne of God, which shulde come into the worlde.

28 ¶ And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Marie her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.

29 And when she heard it, she arose quickly, and came vnto him.

30 For Iesus was not yet come into the towne, but was in the place where Martha met him.

31 The Iewes then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they sawe Marie, that she rose vp hastily, and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth vnto the graue, to wepe there.

he i groned in the spirit, & was troubled
in him self,

And said, Where haue ye laid him? Thei said vnto him, Lord, come, and se.

And Iesus wept.

Then said the Iewes, Beholde, how he
loued him.

And some of them said, Colde not he,
which opened the eyes of the blinde, haue made also, that this man shulde not haue dyed?

Iesus therefore againe groned in him self, and came to the graue. And it was a caue, and a stone was laid vpon it.

Iesus said, Take ye away the stone. Martha the sister of him that was dead, said vnto him, Lord, he thinketh alreadie: for
he hath bene dead foure daies.

Iesus said vnto her, Said I not vnto thee,
that if thou diddest beleue, thou shuldest
se the glorie of God?

Then they toke away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Iesus lift vp his eyes, and said, Father, I thanke thee, because thou hast heard me.

I knowe that thou hearest me alwayes,
but because of the people that stand by,
I said it, that they maye beleue, that thou hast sent me.

As he had spoken these things, he cryed
w a loude voyce, Lazarus, come forth.

Then he that was dead, came forth,
bounde hand and fote with bandes, & his face was bounde with a napkin. Iesus said
vnto them, Lose him, and let him go.

Then manie of the Iewes, which came to Marie, and had sene the things, which Iesus did, beleued in him.

But some of them went their way to the Pharises, and tolde them what things Iesus
had done.

Then gathered the hie Priests, and the Pharises a council, and said, What shal we doe for this man doeth manie miracles.

If we let him thus alone, all men wil
beleue in him, and the Romaines wil come and take away bothe our place, and the nacion.

Then one of them named Caiaphas,
which was the hie Priest at that same yere,
said vnto the, Ye perceiue nothing at all,

Nor yet do you consider that it is expedient for vs, that one man dye for the people, and that the whole nacion perish
not.

This spake he not of him self: but being hie Priest that same yere, he prophecied
that Iesus shulde dye for the nacion:

And not for the nacion onely, but that he shulde gather together in one y children of God, which were scattered.

Then from that day forth they consulted together, to put him to death.

Iesus therefore walked no more openly among the Iewes, but went thence va-to a countrey nere to the wildernes, into a citie called Ephraim, and there cotinued
with his disciples.

And the Iewes Passcouer was at hand,
and manie went out of the countrey vp to Ierusalem before the Passcouer, to purifie them selues.

Then soght they for Iesus, and spake among them selues, as thei stode in the Te-ple, What thinke ye, that he cometh not to the feast?

Now bothe the hie Priests and the Pharises had giuen a commandement, that if anie man knewe where he were, he shulde
shewe it, that they might take him.

CHAP. XII.

Christ excuseth Maries fait. 13 The affliction of some towards him, and the rage of others against him and Lazarus. 25 The commoditie of the crosse. 27 His praier. 28 The answer of the Father. 32 His death, and the fruite thereof. 36 He exhorteth to faith. 40 The blind-
enes of some, and the infirmities of others.

Then Iesus six dayes before the Pas-scouer came to Bethania, where Lazarus was, which was dead, whome he had raised from the dead.

There they made him a supper, & Martha serued: but Lazarus was one of them
that sate at the table with him.

Then toke Marie a pound of ointment
of spikenarde verie costlie, and anointed Iesus fete, & wipte his fete with her hee-
re, & the house was filled with the sauour
of the ointment.

Then said one of his disciples, euen Iudas Iscariot Simons sonne, which shulde
betraye him,

Why was not this ointment solde for thre hundred pence, and giuen to the poore?

Now he said this, not that he cared for the poore, but because he was a thefe, and had the bagge, and bare that which was giuen.

Then said Iesus, Let her alone: against
the day of my burying she kept it.

For the poore alwayes ye haue with you,
but me ye shal not haue alwaies.

Then muche people of the Iewes knewe
that he was there: and they came, not for Iesus sake onely, but that they might se Lazarus also, whome he had raised from
the dead.

The hie Priests therefore cōsulted, that they might put Lazarus to death also,

Because that for his sake manie of the Iewes went away, and beleued in Iesus.

that were come to the feast, when they heard that Iesus shulde come to Ierusalem.
Toke branches of palme trees, & went forth to meet him, and cryed, Hosanna, Blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the Name of the Lord.

And Iesus founde a yong asse, and saith thereon, as it is written,

Feare not, daughter of Sion: behold, thy King cometh sitting on an asses colte.

But his disciples vnderstode not these things at the first: but when Iesus was glorified, then remembred they, that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things vnto him.

The people therefore that was with him, bare witness that he called Lazarus out of the graue, and raised him from the dead.

Therefore met him the people also, because they heard that he had done this miracle.

And the Pharises said among them selues, Perceiue ye how ye preuaile nothing? Beholde, the worlde goeth after him.

Now there were certeinie Grekes among them that came vp to worship at the feast.

And they came to Philippe, which was of Bethsaida in Galile, and desired him, saying, Syr, we wolde se Iesus.

Philippe came and tolde Andrew: and againe Andrew & Philippe tolde Iesus.

And Iesus answered them, saying, The houre is come, that the Sonne of man must be glorified.

Verely, verely I say vnto you, Except the wheate corne fall into the ground & dye, it bideth alone: but if it dye, it bringeth forth the muche fruite.

He that se loueth his life, shall lose it, & he that hateth his life in this worlde, shall kepe it vnto life eternal.

If anie man serue me, let him follow me: for where I am, there shall also my seruant be: and if anie man serue me, him will my Father honour.

Now is my soule troubled: & what shall I say? Father, saue me from this houre: but therefore came I vnto this houre.

Father, glorifie thy Name. Then came there a voyce from heauen, saying, I haue bothe glorified it, and wil glorifie it againe.

Then said the people that stode by and heard, that it was a thundre: others said, An Angel spake to him.

Iesus answered, and said, This voyce came not because of me, but for your sakes.

Now is the iudgement of this worlde cast: now shall the prince of this worlde be cast out.

And I, if I were lift vp from the earth, wil drawe all men vnto me.

Now this said he, signifying what death he shulde dye.

The people answered him, We haue heard out of the Law, that the Christ bydeth for euer: and how sayst thou, that the Sonne of man must be lift vp? who is that Sonne of man?

Then Iesus said vnto them, Yet a litle while is the light with you: walke while ye haue light, lest the darkenes come vpon you: for he that walketh in the darke, knoweth not whether he goeth.

While ye haue light, beleue in the light, that ye may be the children of the light. These things spake Iesus, and departed, & hid him self from them.

And thogh he had done so manie miracles before them, yet beleued they not on him:

That the saying of Esaias the Prophet might be fulfilled, that he said, Lord, who beleued our reporte: and to whome is the arme of the Lord reueiled?

Therefore colde they not beleue, because that Esaias saith againe,

He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart, that they shulde not see with their eyes, nor vnderstand with their heart, and shulde be conuerted, & I shulde heale them.

These things said Esaias when he sawe his glorie and spake of him.

Neuertheles euen among the chief rulers manie beleued in him: but because of the Pharises, they did not confesse him, lest they shulde be cast out of the Synagogue.

For they loued the praise of men, more then the praise of God.

And Iesus cryed, and said, He that beleueth in me, beleueth not in me, but in him that sent me.

And he that seeth me, seeth him that sent me.

I am come a light into the worlde, that whosoever beleueth in me, shulde not abide in darkenes.

And if anie man heare my wordes, and beleue not, I iudge him not: for I came not to iudge the worlde, but to saue the worlde.

He that refuseth me, and receiueh not my wordes, hath one that iudgeth him: the word that I haue spok, it shall iudge him in the last day.

For I haue not spoken of my self: but the Father, which sent me, he gaue me a commandement what I shulde say, and what I shulde spake.

And I knowe that his commandement is life euerlasting: the things therefore that I speake, I speake as the Father said vnto me.

NOW before the feast of the Passouer, when Iesus knewe that his houre was come, that he shulde departe out of this worlde vnto the Father, for asmuche as he loued his owne which were in the worlde, vnto the end he loued them.

And when supper was done (and that the deuil had now put in the heart of Iudas Iscariot, Simons sonne, to betraye him)

Iesus knowing that the Father had giuen
all things into his hands, & that he was come from God, and went to God,

He riseth from supper, and layeth aside
his upper garments, and toke a towel, and girded himself.

After that, he powred water into a basin,
and began to wash the disciples fete, and
to wipe them with the towel, wherewith
he was girded.

Then came he to Simon Peter, who said
to him, Lord, dost thou wash my fete?

Iesus answered and said vnto him, What I do, thou knowest not now: but thou shalt knowe it hereafter.

Peter said vnto him, Thou shalt neuer wash my fete. Iesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou shalt haue no parte
with me.

Simon Peter said vnto him, Lord, not my fete onely, but also the hands & the head.

Iesus said to him, He that is washed,
needeth not, saue to wash his fete, but
is cleane euerie whit: and ye are * cleane,
but not all.

For he knewe who shulde betraye him:
therefore said he, Ye are not all cleane.

So after he had washed their fete, and had taken his garments, and was set downe
again, he said vnto them, Knowe ye what I haue done to you?

Ye call me Master, and Lord, and ye say
well: for so am I.

If I then your Lord, and Master, haue washed your fete, ye also ought to wash
one anothers fete.

For I haue giuen you an example, that ye shulde do, euen as I haue done to you.

Verely, verely I say vnto you, * The ser-
uant is not greater then his master, nether
the ambassadour greater then he that sent
him.

If ye knowe these things, blessed are ye,
if ye do them.

I speake not of you all: I knowe whome
I haue chosē: but it is that the Scripture might be fulfilled, * He y eateth bread with me, batheth his fete against me.

From hence forth tell I you before it come, y when it is come to passe, ye might beleue that I am he.

* Verely, verely I say vnto you, If I send anie, he that receiueth him, receiueth me,
and he that receiueth me, receiueth him
that sent me.

When Iesus had said these things, he was troubled in the Spirit, & testified, and said, Verely, verely I say vnto you, that one of you shal betraye me.

* Then the disciples looked one on another, douting of whome he spake.

Now there was one of his disciples, w
leaned on Iesus bosome, whome Iesus loued.

To him beckened therefore Simon Peter, y he shulde aske who it was of who-me he spake.

He then, as he leaned on Iesus brest, said
vnto him, Lord, who is it?

Iesus answered, He it is, to whome I shal giue a soppe, when I haue dipte it: and he wet a soppe, and gaue it to Iudas Iscariot, Simons sonne.

And after the soppe, Satan entred into him. The said Iesus vnto him, That thou doest, do quickly.

But none of them that were at table, kne-
we, for what cause he spake it vnto him.

For some of them thought because Iudas
had the bagge, that Iesus had said vnto hi, Bie those things that we haue neede of against the feast: or that he shulde giue some thing to the poore.

Asone then as he had receiued the soppe, he went immediatly out, and it was night.

When he was gone out, Iesus said,
Now is the Sonne of man glorified, and God is glorified in him.

If God be glorified in him, God shal also glorifie him in himself, & shal straightway glorifie him.

Little childre, yet a litle while am I with

also to you say I now,

Simō Peter said vnto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Iesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not followe me now: but thou shalt followe me afterwarde.

Peter said vnto him, Lord, why can I not followe thee now? I will lay downe my

He armeth his disciples with consolation against trouble. 2 He ascendeth into heauen to prepare vs a place. 6 The way, the truth and the life. 10 The Father and Christ one. 13 How we shoulde pray. 23 The promises vnto them that kepe his worde.

And he said to his disciples, Let not your heart be troubled: ye beleue in God, <sup>a</sup> beleue also in me.

In my Fathers house are <sup>b</sup> many dwelling places: if it were not so, I wolde haue tolde you: I go to prepare a place for you.

And though I go to prepare a place for you, I wil come againe, and receiue you vnto my self, that where I am, there may ye be also.

And whither I go, ye knowe, and the way ye knowe.

Thomas said vnto him, Lord, we knowe not whither thou goest; how can we then knowe the way?

Iesus said vnto him, I am the Way, and the Truth, & the Life. No man cometh vnto the Father, but by me.

If ye had knowne me, ye shoulde haue knowne my Father also: and from hence forth ye knowe him, and haue sene him.

Philippe said vnto him, Lord, shewe vs thy Father, and it sufficeth vs.

Iesus said vnto him, I haue bene so long time with you, and hast thou not knowne me, Philippe? he that hathe sene me, hathe sene my Father: how the fast thou, Shewe vs thy Father?

Beleuest thou not, that I am in the Father, and the Father is in me? The wordes that I speake vnto you, I speake not of my self: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the workes.

Beleue me, that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: at the least, beleue me for the very workes sake.

Verely, verely I say vnto you, he that beleueth in me, the workes that I do, he shal do also, & greater then these shal he do: for I go vnto my Father.

* And whatsoever ye aske in my Name, that wil I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Sonne.

If ye shal aske any thing in my Name, I wil do it.

If ye loue me, kepe my comandements, And I wil pray the Father, and he shal giue you another <sup>c</sup> Comforter, that he may abide with you for euer, ¶ Euen the Spirit of truth, whome the worlde can not receiue, because it seeth him not, nether knoweth hi: but ye knowe him: for he dwelleth with you, and shalbe in you.

I wil not leaue you comfortles: but I wil come to you.

Yet a litle while, and the worlde shal se me no more, but ye shal se me: because I liue, ye shal liue also.

At that day shal ye knowe that I am in my Father, and you in me, and I in you.

He that hathe my comandements, and kepeth them, is he that loueth me: and he that loueth me, <sup>a</sup> shalbe loued of my Father: and I wil loue him, and wil shewe mine owne self to him.

Iudas said vnto him (not of Iscariot) Lord, what is the cause that thou wilt shewe thy self vnto vs, and not vnto the worlde?

Iesus answered, and said vnto him, If any man loue me, he wil kepe my worde, & my Father wil loue him, and we wil come vnto him, and wil dwell with him.

He that loueth me not, kepeth not my wordes, and the worde which ye heare, is not of mine, but the Fathers which sent me.

These things haue I spoken vnto you, being present with you.

But the Comforter, which is the holie Ghost, whome the Father wil send in my Name, he shal teache you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, which I haue tolde you.

* Peace I leaue with you: my peace I giue vnto you: not as the worlde giueth, giue I vnto you. Let not your heart be troubled, nor feare.

Ye haue heard how I said vnto you, I go away, and wil come vnto you. If ye loued me, ye wolde verely reioyce, because I said, I go vnto the Father: for my Father is greater then I.

And now haue I spoken vnto you, before it come, that when it is come to passe, ye might beleue.

Hereafter wil I not speake many things vnto you: for the prince of this worlde commeth, and hathe <sup>a</sup> noight in me.

But it is that the worlde may knowe that I loue my Father: & as the Father hathe commanded me, so I do. Arise, let vs go hence.

These things come to passe, that ye loue one another.

If the worlde hateth you, ye knowe that I haue hated the worlde, because I haue said, that I haue hated the worlde, but I haue not hated the worlde, therefore I haue said, that I haue hated the worlde.

Remember the wordes that I haue said vnto you, * The seruant is not greater then his maker. * If they haue persecuted you, and wil persecute you, because of my Name, ye shall not be troubled, because I haue said, that I haue hated the worlde, but I haue not hated the worlde, therefore I haue said, that I haue hated the worlde.

20 Remember the worde that I said vnto
you, * The seruant is not greater then his master. * If they haue persecuted me, they wil persecute you also: if they haue kept

my worde, they wil also kepe yours.

21 But all these things wil they do vnto you

25 But it is that the worde might be fulfil-

26 But when the Comforter shal come, * who-

23 To aske in the Name of Christ. Peace in Christ, &

These things haue I said vnto you,
that ye shulde not be offended.

2 They shal excommunicate you: yea, the time shal come, that whosoever killeth
you, wil thinke that he doeth God seruice.

3 And these things wil they do vnto you,
because they haue not known the Father,

5 But now I go my way to him that sent me
and none of you asketh me, * Whither

6 But because I haue said these things vnto
you, your hearts are ful of sorowe.

7 Yet I tel you the trueth, It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not a-

CHAP. XVIII.

Christ is betrayed. 6 The wordes of his mouth smite
the officers to the grounde. 10 Peter smiteth of Mal
chus eare. 13 Iesus is brought before Annas and Cai
phas. 25 Where Peter denieth him. 30 He telleth Pilate what his kingdome is.

W Hen Iesus had spokē these things,
he went forth with his disciples
ouer y broke Cedro, where was a garde,
into the which he entred, and his disciples.
And Iudas which betrayed him, knewe
also the place: for Iesus oft times resorted thither with his disciples.

* Iudas then after he had received a ba de of men and officers of the high Priests,
and of the Pharises, came thither with lan
ternes and torches, and weapons.

Then Iesus, knowing all things that shul
de come vnto him, went forth and said
vnto them, Whome seke ye?

They answered him, Iesus of Nazaret, Ie sus said vnto the, I am he. Now Iudas also which betrayed him, stode with them.

* Allone then as he had said vnto them, I am he, they wet backwards, and fel to the grounde.

Then he asked them againe, Whome seke
ye? And they said, Iesus of Nazaret.

Iesus answered, I said vnto you, that I am he: therefore if ye seke me, let these go their way.

This was that the worde might be fulfil led which he spake, * Of the which thou
gauest me, haue I lost none.

Then Simon Peter hauing a sworde,
drew it, and smote the high Priests ser uant, and cut of his right eare. Now the seruants name was Malchus.

Then said Iesus vnto Peter, Put vp thy sworde into the sheath: shal I not drinke
of y cup which my Father hath giue me?
Then the bande and the captaine, & the officers of the Iewes toke Iesus, and bound
de him,

And led him away to * Annas first (for he was Father in law to Caiaphas, which was the high Priest: that same yere)

* And Caiaphas was he, that gaue coun sel to the Iewes, that it was expedient that one man shulde dye for the people.

* Now Simon Peter followed Iesus, & another disciple, and that disciple was knowē of the high Priest: therefore he wet
in with Iesus into the hall of the high Priest.

But Peter stode at the dore without.
Then went out the other disciple which was knowne vnto the high Priest, and spa
ke to her that kept the dore, and brought in Peter.

Then said the maide that kept the dore,
vnto Peter, Art not thou also one of this mans disciples? He said, I am not.

And the seruants and officers stode the re, which had made a fyre of coles: for it was colde, and they warmed them selues.
And Peter also stode among them & war med him self.

(¶ The high Priest then asked Iesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

Iesus answered him, I spake openly to the worlde: I euer taught in the Syna gogue & in the Tēple, which the Iewes resorte continually, and in secret haue I said nothing.)

Why askest thou me? aske them which heard me what I said vnto them: beholde,
they knowe what I said.

When he had spoken these things, one of the officers which stode by, smote Iesus with his rod, saying, Answerest thou the high Priest so?

Iesus answered him, If I haue euil spo ken, beare witnes of the euil: but if I haue
wel spoken, why smitest thou me?

* Now Annas had sent him bounde vn
to Caiaphas the high Priest)

* And Simon Peter stode and warmed him self, and they said vnto him, Art not thou also of his disciples? He denied it, &
said, I am not.

One of the seruants of the high Priest,
his cousin whose eare Peter smote of, said,

Pilate then went out vnto them, and said, What accusation bring ye against this man?

They answered and said vnto him, If he were not an euil doer, we wolde not haue deliuered him vnto thee.

Then said Pilate vnto them, Take ye him, and iudge him after your owne Law. Then the Iewes said vnto him, It is not lawfull for vs to put anie man to death.

h He spake Iehus disdainfully, because they were so bold against all righte and equite.
Mat. 20.19. i As if they shulde say, Thou wilt not suffice vs to do infor he knew that it was not permitted to them by the Romanes to punish with death.
Mat. 27.11. mar. 15.2. luk. 23.10.
 It was that the worde of Iesus might be fulfilled which he spake, signifying what death he shulde dye.

¶ So Pilate entred into the commune hall againe, and called Iesus, & said vnto him, Art thou the King of the Iewes?

Iesus answered him, Saist thou that of thy self, or did other tel it thee of me?

Pilate answered, Am I a Iewe? Thine owne nation, and the high Priests haue deliuered thee vnto me. What hast thou done?

h To standeth not in strength of men nor in worldly defence.
 Iesus answered, My kingdome is not of this world: if my kingdome were of this worlde, my seruants wolde surely fight, that I shulde not be deliuered to Iewes: but now is my kingdome not from hence.

Pilate then said vnto him, Art thou a King the Iesus answered, Thou saist that I am a King: for this cause am I borne, & for this cause came I into the worlde, that I shulde beare witness vnto the trueth: euerie one that is of the trueth, heareth my voyce.

Pilate said vnto him, What is trueth? And when he had said that, he went out againe vnto the Iewes, & said vnto them, I finde in him no cause at all.

i This was a mocking and disdainfull question.
Mat. 27.15. mar. 15.6. luk. 23.27. m This was one of their blinde abuses for the Law of God gaue no liberte to quite a wicked trespasser.
Act. 3.14
 ¶ But you haue a custome, that I shulde deliuer you one lose at the Pasche: will ye then that I lose vnto you the King of the Iewes?

¶ He cryed they all againe, saying, Not him, but Barabbas: now this Barabbas was a murderher.

CHAP. XIX.

When Pilate calde not aswage the rage of the Iewes against Christ, he deliuereth him vp with his superscription to be hanged betwixt two theues. 23 They cast lotes for his garments. 26 He commendeth his mother vnto Iohn. 28 Callth for drinke. 33 Dyeth, and his side is perced, and taken downe from the crosse. 38 He is buried.
 ¶ Then Pilate toke Iesus & scourged him.

Mat. 27.26. mar. 15.15. a He thought to haue pacified the furie of the Iewes by some indifferer correction.

And the souldiers platted a crowne of thornes, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple garment, And said, Hail, King of the Iewes. And they smote him with their rodde.

¶ Then Pilate went forth againe, and said vnto them, Beholde, I bring him forth to you, that ye may knowe, if I finde no faute in him at all.

¶ He came Iesus for the wearing a crowne of thornes, and a purple garment. And Pilate said vnto them, Beholde the man.

¶ Then when the high Priests and officers sawe him, they cryed, saying, Crucifie, crucifie him. Pilate said vnto them, Take ye him and crucifie him: for I finde no faute in him.

The Iewes answered him, We haue a Law, and by our Law he ought to dye, because he made him self the Son of God.

¶ When Pilate then heard that worde, he was the more a fraide.

¶ And went againe into the commune hall, and said vnto Iesus, Where art thou? But Iesus gaue him none answer.

¶ The said Pilate vnto him, Speakest thou not vnto me? Knowest thou not that I haue power to crucifie thee, and haue power to lose thee?

Iesus answered, Thou couldest haue no power at all against me, except it were giuen thee from aboue: therefore he that deliuered me vnto thee, hathe the greater sinne.

¶ From thence forth the Pilate sought to lose him, but the Iewes cryed, saying, If thou deliuer him, thou art not Cæsars friend: for whosoever maketh him self a King, speaketh against Cesar.

¶ When Pilate heard that worde, he brought Iesus forth, and sate downe in the iudgement seat in a place called the Pament, and in Hebrew, Gabbatha.

¶ And it was the Preparation of the Pasche, and about the sixth houre: and he said vnto the Iewes, Beholde your King.

¶ But they cryed, Away with him, away with him, crucifie him: Pilate said vnto them, Shall I crucifie your King? The high Priests answered, We haue no King but Cesar.

¶ Then deliuered he him vnto them, to be crucified. ¶ And they toke Iesus, and led him away.

¶ And he bare his crosse, and came into a place named of dead mens Skulles, which is called in Ebrew, Golgotha.

¶ Where thei crucified him, & two other with him, on either side one, & Iesus in the middes.

¶ And Pilate wrote also a title and put it on the crosse, and it was written, IESVS OF NAZARET, THE KING OF THE IEWES.

This title then for the place where was nere to the ciuill Hebrew, Greke, & Latine. Then said the Iewes, but that he Iewes.

10 This title then red manie of the Iewes:
for the place where Iesus was crucified,
was nere to the citie: and it was written in Hebrew, Greke and Latin.

11 Then said the hie Priests of the Iewes to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Iewes, but that he said, I am King of the Iewes.

12 Pilate answered, What I haue written,
I haue written.

13 ¶ Then the souldiers, when they had crucified Iesus, toke his garments & made four partes, to euerie souldier a parte, &
his coate: and the coate was without seame,
wouen from the top throughout.

14 Therefore thei said one to another, Let vs not deuide it, but cast lots for it, whose it shalbe. This was that y: Scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, * They departed
my garmets among them, & on my coate did cast lottes. So the souldiers did these things in dede.

15 ¶ Then stode by the crosse of Iesus his mother, and his mothers sister, Marie the wife of Cleopas, and Marie Magdalene.

16 And when Iesus sawe his mother, & the disciple standing by whome he loued, he said vnto his mother, Womã, beholde thy sonne.

17 Then said he to the disciple, Beholde
thy mother: and from that houre, the disciple toke her home vnto him.

18 ¶ After, when Iesus knewe that all things were performed, that y: Scripture might be fulfilled, he said, I thirst.

19 And there was set a vessel full of vine-
gre: & they filled a sponge with vinegre, and put it about an hyssope stalke, and put it to his mouth.

20 Now when Iesus had receiued of the vi-negre, he said, It is finished, and bowed
his head, and gaue vp the goft.

21 The Iewes then (because it was the Preparation, that the bodies shulde not re-
maine vpō the crosse on the Sabbath day:
for that Sabbath was an hie day) besoght
Pilate that their legges might be broken,
and that they might be taken downe.

22 Then came the souldiers and brake the legges of the first, and of the other, which was crucified with Iesus.

23 But when they came to Iesus, and sawe
that he was dead alreadie, they brake not his legges.

24 But one of the souldiers with a speare
perced his side, & forthwith came there out blood and water.

25 And he that sawe it, bare recorde, & his recorde is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might beleue it.

26 For these things were done, y the Scripture shulde be fulfilled, Not a bone of him shalbe broken.

37 And againe another Scripture saith, * Thei shal se him whome thei haue thrust
through.

38 * And after these things, Ioseph of Arimathea (who was a discipule of Iesus, but secretly for feare of the Iewes) besoght Pilate that he might take downe the bodie of Iesus. And Pilate gaue him licence.
He came then and toke Iesus bodie.

39 And there came also Nicodemus (which first came to Iesus by night) and broght of myrrhe & aloes mingled together about an hundred pounde.

40 ¶ Then toke thei y bodie of Iesus, and wrapped it in linnen clothes with the odours, as the manner of y Iewes is to burie.

41 And in that place where Iesus was crucified, was a garden, and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was neuer man yet laid.

42 There then laid they Iesus, because of the Iewes Preparation day, for the sepulchre was nere.

Peter & Iohn. 12 The two Angels appeare. 17 Christ

1 Now the first day of the weke came Marie Magdalene, earely when it was yet darke, vnto the sepulchre, and sawe the stone taken away from the robe.

2 Then she ranne, and came to Simon Peter, and to the other discipule whome Iesus
loued, and said vnto them, They haue taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre,
and we knowe not where they haue laid
him.

3 Peter therefore went forth, & the other
discipule, & they came vnto the sepulchre.

4 So they ranne bothe together, but the other discipule did out runne Peter, and ca-

5 And he stouped downe, and sawe the lin-

6 Then came Simon Peter following him,
and went into the sepulchre, and sawe the
linnen clothes lye,

7 And the kercheise that was vpō his head,
not lying w the linnen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by it self.

8 Then went in also the other discipule,
which came first to the sepulchre, and he
sawe it, & beleued.

9 For as yet they knewe not the Scripture,
That he must rise againe from the dead.

10 And the disciples went away againe vn-
to their owne home.

11 ¶ But Marie stode without at the se-

13 And they said vnto her, Woman, why wepest thou? She said vnto them, Thei haue taken away my Lord, and I knowe not where they haue laid him.

14 When she had thus said, she turned her self backe and sawe Iesus standing, and knewe not that it was Iesus.

15 Iesus saith vnto her, Womā, why wepest thou? whome seekst thou? She supposing that he had bene the gardener, said vnto him, Syr, if thou hast borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I wil take him away.

16 Iesus saith vnto her, Marie. She turned her self, & said vnto him, Rabboni, which is to say, Master.

17 Iesus saith vnto her, Touche me not: for I am not yet ascended to my Father, but go to my brethren, and say vnto them, I ascend vnto my Father, & to your Father, and to my God, and your God.

18 Marie Magdalene came and tolde the disciples that she had sene the Lord, and that he had spoken these things vnto her.

19 ¶ The same daye then at night, which was the first day of the weeke, and when the doores were shut where the disciples were assembled for feare of the Iewes, came Iesus and stode in the middes, & said to them, Peace be vnto you.

20 And when he had so said, he shewed vnto them his hands, and his side. Then were the disciples glad when they had sene the Lord.

21 Then said Iesus to them againe, Peace be vnto you: as my Father sent me, so send I you.

22 And whē he had said that, he breathed on them, and said vnto them, Receiue the holic Gost.

23 ¶ Whoso euer sinnes ye remit, they are remitted vnto them: & whoso euer sinnes ye reteine, they are reteined.

24 ¶ But Thomas one of the twelue, called Didymus, was not with them when Iesus came.

25 The other disciples therefore said vnto him, We haue sene the Lord: but he said vnto them, Except I se in his hands the print of the nailes, and put my finger into the print of the nailes, and put mine hand into his side, I wil not beleue it.

26 ¶ And eight daies after againe his disciples were within, and Thomas with them. Then came Iesus, whē the doores were shut, and stode in the middes, and said, Peace be vnto you.

27 After, said he to Thomas, Put thy finger here, and se mine hands, and put forth thyne hand, and put it into my side, and be not faithles, but faithfull.

28 Then Thomas answered, and said vnto

him, Thou art my Lord, and my God.

30 ¶ And manie other signes also did Iesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this boke.

31 But these things are written, yē ye might beleue, that Iesus is the Christ the Sonne of God, and that in beleuing ye might haue life through his Name.

CHAP. XXI.

Christ appeareth to his disciples againe. 15 He commendeth Peter earnestly to feed his shepe. 18 He forewarneth him of his death. 25 And of Christis manyfold miracles.

1 After these things, Iesus shewed himself againe to his disciples at sea of Tiberias: and thus shewed he himself.

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas, which is called Didymus, & Nathanael of Cana in Galile, and the sonnes of Zebedeus, & two other of his disciples.

3 Simon Peter said vnto them, I go a fishing. They said vnto him, We also wil go with thee. They went their way and entered into a ship straight way, & that night caught they nothing.

4 But when the morning was now come, Iesus stode on the shore: neuertheles the disciples knewe not that it was Iesus.

5 Iesus then said vnto them, Sirs, haue ye anye meat? They answered him, No.

6 Then he said vnto them, Cast out the net on the right side of the ship, & ye shall finde. So they cast out, and they were not able at all to drawe it, for the multitude of fishes.

7 Therefore said the disciple whome Iesus loved, vnto Peter, It is the Lord. When Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girde his coate to him (for he was naked) and cast him self into the sea.

8 But the other disciples came by shippe (for they were not farre from land, but about two hundred cubites) & they drew the net with fishes.

9 Alfone then as they were come to land, they sawe horte coles, and fish laid thereon, and bread.

10 Iesus said vnto the, Bring of the fishes, which ye haue now caught.

11 Simon Peter stepped forth and drew the net to land, full of great fishes, an hundredth, fiftie and thre: and albeit there were so manie, yet was not the net broken.

12 Iesus said vnto them, Come, & dyne. And none of the disciples durst aske him, Who art thou, seeing they knewe that he was the Lord.

13 Iesus then came & toke bread, and gaue them, and fish likewise.

d Because this was to muche added to the corporal presence, Christ teacheth herto lift vp her minde by such in- to haue where- re onely after his remaneth, & where we sit with him at right had of the Father.

14 This is now the third time that Iesus shewed him self to his disciples, after that he was risen againe from the dead.

15 ¶ So whē they had dined, Iesus said to Simon Peter, Simon sonne of Iona, louest thou me more thē these? He said vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He said vnto him, Fede my lambes.

16 He said to him againe the secōde time, Simon the sonne of Iona, louest thou me? He said vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He said vnto him, Fede my shepe.

17 He said vnto him the third time, Simon the sonne of Iona, louest thou me? Peter was sorie because he said to him the third time, Louest thou me: and said vnto him, Lord, thou knowest all things: thou knowest that I loue thee. Iesus said vnto him, Fede my shepe.

18 Verely, verely I say vnto thee, When thou wast yong, thou girdedst thy self, & walkedst whither thou woldest: but when thou shalt be olde, thou shalt stretch forth the thine hands, & another shall gird thee, & lead thee whither thou woldest not.

19 And this spake he, signifying by what death he shulde glorifie God. And whē he had said this, he said to him, Followe me.

20 Then Peter turned about, and sawe the disciple whome Iesus loued, following; which had also leane on his brest at supper, and had said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?

21 When Peter therefore sawe him, he said to Iesus, Lord, what shal this man do?

22 Iesus said vnto him, If I wil that he tarie til I come, what is it to thee? followe thou me.

23 Then went this worde abroad among the brethren, that this disciple shulde not dye. Yet Iesus said not to him, He shal not dye: but if I wil that he tarie til I come, what is it to thee?

24 This is that disciple, which testifieth of these things, & wrote these things, and we knowe that his testimonie is true.

25 ¶ Now there are also manie other things which Iesus did, the which if they shulde be written euerie one, I suppose the worlde coulde not containe the booke that shulde be written, Amen.

THE ACTES OF THE holie Apostles written by Luke the Euangeliste.

THE ARGUMENT.

Christ, after his ascension, performed his promes to his Apostles, and sent them the holie Ghost, declaring thereby, that he was not onely mindfull of his Church, but wolde be the head & maintainer thereof for euer. Wherein also his mightie power appeareth, who notwithstanding that Satan & the worlde resisted neuer so muche against this noble worke, yet by a fewe simple men of no reputation, replenished all the worlde with the sounde of his Gospel. And here, in the beginning of the Church, and in the increafe thereof, we may plainly perceiue the practise and malice which Satan continually vseth to suppress, and overthrowe the Gospel: he raiseth conspiracies, tumults, commotions, persecutions, scandales and all kinde of crueltie. Againē we shal here behold the prouidence of God, who overthroweth his enemies enterprises, deliuereth his Church from the rage of tyrants, strengtheneth, and encourageth his most valiantly and constantly to followe their capitaine Christ, leaving us it were by this historie a perpetual memorie to the Church, that the crosse is so ioyned with the Gospel, that they are fellowes inseparable, and that the end of one affliction, is but the beginning of another. Yet neuertheles God turneth the troubles, persecutions, imprisonings and tentations of his, to a good issue, giving them as it were, in sorrowe, ioye: in bandes, freedom in prison, deliuerance: in trouble, quietnes in death, life. Finally, this booke containeth manie excellent sermons of the Apostles & disciples, as touching the death, resurrection, and ascension of Christ. The mercie of God. Of the grace, and remission of sinne through Iesus Christ. Of the blessed immortalitie. An exhortation to the ministers of Christs stocke. Of repentance, & feare of God, with other principal points of our faith: so that this ouerlie historie in a manner may be sufficient to instruct a man in all true doctrine and religion.

* For Iohn in dede baptized with water, but ye shalbe baptized with the holie Gost within these fewe dayes.

6 When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time restore the kingdome to Israel?

7 And he said vnto them, It is not for you to knowe the times, or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his owne power,

8 But ye shal receiue power of the holie Gost, when he shal come on you: and ye shalbe witnesses vnto me bothe in Ierusalem, & in all Iudea, and in Samaria, and vnto the vttermoost parte of the earth.

9 * And when he had spoken these things, while they behelde, he was taken vp: for a cloude toke him vp out of their sight.

10 And while they looked stedfastly toward heauen, as he went, beholde, two men stode by them in white apparel,

11 Which also said, Ye men of Galile, why stand ye gazing into heauen? This Iesus which is taken vp from you into heauen, shal so come, as ye haue sene him go into heauen.

12 ¶ Then returned they vnto Ierusalem from the mount that is called the mount of oliues, which is nere to Ierusalem, containing a Sabbath dayes iourney.

13 And when they were come in, they wet vp into an vpper chamber, where abode bothe Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, and Andrew, Philippe, and Thomas, Bartlemewe, and Mattheu, Iames the sonne of Alpheus, and Simon zelotes, and Iudas Iames brother.

14 These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplicatiō with the women, and Marie the mother of Iesus, and with his brethren.

15 ¶ And in those dayes Peter stode vp in the middes of the disciples and said (now the number of names that were in one place, were about an hundred and twentie)

16 Ye men & brethren, this Scripture must nedes haue bene fulfilled, which the holie Gost by the mouth of Dauid spake before of Iudas, which was guide to them that toke Iesus.

17 For he was nombred with vs, and had obtained fellowshipp in this ministratiō.

18 He therefore hath purchased a field with the rewarde of iniquitie: and when he had throwed downe him selfe head long he brast a sondre in the middes, and all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it is known vnto all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, in so muche, that that field is called in their owne langage, Aceldama, that is, The field of blood.

20 For it is written in the booke of Psalmes, * Let his habitation be voyde, and let no man dwell therein: * also, Let another take his charge.

21 Wherefore, of these men which haue companied with vs, all the time that the Lord Iesus was conuersant among vs,

22 Beginning from the Baptisme of Iohn, vnto the day that he was taken vp from vs, must one of the be made a witnes with vs of his resurrection.

23 And they presented two, Ioseph called Barsabas, whose surname was Iustus, and Mathias.

24 And they prayed, saying, Thou Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, shewe whether of these two thou hast chosen,

25 That he may take the roume of this ministratiō and Apostleship, from which Iudas hath gone astray, to go to his owne place.

26 Then they gaue forth their lottes: and the lot fel on Mathias, and he was by a commune consent counted with the Eleue Apostles.

CHAP. II.

The Apostles haue receiued the holie Gost, make their heauens astonishd. 14 When Peter had stopped the mouths of the mockers, he sheweth by the visible graces of the holie Spirit that Christ is come. 41 He baptizeth a great number that were conuerted. 42 The godlie exercise, charitie, and diuers vertues of the faithful.

1 And when the day of Pentecoste was come, they were all with one accorde in one place.

2 And suddenly there came a sounde from heauen, as of a rushing and mightie winde, and it filled all the house where they sate.

3 And there appeared vnto them clouens tongues, like fyre, and it sate vpon eche of them.

4 And they were all filled with the holie Gost, and began to speake with other tongues, as the Spirit gaue them vtterance.

5 And there were dwelling at Ierusalem Iewes, men that feared God, of euerie nation vnder heauen.

6 Now when this was noised, the multitude came together and were astonied, because that euerie man heard them speake his owne language.

7 And they wondered all, and marueiled, saying amōg them selues, Beholde, are not all these which speake of Galile?

8 How then heare we euerie man our owne langage, wherein we were borne?

34 For Dauid is not aſcended into heauen,
but he ſaith, "The Lord ſaid to my Lord,

37 Now when they heard it, they were pric-

the other Apoſtles, Men & brethren, what ſhall we do?

38 Then Peter ſaid vnto them, Amend your

46 And they continued daily with one accorde in the Temple, & breaking bread at home, did eat their meate together with gladnes and singlenes of heart, 47 Praising God, and had fauour with all the people: and the Lord added to the Church from day to day, suche as shulde be saued.

CHAP. III.

The lame is restored to his fete. 12 Peter preacheth Christ vnto the people.

NOW Peter and Iohn went vp together into the Temple, at the ninth houre of prayer.

2 And a certeine man which was a creple fro his mothers wombe, was caryed, whome they laid daily at the gate of the Temple called Beautiful, to aske almes of the that entred into the Temple.

3 Who seing Peter and Iohn, that they wolde entre into the Temple, desired to receiue an almes.

4 And Peter earnestly beholding him with Iohn, said, Loke on vs.

5 And he gaue hede vnto them, trusting to receiue some thing of them.

6 Then said Peter, Siluer and golde haue I none, but suche as I haue, that giue I thee: In the Name of Iesus Christ of Nazaret rise vp and walke.

7 And he toke him by the right hand, and lift him vp, and immediatly his fete and ancle bones receiued strength.

8 And he leaped vp, stode, and walked, and entred with them into the Temple, walking and leaping, and praising God.

9 And all the people saue him walke, and praising God,

10 And thei knewe him, that it was he which fate for the almes at the Beautiful gate of the Temple: & they were amased, and sore aftonied at that, which was come vnto him.

11 And as the creple which was healed, helde Peter and Iohn, all the people ran amased vnto them in the porche which is called Solomons.

12 So whē Peter sawe it, he answered vnto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marueile ye at this? or why loke ye so stedfastly on vs, as though by our owne power or godlines, we had made this man go?

13 The God of Abraham, and Isaac, and Iacob, the God of our fathers hath glorified his Sonne Iesus, whome ye betrayed, and denied in the presence of Pilate, whē he had iudged him to be deliuered.

14 But ye denied the holie one & the iust, and desired a murderer to be giuen you,

15 And killed the Lord of life, whome God hath raised from the dead, whereof we are witnesses.

16 And his Name hath made this man sounde, whome ye feare, and knowe, through faith in his Name: & the faith which is by him, hath giue to him this disposition of his whole bodie in y<sup>e</sup> presce of you all.

17 And now brethre, I knowe that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your gouerners.

18 But those things which God before had shewed by the mouth of all his Prophetes, that Christ shulde suffre, he hath thus fulfilled.

19 Amend your liues therefore, and turne, that your sinnes may be put away, whē the time of refreshing shal come from the presence of the Lord.

20 And he shal send Iesus Christ, which before was preached vnto you.

21 Whome the heauen must containe vntil the time that all things be restored, which God had spoken by the mouth of all his holie Prophetes since the worlde began.

22 For Moses said vnto the Fathers, The Lord your God shal raise vp vnto you a Prophet, euen of your brethren like vnto me: ye shal heare him in all things, whatsoever he shal say vnto you.

23 For it shalbe that euerie persone which shal not heare that Prophet, shalbe destroyed out of the people.

24 Also all the Prophetes from Samuel, and thence forth as many as haue spoken, haue likewise foretold of these dayes.

25 Ye are the children of the Prophetes, & of the couenant, which God hath made vnto our fathers, saying to Abraham, Euen in thy fete shal all the kindreds of the earth be blessed.

26 First vnto you hath God raised vp his Sonne Iesus, & him he hath sent to blesse you, in turning euerie one of you from your iniquities.

CHAP. IIIII.

their rulers, and Elders, and Scribes, were gathered together at Ierusalem,

6 And Annas the chief Priest, & Caiaphas, and Iohn, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kinred of the hie Priestes.

7 And when they had set the before them, they asked, By what power, or <sup>d</sup> in what Name haue ye done this?

8 Then Peter ful of the holie Gost, said vnto them, Ye rulers of the people, & Elders of Israel,

9 For asmuche as we this day are examined of the good dede done to the impotent man, to w<sup>h</sup>ich by what meanes he is made whole,

10 Be it known vnto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the Name of Iesus Christ of Nazaret, whome ye haue crucified, whome God raised againe frō the dead, <sup>euen</sup> by him doeth this man stand here before you, whole.

11 * This is the stone cast a side of you by builders, which is become the head of the corner.

12 Now is there saluation in any other: for among men there is giuen none other name <sup>v</sup>nder heauen, where by we must be saved.

13 Now when they sawe the boldnes of Peter and Iohn, & vnderstode that they were vnlearned men and without knowledge, they marueiled, & knewe them, that they had bene with Iesus:

14 And beholding also the man which was healed standing with them, they had nothing to say against it.

15 Then they commanded them to go aside out of the Council, and <sup>conferred</sup> among them selues,

16 Saying, What shal we do to these men? for surely a manifest signe is done by the, & it is openly known to all the that dwell in Ierusalem: and we can not denye it.

17 But that it be noised no farther among the people, let vs threaten and charge the, that they speake henceforth to no man in this Name.

18 So they called them, and commanded them, that in <sup>no</sup> wise they shulde speake or teache in the Name of Iesus.

19 But Peter and Iohn answered vnto the, and said, Whether it be right in the sight of God, to obey you rather then God, iudge ye.

20 For we can not but speake the things which we haue <sup>a</sup> sene and heard.

21 So they <sup>threatened</sup> them, and let them go, and founde nothing how to punish them, because of the people: for all men praised God for that which was done.

22 For the man was aboue fourtie yere olde, on whome this miracle of healing was shewed.

23 Then as sone as they were let go, they came to their p<sup>re</sup>lowes, & shewed all that the hie Priestes & Elders had said vnto them.

24 And when they heard it, they lift vp their voyces to God with one accorde, & said, O Lord, thou art the God which hast made the heauen and the earth, the sea, & all things that are in them.

25 Which <sup>a</sup> by the mouth of thy seruēt Dauid hast said, Why did the Gentiles rage, and the people imagine vaine things?

26 The Kings of the earth assembled, and the rulers came together against <sup>y</sup> Lord, and against his Christ.

27 For douteles, against thine holie Sonne Iesus, whome thou haddest <sup>a</sup> nointed, bothe Herode & Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the people of Israel gathered them selues together,

28 To do what soeuer thine <sup>a</sup> hand, and thy <sup>a</sup> couंसil had determined before to be done.

29 And now, O Lord, beholde their threatenings, & <sup>v</sup> grante vnto thy seruants with all boldenes to speake thy worde,

30 So that thou stretche forth the thine hand, that healing, and signes, and wonders may be done by the Name of thine holie Sonne Iesus.

31 And when as they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together, and they were all <sup>a</sup> filled with the holie Gost, and they spake the worde of God <sup>a</sup> boldly.

32 And the multitude of them that beleued, were of one heart, and of one <sup>a</sup> soule: nether any of them said, that any thing of that which he possessed, was his <sup>a</sup> owne, but they had all things <sup>a</sup> commune.

33 And with great power gaue the Apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Iesus: and great grace was vpon them all.

34 Nether was there any among them, that <sup>a</sup> lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses, solde them, and broght the price of the things that were solde,

35 And laid it downe at the Apostles fete, and it was distributed vnto euerie man, according as he had nede.

36 Also Ioses which was called of the Apostles, Barnabas (that is by interpretation the sonne of consolation) being a Leuite, and of the countrey of Cyprus,

37 Where as he had land, solde it, & broght the money, and laid it downe at the Apostles fete.

Lying vnto the holie Gost. The Actes. To obey God.

BVe a certeine man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, solde a possession,

And kept away parte of the price, his wife also being of counsell, & brought a certeine parte, and laid it downe at the Apostles fete.

Then said Peter, Ananias, why hathe Satan filled thine heart, that thou shuldest lie vnto the holie Gost, and kepe away parte of the price of the possession?

Whiles it remained, & appertained it not vnto thee? and after it was solde, was it not in thine owne power? how is it that thou hast concieued this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied vnto me, but vnto God.

Now when Ananias heard these wordes, he fel downe, and gaue vp the gost. Then great feare came on all them that heard these things.

And the yong men rose vp, and toke him vp, and caryed him out, and buried him.

And it came to passe about the space of thre houres after, that his wife came in, ignorant of that which was done.

And Peter said vnto her, Tell me, soldest thou the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much.

Then Peter said vnto her, Why haue ye agreed together, to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? beholde, the fete of them which haue buried thine housbād, are at the dore, and shal carye thee out.

Then he fell downe straight way at his fete, and yelded vp the gost: and the yong men came in, and founde her dead, and caryed her out, and buried her by her housband.

And great feare came on all the Church, and on as many as heard these things.

Thus by the hands of the Apostles were many signes and wonders shewed among the people (and they were all with one accorde in Solomons porche.

And of the other durst no man ioyn him self to them: neuer theles the people magnified them,

Also the nombre of them that beleued in the Lord, bothe of men & womē, grewe more and more.)

In somuche that thei brought the sicke into the stretes, and laid them on beddes and couches, that at the least way the shadowe of Peter, whē he came by, might shadowe some of them.

There came also a multitude out of the cities rounde about vnto Ierusalem, bringing sicke folkes, & them which were vexed with vncleane spirits, who were all healed.

¶ Then the chief Priest rose vp, & all they that were with him (which was the secte of the Sadduces) and were ful of indignation,

And laid hands on the Apostles, and put them in the commune prison.

But the Angel of the Lord, by night opened the prison dore, & brought them forth, and said,

Go your way, and stand in the Temple, & speake to the people all the wordes of this life.

So when they heard it, they entred into the Tēple early in the morning & taught. And the chief Priest came, and they that were with him, and called the Council together, and all the Elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison, to cause them to be brought.

But when the officers came, and founde them not in the prison, they returned and tolde it,

Saying, Certainely we founde prison shut as sure as was possible, & the keepers standing without, before the dore: but when we had opened, we founde no man within.

Then whē the chief Priest, and the captaine of the Temple, and the hie Priests heard these things, they doubted of them, whereunto this wolde growe.

Then came one and shewed the, saying, Beholde, the men that ye put in prison, are standing in the Temple, and teache the people.

Then went the captaine with the officers, and brought them without violence (for they feared the people, lest they shulde haue bene stoned)

And when they had brought them, they set them before the Council, and the chief Priest asked them,

Saying, Did not we straitely command you, that ye shulde not teache in this Name? and beholde, ye haue filled Ierusalem with your doctrine, & ye wolde bring this mans blood vpon vs.

Then Peter and the Apostles answered, and said, We ought rather to obey God than men.

The God of our fathers hathe raised vp Iesus, whome ye slew, & hanged on a tre.

Him hathe God lift vp with his right hand, to be a Prince and a Sauour, to giue repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of finnes.

And we are his witnesses cōcerning these things which we say: yea, and the holie Gost, whome God hathe giuen to them that obey him.

Now when they heard it, they braist for anger, and consulted to slay them.

59 And they stoned Steuen, who called on God, & said, Lord Iesus, receiue my spirit.

1 Steuen is lamented & buried. 2 The rage of the Iewes and of Saul against them. 3 The faithful scattered, preache here & there. 4 Samaria is seduced by Simon the Priester, but was converted by Philippe, and confirmed by the Apostles. 5 The couetousnes and hypocrisie of Simon. 6 And conversion of the Eunuche.

And Saul consented to his death, and at that time, there was a great persecution against the Church which was at Ierusalem, & they were all scattered abroad through the regions of Iudea & of Samaria, except the Apostles.

2 Then certaine men fearing God, & caryed Steuen amongs the, to be buried, and made great lamentation for him.

3 But Saul made hanocke of the Church, and entred into euerie house, and drew out bothe men and women, and put them into prison.

4 Therefore they that were scattered abroad, went to and fro preaching the worde.

5 ¶ Then came Philippe into the citie of Samaria, & preached Christ vnto them.

6 And the people gaue hede vnto those things which Philippe spake, with one accorde, hearing & seing the miracles which he did.

7 For vncleane spirits crying with a loude voyce, came out of many that were possessed of them: and many taken with palsies, & that halted, were healed.

8 And there was great ioye in that citie.

9 And there was before in the citie a certeine man called Simon, which vsed witchcraft, and bewitched the people of Samaria, saying, that he him self was some great man.

10 To whome they gaue hede from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And they gaue hede vnto him, because that of long time he had bewitched them with forceries.

12 But as sone as they beleued Philippe, which preached the things that concerned the kingdome of God, and in the Name of Iesus Christ, they were baptized bothe men and women.

13 Then Simon him self beleued also and was baptized, & continued with Philippe, and wondred, when he sawe the signes and great miracles which were done.

14 ¶ Now whē the Apostles, which were at Ierusalem, heard say, that Samaria had receiued the worde of God, they sent vnto them Peter and Iohn.

15 Which when they were come downe, prayed for them, that they might receiue the holie Ghost.

16 (For as yet, he was come downe on none of them, but they were baptized onely in the Name of the Lord Iesus)

17 Then laid they their hands on them, & they receiued the holie Ghost.

18 And when Simon sawe, that through laying on of the Apostles hands the holie Ghost was giuen, he offered them money,

19 Saying, Giue me also this power, that on whome soeuer I lay the hands, he may receiue the holie Ghost.

g Meaning the particular gifts of the holie Spirit.
h They had onely received the common grace of adoption & regeneration which are offered to all y<sup>e</sup> faithful in baptisme, & as yet had not received the gift to speake in diuers languages, & to do miracles.

20 Then said Peter vnto him, Thy money perissh with thee, because thou thinkest that y<sup>e</sup> gift of God may be obtained with money.

21 Thou hast nether parte nor fellowship in this bulines: for thine heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 Repent therefore of this thy wickednes, and pray God, that if it be possible, the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I see that thou art in y<sup>e</sup> gall of bitterness, and in the bonde of iniquitie.

24 Then answered Simon, & said, Pray ye to the Lord for me, y<sup>e</sup> none of these things which ye haue spoken, come vpon me.

25 So they, when they had testified and preached the worde of the Lord, returned to Ierusalem, and preached the Gospel in many townes of the Samaritans.

26 Then the Angel of the Lord spake vnto Philippe, saying, Arise, and go toward the South vnto the way that goeth downe from Ierusalem vnto Gaza, which is a waste.

27 And he arose and went on: and beholde, a certeine Eunuche of Ethiopia Cadace the Quene of the Ethiopians chief Gouerner, who had the rule of all her treasure, & came to Ierusalem to worship:

28 And as he returned sitting in his charet, he red Esaias the Prophet.

29 Then the Spirit said vnto Philippe, Go nere & ioyn thy self to yonder charet.

30 And Philippe ranne thither, and heard him read the Prophet Esaias, & said, But vnderstandest thou what thou readest?

31 And he said, How can I, except I had a guide? And he desired Philippe, that he wolde come vp and sit with him.

32 Now the place of the Scripture which he red, was this, * He was led as a shepe to slaughter: & like a lambe domme before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth.

33 In his humilitie his iudgement hath bene exalted: but who shal declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

34 Then the Eunuche answered Philippe, and said, I pray thee of whome speaketh the Prophet this? of him self, or of some other man?

35 Then Philippe opened his mouth, and began at the same Scripture, and preached vnto him Iesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came vnto a certeine water, and the Eunuche said, Se, here is water: what doeth let me to be baptized?

37 And Philippe said vnto him, If thou beleeuest with all thine heart, thou maist. Then he answered, and said, I beleeue that Iesus Christ is the Sonne of God.

38 Then he commanded the charet to stand still: and they went downe bothe into the water, bothe Philippe & the Eunuche, and he baptized him.

39 And as soon as they were come vp out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philippe, that y<sup>e</sup> Eunuche sawe him no more: so he went on his way reioicing.

40 But Philippe was founde at Azotus, & he walked to and fro preaching in all the cities, til he came to Cesarea.

Then Ananias answered, Lord, I haue heard by many of this mā, how muche euill he hath done to thy saintes at Ierusalem.

Moreouer here he hathe autoritie of the hie Priests, to binde all that call on thy Name.

Then the Lord said vnto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel vnto me, to beare my Name before the Gentiles, & Kings, and the children of Israel.

For I will shewe him, how many thinges he must suffre for my Names sake.

Then Ananias went his way, and entred into the house, and put his hands on him, and said, Brother Saul, the Lord hath sent me (even Iesus y appeared vnto thee in the way as thou camest) that thou mightest receiue thy sight, and be filled with the holie Gost.

And immediatly there fel from his eyes as it had bene scales, & suddenly he receiued sight, and arose, and was baptized,

And receiued meat, & was strengthened.

So was Saul certeine dayes with the disciples which were at Damascus.

And straight way he preached Christ in the Synagogues, that he was the Sonne of God.

So that all that heard him, were amased, and said, Is not this he, that destroyed the which called on this Name in Ierusalem, & came hither for that intent, y he shulde bring them bounde vnto the hie Priests?

But Saul encreased the more in strength, and confounded the Iewes which dwelt at Damascus, confirming, that this was the Christ.

And after that many dayes were fulfilled, the Iewes toke counsel together, to kill him.

But their laying await was knowne of Saul: now they watched the gates day and night, that they might kill him.

Then the disciples toke him by night, and put him through the wall, and let him downe in a basket.

And when Saul was come to Ierusalem, he assaide to ioine him self with the disciples: but they were all afraid of him, and beleued not that he was a disciple.

But Barnabas toke him, and broght him to the Apostles, and declared to them, how he had sene the Lord in the way, & that he had spoken vnto him, & how he had spokē boldly at Damascus in y Name of Iesus.

And he was conuersant with them at Ierusalem,

And spake boldly in the Name of the Lord Iesus, & spake and disputed with the Grecians: but they went about to slay him.

But when the brethren knewe it, they brought him to Cesarea, & sent him forth to Tarsus.

Then had the Churches rest through all Iudea, and Galile, and Samaria, and were edified, & walked in the feare of the Lord, and were multiplied by the comfort of the holie Gost.

And it came to passe, as Peter walked through out all quarters, he came also to the saintes which dwelt at Lydda.

And there he founde a certeine man named Aeneas, which had kept his bed eight yeres, and was sicke of the palse.

The said Peter vnto him, Aeneas, Iesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise and make vp thy bed. And he arose immediatly.

And all that dwelt at Lydda and Saron, sawe him, and turned to the Lord.

There was also at Ioppa a certeine woman a disciple named Tabitha (which by interpretation is called Dorcas) she was full of good workes & almes which she did.

And it came to passe in those dayes, that she was sicke and dyed: and when they had washed her, they laid her in an vpper chamber.

Now forasmuche as Lydda was nere to Ioppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent vnto him two men, desiring that he wolde not delaye to come vnto them.

Then Peter arose and came with them: and when he was come, they broght him into the vpper chamber, where all the wid dowes stode by him weping, and shewing the coates and garments, which Dorcas made, while she was with them.

But Peter put them all forth, and knelled downe, and praid, and turned him to the bodie, and said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes, and when she sawe Peter, saie vp.

Then he gaue her the hand & lift her vp, and called the saintes & widowes, and restored her alme.

And it was knowne throughout all Ioppa, and manie beleued in the Lord.

And it came to passe that he taryed manie dayes in Ioppa w one Simon a tanner.

God comming in to him, and saying vnto him, Cornelius.

4 But when he looked on him, he was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord? And he said vnto him, Thy prayers & thine almes are come vnto remembrance before God.

5 Now therefore send men to Ioppa, & call for Simon, whose surname is Peter.

6 He lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side: he shall tell thee what thou oughtest to do.

7 And when the Angel which spake vnto Cornelius, was departed, he called two of his seruants, & a fouldier that feared God, one of them that waited on him,

8 And tolde them all things, and sent them to Ioppa.

9 On the morowe as they went on their iorney, and drewe nere vnto the citie, Peter went vp vpon the house to pray, about the sixth houre.

10 Then waxed he an hungred, and wolde haue eat: but while they made some thing readie, he fell into a trance.

11 And he sawe heauen opened, and a certeine vessel come downe vnto him, as it had bene a great shete, knit at the foure corners, and was let downe to the earth.

12 Wherein were all maner of foure footed beastes of the earth, and wilde beastes and creeping things, and fowles of the heauen.

13 And there came a voyce to him, Arise, Peter: kill, and eat.

14 But Peter said, Not so, Lord: for I haue neuer eaten any thing that is polluted, or vncleane.

15 And the voyce spake vnto him againe the seconde time, The things that God hath purified, pollute thou not.

16 This was so done thrise: and the vessel was drawn vp againe into heauen.

17 Now while Peter doubted in himself what this vision which he had sene, meant, beholde, the men which were sent from Cornelius, had inquired for Simons house, and stood at the gate,

18 And called, & asked, whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 And while Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said vnto him, Beholde, three men seke thee.

20 Arise therefore, and get thee downe, & go with them, and s doubt nothing: for I haue sent them.

21 Then Peter wet downe to the men, which were sent vnto him from Cornelius, & said, Beholde, I am he whome ye seeke: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

22 And they said, Cornelius the captaine, a iust man, and one that feareth God, and of good repute among all the nation of the Iewes, was warned from heauen by an holie Angel, to send for thee into his house,

se, and to heare thy wordes.

23 Then called he them in, & lodged them, and the next day, Peter went forth with them, and certeine brethren from Ioppa, accompanied him.

24 And the day after, they entred into Cesarea. Now Cornelius waited for them, & had called together his kinsmen, and special friends.

25 And it came to passe as Peter came in, that Cornelius met him, and fell downe at his fete and worshipped him.

26 But Peter toke him vp, saying, Stand vp: for euē I my self am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, he came in, & founde manie that were come together.

28 And he said vnto them, Ye knowe that it is an vnlawful thing for a man that is a Iewe, to companie or come vnto one of another nation: but God hath shewed me, that I shulde not call anie man polluted, or vncleane.

29 Therefore came I vnto you without saying naye, when I was sent for. I aske therefore, for what intent haue ye sent for me.

30 Then Cornelius said, Foure dayes ago, about this houre, I fasted, and at the ninth houre I praid in mine house, and beholde, a man stood before me in bright clothing,

31 And said, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine almes are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32 Send therefore to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter (he is lodged in the house of Simon a tanner by the sea side) who when he cometh, shall speake vnto thee.

33 Then sent I for thee immediately, and thou hast wel done to come. Now therefore are we all here present before God, to heare all things that are commanded thee of God.

34 Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceiue, that God is no acceptor of persones.

Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was powred out the gift of the holie Gost.
46 For they heard them speake with tongues,
& magnifie God. Then answered Peter, 47 Can anie man forbid water, that the 48 So he commanded them to be baptized

in the Name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarie certeine dayes.

CHAP. XI.

4 Peter sheweth the cause wherefore he went to the Gentiles. 18 The Church apprehendeth. 21 The Church increaseth. 22 Barnabas and Paul preache at An tiochia. 28 Agabus prophesieth dearth to come.
29 And the remedie.
N OW the Apostles and the brethren that were in Iudea, heard, that the Gentiles had also received the worde of God.
1 And when Peter was come vp to Ierusa
lem, they of the circumcision contended
against him,
2 Saying, Thou wentest in to men vncir
cumcised, and hast eaten with them.
3 Then Peter began, and expounded the thing in order to them, saying, 4 I was in the citie of Ioppa, praying, and in a trance I sawe this vision, A certeine vessel coming downe as it had bene a great sheet, let downe from heauen by the foure
corners, and it came to me.
5 Toward the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and sawe foure so ted beastes of the earth, and wilde beastes,
and creeping things, & foules of the heaue.
6 Also I heard a voyce, saying vnto me, A rise, Peter: slay and eat.
7 And I said, God forbid, Lord: for nothing polluted or vnclane hathe at anie time
entered into my mouth.
8 But the voyce answered me the second ti me from heauen, The things that God
hathe purified, pollute thou not.

10 And this was done thre times, and all were taken vp againe into heauen.
11 Then beholde, immediatly there were thre men already come vnto the house whe re I was, sent from Cesarea vnto me.
12 And the Spirit said vnto me, that I shul
de go with them, without douting: mo
reouer these six brethren came with me, &
we entred into the mans house.
13 And he shewed vs, how he had sene an Angel in his house, which stood and said to him, Send men to Ioppa, and call for Si mon whose surname is Peter.
14 He shal speake wordes vnto thee, whe reby both thou and all thine house shal be saued.
15 And as I began to speake, the holie Gost
fel on them, euen as vpon vs at the be ginning.
16 Then I remembered the worde of the Lord, how he said, * Iohn baptized with water, but ye shal be baptized with the
holie Gost.
17 For as muche then as God gaue them a like gift, as he did vnto vs, when we beleu
ed in the Lord Iesus Christ, who was I,
that I colde let God?
18 When they heard these things, they helde their peace, and glorified God, say ing, Then hathe God also to the Gentiles
granted repentance vnto life.
19 And they which were scattered abroad
because of the affliction that arose about Steuens, walked throughout til they came vnto Phenice and Cyprus, and Antiochia, preaching the worde to no man, but vnto
the Iewes onely.
20 Now some of them were men of Cyprus
and of Cyrene, which when they were co me into Antiochia, spake vnto the Gre
cians, and preached the Lord Iesus.
21 And the hand of the Lord was with the
so that a great number beleued & turned vnto the Lord.
22 Then tidings of those things came vnto
the eares of the Church, which was in Ie rusalem, & they sent forth Barnabas that he shulde go vnto Antiochia.
23 Who when he was come & had sene the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted all,
that with purpose of heart they wolde
cleaue vnto the Lord.
24 For he was a good man, and ful of the holie Gost, and faith, and muche people
ioyned them selues vnto the Lord.
25 ¶ Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus to seke Saul:
26 And when he had founde him, he broghe
him vnto Antiochia, and it came to passe
that a whole yere they were conuersant
with the Church, and taught muche peo ple, in so muche, that the disciples were first called Christians in Antiochia.

29 Then the disciples, euerie man according to his habilitie, <sup>1</sup> purposed to send succour vnto the brethren which dwelt in Iudea.

CHAP. XII.

Herode persecuteth the Christians. 2 He killeth Iames, 4 And putteth Peter in prison. 7 Whome the Lord deliuereith by an Angel. 21 The horrible death of Herode. 24 The Gospel storsbeth. 25 Barnabas & Saul returning to Antiochia take Iohn Marke with them.

NOW about that time, <sup>a</sup> Herode the King stretched forth the <sup>b</sup> hands to vex certeine of the Church.
And he killed Iames the <sup>b</sup> brother of Iohn with the sword.
And when he sawe that it <sup>c</sup> pleased the Iewes, he proceded further, to take Peter also (then were <sup>d</sup> daies of vnleauened bread).
And whē he had caught him, he put him in prison, and deliuered him to <sup>e</sup> foure quaternions of souldiers to be kept, intending after the Passouer to bring him forth to the people.
So Peter was kept in prison, but earnest prayer was made of the Church vnto God for him.

6 And when Herode wolde haue brought him out vnto the people, the same night slept Peter betwene two souldiers, bounde with two chaines, and the keepers before the dore kept the prison.

7 And beholde, the Angel of the Lord came vpon them, and a light shined in the house, and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him vp, saying, Arise quickly. And his chaines fel of from his hands.

8 And the Angel said vnto him, Gird thy self, and binde on thy <sup>f</sup> sandals. And so he did. Then he said vnto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and followe me.

9 So Peter came out and followed him, & knewe not that it was true, which was done by the Angel, but thought he had sene a vision.

10 Now when they were past the first and the secōde watche, they came vnto the y<sup>r</sup> gate, that leadech vnto the citie, which opened to them by it owne accorde, and they went out, and passed through one strete, and by and by the Angel departed from him.

11 And when Peter was come to him self, he said, Now I know for a trueth, that the Lord hath sent his Angel, and hath deliuered me out of the hand of Herode, and from all the <sup>g</sup> waiting for of the people of the Iewes.

12 And as he considered the thing, he came to the house of Marie, the mother of Iohn, whose surname was Marke, whete manie were gathered together and prayed.

13 And when Peter knocked at the entrie dore, a maide came forth to hearken, named Rhode.

14 But when she knew Peters voyce, she opened not the entrie dore for gladnes, but ran in, and tolde how Peter stode before the entrie.

15 But they said vnto her, Thou art mad. Yet she affirmed it constantly, that it was so. Then said they, It is his <sup>h</sup> Angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking, and whē thei had opened it, and sawe him, they were astonied.

17 And he beckened vnto them with the hand, to holde their peace, and tolde them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, Go shewe these things vnto Iames and to the brethren: and he departed and went into <sup>i</sup> another place.

18 Now asfōne as it was day, there was no small trouble among the souldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herode had sought for him, & founde him not, he examined the keepers, and commanded them to be led to be punished. And he went downe from Iudea to Cesarea, and there abode.

20 Then Herode intended to make warre against them of Tyrus and Sidō, but they came all with one accorde vnto him, and <sup>j</sup> persuaded Blastus the Kings chamberlaine, and they desired peace, because their cōtrei was nourished by the Kings land.

21 And vpon a day appointed, Herode arrayed him self in royal apparel, and sate on the iudgement seat, and made an oration vnto them.

22 And the people gaue a shout, saying, The voyce of God, and not of man.

23 But immediatly the Angel of the Lord smote him, because he <sup>k</sup> gaue not glorie vnto God, so that he was eate of wormes, and gaue vp the ghost.

24 And the worde of God <sup>m</sup> grewe, and multiplied:

25 So Barnabas and Saul returned from Ierusalem, when they had fulfilled their office, and toke with them Iohn, whose surname was Marke.

There were also in the Church that was at Antiochia, certeine Prophetes and teachers, as Barnabas, & Simeon called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, & Ma-naben (which had bene brought vp with Herode the Tetrarch) and Saul.

Now as they ministred to the Lord, &
fasted, the holie Gost said, Separate me Barnabas & Saul, for the worke whereunto I haue called them.

Then fasted they and praied, and laid
their hands on them, and let them go.

And they, after they were sent forth of the holie Gost, came downe vnto Seleu-cia, and from thence they sailed to Cyprus.

And whē thei were at Salamis, thei preached the worde of God in the Synagogues of the Iewes: and they had also Iohn
to their minister.

So when they had gone throughout the yle vnto Paphus, they founde a certeine
forcerer, a false prophet, being a Iewe, named Bariefus,

Which was with ſ Deputie Sergius Paulus, a prudent man. He called vnto him Barnabas and Saul, and desired to heare
the worde of God.

But Elymas, the forcerer (for so is his name by interpretacion) withstode them, & foght to turne away the Deputie frō the faith.

Then Saul (which also is called Paul) being ful of the holie Gost, set his eyes on
him,

And said, O ful of all subtiltie and all mischief, the childe of the deuil, & ene-mie of all righteousnes, wilt thou not cease
to peruert the straight waies of ſ Lord?

Now therefore beholde, the hand of the Lord vpon thee, & thou shalt be blinde,
& not se the sunne for a season. And im-mediatly there fell on him a miste and a darkenes, and he went about, seeking some
to lead him by the hand.

Then the Deputie when he sawe what was done, beleued, and was astonied at the doctrine of the Lord.

Now when Paul and they that were with him were departed by ship from Paphus,
they came to Perga a cite of Pamphylia:
then Iohn departed from them, and returned to Ierusalem.

But when thei departed from Perga, thei came to Antiochia a cite of Pisidia, and
went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath
day, and fate downe.

And after the lecture of the Law & Prophetes, the rulers of the Synagogue
sent vnto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye haue anie worde of exhortacion for the people, say on.

Then Paul stode vp and beckened with the hand, and said, Men of Israel, and ye that feare God, hearken.

The God of this people of Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they dwelt in the land of Egypt, & with an high arme brought them out thereof.

And about the time of fortie yeres, suf-
fred he their manners in the wildernes.

And he destroyed seven nacions in the land of Chanaan, & deuided their land
to them by lot.

Then afterwarde he gaue vnto them
Iudges about foure hundredth and fiftie
yeres, vnto the time of Samuel the Prophet.

So after that they desired a King, and God gaue vnto them Saul, the sonne of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, by the space of fortie yeres.

And after he had takē him away, he raised vp David to be their King, of whome
he witnesed, saying, I haue founde David
the sonne of Iesse, a man after mine owne
heart, which wil do all things that I wil.

Of this mans sēde hath God accordig
to his promes raised vp to Israel, the Sa-uiour Iesus:

When Iohn had first preached before his comming the baptisme of repentance
to all the people of Israel.

And when Iohn had fulfilled his course,
he said, Whome ye thinke that I am, I am not he: but beholde, there cometh one after me, whose shoe of his fete I am not worthie to lose.

Ye men and brethren, children of the generation of Abraham, and whosoever among you feareth God, to you is the worde of this saluacion sent.

For the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and their rulers, because they knewe him
not, nor yet the wordes of the Prophetes, which are red euerie Sabbath daye, they
haue fulfilled them in condemning him.

And thogh thei soude no cause of death
in him, yet desired thei Pisate to kill him.

And when they had fulfilled all things
that were written of him, they toke him
downe from the tre, and put him in a sepulchre.

But God raised him vp from the dead.

And he was sene manie dayes of them,
which came vp with him from Galile to Ierusalem, which are his witness vnto
the people.

And we declare vnto you, that touching
the promes made vnto the fathers,

God hath fulfilled it vnto vs their children, in that he raised vp Iesus, euen as it is written in the seconde Psalme, Thou art my Sonne: this day haue I begot thee.

Now as concerning that he raised him

grauē, he hath said thus, I wil giue you

¶ And when they were come out of the Synagogue of the Iewes, the Gentiles besought, that they wolde preach these wordes to them the next Sabbath day.

Now when the Congregation was dissolved, manie of the Iewes, and proselytes that feared God, folowed Paul & Barnabas, which spake to them, and exhorted them to continue in the grace of God.

And the next Sabbath day came almost the whole citie together, to heare y<sup>e</sup> worde of God.

But whē the Iewes sawe the people, they were ful of enuie, & spake against those things, which were spoken of Paul, contrariety them, and railing on them.

Then Paul and Barnabas spake boldly, and said, * It was necessarie that the worde of God shulde first haue bene spoken vnto you: but seeing ye put it fro you, and iudge your selues vnworhie of euerlasting life, lo, we turne to the Gentiles.

For so hath the Lord commanded vs, saying, * I haue made thee a light of the Gentiles, that thou shuldest be the saluacion vnto the end of the worlde.

And when the Gentiles heard it, they were glad, and glorified the worde of the Lord: and as manie as were ordeined vnto eternal life, beleued.

Thus the worde of the Lord was published throughout the whole country.

But y<sup>e</sup> Iewes stirred certaine deuoute & honorable womē, & the chief men of y<sup>e</sup> citie, & raised persecucio against Paul & Barnabas, & expelled the out of their coasts.

But they shooke of the dust of their feete against them, and came vnto Iconium.

And the disciples were filled with ioye, and with the holie Gost.

CHAP. XIII.

God giueth successe to his worde. 6 Paul and Barnabas preach at Iconium and are persecuted. 13 At Lystra they wolde do sacrifice to Barnabas & Paul, which refuse it, & exhorte the people to worship the true God. 19 Paul is stoned. 22 They confirme the disciples in faith and patience. 23 Appointe ministers. 26 And passing through manie places, make reporte of their diligence at Antiochia.

¶ And it came to passe in Iconiu, that they went bothe together into the Synagogue of the Iewes, and so spake, that a great multitude bothe of the Iewes and of the Grecians beleued.

But the vnbeleuing Iewes stirred vp, and corrupted the mindes of the Gentiles against the brethren.

So therefore they abode there a long time, and spake boldly in the Lord, which gaue testimonie vnto the worde of his grace, and caused signes and wonders to be done by their hands.

But the people of the citie were diuided: and some were with the Iewes, and some with the Apostles.

And when there was an assault made bothe of the Gentiles, and of the Iewes with their rulers, to do them violence, and to stone them,

They were ware of it, and fled vnto Lystra, and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, & vnto the region rounde about,

He heard Paul speake: who beholding him, and perceiuing that he had faith to be healed,

Said with a loude voyce, Stand vp right on thy fete. And he leaped vp, & walked.

Then whē the people sawe what Paul had done, they lift vp their voyces, sayig in the speache of Lycaonia, Gods are come downe to vs in the likenes of men.

And thei called Barnabas, Iupiter, & Paul, Mercurius, because he was y<sup>e</sup> chief speaker.

Then Iupiters priest, which was before their citie, brought bulles with garlandes vnto the gates, & wolde haue sacrificed with the people.

But when the Apostles, Barnabas and Paul heard it, they rent their clothes, & ran in among the people, crying,

And saying, O men, why do ye these things? We are euen men, subject to the like passions that ye be, and preach vnto you, that ye shulde turne from these vaine idoles vnto the liuing God, * which made heauen and earth, and the sea, & all things that in them are.

their determination to the Churches. 35 Paul and Barnabas preache at Antiochia. 39 And separate

Then came downe a certeine from Iu-dea, and taught the brethren, saying, * Except ye be circumcised after the maner
of Moses, ye can not be saued.
2 And when there was great dissention, and disputation by Paul & Barnabas against them, they ordeined that Paul and Barnabas, and certeine other of them, shulde go vp to Ierusalem vnto the Apostles & Elders about this question.
3 Thus being sent forth by the Church,
they passed through Phenice, and Samaria, declaring the conuersion of the Gentiles: and they brought great ioye vnto all the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Ierusalem,
they were receiued of the Church, and of the Apostles and Elders, and they declared
what things God had done by them.
5 But said they, certeine of the secte of the Pharises, which did beleue, rose vp, saying, that it was nedeful to circumcise the,
and to commande them to kepe the Law
of Moses.
6 Then the Apostles & Elders came together to loke to this matter.
7 And when there had bene great disputa-tion, Peter rose vp, & said vnto them, * Ye me & brethren, ye knowe that a good while ago, among vs God chose out me, that the Gentiles by my mouth shulde heare
the worde of the Gospel, and beleue.
8 And God which knoweth the hearts, bare them witnes, in giuing vnto them the holie Ghost, euen as he did vnto vs.
9 And he put no difference betwene vs &
them, after that by faith he * had * purified
their hearts.
10 Now therefore, why * tempt ye God,
to * lay a yoke on y disciples neckes, which neither our fathers, nor we were able to beare?
11 But we beleue, through the grace of the Lord Iesus Christ to be saued, euen as they do.
12 Then all the multitude kept silence, and heard Barnabas & Paul, which tolde what signes and wondres God had done among the Gentiles by them.
13 And when they helde their peace, Iames answered, saying, Men & brethren, hearken
vnto me.
14 * Simeon hath declared, how God first did visite the Gentiles, to take of them a people vnto his Name.
15 And to this agre the wordes of the Pro-
phetes, as it is written,
16 * After this I wil returne, and wil buylde again the tabernacle of Dauid, which is fallen downe, and the ruines thereof wil I buylde againe, and I wil set it vp,
17 That the residue of men might seke after the Lord, and all the Gentiles vpon
whome my Name is called, faith y Lord
which doeth all these things.
18 From the beginning of the worlde God
knoweth all his workes.
19 Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them of the Gentiles that are turned to God,
20 But that we write vnto them, that they abstaine them selues fro filthines of idoles, and * fornication, and that that is strangled, and from blood.
21 For * Moses of olde time hath in euerie

35 And when it was day, the gouernours sent the sergeants, saying, Let those men go.

36 Then the keeper of the prison tolde these wordes vnto Paul, saying, The gouernours
haue sent to lose you: now therefore get you hence, and go in peace.

37 Then said Paul vnto them, After that they haue beaten vs openly vncōdemned,
which are Romaines, they haue cast vs

38 And the sergeants tolde these wordes vn-

heard that they were Romaines.

39 Then came they and prayed them, and brought them out, and desired them to de-

they had sene the brethren, they comforted

Now when Silas & Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul burned in spirit, testifying to the Iewes that Iesus was the Christ. And when they resisted and blasphemed, he shooke his raiment, & said vnto them, Your blood be vpon your owne head: I am cleane: frõ hence forth will I go vnto the Gentiles. So he departed thence, and entred into a certeine mans house, named Iustus, a worshipper of God, whose house ioyned hard to the Synagogue, And Crispus the chief ruler of the Synagogue, beleued in the Lord with all his household: and many of the Corinthians hearing it, beleued & were baptized. Then said the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Feare not, but speake, & holde not thy peace. For I am with thee, and no man shall lay hands on thee to hurt thee: for I haue much people in this citie. So he continued there a yere and six monthes, and taught the wordes of God among them. Now when Gallio was Deputie of Achaia, the Iewes arose with one accorde against Paul, and broght him to the iudgement seat, Saying, This fellow perswadeth men to worship God contrary to the Law. And as Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio said vnto the Iewes, If it were a matter of wrong, or an euil dede, ô ye Iewes, I wolde according to reason mainteine you. But if it be a question of wordes, and names, and of your Law, loke ye to it your selues: for I wil be no iudge of those things. And he draue them from the iudgement seat. Then toke all the Grecians Softenes the chief ruler of the Synagogue, and bet him before the iudgement seat: but Gallio cared nothing for those things. But when Paul had taried there yet a good while, he toke leaue of the brethren, and sailed into Syria (and with him Priscilla and Aquila) after that he had shorne his head in Cenchrea: for he had a vow. Then he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he entred into the Synagogue and disputed with the Iewes. Who desired him to tary a longer time with them: but he wolde not consent,

But bade them fare wel, saying, I must nedes kepe this feast that commeth, in Ierusalem: but I wil returne againe vnto you, if God wil. So he sailed from Ephesus. And whẽ he came downe to Cefarea, he went vp to Ierusalem: & when he had saluted the Church, he wet downe vnto Antiochia. Now when he had taried there a while, he departed, and went through the countrey of Galacia & Phrygia by order, strenghtening all the disciples. And a certeine Iewe named Apollos, borne at Alexãdria, came to Ephesus, an eloquent mã, & mightie in the Scriptures. The same was instructed in the way of the Lord, & he spake feruently in the Spirit, and taught diligently the things of the Lord, & knewe but the baptisme of Iohn onely. And he began to speake boldly in the Synagogue. Whome when Aquila & Priscilla had heard, they toke him vnto them, and expounded vnto him the way of God more perfectly. And when he was minded to go into Achaia, the brethren exhorting him, wrote to the disciples to receaue him: and after he was come thither, he holpe the muche which had beleued through grace. For mightely he confuted publicly the Iewes with great vehemencie, shewing by the Scriptures, that Iesus was the Christ.

And they said vnto him, We haue not so muche as heard whether there be an holie Ghost. And he said vnto them, Vnto what were ye then baptized? And they said, Vnto Johns baptisme. Then said Paul, Iohn verely baptized with the baptisme of repentance, saying vnto the people, that they shulde beleue in him, which shulde come after him, that is, in Christ Iesus. So when they heard it, they were baptized in the Name of the Lord Iesus. And Paul laid his hands vpon them, and to be dedicate and consecrate vnto him: to be baptized in the death of Christ, or for the dead, or into one bodie, vnto remission of finnes, is, that sinne by Christs death may be abolished, and dye in vs, & that we may growe in Christ our head, and that our finnes may be washed away by the blood of Christ. the holie Gost came on them, & they spake the tongues, and prophesied.

And all the men were about twelue.

¶ Moreouer he went into the Synagogue, & spake boldly for the space of thre moneths, disputing & exhorting to the things that apperteyne to the kingdome of God.

But when certeyne were hardened, and disobeyed, speaking euil of the way of God before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, and disputed daily in the schole of one Tyrannus.

d That is, of a certeyne man so called.

¶ From five to a clocke vnto ten.

And this was done by the space of two yeres, so that all they which dwelt in Asia, heard the worde of the Lord Iesus, bothe Iewes and Grecians.

And God wrought no small miracles by the hands of Paul,

So that from his bodie were brought vnto the sicke, kercheffes or handkercheffes, and the diseases departed from them, and the euil spirits went out of them.

Or, apparitione This was to authorize the Gospel, and to confirme Pauls ministerie, not to cause men to worship him, but his napkins. Or, continuance. ¶ They abuse Pauls autoritie, & without any vocation of God, vsurpe that which is not in mans power.

Then certeyne of the vagabonde Iewes, exorcistes, toke in hand to name ouer the which had euil spirits, the Name of the Lord Iesus, saying, We adiure you by Iesus, whome Paul preacheth.

(And there were certeyne sonnes of Sceua a Iewe, the Priest, about seuen which did this)

And the euil spirit answered, and said, Iesus I acknowledge, and Paul I knowe: but who are ye?

And the man in whome y euil spirit was, ran on them, & ouercame them, & preuailed against them, so that they fled out of that house, naked, and wounded.

And this was knowne to all the Iewes & Grecians also, which dwelt at Ephesus, & feare came on them all, and the Name of the Lord Iesus was magnified.

And many that beleued, came and confessed, and shewed their workes.

¶ That is, declared by confession of their sinnes and by their good workes y they were faithful. ¶ This mounteth to our money about 20000 markes.

Many also of them which vsed curious artes, brought their bokes, and burned them before all men, and they counted the price of them, & founde it fiftie thousand pieces of siluer.

So the worde of God grewe mightely, and preuailed.

¶ By the mention of the holie Gost, he vnderrooke this journey.

¶ Now when these things were accomplished, Paul purposed by the Spirit to passe through Macedonia and Achaia, and to go to Ierusalem, saying, After I haue bene there, I must also se Rome.

¶ That is, about the state of the Christians: for they contemned the Christians because they left the olde religion, & brought in another trade of doctrine.

So sent he into Macedonia two of them that ministred vnto him, Timotheus and Erastus, but he remained in Asia for a season.

And the same time there arose no small trouble about that way.

For a certeyne man named Demetrius a siluer smith, which made siluer temples of Diana, brought great gaines vnto the craftes men:

Whome he called together, with the workemen of like things, and said, Sirs, ye knowe that by this craft we haue our goods.

Moreouer ye se and heare, that not alone at Ephesus, but almoste throughout all Asia this Paul hath persuaded, & turned away muche people, saying, That they be not gods which are made with hands,

So that not onely this thing is dangerous vnto vs, that the state shulde be reproued, but also that the temple of the great goddesse Diana shulde be nothing esteemed, and that it wolde come to passe that her magnificence, which all Asia and the world worshippe, shulde be destroyed.

Now when they heard it, they were full of wrath, and cryed out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

And the whole citie was full of confusion, and they rushed into the commune place with one assent, and caught Gaius, and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, & Pauls companions of his journey.

And whē Paul wolde haue entred in vnto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

Certeine also of the chief of Asia which were his friends, sent vnto him, desiring him that he wolde not present him self in the commune place.

Some therefore cryed one thing, and some another: for the assemblee was out of order, and the more parte knewe not wherefore they were come together.

And some of the companie renewede for the Alexander, the Iewes thrusting him forwardes. Alexander then bekened with the hand, and wolde haue excused the matter to the people.

But when they knewe that he was a Iewe, there arose a shoute almoste for the space of two houres, of all men crying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

Then the towne clarke when he had stayed the people, said, Ye me of Ephesus, what man is it that knoweth not how that the citie of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great goddesse Diana, and of the image, which came downe from Iupiter?

Seing then that no man can speake against these things, ye ought to be appeased, and to do nothing rashly.

For ye haue brought hither these men, which haue nether commit sacrilege, nether do blaspheme your goddesse.

Wherefore, if Demetrius and the craftes men which are with him, haue a matter against any man, the lawe is open, & there are Deputies: let them accuse one another.

Or, for that. ¶ What is the fourth cause? ¶ Demetrius a man of vote.

¶ He was muche respected with his goodnesse, for he was a bellows maker, for they were in their last course when he was in the house, & being in their house, they were in their house.

1 Now after the tumulte was ceased,
Paul called the disciples vnto him,

8 And there were manie lightes in an vp

9 And there sate in a windowe a certeine yong man, named Eutychus, fallen into a

he ouercome with slepe, fell downe from
the third losse, and was taken vp dead.

10 But Paul went downe, and laid him self

11 So when Paul was come vp againe, and had broken bread, & eaten, he commoned

and so he departed.

12 And they broght the boie alieue, and thei

13 ¶ Then we went forthe to ship, & sailed
vnto the cite <sup>d</sup> Assos, that we might re

and wolde him self go a fote.

14 Now when he was come vnto vs to Af

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next

The commune prayers of the faithful & Philipps foure daughters prophesies 23 Pauls constancie to beare the croffe. 24 Agabus & others foretold, although he was otherwise comforted by the brethren. 25 The great danger that he was in, and how he escaped.

1 And as we lauched forthe, and were departed from them, we came with a straight course vnto Coos, and the daye following vnto the Rhodes, & from thence vnto Patara.

2 And we founde a ship that went ouer vnto Phenice, and went aboarde, & set forthe.

3 And when we had discovered Cyprus, we left it on the left hand, and sailed towarde Syria, and arriued at Tyrus: for there the ship vnladed the burden.

4 And when we had founde disciples, we taryed there seuen dayes. And they tolde Paul a through the holie Spirit, that he shulde not go vp to Ierusalem.

5 But whē the daies were ended, we departed, and went our way, and thei all accompanied vs with their wiues and children, euen out of the citie: & we kneling downe on the shore, prayed.

6 Then when we had embraced one another, we toke ship, & thei returned home. And when we had ended the course from Tyrus, we arriued at Ptolemais, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one daye.

7 And the next day, Paul & thei that were with him, departed, and came vnto Cefarea: and we entred into the house of Philippe the Euangelist, which was one of the seuen Deacons, and abode with him.

9 Now he had foure daughters virgines, which did prophecie.

10 And as we taryed there manie dayes, there came a certeine Prophet fro Iudea, named Agabus.

11 And when he was come vnto vs, he toke Pauls girdle, and bounde his owne hands and feet, and said, Thus saith the holie Ghost, So shal the Iewes at Ierusalem binde the man that oweth this girdle, and shal deliuer him into the hands of Gentiles.

12 And when we had heard these things, bothe we and other of the same place besoght him that he wolde not go vp to Ierusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, and said, What do ye weping and breaking mine heart? For I am readye not to be bounde onely, but also to dye at Ierusalem for the Name of the Lord Iesus.

14 So when he wolde not be perswaded, we ceased, saying, The wil of the Lord be done.

15 And after those dayes we trusted vp our fardels, and went vp to Ierusalem.

16 There went with vs also certeine of the disciples of Cefarea, & broght with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an olde disciple, with whome we shulde lodge.

17 And when we were come to Ierusalem, the brethren receiued vs gladly.

18 And the next daye Paul went in with vs vnto Iames: and all the Elders were there assembled.

19 And when he had embraced them, he tolde by ordre all things, that God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministration.

20 So when thei heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said vnto him, Thou seest, brethren, how manie thousand Iewes there are which beleue, and they are all zealous of the Law.

21 Now they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Iewes, which are among the Gentiles, to forsake Moses, and saist, that they ought not to circumcise their children, nether to liue after the statutes.

And when the seuen dayes were almoste ended, the Iewes which were of Asia (whē they sawe him in the Temple) moued all
the people, and <sup>h</sup> laid hands on him,

Crying, Men of Israel, helpe: this is the man that teacheth all men euery where against the people, and the Law, and this place: moreover, he hath brought Grecians into the Temple, and hath <sup>e</sup> polluted this holie place.

For they had sene before Trophimus an Ephesiā with him in the citie, whome they supposed that Paul had brought into the Temple.

Then all the citie was moued, & the people ran together: and they toke Paul, and drew him out of the Tēple, & forthewith
the dores were shut.

But as they went about to kill him, tydings came vnto the chief Capitaine of the bāde, that all Ierusalem was on an vp-roare.

Who immediatly toke souldiers and Centurions, and ran <sup>a</sup> downe vnto them:
and when they sawe the chief Capitaine &
the souldiers, they left beating of Paul.

Then the chief Capitaine came nere and
toke him, & commanded him to be bounde with two chaines, and demāded who he was, and what he had done.

And one cryed this, another that, among the people. So when he colde not knowe
the certeinete for the tumulte, he cōman-
ded him to be led into the castle.

And whē he came vnto the grieces, it was so that he was borne of the souldiers, for y<sup>e</sup>
violence of the people.

For the multitude of y<sup>e</sup> people followed
after, crying, Away with him.

And as Paul shulde haue bene led into
the castle, he said vnto the chief Capitaine,
May I speake vnto thee? Who said, Canst thou speake Greke?

Art not thou the * Egyptian, who before
these dayes raised a sedition, & led out into the wilderness foure thousand mē that were murderers?

Then Paul said, Douteles I am a man
which am a Iewe, & citizen of * Tarsus, a famous citie in Cilicia, & I beseeche thee,
suffre me to speake vnto the people.

And when he had giue him licence, Paul

stode on the grieces, & beckened with the hand vnto the people: and when there was made great silence, he spake vnto them in the Hebrue tongue, saying,

CHAP. XXII.

Ye men, brethren & fathers, heare my

And whē they heard that he spake in the Hebrue tongue to them, they kept the more silence, and he said

I am verely a man, which am a Iewe, borne in * Tarsus in Cilicia, but brought vp in this citie at the * fete of Gamaliel, and instructed according to the perfect maner
of the Law of the Fathers, and was zealous towards God, as ye all are this day.

* And I persecuted this way vnto the death, binding and deliuering into prison
bothe men and women,

As also y<sup>e</sup> chief Priest doeth beare me wit-

me also I receiued letters vnto the <sup>b</sup> brethren, and went to Damascus to bring the
which were there, bounde vnto Ierusalem,
that they might be punished.

And so it was, as I iourneid and was come nere vnto Damascus about noone, that suddenly there shone from heauen a great light rounde about me.

So I fel vnto the earth, and heard a voyce, saying vnto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

Then I answered, Who art thou, Lord?
And he said to me, I am Iesus of Nazaret,
whome thou persecutest.

Moreover, they that were with me, sawe indeed a light and were afraid: but they heard not the voyce of him that spake vn-
to me.

Then I said, What shal I do, Lord? And the Lord said vnto me, Arise, and go into Damascus: and there it shalbe tolde thee
of all things, which are appointed for thee
to do.

So when I colde not se for the glorie

17 And it came to passe, that when I was come againe to Ierusalem, and prayed in the Temple, I was in a trance,

18 And sawe him saying vnto me, Make haste, & get thee quickly out of Ierusalem: for they wil not receiue thy witnes concerning me.

19 Then I said, Lord, they knowe I am prifoned, and be in euerie Synagoge them that beloued in thee.

Chap. 7. 58.

20 And when the blood of thy martyr Steuen was shed, I also stode by, and consented vnto his death, and kept the clothes of them that slewe him.

21 The he said vnto me, Depart: for I wil send thee farre hence vnto the Gentiles.

22 And they heard vnto this worde, but the they lift vp their voyces, and said, Away with suche a felowe from the earth: for it is not mete that he shulde liue.

23 And as they cryed and cast of their clothes, and threwe dust into the aire,

24 The chief captaine commanded him to be led into the castle, & bade that he shulde be scourged, and examined, that he might knowe wherefore they cryed so on him.

25 And as they bounde him with thongs, Paul said vnto the Ceturion that stode by, Is it lawfull for you to scourge one that is a Romaine, and not condemned?

f Not because he was borne at Rome, but by reason of his citie: for Tarsus was inhabited by the Romains, and was their Colonia, whereof read chap. 16. 12.

26 Now when the Centurion heard it, he went, and tolde the chief captaine, saying, Take heede what thou doest: for this man is a Romaine.

27 Then the chief captaine came, and said to him, Tell me, art thou a Romaine? And he said, Yea.

28 And the chief captaine answered, With a great summe obtained I this burgeship. Then Paul said, But I was so borne.

g This privilege was oftentimes given in recompence of service to them that were so farre of Rome, & to their childre, though they were not borne in the citie.

29 Then straight way they departed from him, which shulde haue examined him: & the chief captaine also was afraid, after he knewe that he was a Romaine, and that he had bounde him.

30 On the next day, because he wolde haue knowne the certeinetic wherefore he was accused of the Iewes, he losed him from his bondes, & commanded the hie Priests and all their Council to come together: and he broght Paul, and set him before them.

CHAP. XXIII.

The answer of Paul being smite, and the overthrowe of his enemies. 11 The Lord encourageth him. 23 And because the Iewes layed waite for him, he is sent to Cesarea.

And Paul behelde earnestly the Council, and said, Men and brethren, I haue in all good conscience serued God yntil this day.

Then the hie Priest Ananias commanded the that stode by, to smite him on the mouth.

Then said Paul to him, God wil smite thee, thou whited wall: for thou sittest to iudge me according to the Law, and commandedst thou me to be smiten contrary to the Law?

And thei that stode by, said, Reuilest thou Gods hie Priest?

Then said Paul, I knewe not, brethren, that he was the hie Priest: for it is written, Thou shalt not speake euil of the Ruler of thy people.

But whē Paul perceiued that the one parte were of the Sadduces, and the other of the Pharises, he cried in the Council, Men and brethren, I am a Pharise, the sonne of a Pharise: I am accused of the hope and resurrection of the dead.

And when he had said this, there was a dissension betwene the Pharises and the Sadduces, so that the multitude was deuided.

* For the Sadduces say that there is no resurrection, neither Angel, nor spirit: but the Pharises confesse both.

Then there was a great crye: & the Scribes of the Pharises parte rose vp, and stroue, saying, We finde none euil in this man: but if a spirit or an Angel hath spoken to him, let vs not fight against God.

And when there was a great dissension, the chief captaine, fearing lest Paul shulde haue bene pulled in pieces of them, commanded the souldiers to go downe, and to take him from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

* Now the night following the Lord stode by him, & said, Be of good courage, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Ierusalem, so must thou beare witnes also at Rome.

And when the day was come, certein of the Iewes made an assemblie, and bounde them selues with an othe, saying, that they wolde neither eat nor drinke, til they had killed Paul.

And they were more then fourtie, which had made this conspiracie.

And they came to the chief Priests and Elders, and said, We haue bounde our selues with a solēne othe, that we wil eat nothing, until we haue slaine Paul.

Now therefore, ye and the Council signifye to the chief captaine, that he bring him forth vnto you to morow, as though ye wolde knowe some thing more peticuly of him, and we, or euer he come nere, wil be readie to kill him.

17 And Paul called one of f Céturions vn-

18 So he toke him, and broght him to the chief captaine, and said, Paul the priso-

some thing to say vnto thee.

19 Then the chief captaine toke him by the hand, and went aparte with him alone,
and asked him, What hast thou to shewe
me?

20 And he said, The Iewes haue conspired to desire thee, that thou woldest bring for-thogh they wolde inquire somewhat of

and now are they readie, and wait for thy promes.

22 The chief captaine then let the yong
man departe, and charged him to speake it to no man, that he had shewed him these things.

23 And he called vnto him two certeine
Centurions, saying, Make readie two hundredth souldiers, that they may go to Cesa-rea, and horsmen thre score and ten, and two hundredth, with darters at the thirde
houre of the night.

24 And let them make readie an horse that
Paul being set on, may be broght safe vnto
Felix the Gouvernour.

25 And he wrote an epistle in this maner,

26 Claudius Lysias vnto the moste noble
Gouvernour Felix sendeth greting.

27 As this man was taken of the Iewes, and shulde haue bene killed of them, I came vpon them with the garison, and rescued
him, perceiuing that he was a Romaine.

28 And when I wolde haue knowne the cause, wherefore they accused him, I broght
him forth into their council.

29 There I perceiued that he was accused of questions of their Law, but had no crime
worthe of death, or of bondes.

30 And whē it was shewed me, how that the Iewes laid wait for the man, I sent him straight way to thee, and commanded his accusers to speake before thee the things that they had against him. Fare wel.

31 Then the souldiers as it was commanded them, toke Paul, and broght him by night to Antipatris.

32 And the next day, they left the horsmen

to go with him, and returned vnto the castell.

33 Now when they came to Cefarea, they deliuered the epistle to the Gouvernour, &
presented Paul also vnto him.

34 So when the Gouvernour had red it, he asked of what prouince he was: and whē
he vnderstode that he was of Cilicia,

35 I wil heare thee, said he, when thine accusers also are come, & commanded him to be kept in Herodes iudgement hall.

1 NOW after fise dayes, Ananias the Elders, and with Tertullus a certeine ora-

2 And whē he was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seing that we thee, and that manie worthe things are of whome thou maist (if thou wilt inqui-

9 And the Iewes likewise affirmed, saying that it was so.

10 Then Paul, after that the gouvernour had
beckened vnto him that he shulde speake,
answered, I do the more gladly answer
for my self, for asmuche as I knowe that thou hast bene of manie yeres a iudge

28 When two yeres were expired, Porcius Festus came into Felix rouse: and Felix willing to get fauour of the Iewes, left Paul bounde.

CHAP. XXV.

2 The Iewes accuse Paul before Festus. 8 He answereth for himself. 11 And appealeth vnto the Emperour. 14 His matter is rehearsed before Agrippa. 23 And he is brought forth.

When Festus was then come into the prouince, after three dayes he went vp from Cesarea vnto Ierusalem.

Then the high Priest, and the chief of the Iewes appeared before him against Paul: and they besoght him,

And desired fauour against him, that he wolde send for him to Ierusalem: and they laid wait to kill him by the way.

The reason of the Priests against Paul.

But Festus answered, that Paul shulde be kept at Cesarea, & y he him self wolde shortly departe thither.

Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, come downe with vs: and if there be anie wickednes in the man, let them accuse him.

Which may prooue common duality.

Now when he had taried among the more then ten dayes, he went downe to Cesarea, and the next day saie in the iudgement seat, & commanded Paul to be brought.

And when he was come, the Iewes which were come from Ierusalem, stode about him and laid manie and grieuous complaints against Paul, which they colde not proue.

Paul defend-eth him self
in iudgement.

Forasmuche as he answered, that he had nether offended anie thing against y Law of the Iewes, nether against the Temple, nor against Cesar.

Yet Festus willing to get fauour of the Iewes, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go vp to Ierusalem, and there be iudged of these things before me?

Or, do a plea
fare.

Then said Paul, I stand at Cessars iudgement seat, where I ought to be iudged: to the Iewes I haue done no wrong, as thou verie wel knowest.

Being non ill beargd
by the ambition of the iudge, he desired
that in consideration of his freedom, he may be sent home.

For if I haue done wrong, or committed anie thing worthe of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof they accuse me, no man can deliuer me to them: I appeale vnto Cesar.

It is lawfull
to require a defence of the Magistrate to maintaine our right.

Then when Festus had spoken with the Council, he answered, Hast thou appealed vnto Cesar vnto Cesar shalt thou go.

Without
wholoe consideration he coulde
do nothing.

And after certaine dayes, King Agrippa and Bernice came downe to Cesarea to salute Festus.

And when they had remained there manie dayes, Festus proposed Pauls cause vnto the King, saying, There is a certaine man left in prison by Felix.

Of whome when I came to Ierusalem, the high Priests & Elders of the Iewes informed me, and desired to haue iudgement against him.

To whome I answered, that it is not the maner of the Romaines for fauour to deliuer anie man to the death before that he which is accused, haue the accusers before him, and haue place to defend him self, concerning the crime.

Therefore when they were come hither, without delay the day following I fare on the 23 To wit, that Christ shulde suffer, and that he shulde be the first that shulde rise from the dead, and shulde shewe light vnto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus answered for him self, Festus said with a loude voyce, Paul, thou art besides thy self: muche learning doeth make thee mad.

25 But he said, I am not mad, & noble Festus, but I speake the wordes of trueth and sobernes.

26 For the King knoweth of these things, before whome also I speake boldly: for I am perswaded that none of these things are hid from him: for this thing was not done in a corner.

2 Pauls dangerous viage and his companie towards Rome. 44 How and where they arriue.

NOW when it was concluded, that we shulde saile into Italie, they deliuered bothe Paul, & certeine other prisoners vnto a Centurion named Iulius, of the bande of Augustus.

3 And *we entred into a ship of Adramyttium purposing to saile by the costes of Asia, and launched forth, and had Aristarchus of Macedonia, a Thessalonian, & vs.

4 And the next day we arriued at Sidon: & Iulius courteously entreated Paul, & gaue him libertie to go vnto his friends, that they might refresh him.

5 And from thence we launched, and sailed harde by * Cyprus, because the windes were contrarie.

6 Then sailed we ouer the sea by Cilicia, and Pamphylia, and came to Myra, a citie in Lycia.

7 And there the Centurion founde a ship of Alexandria, sailing into Italie, and put vs therein.

8 And when we had sailed slowly manie dayes, and scarce were come against Gnidum, because the winde suffered vs not, we sailed harde by Candie, nereto Salomone,

9 And with muche a do sailed beyonde it, and came vnto a certeine place called the Faire hauens, nere vnto the which was the citie Lasea.

10 So when muche time was spent, and sailing was now ieopardous, because also the East was now passed, Paul exhorted the,

11 And said vnto them, Syrs, I se that this viage wil be with hurt & muche damage, not of the lading & shippe onely, but also of our liues.

12 Neuertheles * Centurion beleued rather the gouernour & the master of the ship, the those things which were spoken of Paul.

13 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, manie toke counsell to departe thence, if by anie means they might attein to Phenice, there to winter, which is an haven of Candie, and lieth towarde the Southwest and by West, and Northwest and by West.

14 And when the southern winde blew softly, they supposing to obtaine their purpose, loosed nerer, and sailed by Candie.

15 But anone after, there arose by it a stormie winde called Euroclydon.

16 And when the ship was caught, & could not resist the winde, we let her go, & were carryed away.

17 And we ran vnder a litle yle named * Clauda, and had muche a do to get the boat.

18 Which they toke vp and vied all helpe, vndergirding the ship, fearing lest they shulde haue fallen into Syrtis, and they let downe the vessel, and so were carryed.

19 The next day when we were tossed with an exceeding tempest, they lightened the shippe.

20 And the third day we cast out with our owne handes the takling of the ship.

21 And when nether sunne nor starres in manie dayes appeared, and no smal tēpest lay vpon vs, all hope that we shulde be saued, was then taken away.

22 But after long abstinence, Paul stode forth in the middes of the, and said, Syrs, ye shulde haue hearkened to me, and not haue loosed from Candie: so shulde ye haue gained this hurt and losse.

23 But now I exhorte you to be of good courage: for there shalbe no losse of anie mans life among you, saue of the shippe onely.

29 Then fearing lest they shulde haue fal-

30 Now as the mariners were about to flee
out of the ship, & had let downe the boate
into the sea vnder a colour as thogh they wolde haue cast ancores out of the foreship,

31 Paul said vnto the Centurion and the souldiers, Except these abide in the ship,
ye can not be safe.

32 Then the souldiers cut of the ropes of the boat, and let it fall away.

33 And when it began to be daye, Paul exhorted them all to take meat, saying, This is the fourteenth daye that ye haue taryed,
and continued <sup>m</sup> fasting, receiuing nothing.

34 Wherefore I exhorte you to take meat:
for this is for your sauegarde: for there shal not <sup>n</sup> an heere fall from the head of anie of you.

35 And when he had thus spoken, he toke bread, and gaue thanks to God, in presence of them all, and brake it, and began to eat.

36 Then were they all of good courage, &
they also toke meat.

37 Now we were in the ship in all two hundred, thre score and sixtene soules.

38 And when they had eaten ynough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the sea.

39 And when it was daye, they knewe not the countrey, but they spyed a certeine creeke with a banke, into the which they were minded (if it were possible) to thrust
in the ship.

40 So when they had taken vp the ancores,
they committed the ship vnto the sea, and losed the rudder bondes, and hoysed vp
the maine saile to the winde, & drew to the shore.

41 And when they fell into a place, where two seas met, they thrust in the ship: and the fore parte stucke fast, and colde not be moued, but the hinder parte was broke
with the violence of the waues.

42 Then the souldiers counsel was <sup>o</sup> to kil-
the prisoners, lest anie of them, when he had swome out, shulde flee away.

43 But the Centurion willing to saue Paul,
staid them from this counsel, and commanded that they that colde swimme, shul-de cast them selues first into the sea, and go out to land:

44 And the other, some on boardes, & some on certeine pieces of the ship: and so it came to passe, y<sup>e</sup> thei came all safe to land.

No doute this Captaine vnderstode both by Festus letters, & also by the reporte of the vnder captaine y Paul had committed no fault.

17 And the third day after, Paul called the chief of the Iewes together: & when they were come, he said vnto them, Men & brethren, though I haue committed nothing agāst the people, or Lawes of the fathers, yet was I deliuered prisoner from Ierusalem into the hands of the Romaines.

THE EPISTLE OF the Apostle Paul to the Romanes.

THE ARGUMENT.

The great mercie of God is declared towards man in Christ Iesus, whose righteousness is made ours through faith. For when man by reason of his owne corruption coulde not fulfil the Law, yeas committed mosse abominably, bothe against the Law of God and nature, the infinite bountie of Gods, mindeful of his promes made to his servant Abraham, the father of all belouers, ordeined that mans saluation shoulde onely stand in the perfect obedience of his Sonne Iesus Christ, so that not onely the circumcised Iewes, but also the vncircumcised Gentiles shoulde be saved by faith in him: euen as Abraham before he was circumcised, was counted iuste onely through faith, and yet afterwarde receiued circumcision, as a seale or badge of the same righteousness by faith. And to the intent, that none shoulde thinke that the covenant which God made to him, and his posteritie, was not performed: either because the Iewes receiued no: Christ (which was the blessed seale) or els beleued not that he was the true redeemer, because he did not onely, or at least more notably preferre the Iewes, the exam- ples of Ismael and Esau declares, that all are not Abrahams posteritie, which come of Abraham ac- cording to the flesh: but also the verie strangers and Gentiles grased in by faith, are made heres of the promes. The cause whereof is the onelie wil of God: forasmuche as of his fre mercie he electeth some to be saved, and of his iuste iudgement reiecteth others to be damned, as appeareth by the testi- monies of the Scriptures. Tet to the intent that the Iewes shoulde not be to muche beaten downe, nor the Gentiles to muche puffed vp, the example of Elias proueth, that God hathe yet his elect euen of the natural posteritie of Abraham, thogh it appeareth not so to mans eye: and for that preferment, that the Gentiles haue, it proceedeth of the liberal mercie of God, which he at length wil stretch wards the Iewes againe, and so gather the whole Israel (which is his Church) of them bothe. This groundeworke of faith and doctrine layed, instructions of Christian manners follow: teaching cuerie man to walke in roundenes of conscience in his vocation, with all patience and humblenes, reuerencing, and obeying the magistrate, exercising charitie, putting of the olde man, and putting on Christ, bearing with the weake, and louing one another according to Christs example. Finally S. Paul after his commendacions to the brethren exhorteth them to vnitie, and to flee false preachers and flatterers, and so concludeth with a prayer.

At the day when God shall iudge the secretes of men by Iesus Christ, according to my Gospel.

Beholde, thou art called a Iewe, and reitest in the Law, and gloriest in God, And knowest his wil, and allowest the things that are excellent, in that thou art instructed by the Law:

And persuadest thy self that thou art a guide of the blinde, a light of them which are in darkenes.

An instructor of them which lacke direction, a teacher of the vnlearned, which hast the forme of knowledge, and of the truth in the Law.

Thou therefore, teachest another, teachest thou not thy self? that preachest, A man shulde not steale, doest thou steale?

Thou that saist, A man shulde not commit adulterie, doest thou commit adulterie: thou that abhorrest idoles, committest thou sacrilege?

Thou that gloriest in the Law, through breaking the Law dishonorest thou God?

For the Name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles through you, as it is written.

For circumcision verely is profitable, if thou do the Law: but if thou be a transgressor of the Law, thy circumcision is made vncircumcision.

Therefore if the vncircumcision kepe the ordinances of the Law, shall not his vncircumcision be counted for circumcision?

And shall not vncircumcision which is by nature (if it kepe the Law) iudgeth thee, which by the letter and circumcision art a transgressor of the Law?

For he is not a Iewe, which is one outward: neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh:

But he is a Iewe which is one within, & the circumcision of the heart, in the spirit, not in the letter, whose praise is not of men, but of God.

CHAP. III.

without effect?

God forbid: yea, let God be true, and euerie man a liar, as it is writtē, That thou mightest be iustified in thy wordes, and ouercome, when thou art iudged.

Now if our vnrighteousnes commendeth the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God vnrighteous which punisheth? (I speake as a man.)

God forbid: els how shall God iudge the worldes?

For if the veritie of God hath more abounded through my lie vnto his glorie, why am I yet condemned as a sinner?

And (as we are blamed, and as some as firme that we say) why do we not euil, that good may come thereof? whose damnation is iust.

What then? are we more excellent? No, in no wise: for we haue already proued, that all, both the Iewes and Gentiles are vnder sinne.

As it is writtē, There is none righteous, no not one.

There is none that vnderstandeth: there is none that seeketh God.

They haue all gone out of the way: they haue bene made altogether vnprofitable: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

Their throte is an open sepulchre: they haue vsed their togues to deceit: the poyson of aspes is vnder their lippes.

Whose mouth is ful of cursing and bitterness.

Their fete are swift to shed blood.

Destruction and calamitie are in their wayes,

And the way of peace they haue not known.

The feare of God is not before their eyes.

Now we knowe that whatsoever the Law saith, it saith it to them which are vnder the Law, that euerie mouth may be stopped, and all the worlde be culpable before God.

Therefore by the workes of the Law shall no flesh be iustified in his sight: for by the Law commeth the knowledge of sinne.

But now is the righteousness of God made manifest without the Law, hauing witness of the Law and of the Prophetes,

To wit, the righteousness of God by the faith of Iesus Christ, vnto all, and vpon all that beleue.

For there is no difference: for all haue sinned, and are deprived of the glorie of God,

And are iustified frely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Iesus,

Justification by faith. To the Romaines. The nature of faith.

Or fidelitie in performing his promises.

The Law of faith is the Gospel which offereth salvation with condition (if thou be true) & condition also. Christ freely giueth to vs. So the condition of the Law is (if thou dost all these things) the which Christ hath fulfilled for vs.

Meaning, that they are all iustified by one means, if they will have none difference, only standeth in words for in effect there is none.

The doctrine of faith is the ornament of the Law; for it embraceth Christ, who by his death hath satisfied the Law; so that the Law which could not bring vs to salvation by reason of our owne corruption, is now made effectual to vs by Christ Jesus.

CHAP. IIII.

He declareth that iustification is a free gift euen by them them selues, of whome the lawes moste boasted as of Abraham and of David, and also by the office of the Law & faith.

conciliation through faith in his blood to declare his *righteousnes by the forgiveness of the finnes that are passed through the patience of God,

To shewe at this time his righteousness, that he might be iust, and a iustifier of him which is of the faith of Iesus.

Where is then the reioicing? It is excluded. By what Law? of workes? Nay: but by the Law of faith.

Therefore we conclude that a man is iustified by faith without the workes of the Law.

God, is he the God of the lawes onely, & not of the Gentiles also? Yes, euen of the Gentiles also.

For it is one God who shal iustifie circumcision of faith, and vncircumcision through faith.

Do we then make the Law of none effect through faith? God forbid: yea we establish the Law.

What shal we say then, that Abraham our father hath founde concerning the flesh?

For if Abraham were iustified by workes, he hath wherein to reioyce, but not with God.

For what faith the Scripture? *Abraham beleued God, and it was counted to him for righteousness.

Now to him that worketh, the wages is not counted by fauour, but by dette.

But to him that worketh not, but beleueth in him that iustifieth the vngodlie, his faith is counted for righteousness.

Euen as David declareth the blessednes of the mā, vnto whome God imputeth righteousness without workes, saying, *Blessed are they, whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose finnes are couered.

Blessed is the mā, to whome the Lord imputeth not sinne.

Came this blessednes then vpon the circumcision onely, or vpon the vncircumcision also? For we say, that faith was imputed vnto Abraham for righteousness.

How was it then imputed? when he was circumcised, or vncircumcised? not when he was circumcised, but when he was vncircumcised.

*After he receiued the signe of circumcision, as y<sup>e</sup> scale of the righteousness of the faith which he had, when he was vncircu-cised, that he shulde be the father of all them that beleue, not being circumcised, that righteousness might be imputed to them also,

And the father of circumcision, not vnto them onely which are of the circumcision, but vnto them also that walke in the steppes of the faith of our father Abraham, which he had when he was vncircumcised.

For the promises that he shulde be the heire of the worlde, was not giuen to Abraham, or to his seed, through the Law, but through the righteousness of faith.

For if they which are of the Law, be heires, faith is made voyde, & the promises made of none effect.

For the Law causeth wrath: for where no Law is, there is no transgression.

Therefore it is by faith, that it might come by grace, and the promises might be sure to all the fede, not to that onely which is of the Law: but also to that which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of vs all,

(As it is written, *I haue made thee a father of many nations) euen before God whome he beleued, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not, as though they were.

Which Abraham aboue hope, beleued vnder hope, that he shulde be the father of many nations: according to that which was spoken to him; *So shal thy fede be.

And he not weake in the faith, considered not his owne bodie, which was now dead, being almost an hundred yere olde, neither the deadnes of Saras wombe.

Nether did he doute of the promises of God through vnbelief, but was strengthened in y<sup>e</sup> faith, & gaue glorie to God.

Being fully assured that he which had promised, was also able to do it.

And therefore it was imputed to him, for righteousness.

Now it is not written for him onely, that it was imputed to him for righteousness,

But also for vs, to whome it shalbe imputed for righteousness, which beleue in him that raised vp Iesus our Lord from the dead.

Who was delivered to death for our finnes, & is risen againe for our iustification.

CHAP. V.

He declareth the fruite of faith, and by comparison setteth forth the lawe of God and obedience of Christ, which is the foundation and ground of the same.

Then being iustified by faith, we haue peace towards God, through our Lord Iesus Christ.

*By whome also we haue access through

And hope maketh not ashamed, because the loue of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the holie Ghost, which is giue vn-
to vs.

For Christ, when we were yet of no strength, at his time, dyed for the vni-godlie.

Douteles one wil scarce dye for a righteous man: but yet for a good mā it may be that one dare dye.

But God seteth out his loue towarde vs,
seing y while we were yet sinners, Christ
died for vs.

Muche more then, being now iustified by his blood, we shal be saued from wrath
through him.

For if when we were enemies, we were recōciled to God by the death of his Sonne, muche more being recōciled, we shal-
be saued by his life.

And not onely so, but we also reioyce in God through our Lord Iesus Christ, by whome we haue now receiued y atonemēt.

Wherefore, as by one man sinne entred
into the worlde, and death by sinne, and so death wēt ouer all men: for as muche as all men haue sinned.

For vnto the s time of the Law was sin-
ne in the worlde, but sinne is not imputed,
while there is no Law.

But death reigned from Adam to Moses euen ouer them also that sinned not after the like maner of the transgression of Adam, which was y figure of him that was to come.

But yet the gift is not so, as is the offence:
for if through the offence of one, many be dead, muche more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man Ie-sus Christ, hath abounded vnto many.

Nether is the gift so, as that which entred
in by one that sinned: for the faute came of one offence vnto condēacion: but the gift
is of many offences to iustification.

For if by y offence of one, death reigned through one, muche more shal they which receiue the abundance of grace, and of the gift of righteousness, reigne in life
through one, that is Iesus Christ.

Likewise the as by the offence of one the faute came on all men to condēacion, so
by the iustifying of y one the benefite al unded
toward all men to y iustification of life.

For as by one mans disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shal many also be made righteous.

Moreover the Law entred thereupon that the offence shulde abound: neuer-theles where sinne abounded, there grace
abounded muche more:

That as sinne had reigned vnto death, so
might grace also reigne by righteounes
vnto eternal life, through Iesus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VI.

Because no man shulde glorie in the flesh, but rather seke to subdue it to the Spirit. He sheweth by the ver-tye & end of Baptisme, That regeneration is signified with iustification, and therefore exhorteth to glorie in life, Setting before mens eyes the rewarde of sinne and righteousnes.

What shal we say then: Shal we continue still in sinne, that grace may abound: God forbid:

How shal we, that are dead to sinne, liue
yet therein?

Knowe ye not, that all we which haue bene baptized into Iesus Christ, haue bene baptized into his death?

We are buried then with him by bap-tisme into his death, that like as Christ
was raised vp from the dead by the glorie
of the Father, so we also shulde walke in newnes of life.

For if we be grafted with him to the similitude of his death, euen so shal we be to the similitude of his resurrection,

Knowing this, that our olde man is crucified with him, that the bodie of sinne might be destroyed, that henceforth we shulde not serue sinne.

For he that is dead, is freed from sinne.

Wherefore, if we be dead with Christ, we
beleue that we shal liue also with him,

Knowing that Christ being raised from
y dead, dyeth no more: death hath no more dominion ouer him.

For in that he dyed, he dyed once to sin-
ne: but in that he liueth, he liueth to God.

Likewise thinke ye also, that ye are dead
to sinne, but are alieue to God in Iesu Christ our Lord.

Let not sinne reigne therefore in your mortal bodie, that ye shulde obey it in the lusts thereof.

Nether giue ye your members as weapons of vnrightheousnes vnto sinne: but giue your selues vnto God, as they that are alieue from the dead; and giue your members as weapons of righteousnes vn-
to God.

For sinne shal not haue dominion ouer
you: for ye are not vnder the Law, but

17 But God be thanked, that ye haue bene the seruants of sinne, but ye haue obeyed from the heart vnto the forme of the doctrine, whereunto ye were delineted.

18 Being then made free from sinne, ye are made the seruants of righteousness.

19 I speake after the manner of man, because of the infirmite of your flesh: for as ye haue giuen your members seruants to vncleannes and to iniquitie, to commit iniquities, so now giue your members seruants vnto righteousness in holines.

20 For when ye were the seruants of sinne, ye were freed from righteousness.

21 What frute had ye then in those things, whereof ye are now ashamed? For the end of those things is death.

22 But now being freed from sinne, and made seruants vnto God, ye haue your frute in holines, and the end, euerlasting life.

23 For the wages of sinne is death: but the gifte of God is eternal life through Iesus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VII.

12 The use of the Law, 6-24 And how Christ hath delivered us from it. 16 The infirmite of the faithful. 23 The dangerous fight betwene the flesh & the Spirit.

Knowe ye not, brethren, (for I speake to them that knowe the Lawe) that the Law hath dominion ouer a man as long as he liueth?

*For the woman which is in subiection to a man, is bounde by the law to the man, while he liueth: but if the man be dead, she is deliuered from the law of the man.

So then, if while the man liueth, she take another man, she shalbe called an adulteresse: but if the man be dead, she is free from the Law, so that she is not an adulteresse, though she take another man.

So ye, my brethren, are dead also to the Law by the bodie of Christ, that ye shulde be vnto another, even vnto him that is raised vp from the dead, that we shulde bring forth the frute vnto God.

For when we were in the flesh, the motions of sinnes, which were by the Law, had frute in our members, to bring forth the frute vnto death.

But now we are deliuered from the Law, being dead vnto it, wherein we were holden, that we shulde serue in newnes of Spirit, and not in the oldenes of the letter.

17 What shal we say then? Is the Law sinne? God forbid. Nay, I knewe not sinne, but by the Law: for I had not knowne lust, except the Law had said, *Thou shalt not lust.

18 But sinne toke an occasion by the commandement, and wrought in me all manner of concupiscence: for without the Law sinne is dead.

19 For I once was a liue, without the Law: but when the commandement came, sinne reuiued.

20 But I dyed: and the same commandement which was ordained vnto life, was founde to be vnto me vnto death.

21 For sinne toke occasion by the commandement, and disceiued me, and thereby slew me.

22 Wherefore the Law is holie, and the commandement is holie, and iust, & good.

23 Was that which is good, made death vnto me? God forbid: but sinne, that it might appeare sinne, wrought death in me by that which is good, that sinne might be out of measure sinful by the commandement.

24 For we knowe that the Lawe is spiritual, but I am carnal, sold vnder sinne.

25 For I allowe not that which I do: for what I wolde, that do I not: but what I hate, that do I.

26 If I do then that which I wolde not, I consent to the Law, that it is good.

27 Now then, it is no more I, that do it, but the sinne that dwelleth in me.

28 For I knowe, that in me, that is, in my flesh, dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me: but I finde no means to performe that which is good.

29 For I do not the good thing, which I wolde, nor the euil, which I wolde not, that do I.

30 Now if I do that I wolde not, it is no more I that do it, but the sinne that dwelleth in me.

31 I finde then by the Law, that when I wolde do good, euil is present with me.

32 For I delight in the Law of God, concerning the inner man:

33 But I see another law in my members, rebelling against the law of my minde, & leading me captiue vnto the law of sinne, which is in my members.

34 O wretched man that I am, who shal deliuer me from the bodie of this death?

35 I thanke God through Iesus Christ our Lord. Then I my self in my minde serue the Law of God, but in my flesh the law of sinne.

forte the faithful ought to be. 6 The frutes of the Spirit in them. 17 Of hope. 18 Of patience under the crosse. 28 Of the mutual loue betwixt God, and his children. 29 Of his foreknowledge.

Now then there is no condemnation to them that are in Christ Iesus, which walke not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

For the Law of the Spirit of life which is in Christ Iesus, hath freed me from the law of sinne and of death.

For (that that was impossible to the Law, in as muche as it was weake, because of the flesh) God sending his owne Sonne, in the similitude of sinful flesh, and for sinne, condemned sinne in the flesh,

That the righteousness of the Law might be fulfilled in vs, which walke not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

For they that are after the flesh, saurour the things of the flesh: but they that are after the Spirit, the things of the Spirit.

For the wisdom of the flesh is death: but the wisdom of the Spirit is life & peace, Because the wisdom of the flesh is eni- mitie against God: for it is not subiect to the Law of God, nether in dede can be.

So then they that are in the flesh, can not please God.

Now ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, because the Spirit of God dwel- leth in you: but if anie man hath not the Spirit of Christ, the same is not his.

And if Christ be in you, the bodie is dead, because of sinne: but the Spirit is li- fe for righteousness sake.

But if the Spirit of him that raised vp Iesus from the dead, dwell in you, he that raised vp Christ from the dead, shal also quicken your mortal bodies, because that his Spirit dwelleth in you.

Therefore brethren, we are debtors not to the flesh, to liue after the flesh:

For if ye liue after the flesh, ye shal dye: but if ye mortifie the dedes of the bodie by the Spirit, ye shal liue.

For as manie as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sonnes of God.

For ye haue not receiued the Spirit of bondage to feare againe: but ye haue receiued the Spirit of adoption, whereby we crye Abba, Father.

The same Spirit beareth witnes with our Spirit, that we are the childre of God.

If we be children, we are also heires, euen the heires of God, & heires annexed with Christ, if so be that we suffer with him, that we maye also be glorified with him.

For I counte that the afflictions of this present time are not worthie of the glo- rie, which shalbe shewed vnto vs.

For the seruēt desire of the creature

waiteth when the sonnes of God shalbe reueiled.

Because the creature is subiect to va- nitie, not of it owne wil, but by reason of him, which hath subdued it vnder hope,

Because the creature also shalbe deliue- red from the bondage of corruption into the glorious libertie of the sonnes of God.

For we knowe that euery creature is groneth with vs also, and trauaileth in paine together vnto this present.

And not onely the creature, but we also which haue the first frutes of the Spirit, euen we do sigh in our selues, waiting for the adopcion, euen the redemption of our bodie.

For we are saued by hope: but hope that is sene, is not hope: for how can a man hope for that which he seeth?

But if we hope for that we se not, we do with patience abide for it.

Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our in- firmities: for we knowe not what to praie as we ought: but the Spirit it self maketh request for vs with sighs, which can not be expressed.

But he that searcheth hearts, knoweth what is the meaning of the Spirit: for he maketh request for the Saintes, accord- ing to the wil of God.

Also we knowe that all things worke to- gether for the best vnto them that loue God, euen to them that are called of his purpose.

For those which he knewe before, he also predestinate to be made like to the image of his Sonne, that he might be the first borne among manie brethren.

Moreover whome he predestinate, them also he called, and whome he called, them also he iustified, and whome he iustified, them he also glorified.

What shal we then say to these things? If God be on our side, who shall againe vs?

Who spared not his owne Sonne, but gaue him for vs all to death, how shal he not with him giue vs all things also?

Who shal lay anie thing to the charge of Gods chosen? is God that is iustificth,

Who shal condemne? is Christ, which is dead, yea or rather, which is risen agai- ne, who is also at the right hand of God, and maketh request also for vs.

Who shal separate vs from the loue of Christ? shal tribulation or anguish, or persecution, or famine, or nakednes, or peril, or sword?

As it is writtē, For thy sake are we kil- led all day long: we are counted as shepe for the slaughter.

Neuertheles, in all these things we are more then conquerers through him that loued vs.

The crea- res shal not be reuered be- fore that Gods children be brought to thei- r perfection: in the meane season thei wait. That is, to destruction, be- cause of mans sinne. He meaneth not the Angels neither devils nor men. And yet are farre from the perfection. Luk. 21. 26. Which shal- be in the resur- rection when we shalbe ma- de conformable to our head Christ. meth, and to whome it belongeth. 19 The reuocacion of the Lawe, and calling of the Gentiles.

B Rethre, mine hearts desire & prayer
to God for Israel is, that they might be saued.

For I beare them recorde, that they haue
the zeale of God, but not according to knowledge.

For they, being ignorant of the righteounnes of God, & goig about to stablish their owne righteousnes, haue not submitted
them selues to the righteousnes of God.

* For Christ is the end of the Law for righteousnes vnto euerie one y beleueth.

For Moses thus describeth the righteounnes which is of the Lawe, * That the man
which doeth these things, shal liue thereby.

But the righteousnes which is of faith,
speaketh on this wise, * Say not in thine heart, Who shal ascende into heauē? (that is to bring Christ from above)

Or, Who shal descende into the depe? (y is to bring Christ againe from the dead)

But what faith it? * The worde is nere
thee, euē in thy mouth, and in thine heart.
This is y worde of faith which we prea-
che.

For if thou shalt cōfesse with thy mouth
the Lord Iesus, and shalt beleue in thine heart, that God raised him vp from the dead, thou shalt be saued.

For with the heart man beleueth vnto
righteousnes, and with the mouth man
confesseth to saluation.

For the Scripture saith, * Who soeuer beleueth in him, shal not be ashamed.

For there is no difference betweene the Iewe & the Grecian: for he y is Lord ouer
all, is riche vnto all, that call on him.

* For who soeuer shal call vpō the Name of the Lord, shal be saued.

But how shal they call on him, in whome
they haue not beleued? and how shal they beleue in him, of whome they haue not heard? and how shal they heare without a preacher?

And how shal they preache, except they
be sent? as it is written, * How beautiful
are the fete of them which bring glad tydings of peace, and bring glad tydings of good things!

But they haue not all obeyed the Gospel: for Esaias saith, * Lord, who hath be-lieued our report?

Then faith is by hearing, & hearing by
the worde of God.

But I demaide, Haue thei not heard? No

the earth, & their wordes into the ends of
the worlde.

But I demaide, Did not Israel knowe
God? First Moses saith, * I wil prouoke you to eniue by a nation that is not my nation,
& by a foolish nation I wil anger you.

* And Esaias is bolde, and saith, I was founde of them that foght me not, and haue bene made manifest to them that asked not after me.

And vnto Israel he saith, * All the day
long haue I stretched forth mine hand
vnto a disobedient, and gainesaying peo-

CHAP. XI.

4 God hath his Church although it be not sent to mā's eye.
5 The grace shewed to the elect. 7 The iudgement of the reprobate. 8 God hath blinded the Iewes for a time, and reuelled him self to the Gentiles. 18 Whome
he warneth to humble thei selues. 29 The giftes of God
without repentance. 33 The depth of Gods iudgements.

I Demaide then, Hathe God cast away
his people? God forbid: for I also am an Israelite, of the sede of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin.

God hath not cast away his people which he knewe before. Knowe ye not what the Scripture saith of Elias, how he maketh request vnto God against Israel, saying,

* Lord, they haue killed thy Prophetes, &
dugged downe thine altars: and I am left alone, and they seke my life?

But what faith y answer of God to him?
* I haue referued vnto my self a seue thousand men, which haue not bowed the knee-to Baal.

Euē so then at this present time is there a remnant through the election of grace.

And if it be of grace, it is no more of wor-kes: or els were grace no more grace: but if it be of workes, it is no more grace: or els were worke no more worke.

What then? Israel hath not obtained y
he foght: but the electio hath obtained it,
and the rest haue bene hardened,

According as it is written, * God hath giuen the spirit of stornber: eyes that they shulde not se, & eares that they shul-
de not heare vnto this day.

And David saith, * Let their table be made a snare, & a net, & a stombing blocke,
euē for a recompense vnto them.

Let their eyes be darkened that they se
not, & bowe downe their backe alwayes.

I demaide then, Haue they stombled, that they shulde fall? God forbid: but through their fall saluation cometh vn-
to the Gentiles, to s prouoke them to follow them.

Wherefore if the fall of them be the riches of the worlde, & the diminishing of the riches of the Gētiles, how muche
more shal their abundance be?

k Then seing
all the worl-
de knewe God
by his creatures, the Iewes
colde not be ignorant, and fo-
rned of malice.

16 Be of like affection one towards another:
*be not hie minded: but make your selues equal to them of the lower sorte: be not wise in<sup>k</sup> your selues.

17 *Recopense to no mī euil for euil: procure things honest in the fight of all men.

18 *If it be possible, as much as in you is, haue peace with all men.

19 Dearly beloved, *auenge not your selues,
but giue place vnto wrath: for it is written, *Vengeāce is mine: I wil repaye, saith the Lord.

20 *Therefore, if thine enemy hunger, fe-de him: if he thirst, giue him drinke: for in so doing, thou shalt heape coles of fy-re on his head.

21 Be not ouercome of euil, but ouercome
euil with goodnes.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The obedience to the Rulers. 4 Why they haue the swords. 8 Charitie ought to measure all our doings.
11 An exhortation to innocencie & puritie of life.

1 Let euerie soule be subiect vnto the higher powers: for there is no power but of God: & the powers that be, are ordeined of God.

2 Who soeuer therefore resisteth y<sup>e</sup> power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they
that resist, shall receiue to them selues iud-gement.

For princes are not to be feared for good workes, but for euil. Wilt y<sup>e</sup> then be without feare of the power? do wel: so shalt thou haue praise of the same.

4 For he is the minister of God for thy wealth: but if thou do euil, feare: for he beareth not the sword for nought: for he is the minister of God to take vengeāce on him that doeth euil.

5 Wherefore ye must be subiect, not because of wrath onely, but also for conscience
sake.

6 For, for this cause ye paye also tribute: for they are Gods ministers, applying them
selues for the same thing.

7 *Giue to all men therefore their due tie:
tribute, to whome ye owe tribute: custo-
me, to whome custome: feare, to whome
feare: honour, to whome ye owe honour.

8 Owe nothing to any man, but to loue one another: for he that loueth another, hath fulfilled the Law.

9 For this, *Thou shalt not commit adul-terie, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steale, Thou shalt not beare false witness, Thou shalt not couet: and if there be any other commandement, it is briefly com-prehended in this saying, en<sup>d</sup> in this, *Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy self.

10 Loue doeth not euil to his neighbour:
therefore is loue y<sup>e</sup> fulfilling of the Law.

11 And that, considering the season, that it is now time that we shuld arise from slepe:

for now is our saluation nerer, then whe
we beleued it.

12 The night is past, & the day is at hand:
let vs therefore cast away the workes of darkenes, and let vs put on the armour
of light,

13 So that we walke honestly, as in the day:
not in *glotōnie, and dronkennes, necher
in chambering and wantonnes, nor in strife and enuying:

14 *But put ye on the Lord iesvs Christ,
and take no thought for the flesh, to fulfil the lustes of it.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The weake ought not to be despised. 10 No man shulde
offende anothers conscience. 15 But one to supporte
another in charitie and faith.

1 Him that is weake in the faith, receiue vnto you, but not for controuer-sies of disputations.

2 One beleueth y<sup>e</sup> he may eat of all things:
& another, which is weake, eateth herbes.

3 Let not him that eateth, despise him that eateth not: and let not him which eateth
not, iudge him that eateth: for God hathe
receiued him.

4 *Who art thou that condemnest another mans seruant? he standeth or falleth to his owne master: yea, he shalbe established:
for God is able to make him stande.

5 This mā esteemeth one day above another day, & another man counteth euerie daye
a like: let euerie man be fully persuaded
in his minde.

6 He that obserueth the day, obserueth it to the Lord: and he that obserueth not the day, obserueth it not to the Lord. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord: for he giueth
God thākes: and he y<sup>e</sup> eateth not, eateth
not to the Lord, and giueth God thākes.

7 For none of vs liueth to him self, nether
doeth anie dye to him self.

8 For whether we liue, we liue vnto the Lord: or whether we dye, we dye vnto the Lord: whether we liue therefore, or dye,
we are the Lords.

9 For Christ therefore dyed and rose agai-ne, and reuiued, that he might be Lord bo-
the of the dead and the quicke.

10 But why doest thou iudge thy brother:
or why dost thou despise thy brother:
*for we shal all appeare before the iudge-
ment seat of Christ.

11 For it is written, *I liue, saith the Lord,
and euerie knee shal bowe to me, and all tongues shal confesse vnto God.

12 So then euerie one of vs shal giue accounts of him self to God.

13 Let vs not therefore iudge one another anie more: but vse your iudgement rather firme to whome as yet God had not reuelled the perfit liberie. i Bothe
our life, and death ought to profite our brother. 12. cor. 5. 10. 11. 12. 13. 14. 15. 16. 17. 18. 19. 20. 21. 22. 23. 24. 25. 26. 27. 28. 29. 30. 31. 32. 33. 34. 35. 36. 37. 38. 39. 40. 41. 42. 43. 44. 45. 46. 47. 48. 49. 50. 51. 52. 53. 54. 55. 56. 57. 58. 59. 60. 61. 62. 63. 64. 65. 66. 67. 68. 69. 70. 71. 72. 73. 74. 75. 76. 77. 78. 79. 80. 81. 82. 83. 84. 85. 86. 87. 88. 89. 90. 91. 92. 93. 94. 95. 96. 97. 98. 99. 100.

14 m I knowe, & am perswaded through the Lord Iesus, that there is nothing vnclane of it self: but vnto him that iudgeth any thing to be vnclane, to hi it is vnclane.

15 But if thy brother be grieved for the meat, now walkest thou not charitably: *destroy not him with thy meat, for whome Christ dyed.

16 Cause not your *commoditie to be euil spoken of.

17 For the *kingdome of God is not meat nor drinke, but righteousness, and peace, & ioye in the holie Gost.

18 For whosoever in these things serueth Christ, is acceptable vnto God, and is approved of men.

19 Let vs then followe those things which concerne peace, and wherewith one may edifie another.

20 Destroy not y<sup>e</sup> worke of God for meats sake: *all things in dede are pure: but it is euil for the man which eateth with offence.

21 *It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drinke wine, nor any thing, whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or made weak.

22 Hast thou faith? haue it with thy self before God: blessed is he y<sup>e</sup> condemneth not him self in y<sup>e</sup> thing which he alloweth.

23 For he that doubteth, is condemned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith: & whosoever is not of y<sup>e</sup> faith, is sinne.

CHAP. XV.

1 Paul exhorteth the to support & loue one another by the example of Christ, 2 And by the onelie mercie of God which is the cause of saluation bothe of the one & the other. 14 He sheweth his zeale to warde them, & the Church, 30 And requireth the same of them.

Which are strong, ought to beare the infirmities of the weak, and not to please our selues.

2 Therefore let euerie man please his neighbour in that that is good to edification.

For Christ also wolde not please him self, but as it is written, *The rebukes of them which rebuke thee, sel b on me.

4 For whatsoever things are written afore time, are written for our learning, that we through pacience, & cōsorte of the Scriptures might haue hope.

5 Now the God of *pacience and consolation giue you that ye be *like minded one towards another, according to Christ Iesus,

6 That ye with one minde, and with one mouth may praise God eue the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ.

7 Wherefore receiue ye one another, as Christ also receiued vs to the d<sup>e</sup> glorie of God.

8 Now I say, that Iesus Christ was a *minister of the circumcision, for the *trueth of God, to cōfirme the promises made vnto the fathers.

9 And let the Gentiles praise God for his mercie, as it is writtē, *For this cause I will confesse thee amōg the Gentiles, and sing vnto thy Name.

10 And againe he saith, *Reioyce, ye Gentiles with his people.

11 And againe, *Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles, & laude ye him, all people together.

12 And againe Elaias saith, *There shalbe a roote of Iesse, and a he that shal rise to reigne ouer the Gentiles, in him shal the Gentiles trust.

13 Now the God of hope fil you with all ioye, and peace in beleuing, that ye may abide in hope through the power of the holie Gost.

14 And I my self also am perswaded of you my brethren, that ye also are ful of goodness, and filled with all knowledge, and are able to admonish one another.

15 Neuertheles brethren, I haue somewhat boldly after a sort writtē vnto you, as one that putteth you in remembrance, through the grace that is giuen me of God,

16 That I shulde be the minister of Iesus Christ towards the Gentiles, ministring the Gospel of God, that the offering vp of the Gentiles might be acceptable: being sanctified by the holie Gost.

17 I haue therefore wherof I may reioyce in Christ Iesus in those things which pertaine to God.

18 For I dare not *speake of anie things, which Christ hathe not wrought by me, to make the Gentiles obedient in worde and dede,

19 With the power of signes and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God: so that from Ierusalem, and rounde about vnto Illyricum, I haue caused to abide the Gospel of Christ.

20 Yea, so I enforced my self to preache the Gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I shulde haue buyt on another mans fundacion.

21 But as it is written, *To whome he was not spoken of, they shal se him, & they that heard not, shal vnderstand him.

22 Therefore also I haue bene *oft let to come vnto you.

23 But now seeing I haue no more place in these quarters, and also haue *bene defirous manie yeres agone to come vnto you,

THE FIRST EPISTLE of Paul to the Corinthians.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that S. Paul had preached at Corinthus a yere and an half, he was compelled by the wickednes of the Iewes to saile into Syria. In whose absence false Apostles entred into the Church, who being puffed up with vaine glorie, and affect at eloquence, sought to bring into contempt the simplicitie which Paul vsed in preaching the Gospel. By whose ambition such factions & schismes straggle in the Church, that frō opinions in pollicies & ceremonies they fel to false doctrine and heresies, calling into doute the resurrection frō the dead, one of the chiefest points of Christian religiō. Against these euils the Apostle proceedeth, preparing the Corinthians hearts, & eares with gentle salutations: but sone after he reproveth their contentions and debates, their arrogancie & pride, and exhorteth the to cōcorde & humilitie, setting before their eyes the spiritual vertue, & heauelie wisdom of the Gospel, which cōd not be perswaded by worldlie wit and eloquent reasons, but is reuelled by Gods Spirit, and so sealed in mens hearts. Therefore this salutation may not be attribute to the ministers, but onely to God, whose seruants they are, and haue receiued charge to edifie his Church: wherein S. Paul behauid him self stilfully, buylding according to the fundation (which is Christ) and exhorteth others to make the end proportionable to the beginning, taking diligent hede that they be not polluted with vaine doctrine, seing they are the Temple of God. And as for those which doubted of his Apostleship, he sheweth them that he dependeth not on mans iudgement, albeit he had declared by manifest signes that he neuer sought his owne glorie, netler yet how he might liue, but only the glorie of Christ: which thing at his comming he wolde declare more amply, to the shame of those vaine glorious braggers, who sought them selues onely, & therefore suffered moste horrible vices vnrerproved & unpunished, as incest, contentions, pleadings before infideles, fornication, & suche like, to the great scandal of the Gospel. This done, he answereth to certaine points of the Corinthians letter, as touching single life, duetie of mariage, of disorde & dissension among the married, of virginittie, & seconde mariage. And because some thought it nothing to be present at idole seruice, seing in their heart they worshipped the true God, he warneth them to haue respect to their weake brethren, whose faith by that disssembling was hindered, & their consciences wounded, which thing rather he wolde do, he wolde neuer use that libertie which God had giuen him. But forasmuche as pride, & self wil was the cause of those great euils, he admonisheth them by the example of the Iewes not to glorie in these outward gifts, whose horrible punishment for the abuse of Gods creatures, ought to be a warning to all men to followe Christ vprightly, without all pollution and offence of others. Then he correcteth diuers abuses in their Church, as touching the behauiour of men, and women in the assemblies: of the Lords Supper, the abuse of the spiritual giftes, which God hath giuen to mainteine loue and edifie the Church: as concerning the resurrection from the dead, without the which the Gospel serueth to no vse. Last of all he exhorteth the Corinthians to relieue the poore brethren at Ierusalem, to perseuere in the loue of Christ, and wel doing, sending his commendations, and wishing them peace.

CHAP. I.

For there is no condemnation to Psal. 138, 8. 1 thes. 5, 24.

10 Now I beseeche you, brethre, by the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ, * that ye all speak one thing, and that there be no dissensions among you: but be ye knit together in one minde, and in one iudge-ment.

11 For it hath bene declared vnto me, my brethren, of you by them that are of the house of i Cloe, that there are cōtentions among you.

12 Now this I say, that euerie one of you saith, I am Pauls, and I am * Apollos, and I am Cephas, and I am Christs.

13 Is Christ deuided? was Paul crucified for you? ether were ye baptized * into the name of Paul?

14 I thanke God, that I baptized none of you, but * Crispus, and * Gaius,

15 Left anie shulde say, that I had baptized
into mine owne name.

16 I baptized also the housholde of Ste-phanas: furthermore knowe I not, whether
I baptized anie other.

17 For Christ sent me not to * baptize, but to preach the Gospel, not with * wifdome
of wordes, * lest the crosse of Christ
shulde be made of none effect.

18 For the preaching of the crosse is to the
that perish, foolishnes: but vnto vs, which are saued, it is the * power of God.

19 For it is written, I * wil destroy the wifdome of the wise, and wil cast away the vnderstanding of the prudent.

20 Where is the wise? where is the * Scribe?
where is the * disputer of this worlde? hath he not God made the wifdome of this worlde foolishnes?

21 For seing the worlde by wifdome knewe
not God in the wifdome of God, it pleased God by the foolishnes of preaching
to saue them that beleue:

22 Seing also that the Iewes require a * sig-
ne, and the Grecians seke after wifdome.

23 But we preach Christ crucified: vnto
the Iewes, euen a stumbling blocke, & vn-
to the Grecians, foolishnes:

24 But vnto them which are called, bothe
of the Iewes & Grecians we preach Christ,
the power of God, and the wifdome of God.

25 For the * foolishnes of God is wiser then men, and the weakenes of God is stronger
then men.

26 For brethren, you se your calling, how
that not manie wise men * after the flesh, nor manie mightie, nor manie noble are called.

27 But God hath chosen the foolish things of the worlde to confounde the wise, and God hath chosen the weake things of the worlde, to confounde the mightie things.

28 And vile things of the worlde & things which are despised, hath God chosen, &

things * which are not, to bring to nought things * that are,

29 That no * flesh shulde reioyce in his presence.

30 But ye are of him in Christ Iesus, * who
of God is made vnto vs * wifdome and righteousnes, and sanctificacion, and redempcion,

31 That, according as it is written, * He that reioyceth, let him reioyce in the Lord.

CHAP. II.

He putteth for example his maner of preaching, which was, according to the tenor of the Gospel. A Which Gospel was contemptible & hid to the carnal, to And again honorable and manifest to the Spiritual.

And I, brethren, when I came to you,
came not with * excellencie of wor-des, or of wifdome, shewing vnto you the * testimonie of God.

2 For I esteemed not to * knowe anie thing
among you, saue Iesus Christ, and him crucified.

3 * And I was among you in * weakenes, and in feare, & in muche trembling.

4 Nether stode my worde, & my preaching
in the * entising speache of mans wifdome,
but in plaine euidence of * the Spirit
and of power,

5 That your faith shulde not be in the wifdome of men, but in the power of God.

6 And we speake wifdome among them
that are * persue: not the wifdome of this worlde, nether of the * princes of this worlde, which come to nought.

7 But we speake the wifdome of God in a mysterie, euen the hid wifdome, which God
had determined before the worlde, vnto
our glorie.

8 Which * none of the princes of this
worlde hath known: for had thei knowe
it, thei wolde not haue crucified y * Lord
of glorie:

9 But as it is written, * The things which eye hath not sene, nether eare hath hea-red, nether came into mas heart, are, which God hath prepared for them that loue
him.

10 But God hath reueiled them vnto vs by his Spirit: for the Spirit * searcheth all things, yea, the deepe things of God.

11 For what man knoweth the things of a man, saue the spirit * of a man, which is in him? euen so the things of God knoweth
no man, but the Spirit of God.

12 Now we haue * receiued not the Spirit of the worlde, but the Spirit, which is of God, that we might knowe the * things that are giuen to vs of God.

13 Which things also we speake, not in the * wordes which mans wifdome teacheth,

but which the holie Gost teacheth, comparing spiritual things with spiritual things.

14 But the natural man perceiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishnes vnto him: neither can he knowe them, because they are spiritually discerned.

15 But he that is spiritual, discerneth all things: yet he him self is iudged of no man.

16 For who hath knowne the minde of the Lord, that he might instruct him? But we haue the minde of Christ.

CHAP. III.

3 Paul rebuketh the sectes and opinions thereof. 7 No man ought to attribute his saluacion to the ministers, but to God. 10 That they beware erroneous doctrines. 11 Christ is the fundacion of his Church. 16 The dignitie and office both of the ministers and also of all the faithful.

1 And I colde not speake vnto you, brethren, as vnto spiritual men, but as vnto carnal, even as vnto babes in Christ.

2 I gaue you milke to drinke, & not meat: for ye were not yet able to beare it, neither yet now are ye able.

For ye are yet carnal: for where as there is among you enuying, and strife, and diuisions, are ye not carnal, and walke as men?

4 For when one faith, I am Pauls, and another, I am Apollos, are ye not carnal?

5 Who is Paul then? and who is Apollos, but the ministers by whome ye beleued, & as the Lord gaue to euerie man?

6 I haue planted, Apollos watered, but God gaue the encrease.

7 So then, neither is he that planteth, anie thing, neither he that watereth, but God that giueth the encrease.

8 And he that planteth, & he that watereth, are one, and euerie man shal receiue his wages, according to his labour.

9 For we together are Gods laborers: ye are Gods housbandrie, and Gods buylding.

10 According to the grace of God giuen to me, as a skilful master buylder, I haue laid the fundacion, and another buyldeth thereon: but let euerie man take hede how he buyldeth vpon it.

11 For other fundacion can no man lay, then that which is laid, which is Iesus Christ.

12 And if anie man buylde on this fundacion, of golde, silver, precious stones, tymbre, haye, or stubble,

13 Euerie mans worke shalbe made manifest: for the daye shal declare it, because it shalbe reueiled by the fyre: & the fyre shal trye euerie mans worke of what sorte it is.

14 If anie mans worke, that he hath buylt vpon, abide, he shal receiue wages.

15 If anie mans worke burne, he shal lose it, but he himselfe shall be safe: yet as it were by the fyre.

16 Knowe ye not that ye are the Temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

17 If anie man destroy the Temple of God, him shal God destroy: for the Temple of God is holie, which ye are.

18 Let no man deceiue him self. If anie man among you seme to be wise in this worlde, let him be a foole, that he may be wise.

19 For y wisdom of this worlde is foolishnes with God: for it is written, He catcheth the wise in their owne craftines.

20 And againe, The Lord knoweth that the thoughts of the wise be vaine.

21 Therefore let no man reioyce in men: for all things are yours.

22 Whether it be Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the worlde, or life, or death, whether they be things present, or things to come, even all are yours,

23 And ye Christs, and Christ Gods.

CHAP. IIII.

After that he had described the office of a true Apostle, 3 Seing they did not acknowledge him such one, 4 He appealeth to Gods iudgement, 7 Beating downe their glorie which hindered them to praise that, which they dispraised in him. 10 He sheweth what he requieth on their parte, & what they ought to take for of him at his returne.

1 Let a man so thinke of vs, as of the ministers of Christ, and disposers of the secrets of God.

2 And as for the rest, it is required of the disposers, y euerie man be founde faithful.

3 As touching me, I passe verie litle, to be iudged of you, or of mans iudgement: no, I iudge not mine owne self.

4 For I knowe nothing by my self, yet am I not thereby iustified: but he that iudgeth me, is the Lord.

5 Therefore I iudge nothing before the time, vntill the Lord come, who wil lighten things that are hid in darkenes, and make the counsels of the hearts manifest: and then shal euerie man haue praise of God.

6 Now these things, brethren, I haue figuratiuely applied vnto mine owne self & Apollos, for your sakes, that ye might learne by vs, that no man presume aboute that which is written, that one shal not agaynst another for anie mans cause.

7 For who separateth thee? and what hast thou, that thou hast not receiued? if thou hast receiued it, why reioycest thou, as though thou hadest not receiued it?

8 Now ye are full: now ye are made rich: ye reigne as Kings without vs, and wolde to God ye did reigne, that we also might reigne with you.

14 I write not these things to shame you, but asmy beloued childre I admonish you 15 For thogh ye haue ten thousand<sup>h</sup> instr- ctours in Christ, yet haue ye not manie fa- thers: for in Christ Iesus I haue begotten you through the Gospel.
16 Wherefore, I pray you, be ye followers of me.
17 For this cause haue I sent vnto you Ti- motheus, which is my beloued sonne, and faithful in the Lord, w<sup>h</sup> shal put you in re- membrance of my wayes in Christ: as I te- ache euerie where in euerie Church.
18 Some are puffed vp as thogh I wolde not come to you.
19 But I wil come to you shortly, * if the Lord wil, and wil knowe, not the speache of them which are puffed vp, but the power.
20 For the<sup>h</sup> kingdome of God is not in worde, but in<sup>h</sup> power.
21 What wil ye? shal I come vnto you with a rod, or in loue, and in the spirit of mekenes?
CHAP. V.
1 He reproveth sharply their negligence in punishing him that had committed inceste, 3 Willing them to excommunicate him, 7 To embrace puritie, 9 And flee wickednes.
IT is heard certeinly that there is forni- cation amog you, and suche fornicatio as is not once named among the<sup>h</sup> Gentils, * that one shulde haue his fathers wife.
2 And ye are puffed vp & haue not rather forswed, that he which hath done this de- de, might be put from among you.
3 For I verely as absent in bodie, but pre- sent in spirit, haue determined already as thogh I were present, that he that hath b thus done this thing,
4 When ye are gathered together, and my<sup>h</sup> spirit, in the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ, that suche one, I say, by the power of our Lord Iesus Christ,
5 * Be deliuered vnto<sup>h</sup> Satan, for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Iesus.

6 Your reioycing is not<sup>h</sup> good: * know ye not that a litle leauē, leaueneth the whole lumpe?
7 Purge out therefore the olde leauen, that ye may be a newe lumpe, <sup>h</sup> as ye are vn- leavened: for Christ our Passeouer is sac- rificed for vs.
8 Therefore let vs kepe the feast, not with olde leauē, nether in the leauen of malici- ousnes and wickednes: but with the vnlea- uened bread of sinceritie and truth.
9 I wrote vnto you in an epistle, * that ye shulde not cōpanie together w fornicators,
10 And<sup>h</sup> not all together with the fornica- tors of this worlde, or with the couetous, or with extortioners, or with idolaters: for then ye muste go out of the worlde.
11 But now I haue written vnto you, that ye companie not together: if anie that is cal- led a brother, be a fornicator, or couetous, or<sup>h</sup> an idolater, or a railar, or a drunkard, or an extortioner, with suche one eat not.
12 For what haue I to do, to iudge them al- so, which are<sup>h</sup> without? do ye not iudge the that are<sup>h</sup> within?
13 But God iudgeth them that are without. Put away therefore frō among your sel- ues that wicked man.
present as idole seruice, & yet professe the Gospel: I vnto w<sup>h</sup> the fustical discipline doeth not stretch. m Which are subiect to Gods worde, & to the discipline of the Church.

CHAP. VI.

1 Herubeketh them for going to law together befo- re the Heathen. 7 Christians ought rather to suffer. 12 He reproveth the abusing of Christian libertie. 15 And sheweth that we ought to serue God purely both in bodie, and in soules.
ARE anie of you, hauing busines aga- inst another, be iudged vnder<sup>h</sup> the<sup>h</sup> vniust, and not vnder the Saintes?
2 * Do ye not knowe, that the Saintes shal iudge the worlde? If the worlde then shal be iudged by you, are ye vnworthie to iud- ge the smallest matters?
3 Knowe ye not y<sup>h</sup> we shal iudge the<sup>h</sup> An- gels? how muche more things that pertaine to this life?
4 If then ye haue iudgemēts of things per- taining to this life, set vp<sup>h</sup> their which are<sup>h</sup> least esteemed in the Church.
5 I speake it to your shame. Is it so that there is not a wise man among you? no not one, y<sup>h</sup> can iudge betwene his brethre?
6 But a brother goeth to lawe with a bro- ther, and that vnder the infideles.
7 Now therefore there is viterly<sup>h</sup> a faute among you, because ye go to law one with another: * why rather suffer ye not wrong? why rather susteine ye not harme?
8 * Nay, ye your selues<sup>h</sup> do wrong, and do harme, and that to your brethren.

33 But he that is mariéd, careth for the 34 There is differēce also betwene a virgi-ne & a wife: the vnmariéd woman careth

for the things of the Lord, that she may be holie, bothe in bodie and in spirit: but she that is mariéd, careth for the things of the worlde, how she may please her hous-
band.

35 And this I speake for your owne comōditie, not to tangle you in a snare, but that ye followe that, which is honest, and that ye may cleaue fast vnto the Lord without separation.

36 But if anie man thinke that it is vncom-
lie for his virgine, if she passe the flowre
of her age, & s neuer require, let him do what he wil, he sinneth not: let them be mariéd.

37 Neuertheles he that standeth firme in his heart, that he hath no nede, but hath power ouer his owne wil, & ha he so decreed in his heart, that he wil kepe his vir-gine, he doeth wel.

38 So then he that giueth her to mariage, doeth wel, but he that giueth her not to marriage, doeth better.

39 The wife is bounde by the law, as long as her housband liueth: but if her hous-

40 But she is more blessed, if she abide, in

My defense to the by examine me, is this, Hauē we not power to eat & to drinke? Or haue we not power to lead about a wife being a filter, as well as the rest of the Apostles, and as the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas?
Or I onely and Barnabas, haue not we power not to worke?
Who goeth a warfare anie time at his owne cost? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the frute thereof? or who feedeth a flocke, and eateth not of the milke of the flocke?
Say I these things according to man? faith not the Law the same also?
For it is writtē in y Law of Moses, Thou shalt not muffle the mouth of the oxe that treadeth out the corne: doeth God take care for oxen?
Either saith he it not all together for our sakes? For our sakes no doute it is written, that he which careth, shulde care in hope: and that he that thresheth in hope, shulde be partaker of his hope.
* If we haue sown vnto you spiritual things, is it a great thing if we reape your carnal things?
If others with you be partakers of this power, are not we rather? neuertheles, we haue not vsed this power: but suffre all things, that we shulde not hinder the Gospel of Christ.
Do ye not knowe, that they which minister about the holie things, eat of y things of the Temple: and they which wait at the altar, are partakers with the altar?
So also hathe the Lord ordeined, that they which preach the Gospel, shulde liue of the Gospel.
But I haue vsed none of these things: nether wrote I these things, that it shulde be so done vnto me: for it were better for me to dye, then that anie man shulde make my reioycing vaine.
For though I preach the Gospel, I haue nothing to reioyce of: for necessitie is laid vpon me, and wo is vnto me, if I preach not the Gospel.
For if I do it willingly, I haue a reward: but if I do it against my wil, I notwithstanding the dispensation is committed vnto me.
What is my reward then? verely that whē I preach the Gospel, I make the Gospel of Christ fre that Labuse not mine autoritie in the Gospel.
For though I be free fro all men, yet haue I made my self seruant vnto all men, that I might winne the mo.
* And vnto y Jewes I become as a Jewe, that I may winne the Jewes: to them that are vnder the Lawe, as though I were vnder the Law, that I may winne the that are vnder the Law:

To them that are without lawe, as though I were without lawe (whē I am not without Law as pertaining to God, but am in the Law through Christ) that I may winne them that are without Law.
To the weake I become as weake, that I may winne y weake: I am made all things to all men, that I might by all meanes saue some.
And this I do for the Gospels sake, that I might be partaker thereof with you.
Knowe ye not, that they which runne in a race, runne all, yet one receiueth the price: so runne, that ye may obtaine.
And euerie man that proueth masteries, abstaineth from all things: and they do it to obtaine a corruptible crowne: but we for an vncorruptible.
I therefore so runne, not as vncertainly: so fight I, not as one that beatech the ayre.
But I beat downe my bodie, & bring it into subiection, lest by any meanes after that I haue preached to other, I my self shulde be reproued.

one bodie, because we all are partakers of one bread.
18 Beholde Israel which is after the flesh:
are not they which eat of the sacrifices,
partakers of the altar?
19 What say I then? that the idole is any thing? or that that which is sacrificed to idoles, is any thing?
20 Nay, but that these things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to deuils,
and not vnto God: and I wolde not that ye shulde haue fellowshippe with the deu-ils.
21 Ye can not drinke the cup of the Lord,
and the cup of the deuils. Ye can not be partakers of the Lords table and of the table of deuils.
22 Do we prouoke the Lord to anger? are
we stronger then he?
23 All things are lawful for me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawful for me, but all things edifie not.
24 Let no man seke his owne, but euerie mā
an others wealth.
25 Whatsoeuer is solde in the shambles,
eat ye, & aske no question for conscience sake.
26 For the earth is the Lords, and all that therein is.
27 If any of them which beleue not, call
you to a feast, and if ye wil go, whatsoeuer
is set before you, eat, asking no question
for conscience sake.
28 But if any man say vnto you, This is sacrificed vnto idoles, eat it not, because of him that shewed it, and for the conscience (for the earth is the Lords, and all that therein is)

29 And the conscience I say, not thine, but
of that other: for why shulde my libertie
be condēd of another mans conscience?
30 For if I through Gods benefite be partaker, why am I euil spoken of, for that wherefore I giue thanks?
31 Whether therefore ye eat or drinke, or whatsoeuer ye do, do all to the glorie of God.
32 Giue none offence, nether to the Iewes,
nor to the Grecians, nor to the Church
of God:
33 Euen as I please: all men in all things,
not seeking mine owne profite, but the pro-
fite of many, that they might be sauēd.
CHAP. XI.
He rebuketh the abuser which were crept into their Church, 4 As touching prayer, prophesying, 18 And ministering the Lords Supper, 23 Bringing them againe
to the first institution thereof.
B E ye the followers of me, euen as I am of Christ.
2 Now, brethren, I commend you, that ye remembre all my things, & kepe the ordinances, as I deliuered them to you.
3 But I wil that ye knowe, that Christ is the head of euerie man: & the man is the womans head: and God is Christs head.
4 Euerie mā praying or prophesying ha-
uing any thing on his head, dishonoreth
his head.
5 But euerie woman that prayeth or prophesieth bareheaded, dishonoreth her head: for it is euē one very thing, as though she were shauen.
6 Therefore if the woman be not couered,
let her also be shorne: and if it be shame
for a woman to be shorne or shauen, let her be couered.
7 For a man ought not to couer his head: for asmuche as he is the image and glorie
of God: but the woman is the glorie of the man.
8 For the man is not of the woman, but the woman of the man.
9 For the man was not created for the womans sake: but the woman for the mans
sake.
10 Therefore ought y woman to haue power
on her head, because of the Angels.
11 Nethertheless, nether is the man without the woman, nether the woman without the man in the Lord.
12 For as the woman is of the man, so is the man also by the woman: but all things are
of God.
13 Iudge in your selues, is it comelie that a woman praye vnto God vncouered?
14 Doeth not nature it self teache you, that if a mā haue long here, it is a shame yn-
to him?

We must take hede that
through our abuse, our liberty be not
condēd.
If by the benefit of God
I may eat any
kinde of meat,
why shulde I
by my default
cause this benefit to be
euil spoken of?
Colo. 3. 17.
That is, the infirmities
Which are indifferent.
This is referred to communion prayer and teaching: for although one
speake, yet the action is commune, for y
whole Church
may be said to
praye or prea-
che.
For preaching,
by this tradition was ob-
serued according to the time and place
that all things
might be done
in comelie &
to edification.

2 Cor. 13. 2.

y But as though
theſe holie myſteries of the Lords bodie &
blood were co-
mune meats, ſo
without reuer-
ence he com-

ſ. Or, dye. Let them loke to
them ſelues
which ether
adde or take away fro the Lords inſti-
tution.

15 But if a woman haue long heere, it is a praiſe vnto her: for her heere is giue her for a couering.

16 But if any man luſte to be contentious,
we haue no futhr cuſtome; nether y Churches of God.

17 ¶ Now in this that I declare, I praiſe
you not, that ye come together, not with profit, but with hurt.

18 For firſt of all, when ye come together
in the Church, I heare that there are diſſenſions among you: and I beleue it to be true in ſome parte.

19 For there muſt be hereties even among you, that they which are approued amog
you, might be known.

20 When ye come together therefore into one place, this is not to eat the Lords Supper.

21 For euerie man when they ſhulde eat, taketh
his owne ſupper afore, and one is hungry, and another is drunken.

22 Haue ye not houſes to eat & to drinke
in diſſipie ye y Church of God, and ſhame
thē that haue not: what ſhal I ſay to you?
ſhal I praiſe you in this? I praiſe you not.

23 For I haue receiued of the Lord that which I alſo haue deliuered vnto you, to wit, That the Lord Ieſus in the night that he was betrayed, toke bread.

24 ¶ And when he had giuen thakes, he brake
it, and ſaid, Take, eat: this is my bodie,
which is broken for you: this do ye in remembrance of me.

25 After the ſame maner alſo he toke the cup, when he had ſupped, ſaying, This cup is the Newe teſtament in my blood: this do as oft as ye drinke it, in remembrance of
me.

26 For as often as ye ſhal eat this bread, &
drinke this cup, ye ſhewe the Lords death
til he come.

27 Wherefore, whoſoever ſhal eat this bread, and drinke the cup of the Lord vnworthely, ſhal be guiltie of the bodie &
blood of the Lord.

28 ¶ Let a man therefore examine him ſelf,
and ſo let him eat of this bread, & drinke
of this cup.

29 For he that eateth and drinketh vnworthely, eateth and drinketh his owne damnation, becauſe he diſcerneth not y Lords bodie.

30 For this cauſe many are weake, and ſicke
among you, and many ſleepe.

31 For if ye wolde iudge our ſelues, we ſhul-
de not be iudged.

32 But when we are iudged, we are chaſtened of the Lord, becauſe we ſhulde not be condemned with the worlde.

33 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, tary one for another,

34 And if any man be hungry, let him eat

at home, that ye come not together vnto condemnation. Other things wil I ſet in order when I come.

CHAP. XII.

The diuerſitie of the gifts of the holie Ghoſt ought to be uſed to the edifying of Chriſts Church. 12 As the members of mans bodie ſerue to the uſe one of another.

Now concerning ſpiritual gifts, brethren, I wolde not haue you ignorant.

2 Ye knowe that ye were Gentiles, and were caried away vnto the ydomeſe idoles,
as ye were led.

3 Wherefore, I declare vnto you, that no man ſpeaking by the Spirit of God, calleth Ieſus excreable: alſo no man can ſay that Ieſus is the Lord, but by the ho-lie Ghoſt.

4 Now there are diuerſities of gifts, but the ſame Spirit.

5 And there are diuerſities of adminiſtrations, but the ſame Lord.

6 And there are diuerſities of operatiōs, but God is the ſame, which worketh all in all.

7 But the manifeſtation of the Spirit is gi-
uen to euerie man, to profit withall.

8 For to one is giuen by the Spirit the wor-
de of wiſdome: and to another the worde
of knowledge, by the ſame Spirit.

9 And to another is giuen faith, by the ſame Spirit: and to another the gifts of healing, by the ſame Spirit.

10 And to another y operations of great workes: and to another, prophecie: and to another, the diſcerning of ſpirits: and to another, diuerſities of tongues: & to another the interpretation of tongues.

11 ¶ And all theſe things worketh euen the ſelf ſame Spirit, diſtributing to euerie man
ſeuerally as he wil.

12 For as the bodie is one, and hath many membres, and all the membres of the bodie, which is one, though they be many, yet
are they one bodie: euen ſo is Chriſt.

13 For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one bodie, whether we be Iewes; or Grecians, whether we be bonde, or fre,
and haue bene all made to drinke into one Spirit.

14 For the bodie alſo is not one member,
but many.

15 If the ſore wolde ſay, Becauſe I am not the hand, I am not of the bodie, is it the-fore not of the bodie?

16 And if the eare wolde ſay, Becauſe I am not the eye, I am not of the bodie, is it the-
fore not of the bodie?

17 If the whole bodie were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the ſmelling?

18 But now hath God diſpoſed the mem-bres euerie one of them in the bodie at his owne pleaſure.

22 Yea, muche rather those membres of the bodie, which seme to be more feble, are necessarie.

23 And vpon those membres of the bodie,
which we thinke moste vn honest, put we more honestie on; and our vncomelie partes haue more comelines on.

24 For our comelie partes nede it not: but God hathe tempered the bodie together,
and hathe giuen the more honour to that parte which lacked,

Church: as first, Apostles; secondly Pro-

do miracles; after that, the giftes of hea-

30 Are all doers of miracles? haue all the giftes of healing? do all speake with ton-

31 But desire you the best giftes, and I wil
yet shewe you a more excellent way.

CHAP. XIII.

Because loue is the fontaine and rule of edifying the Church, he setteth forth the nature, office and praise thereof.

1 Though I speake with the tongues of men and Angels, and haue not loue,
I am as sounding brasse, or a tinkling
cymbal.

2 And though I had the gift of prophecies,
and knewe all secretes and all knowledge,
yea, if I had all faith, so that I colde remoue mountains and had not loue, I were nothing.

3 And though I fede the poore with all my goods, and though I giue my bodie, that I be burned, and haue not loue, it profiteth
me nothing.

4 Loue suffereth long: it is bountifull; loue
enuieth not: loue doeth not boast it self: it is not puffed vp:

5 It disdaineth not: it seeketh not her owne
things: it is not prouoked to anger: it thin-
keth not euil:

6 It reioyceth not in iniquitie, but reioy-

ceh in the truth:

7 It suffereth all things: it beleueth all things: it hopeth all things: it endureth
all things.

8 Loue doeth neuer fall away, though that prophecies be abolished, or the tongues
cease, or knowledge vanish away.

9 For we knowe in parte, and we prophecie in parte.

10 But when that which is perfite, is come,
then that which is in parte, shalbe abolished.

11 When I was a childe, I spake as a childe,
I vnderstode as a childe, I thought as a childe: but when I became a man, I put away childeish things.

12 For now we see through a glasse darkely: but then shal we see face to face. Now
I knowe in parte: but then shal I knowe euen as I am knowne.

13 And now abideth faith, hope & loue, euen these three: but the chiefest of these is loue.

CHAP. XIII.

He exhorteth to loue, commendeth the gift of tongues,
& other spiritual gifts. But chiefly prophecies.
34 He comandeth women to kepe silence in the Church.
40 And sheweth what good order ought to be obserued
in the Church.

1 Followe after loue, and couet spiritual gifts, and rather that ye maye approphecies.

2 For he that speaketh a strange tongue, speakeh not vnto men, but vnto God: for no man heareth him: howbeit in the spirit he speaketh secret things.

3 But he that prophecieth, speaketh vnto men to edifying, and to exhortacion, and to comfort.

4 He that speaketh strange language, edifi-eth him self: but he that prophecieth, edifieth the Church.

5 I wolde that ye all spake strange languages, but rather that ye prophecied: for greater is he that prophecieth, the he that speakeh diuers tongues, except he expou-
de it, that the Church may receiue edificacion.

6 And now, brethren, if I come vnto you

shal it be vnderstand what is spoken? for ye shal speake in the sayre.
There are so manie kindes of voyces, (as it cometh to passe) in the worlde, and none of them is domme.

Except I knowe then the power of the voyce, I shalbe vnto him that speaketh, a barbarian, and he that speaketh, shalbe a barbarian vnto me.

Euen so, for as muche as ye couet spiritual gifts, seke that ye maye excel vnto the edifying of the Church.

Wherefore, let him that speaketh a strange tongue, praieth, that he may interpret.

For if I pray in a strange tongue, my spirit i praieth: but mine vnderstanding is without frute.

What is it then? I wil praye with the spirit, but I wil pray with the vnderstanding also: I wil sing with the spirit, but I wil sing with the vnderstanding also.

Els, when thou blestest with the spirit, how shal he that occupieth the roume of the vnlearned, say Amen, at thy giuing of thanks, seing he knoweth not what thou saist?

For thou verely giuest thanks wel, but the other is not edified.

I thanke my God, I speake languages more then ye all.

Yet had I rather in the Church to speake a few wordes with mine vnderstanding, than I might also instruct others, then ten thousand wordes in a strange tongue.

Brethren, be not children in vnderstanding, but as concerning maliciousnes be children, but in vnderstanding be of a ripe age.

In the Law it is written, * By men of other tongues, & by other languages or I speake vnto this people: yet so shal they not heare me, saith the Lord.

Wherefore strange tongues are for a signe, not to them that beleue, but to the that beleue not: but prophesying serueth not for the that beleue not, but for the which beleue.

If therefore, when the whole Church is come together in one, and all speake strange tongues, there come in they that are vnlearned, or they which beleue not, wil they not say, that ye are out of your wittes?

But if all prophesie, and there come in one that beleueth not, or one vnlearned, he is rebuked of all men, and is iudged of all.

And so are the secretes of his heart made manifest, & so he wil fall downe on his face and worship God, and say plainly that God is in you in dede.

What is to be done then, brethren? when ye come together, according as euerie one of you hath a psalme, or hath doctrine, or hath a tongue, or hath reuelacion, or hath interpretation, let all things be done vnto edifying.

If anie man speake a strange tongue, let it be by two, or at the most, by thre, and that by course, and let one interpret.

But if there be no interpreter, let him kepe silence in the Church, which speaketh languages, and let him speake to him self, and to God.

Let the Prophetes speake two, or thre, and let the other iudge.

And if anie thing be reueiled to another y siteth by, let the first holde his peace.

For ye may all prophesie one by one, y all may learne, & all may haue comfort.

And the spirits of the Prophetes are subiect to the Prophetes.

For God is not the autor of confusion, but of peace, as we se in all the Churches of the Saintes.

* Let your women kepe silence in the Churches: for it is not permitted vnto the to speake: but they ought to be subiect, as also the Law saith.

And if they wil learne anie thing, let they aske their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speake in y Church.

Came the worde of God out from you, either came it vnto you only?

If anie man thinke him self to be a Prophet, or spiritual, let him acknowledge, that the things, that I write vnto you, are the commandements of the Lord.

And if anie man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

Wherefore, brethren, couet to prophesie, & forbid not to speake languages.

Let all things be done honestly and by order.

¶ He mentioned this abuse afore, yet he referred it to this place to be reuoced, because there he brought it in for another purpose. ¶ Or the last Christians, that ye neither submit your selues to the Churches, of whome you haue receiued the Gospell, nor haue respect to the others, to whom the Gospell doeth likewise apperteyne. ¶ To haue vnderstanding of spiritual things. ¶ If anie man haue iudgement, let him acknowledge I speake of the Spirit of God, and so let him obey, and if he hath no iudgement, let him acknowledge his ignorance, and trouble not the Church, but teache them that are learned.

After that, he was sene of mo then five hundred brethren at once: whereof many remaine vnto this present, & some also are a slepe.

After that, he was sene of Iames: then of all the Apostles.

*And last of all he was sene also of me
as of one, borne out of due time.

For I am the least of the Apostles, which am not mete to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the Church of God.

*But by the grace of God, I am that I am: and his grace which is in me, was not in vaine: but I laboured more abundantly then they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which is with me.

Wherefore whether it were I, or they, so we preach, and so haue ye beleued.

*Now if it be preached, that Christ is risen from the dead, how say some among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?

For if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen.

And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vaine, and your faith is also vaine.

And we are founde also false witnesses
of God: for we haue testified of God, that he hath raised vp Christ: whome he hath not raised vp; if so be the dead be not raised.

For if y<sup>e</sup> dead be not raised, the is Christ
not raised.

And if Christ be not raised, your faith is
vaine: ye are yet in your sinnes.

And so they which are a slepe in Christ,
are perished.

If in this life onely we haue hope in Christ, we are of all men the moste miserable.

But now is Christ risen from the dead,
and was made the first frutes of them
that slepe.

For since by man came death, by man
came also the resurrection of the dead.

For as in Adam all dye, euē so in Christ
shal all be made aliue,

But euerie man in his owne order: the first frutes is Christ, afterwarde, they that are of Christ, at his coming shal rise againe.

Then shal be the end, whē he hath de-liuered vp the kingdome to God, euē the Father, when he hath put downe all rule,
and all autoritie and power.

For he must reigne *til he hath put all
his enemies vnder his fete.

The last enemy that shal be destroyed,

is death.

*For he hath put downe all things vnder
his fete. (And when he saith that all things are subdued to him, it is manifest y<sup>e</sup>
he is excepted, which did put downe all things vnder him.)

And when all things shal be subdued vnto
him, then shal the Sone also him self be subiect vnto him, that did subdue all things
vnder him, that God may be all in all.

Els what shal they do which are baptized * for dead: if the dead rise not at all,
why are they then baptized for dead?

Why are we also in iopardie euerie
houre?

By our reioycing which I haue in Christ
Iesus our Lord, I dye daily.

If I haue fought with beasts at Ephesus
after the manner of men, what aduantage
it me, if the dead be not raised vp? let vs
eat & drinke: for to morowe we shal dye.

Be not deceived: euil speakings corrupt
good maners.

Awake to liue righteously, and sinne not:
for some haue not the knowledge of God,
I speake this to your shame.

But some man wil say, How are the dead raised vp: and with what bodie come they forthe?

O foole, that which thou sowest, is not quickened, except it dye.

And y<sup>e</sup> which thou sowest, thou sowest
not that bodie that shal be, but bare corne,
as it falleth, of wheat, or of some other.

But God giueth it a bodie at his pleasure, euen to euerie sede his owne bodie.

All flesh is not the same flesh, but there is one flesh of men, and another flesh
of beastes, and another of fishes, and another of birdes.

There are also heauenlie bodies, and earthlie bodies: but the glorie of the heauenlie is one, and the glorie of the earthlie
is another.

There is another glorie of the sunne,
and another glorie of the moone, and another glorie of y<sup>e</sup> starres: for one starre dif-
fereth from another starre in glorie.

So also is the resurrection of the dead.
The bodie is sown in corruption, and is raised
in incorruption.

It is sown in dishonour, and is raised
in glorie: it is sown in weakenes, & is raised in power.

It is sown a natural bodie, & is raised a spiritual bodie: there is a natural bodie,
& there is a spiritual bodie.

As it is also written, The first man * Adam was made a liuing soule: and the last Adam was made a quickening Spirit.

Howbeit that was not first made which is spiritual: but that which is natural, & afterwarde that which is spiritual.

earthlie: & as is the heauenlie, such are
they also that are heauenlie.

And as we haue borne the image of the earthlie, so shal we beare the image of the heauenlie.

This say I, brethren, y flesh & blood can not inherit y kingdom of God, nether
doeth corruption inherit incorruption.

Beholde, I shewe you a secret thing, We shal not all slepe, but we shal all be changed,

In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye
at the last trumpet: for the trumpet shal blowe, and the dead shal be raised vp incorruptible, and we shalbe changed.

For this corruptible must put on incor-ruption: and this mortal must put on im-mortalitie.

So when this corruptible hath put on incorruption, & this mortal hath put on immortalitie, then shal be broght to passe
the saying that is written, * Death is swa-
lowed vp into victorie.

O death, where is thy sig! o graue where
is thy victorie!

The King of death is sinne: and the strength of sinne is the Law.

* But thanks be vnto God which hath giuen vs victorie through our Lord Iesus Christ.

Therefore my beloued brethren, be ye stedfast, vnmoueable, abundant alwayes in the worke of the Lord, forasmuch as ye knowe, that your labour is not in vaine
in the Lord:

CHAP. XVI.

He putteth them in remembrance of the gathering for the poore brethre at Ierusalem. 13 We must perseure
in faith, in the loue of Christ & our neighbour. 15 After his commendations he wisheth that all prosperitie.

Concerning the gathering for the Saintes, as I haue ordeined in the Churches of Galacia, so do ye also.

Euerie first day of the weke, let euerie one of you put aside by him self, and laye vp as God hath prospered him, that theſe there be no gatherings when I come.

And when I am come, whoseuer ye shal alowe by letters, theſe will I send to bring your liberalitie vnto Ierusalem.

And if it be mete that I go also, they shal
go with me.

Now I will come vnto you, after I haue gone through Macedonia (for I wil passe through Macedonia)

And it may be that I wil abide, yea, or winter with you, that ye may bring me on my way whither soeuer I go.

For I wil not se you now in my passage:
but I trust to abide a while with you, if the Lord permit.

And I wil tary at Ephesus vntill Pētecost.
For a great dore and effectual is opened
vnto me: but there are many aduersaries.

Now if Timotheus come, se that he be without feare with you: for he worketh
the worke of the Lord, euen as I do.

Let no man therefore despise him: but conuaye him forth in peace, that he may come vnto me: for I loke for him with the brethren.

As touching our brother Apollos, I greatly desired him, to come vnto you with the brethren: but his minde was not at all to come at this time: howbeit he wil come
when he shal haue conuenient time.

Watch ye: stand fast in the faith: quite
you like men; be strong.

Let all your things be done in loue.

Now, brethren, I beseeche you (ye knowe
the house of Stephanas, that it is the first frutes of Achaia, & that they haue giuen
them selues to minister vnto the Saintes)

That ye be obedient euen vnto such, &
to all that helpe with vs and labour.

I am glad of the comming of Stephanas, & Fortunatus, and Achaicus: for they haue supplied the want of you.

For they haue comforted my spirit and
yours: acknowledge therefore suche men.

The Churches of Asia salute you: Aquila and Priscilla with the Church that is in their house, salute you greatly in the Lord.

All the brethren greet you. Greete ye one another with an holie kisse.

The salutation of me Paul with mine
owne hand.

If any man loue not y Lord Iesus Christ,
let him be had in execration, yea excom-
municate to death.

The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you.

My loue be with you all in Christ Iesus;
Amen.

THE ARGUMENT.

AS nothing can be written, either so perfectly, or with so great affection and zeale, which is not Unprofitable to many, and resisted by some: so the first epistle written by S. Paul to the Corinthians, besides the puritie and perfection of the doctrine, sheweth a loue towards them farre passing all natural affections: which did not onely not profit all, but hardened the hearts of many to remaine in their stubbernes, and contanne the Apostles autoritie. By reason whereof S. Paul, being let with iuste occasions to come vnto them, wrote this epistle from Macedonia, minding to accomplish the worke which he had begonne among them. First therefore he wisheth them wel in the Lord, declaring that althet certeine wicked persones abused his afflictions to condemne thereby his autoritie, yet they were necessurie schoolings, and sent to him by God for their bettering. And where as they blame his long absence, it came of no inconstancie, but to beare with their inhabilitie and imperfection, lest contrary to his fatherlie affection, he shulde haue bene compelled to vse rigour and severitie. And as touching his sharpe writing in the former epistle, it came through their fault, as is now euident bothe in that, that he pardoneth the trespasser, seing he doeth repent: and also in that he was vnquiet in his minde, til he was certified by Titus of their state. But forasmuche as the false Apostles went about to undermine his autoritie, he confuteth their arrogant bragge, and commendeth his office, and the diligent executing of the same: so that Satan must haue greatly blinded their eyes, which se not the brightness of the Gospel in his preaching: the effect whereof is newnes of life, forsaking of our selues, cleauing to God, fleeing from idolatrie, embracing the true doctrine, and that sorrowe which engendred true repentance: to the which is ioyned mercie and compassion towards our brethren: also wisdom, to put difference betwixt the simplicitie of the Gospel, and the arrogancie of the false preachers, who vnder pretence of preaching the trueth, sought onely to fill their bellies, where as he contrariwise, sought them, and not their goods, as those ambitious persones slandered him: wherefore at his comming he menaceth suche as rebell against his autoritie, that he wil declare by liuelie example, that he is the faithfull ambassadour of Iesus Christ.

CHAP. I.

He declareth the great profite that cometh to the faithfull by their afflictions. 15. 17 And because they shulde not impute to lightnes, that he differed his comming contrary to his promes, he proueth his constancie, bothe by the sinceritie of his preaching, and also by the immutable trueth of the Gospel. 21 Which trueth is grounded on Christ, and sealed in our hearts by the holie Goss.

PAUL an Apostle of IESUS CHRIST by the wil of God, & our brother Timotheus, to the Church of God, which is at Corinthus with all the Saintes, which are in all

Achaia:
Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, & from the Lord Iesus Christ.
Blessed be God euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comforte.
Which comforteth vs in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comforte the which are in anie affliction by the comforte wherewith we our selues are comforted of God.
For as the sufferings of Christ abunden in vs, so our consolation abunden through Christ.
And whether we be afflicted, it is for your consolation and saluation, which is wrought in the induring of the same sufferings, which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and saluation.

And our hope is stedfast concerning you, in as muche as we knowe that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so shal ye be also of the consolation.

For brethren, we wolde not haue you ignorant of our affliction, which came vnto vs in Asia, how we were pressed out of measure passing strength, so that we all together doubted, euen of life.

Yea, we receiued the sentence of death in our selues, because we shulde not trust in our selues, but in God, who raiseth the dead.

Who deliuered vs from so great a death, and doeth deliuer vs: in whom we trust, that yet here after he wil deliuer vs.

So that ye labour together in prayer for vs, that for the gift bestowed vpon vs for manie, thankes may be giuen by manie persones for vs.

For our reioycing is this, the testimonie of our conscience, that in simplicitie and godlie purenes, & not in fleshlie wisdom, but by the grace of God we haue had our conuersation in the worlde, and to the end of all to you wardes.

7 And faith is not in subiection to man.

1 For we write none other things vnto
you, then y<sup>e</sup> read or els that ye acknow

to the end.

2 Euen as ye haue acknowledged vs partly
ly, that we are your reioicing, euen as ye
are ours, in the day of our Lord Iesus.

3 And in this confidence was I minded
first to come vnto you, that ye might haue
had a double grace,

4 And to passe by you into Macedonia, &
to come againe out of Macedonia vnto
you, and to be led forthe towarde Iudea
of you.

5 When I therefore was thus minded, did
I vse lightnes? or minde I those things which I minde, according to y<sup>e</sup> flesh, that I me shulde be, y<sup>e</sup> Yea, yea, and Nay, nay?

6 Yea, y<sup>e</sup> God is faithful, that our worde towards you was not Yea, and Nay.

7 For the Sonne of God Iesus Christ who was preached among you by vs, that is by me, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, was not Yea, and Nay: but in him it was y<sup>e</sup> Yea.

8 For all the promises of God in him are y<sup>e</sup> Yea, and are in him Amen, vnto the glo
rie of God through vs.

9 And it is God which stablisheth vs with you in Christ, and hath anointed vs.

10 Who hath also sealed vs, & hath giue
the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

11 Now, I call God for a recorde vnto my soule, that to spare you, I came not as yet
vnto Corinthus.

12 Not that we haue dominion over your faith, but we are helpers of your ioye: for
by y<sup>e</sup> faith ye stande.

13 For we haue authority to alter true religio, or to binde your consciences: but that I am Gods minister to confirme and comfort you.

CHAP. II.

He sheweth his loue towards them, 7 Requiring like wise that they wolde be favorable to the incessant
adulterer, seeing he did repent. 14 He also reioyceth
in God for the efficacy of his doctrine, 17 Confusing thereby suche quarrelpikers, as vnder pretence of speak ing against his persone, sought nothing, but the en
uies of his doctrine.

18 Vt I determined thus in my self, that I wolde not come againe to you in
heauines.

19 For if I make you sorie, who is he then that shulde make me glad, but the same which is made sorie by me?

20 And I wrote this same thing vnto you, left when I came, I shulde take heauines of them, of whome I ought to reioyce: this confidence haue I in you all, that my ioye
is the ioye of you all.

21 For in great affliction, and anguish of heart I wrote vnto you with many teares:
not that ye shulde be made sorie, but that ye might perceiue the loue which I haue, specially vnto you.

22 And if any hath caused sorow, the same

hath not made me sorie, but partly (left)
I shulde more charge him) you all.

23 It is sufficient vnto the same man, that he was rebuked of manie.

24 So that new contrarie wise ye ought ra ther to forgive him, and to comfort him left the same shulde be swallowed vp with ouer muche heauines.

25 Wherefore, I praye you, that you wolde
confirm your loue towards him.

26 For this cause also did I write, y<sup>e</sup> I might knowe the profe of you, whether ye wolde
be obedient in all things.

27 To whome ye forgive anie thing, I for give also: for verely if I forgave anie thing,
to whome I forgave it, for your sakes forga
ue it in the sight of Christ,

28 Left Satan shulde circumvent vs: for
we are not ignorant of his enterprises.

29 Furthermore, when I came to Troas
to preach the Christi Gospel, & a dore was ope ned vnto me of the Lord,

30 I had no rest in my spirit, because I soue
de not Titus my brother, but toke my lea
ue of the, and went away into Macedonia.

31 Now thanks be vnto God which al
wayes maketh vs to triumph in Christ,
and maketh manifest the fauour of his knowledge by vs in euerie place.

32 For we are vnto God the sweete fauour
of Christ, in them that are saved, and in them
which perish.

33 To the one we are the fauour of death,
vnto death; and to the other the fauour of life, vnto life, and who is sufficient for these things?

34 For we are not as manie, which make merchandise of the worde of God: but as of sinceritie, but as of God in the sight of God speake we in Christ.

35 mightly by vs he maketh vs partakers of his victorie and triumph. 1 The preaching of the crosse bringeth death to them which onely consider Christ death as a comune death, & be thereto affected, or els they thinke it folle: & bringeth again life to the who in his death beholde the life. In that it is prechi for gain, & corrupt it to ferue mens affections. 2 Whereby Christ, in y<sup>e</sup> flesh

CHAP. III.

He taketh for example the faith of the Corinthians for a probation of the truth which he preached. 6 And to exalte his Apostleship against the bragges of the false apostles. 7. 13 He maketh comparison betwixt
the Law and the Gospel.

1 DO we begine to praise our selues a

3 Not

5 Not that we are sufficient of our selues, to thinke anie thing, as of our selues: but
our sufficiencie of God.
6 Who also hath made vs able ministers of the New testament, not of the letter
but of the Spirit: for the letter killeth, but the Spirit giueth life.
7 If then the ministratiō of death written in letters & ingraued in stones, was glorious so y the childre of Israel coulde not beholde
the face of Moses for the glorie of his countenance (which glorie is done away)
8 How shal not the ministratiō of the Spirit be more glorious?
9 For if the ministerie of cōdēnatiō was glorious, much more doeth the ministrati-
ō of righteousnes excede in glorie.
10 For euen that which was glorified, was not glorified in this point, that it, as touching the exceeding glorie.
11 For if that which shulde be abolished,
was glorious, much more shal that which remaineth, be glorious.
12 Seeing then that we haue such trust, we vise a great boldenes of speache.
13 *And we are not as Moses, which put a vaile vpon his face, that the children of Israel shulde not looke vnto the end of that which shulde be abolished.
14 Therefore their mindes are hardened:
for vntil this day remaineth the same couuering vtaken away in the reading of the Olde testament, which vaile in Christ
is put away.
15 But euen vnto this day, when Moses is red, the vaile is layed ouer their hearts.
16 Neuertheles when their heart shalbe turned to the Lord, the vaile shalbe taken away.
17 Now the Lord is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is libertie.
18 But we all beholde as in a mirrour
the glorie of the Lord with open face, and are changed into the same image, from glorie to glorie, as by the Spirit of the Lord.

CHAP. IIII.

He declareth his diligence, and roundness in his office.
And that which his enemies take for his disaduan-tage, to wit, the crosse and afflictions which he endured, he turned it to his great aduantage. 11. 17 Shew-ing what profit cometh thereby.
Therefore, seeing that we haue this mi-
nisterie, as we haue receiued mercie,
we faint not:
2 But haue cast from vs the clokes of shame
& walke not in craftines, neither handle we the worde of God deceitfully: but in declaration of the truth we approue
our selues to euerie mans conscience in the sight of God.
3 If our Gospel be then hid, it is hid to the,
that are lost.

4 In whome the god of this worlde hath blinded the mindes, that is, of the infidels,
that the light of the glorious Gospel of Christ, which is the image of God, shul-
de not shine vnto them.
5 For we preache not our selues, but Christ
Iesus the Lord, and our selues your seruants
for Iesus sake.
6 For God that commanded the light to shine out of darkenes, who which hath shined in our hearts, to giue the light of the knowledge of the glorie of God in the face of Iesus Christ.
7 But we haue this treasure in earthe vessels, y the excellencie of that power might be of God and not of vs.
8 We are afflicted on euerie side, yet are we not in distresse: in pouertrie, but not ouer-
come of pouertrie.
9 We are persecuted, but not forsaken: cast
downe, but we perish not.
10 Euerie where we beare about in our bodie the dying of the Lord Iesus, that the life of Iesus might also be made manifest
in our bodies.
11 For we which liue, are alwayes deliue-
red vnto death for Iesus sake, that the life
also of Iesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh.
12 So then death worketh in vs, and life
in you.
13 And because we haue the same Spirit
of faith, according as it is written, *I beleued, & therefore haue I spoken, we also beleue, and therefore speake, 14 Knowing that he which hath raised vp
the Lord Iesus, shal raise vs vp also by Iesus, and shal set vs with you.
15 For all things are for your sakes that moste plenteous grace by the thankesgi-
uing of our manie may redoude to the praise of God.
16 Therefore we faint not, but thogh our outward man perish, yet the inward
man is renewed daily.
17 For our light affliction which is but for a moment, causeth vnto vs a farre moste excellent & an eternal waight of glorie:
18 While we loke not on the things which are sene, but on the things, which are not sene: for the things which are sene, are temporal: but the things which are not sene,
are eternal.

For this infinite benefice of deliuerance, but also you all, which are bothe
partakers of mine affliction and comforte, may abundantly see, for his glo-

Reul. 21. 15.

As the onely faithful do in Christ. p According to the estimation of the world, but as he is guided by the Spirit of God. q We do not esteeme, nor commend Christ him self down, as he was an excellent man; but as he was the Sonne of God, partaker of his glorie, and in whome God dwelled corporally; and do you thinke, that I will flatter my self or anie man in setting forth his gifts? Yea, when I praise my ministerie, I comende the power of God: when I comende our worthin fastes, I praise the mightie power of God, set forth by vs wormes and wretches. r Let him be regenerat, and renouance him self, els all the rest is nothing.

For we knowe that if our earthlie house of this tabernacle be destroyed, we haue a buylding giuen of God, that is, an house not made with hands, but eternal in the heauens.

For therefore we sigh, desiring to be clothed with our house, which is fro heauen.

"Because that if we be clothed, we shal not be founde naked.

For in dede we that are in this tabernacle, sigh and are burdened, because we wolde not be vnclorhed, but wolde be clothed vpon, that mortalitie might be swallowed vp of life.

And he that hath created vs for this thing, O God, who also hath giuen vnto vs the earnest of the Spirit.

Therefore we are alway bold, though we knowe that whiles we are at home in the bodie, we are absent from the Lord.

(For we walke by faith, & not by sight)

Neuertheles, we are bolde, & loue rather to remoue out of the bodie, and to dwell with the Lord.

Wherefore also we couet, that bothe dwelling at home, and remouing from home, we may be acceptable to him.

*For we must all appeare before the iudgemēt seat of Christ, that euerie man may receiue the things which are done in his bodie, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or euil.

Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men, & we are made manifest vnto God, & I trust also that we are made manifest in your consciences.

For we praise not our selues againe vnto you, but giue you an occasion to reioyce of vs, that ye may haue to answer against them, which reioyce in the face, and not in the heart.

For whether we be out of our wit, we are it to God: or whether we be in our right minde, we are it vnto you.

For the loue of Christ constraineth vs: because we thus iudge, that if one be dead for all, then were all dead,

And he dyed for all, that they which liue, shulde not hence forth liue vnto the selues, but vnto him which dyed for the, and rose againe.

Wherefore, hence forth the know we no mā pasther the flesh, yea though we had known Christ after the flesh, yet now hence forth we know we him no more.

Therefore if anie man be in Christ, let him be a new creature. *Olde things are passed away: beholde, all things are become new.

And all things are of God, which hath reconciled vs vnto him self by Iesus Christ, and hath giuen vnto vs the ministerie of reconciliation.

For God was in Christ, and reconciled the worlde to him self, not imputing their sinnes vnto them, and hath committed to vs the worde of reconciliation.

Now then are we ambassadours for Christ: as though God did beseech you through vs, we praye you in Christs stede, that ye be reconciled to God.

For he hath made him to be sinne for vs, which knew no sinne; that we shulde be made the righteousnes of God in him.

CHAP. VI.

An exhortation to Christian life. 1 And to beare him like affection, as he deuerth them. 14 Also to kepe them selues from all p lusion of idolatrie bothe in bodie, and soule, and to haue none acquaintance with idolaters.

So we therefore as workers together beseeche you, that ye receiue not the grace of God in vaine.

For he saith, I haue heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of saluation haue I suckered thee: beholde now the accepted time, beholde now the daye of saluation.

We giue no occasion of offence in anie thing, that our ministerie shulde not be reprehended.

But in all things we approue our selues as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,

In stripes, in prisonnes, in tumultes, in labours,

By watchings, by fastings, by puritie, by knowledge, by long suffering, by kindness, by the holie God, by loue vnfaigned,

By the worde of truth, by the power of God, by the armour of righteousnes on the right hand and on the left,

By honour, and dishonour, by euil reporte & good reporte, as deceiuers, and yet true: As vnknown, and yet known: as dying, and beholde, we liue: as chastened, and yet not killed:

As forsowing, & yet alway reioycing: as poore, and yet make manie riche: as hauing nothing, and yet possessing all things.

Wherefore come out from among the, and separate your selues, saith the Lord: and touche none vnclane thing, & I wil receiue you.

And I wil be a Father vnto you, and ye shalbe my sonnes and daughters, saith the Lord almighty.

CHAP. VII.

He exhorteth them by the promises of God to kepe them selues pure, 3. 7. Assuring them of his loue, 8. 13. And doeth not excuse his seruants towards them, but reioy- ceth thereat, considering what profite came thereby, 10. Of two sortes of sorow.

Being then we haue these promises, dearely beloued, let vs cleanse our selues from all filthines of the flesh & spirit, and growe vp vnto ful holines in the feare of God.

Receiue vs: we haue done wrong to no man: we haue consumed no man: we haue defrauded no man.

I speake it not to your condemnation: for I haue said before, that ye are in our hearts, to dye and liue together.

I vse great boldenes of speache towards you: I reioyce greatly in you: I am filled with comfort, and am exceeding ioyous in all our tribulation.

For whē we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no reste, but we were troubled on euerie side, fightings without, & terrors within.

But God, that comforteth the abiekt, comforted vs at the coming of Titus:

And not by his coming onely, but also by the consolacion wherewith he was comforted of you, whē he tolde vs your great desire, your mourning, your feruent minde to mearde, so that I reioycd muche more.

For though I made you sorie with a letter, I repent not, though I did repent: for I perceiue that the same epistle made you sorie, though it were but for a season.

I now reioyce, not that ye were sorie, but that ye sorrowed to repentance: for ye sorrowed godly, so that in nothing ye were hurt by vs.

For godlie sorowe causeth repentance vnto saluacion, not to be repented of: but the worldlie sorowe causeth death.

For beholde, this thing that ye haue bene & godly sorie, what great care it hathe wrought in you: yea, what clearing of your selues: yea, what indignacion: yea, what feare: yea, how great desire: yea, what a zeale: yea, what punishment in all things ye haue shewed your selues, that ye are pure in this matter.

Wherefore, though I wrote vnto you, I did not it for his cause that had done the wrōg, nether for his cause that had the iniurie, but that our care towards you in the sight of God might appeare vnto you.

Therefore we were comforted, because ye were comforted: but rather we reioycd muche more for the ioy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all.

For if I haue boasted anie thig to him of you, I haue not bene ashamed: but as I haue spoken vnto you all things in truerh, euen for our boasting vnto Titus was true.

And his inwarde affection is more abundant towards you, when he remembreth the obedience of you all, and how with feare & trembling ye receiued him.

I reioyce therefore that I may put my confidence in you in all things.

CHAP. VIII.

By the example of the Macedonians, 9. And Christ he exhorteth them to continue in relieuing the poore Saintes, commending their good beginning, 23. After he commendeth Titus and his felowes vnto them.

We do you also to wit, brethren, of the grace of God bestowed vpon the Churches of Macedonia,

Because in great tryal of affliction their ioye abounded, and their moste extreme pouertie abounded vnto their riche liberalitie.

For to their power (I beare recorde) yea, & beyonde their power, they were willing,

And praised vs with great instance that we wolde receiue the grace, & fellowship of the ministring which is towards the Saintes.

And thus they did, not as we looked for: but gaue their owne selues, first to the Lord, and after vnto vs by the wil of God,

That we shulde exhort Titus, that as he had begonne, so he wolde also accomplish the same grace among you also.

Therefore, as ye abunde in euerie thing, in faith and worde, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your loue towards vs, euen so fe that ye abide in this grace also.

This say I not by commandement, but because of the diligence of others: therefore proue I the naturalnes of your loue.

For ye knowe the grace of our Lord Iesus Christ, that he being riche, for your sakes became poore, that ye through his pouertie might be made riche.

10 And I shewe my minde herein : for this is expedient for you, w<sup>h</sup> haue begonne not to do onely, but also to wil, a yere ago.

11 Now therefore performe to do it also, that as there was a readines to wil, euē so ye may performe it of that which ye haue.

12 For if there be first a willing minde, it is accepted according to that a mā hathe, & not according to that he hathe not.

13 Nether wit that other men shulde be eased and you grieved.

14 But vpon like condicion, at this time your abundance supplieth their lacke, that also their abundance may be for your lacke, that there may be equalitie:

15 As it is written, *He that gathered much, had nothing ouer, and he that gathered little, had not the lesse.

16 And thanks be vnto God, which hathe put in the heart of Titus the same care for you.

17 Because he accepted the exhortacion, yea, he was so careful that of his owne accord he went vnto you.

18 And we haue sent also with him the brother, whose praise is in y<sup>e</sup> Gospel throughout all the Churches,

19 (And not so onely, but is also chosen of the Churches to be a felowe in our iourney concerning this grace that is ministred by vs vnto the glorie of the same Lord, and declaration of your prōpt minde)

20 Auoyding this, that no man shulde blame vs in this abundance that is ministred by vs,

21 *Providing for honest things, not onely before the Lord, but also before men.

22 And we haue sent with the our brother, whome we haue oft times proued to be diligent in manie things, but now muche more diligent, for the great confidence, which I haue in you.

23 Whether anie do enquire of Titus, he is my felowe and helper to youwarde: or of our brethren, they are messengers of the Churches, & the glorie of Christs.

24 Wherefore shewe towards them, & before the Churches the proue of your loue, and of the reioycing that we haue of you.

CHAP. IX.

The cause of Titus and his companions comming to the. 6 He exhorteth to giue almes cherefully. 7 Shewing what frute wil come thereof.

For as touching the ministring to the Saintes, it is superfluous for me to write vnto you.

For I knowe your readines of minde, whereof I boast my self of you vnto them of Macedonia, & say, that Achaia was prepared a yere ago, and your zeale hathe prouoked manie.

Now haue I sent the brethren, lest our reioycing ouer you shulde be in vaine in this behalfe, that ye (as I haue said) be readie:

4 Lest if thei of Macedonia come with me, and finde you vnprepared, we (I nede not to say, you) shulde be ashamed in this my constant boasting.

5 Wherefore, I thought it necessarie to exhort the brethren to come before vnto you, and to finish your beneuolence appointed afore, that it might be readie, and come as of beneuolence, and not as of sparing.

6 This yet remember, that he which soweth sparingly, shall reape also sparingly, and he that soweth liberally, shall reape also liberally.

7 As euerie man wisheth in his heart, so let him giue, not *grudgingly, or of necessitie: for God looueth a chereful giuer.

8 And God is able to make all grace to abound towards you, that ye alwaies hauing all sufficiencie in all things, may abound in euery good worke,

9 *As it is written, c He hathe spared a broad and hathe giuen to the poore: his beneuolence remaineth for euer.

10 Also he that findeth seede to the sower, wil minister likewise bread for foode, and multiplye your sede, and increase the frutes of your beneuolence,

11 That on all partes ye may be made rich vnto all liberalitie, w<sup>h</sup> causeth through vs thanksgiuing vnto God.

12 For the ministracion of this seruice not onely supplieth the necessities of y<sup>e</sup> Saintes, but also is abundant by the thanksgiuing of manie vnto God,

13 (Which by the experimēte of this ministracion praise God for your voluntarie submission to the Gospel of Christs, and for your liberal distribution to them, and to all men)

14 And by their praiser for you, desiring after you greatly, for the abundant grace of God in you.

15 Thanks therefore be vnto God for his vnspokeable gift.

CHAP. X.

He toucheth the false apostles and defendeth his autoritie, exhorting them to obedience. 11 And sheweth what his power is. 13 And how he useth it.

Now I Paul my self beseeche you by the mekenes, & gentleness of Christs, which when I am present among you, am a base, but am bolde towards you being absent:

2 And this I require you, that I nede not to be bolde when I am present, with that same confidence, wherewith I thinke to be bolde against some, w<sup>h</sup> esteeme vs as though we walked according to the flesh.

to feare you with letters.

10 For the letters, & faith he, are fore and

and his speache is of no value.

11 Let suche one thinke this, that suche as we are in worde by letters when we are absent, suche wil we be also in dede, when we are present.

12 For we dare not make our selues of the number, or to compare our selues to the,
which praise them selues: but they vnder-
stand not that they measure them selues
with them selues, & compare them selues
with them selues.

13 But we wil not reioyce of things, which are not within our measure, * but according to the measure of the line, whereof God hath distributed vnto vs a measure to arteine euen vnto you.

14 For we stretch not our selues beyonde
our measure, as thogh we had not attained
vnto you: for euen to you also haue we come in preaching the Gospel of Christ,

15 Not boasting of thigs which are without
our measure: that is, of other mens labours:
and we hope, when your faith shal increase, to be magnified by you according to our line abundantly,

16 And to preach the Gospel in those regions which are beyode you: not to reioyce
in fanother mans line, that is in the things that are prepared already.

17 * But let him that reioyeth, reioyce in
the Lord.

18 For he that praiseth him self is not allowed, but he whome the Lord praiseth.

CHAP. XI.

He declareth his affliction towards them. 5 The encellence of his ministerie, 9 And his diligence in the same. 13 The fetches of the false apostles. 16 The peruers iudgement of the Corinthians. 22 And his owne praiset.

W Olde to God, ye colde suffer a litle my foolishnes, and in deed,
bye suffer me.

For I am ielous ouer you, with godlie ie-loufise: for I haue prepared you for one houf band, to present you as a pure virgine
to Christ:

But I feare lest as the * serpent beguiled
Eue through his subtiltie, so your mindes
shulde be corrupte from the simplicitie
that is in Christ.

For if he that cometh, preacheth another Iesus then him whome we haue preached: or if ye receiue another spirit then that which ye haue receiued: ether another Gospel; then that ye haue receiued,
ye might wel haue suffered him.

Verely I suppose that I was not inferior to the verie chief Apostles.

And thogh I be rude in speaking, yet I am not so in knowledg, but amōg you we haue bene made manifeste to the vtmost,
in all things.

Haue I committed an offence, because I abased my self, that ye might be exalted, & because I preached to you the Gospel of God fiely?

I robbed other Churches, and toke wages of them to do you seruiue.

And when I was present with you, and had ned, I was not slothful to the hinde-rance of anie man: for that which was lacking vnto me, the brethren which came fro Macedonia, supplied, and in all things
I kept and wilkepe my self that I shulde
not be grieuous to you.

* The truerh of Christ is in me, that this reioyng shal not be shut vp against me
in the regions of Achaia.

Wherefore because I loue you not? God knoweth.

But what I do, that wil I do: that I may cut away occasion from them which desire occasion, that they might be founde like
vnto vs in that where in they reioyce.

For suche false apostles are deceitful workers, and transforme them selues into the Apostles of Christ.

And no marueile: for Satan him self is transformed into an Angel of light.

Therefore it is no great thing, thogh
his ministers transforme them selues, as thogh they were the ministers of righteoufnes, whose end shalbe according to their workes.

I say againe, let no mā thinke, that I am foolish: or els take me euē as a foolie, that I also may boast my self a litle.

That I speake, I speake it not after the Lord: but as it were foolishly, in this my

5 Of ſuche a man wil I reioyce: of my ſelf

10 Therefore I take pleaſure in inſimi-

11 I was a foole to boalt my ſelf: ye haue

CHAP. XIII.

1 He threateneth the obstinate, 3 And declareth
what his power is by their owne testimonie. 10 Al so he sheweth what is the effect of this epistle. 11 After haue exhorted them to their dutie, he wisheth them
all prosperitie.

1 This is the * thirde time y I come vn-

2 I tolde you before, and tel you before:
as thogh I had bene present the seconde

which heretofore haue sinned, and to all others, that if I come againe, I wil not that speaketh in me, which towarde you

power of God. And we no dout are weake

the power of God towarde you.

5 Proue your selues whether ye are in the faith: examine your selues: knowe ye not your owne selues, how that Iesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates?

6 But I trust that ye shal knowe that we are not reprobates.

7 Now I pray vnto God y ye do none euil,
not that we shulde seme approued, but y
ye shulde do that which is honest: thogh
we be as * reprobates.

trueth, but for the trueth.

9 For we are glad when we are weake, and that ye are strong: this also we wish for euen your perfection.

10 Therefore write I these things being absent, lest when I am present, I shulde vse sharpenes, according to the power which the Lord hathe giuen me, to edification,
and not to destruction.

11 Finally brethren, fare ye wel: be perfit:
be of good comfort: be of one minde: liue

shalbe with you.

The seconde epistle to the Corinthians,
written fro Philippi, a citie in Macedonia, & sent by Titus and Lucas.

THE EPISTLE OF
the Apostle Paul to the Galatians.

THE ARGUMENT.

THE Galatians after they had bene instructed by S. Paul in the trueth of the Gospel gave place to false Apostles, who entring in, in his absence corrupted the pure doctrine of Christ, & taught that the ceremonies of the Law must be necessarily obserued, which thing the Apostle so earnestly reasoneth against, that he prometh that the granting thereof is the overthrowe of mans saluacion purchass'd by Christ: for thereby the light of the Gospel is obscured: the conscience burdened: the testaments confounded: mans iustice established. And because the false teachers did pretend, as thogh they had bene sent of the chief Apostles, and that Paul had no autoritie, but spake of him self, he prometh bothe that he is an Apostle ordeined by God, and also that he is not inferior to the rest of the Apostles: which thing established, he procedeth to his purpose, proving that we are frely iustified before God without any workes or ceremonies: which notwithstanding in their time had their vse
and commoditie: but now they are not onely vnaprofitable figures, but also pernicious, because Christ
the trueth and the end thereof is come: wherefore men ought now to embrace that libertie, which Christ hath purchass'd by his blood, & not to haue their consciences snared in the greenes of mans traditions finally he sheweth wherein this libertie standeth, and what exercises apperteyne there-

An Angel from heauen. To the Galatians. Paules constancie.

CHAP. I.

Paul rebuketh their inconstancie which suffered them selues to be seduced by the false apostles who preached that the obseruation of the ceremonies of the Law were necessarie to saluation, 8 And detesteth them that preache anie otherwise then Christ purely. 13 He sheweth his owne conuersation, magnifying his office & Apostleship, and declareth him self to be equal with the chief Apostles.

Paul an Apostle (not of men, nether by mā, but by IESVS CHRIST, and God the Father who hath raised him from the dead)

And all the brethren who are with me, vnto y Churches of Galatia: Grace be with you and peace from God the Father, & from our Lord Iesus Christ, Which gaue him self for our sinnes, that he might deliuer vs from this present euil worlde according to the wil of God euen our Father,

To whome be glorie for euer and euer, Amen.

I marueile that ye are so sone remoued away vnto another Gospel, from him that had called you in the grace of Iesus Christ,

Which is not another gospel, saue y there be some which trouble you, and intend to peruert the Gospel of Christ.

But thogh that we, or an Angel from heauen preache vnto you other wise, the that which we haue preached vnto you, let him be accursed.

As we said before, so say I now againe, If anie man preache vnto you otherwise, the y ye haue receiued, let him be accursed.

For s now preache I mans doctrine, or Gods? or go I about to please men? for if I shulde yet please men, I were not the seruant of Christ.

* Now I certifie you, brethren, that the Gospel which was preached of me, was not after man.

For nether receiued I it of man, nether was I taught it, but by the reuelation of Iesus Christ.

For ye haue heard of my conuersation in time paste, in the Iewish religiō, how that I persecuted the Church of God extremely, and wasted it,

And profited in the Iewish religiō aboute manie of my companions of mine own nation, and was much more zealous of y traditions of my fathers.

But when it pleased God (which had separated me from my mothers wombe, and called me by his grace)

To reueile his Sonne in me, that I shulde preache him among the Gentiles, immediately I communicated not with flesh and blood:

Nether came I againe to Ierusalem to them which were Apostles before me, but I went into Arabia, & turned againe vnto Damascus.

Then after thre yeres I came againe to Ierusalem to visite Peter, and abode with him fiftene dayes.

And none other of the Apostles sawe I, saue Iames the Lords brother.

Now the things which I write vnto you, beholde, I wriue before God, that I lie not.

After that, I went into the coastes of Syria & Cilicia: for I was vnknown by face vnto the Churches of Iudea, which were in Christ.

But they had heard onely some say, He who persecuted vs in time past, now preacheth the faith, which before he destroyed.

And they glorified God for me.

CHAP. II.

Confirming his Apostleship to be of God, 3 He sheweth why Titus was not circumcised. 6 And that he is nothing inferior to other Apostles: 11 Yea, and that he hath reprobated Peter the Apostle of the Iewes. 16 After he cometh to the principal scope, which is to proue that iustification only cometh of the grace of God by faith in Iesus Christ, and not by the workes of the Lawe.

Then fourtene yeres after, I went vp againe to Ierusalem with Barnabas, and toke with me Titus also.

And I went vp by reuelation, and communicated with the of the Gospel which I preache among the Gentiles, but particularly with them that were the chief, lest by any meanes I shulde runne, or had runne in vaine:

But nether yet Titus which was with me, thogh he were a Grecian, was compelled to be circumcised

For all the false brethren that crept in: who came in priuely to spie out our libertie, which we haue in Christ Iesus, y they might bring vs into bondage.

To whome we gaue not place by subiection for an houre, that the truth of the Gospel might continue with you.

And of them which seemed to be great, I was not taught (what they were in time past, it maketh no matter to me: God accepteth no mans persone) neuer theles, they are the chief, did communicate nothing with me.

But contrariwise, when they sawe that the Gospel ouer the vncircumcision was committed vnto me, as the Gospel ouer the Circumcision was vnto Peter:

(For he that was mightie by Peter in the Apostleship ouer the Circumcised, was also mightie by me towards the Gentiles)

And when Iames, and Cephas, and John knewe of the grace that was giuen vnto me, & are counted to be pillars, thei gaue

I withstode him sto his face: for he was to 12 For before that certeine came from Iam-bes, he ate with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrewe & separated him self, fearing them which were of the Circumcision.

13 And the other Iewes dissembled likewise with him, in someche that Barnabas was brought into their dissimulation also.

14 But when I sawe, that they went not the right way to the trueness of the Gospel, I said vnto Peter before all men, If y being a Iewe, liuest as the Gentiles, & not like the Iewes, why bōstraineist thou the Gentiles
to do like the Iewes?

15 We which are Iewes by nature, and not sinners of the Gentiles,

16 Knowe that a man is not iustified by the workes of the Law, but by the faith of Ie-sus Christ: euen we, I say, haue beleued in Iesus Christ, that we might be iustified by the faith of Christ, and not by the workes of the Law, because that by the workes of the Law no flesh shalbe iustified.

17 *If then while we seke to be made righteous by Christ, we our selues are founde sinners, is Christ therefore the minister of sinne? God forbid.

18 For if I buylde againe the things that I
haue destroyed, I make my self a tref-paser.

19 For I through the Law am dead to the Law, & that I might liue vnto God, I am crucified with Christ.

20 Thus I liue yet,*not I now, but Christ
liueth in me: & in that that I now liue in the flesh, I liue by the faith in the Sonne
of God, who hath loued me, & giuen him self for me.

21 I do not abrogate the grace of God: for if righteousness be by y Law, then Christ
dyed without a cause.

CHAP. III.

He rebuketh them sharply. 3 And proueth by di-uers reasons that iustification is by faith. 6 As ap-peareth by the example of Abraham. 10-19. 24. And by the office, & the end, both of the Law, 11. 25. And of faith.

O Foolish Galatiās, who hath bewit-
ned you that ye shoulde not obey the trueness, to whome Iesus Christ before was described in your sight, & among you crucified?

2 This onely wolde I learne of you, Recei-
ue of Iesus Christ, who hath bewit-
ned you that ye shoulde not obey the
trueness, to whome Iesus Christ before was described in your sight, & among you crucified?

2 This onely wolde I learne of you, Recei-
ue of Iesus Christ, who hath bewit-
ned you that ye shoulde not obey the
trueness, to whome Iesus Christ before was described in your sight, & among you crucified?

ued ye the Spirit by the workes of y Law,
or by the hearing of faith preached?

Are ye so foolish, that after ye haue begonne in the Spirit, ye wolde now be made perfit by the flesh?

4 Haue ye suffred so many things in vaine,
if so be it be euen in vaine.

5 He therefore y ministrereth to you the Spirit, & worketh miracles among you, doeth
he it through the workes of the Law, or by the hearing of faith preached?

6 Tea rather as Abraham beleued God, &
it was imputed to him for righteousness.

7 Knowe ye therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

8 For the Scripture foreseeing, y God wolde
iustifie y Gētiles through faith, preached before y Gospel vnto Abraham, saying, *In thee shal all the Gentiles be blessed.

9 So then they which be of faith, are blessed with faithful Abraham.

10 For as many as are of the workes of the Law, are vnder the curse: for it is written, *Curfed is euerie man that continueth not in all things, which are writē in the boke
of the Law, to do them.

11 And that no man is iustified by the Law
in the sight of God, it is euident: *for the iust shal liue by faith.

12 And the Law is not of faith: but *the man that shal do those things, shal liue in
them.

13 Christ hath redeemed vs from the curse of the Law, when he was made a curse
for vs (for it is written, *Curfed is euerie
one that hangereth on tre)

14 That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Christ Iesus, that we might receiue the promises of the Spirit through faith.

15 Brethren, I speake as men do, *Thogh
it be but a mans couenant when it is confirmed, yet no man doeth abrogate it, or addeth any thing thereto.

16 Now to Abraham and his sede were the promises made. He saith not, And to thy sedes, as speaking of many: but, And to thy sede, as of one, which is Christ.

17 And this I say, that the Law which was four hundredth and thirtie yeres after, can not disanul the couenant that was confirmed afore of God in respect of Christ, y
it shulde make the promises of none effect.

18 For if the inheritance be of the Law, it is no more by the promises, but God gaue
it vnto Abraham by promises.

19 Wherefore then serueth the Law? It was added because of the transgressions, til y sede came vnto y which the promises was promises, because the law is ioynd in Christ which is this blessed

CHAP. V.

2 He laboureth to drawe them away from Circumcision,
17 And sheweth them the battell betwixt the Spirit
& the flesh, and the frutes of them bothe.

STand fast therefore in the libertie
wherewith Christ hath made vs free,
and be not intangled againe with the yo-

2 * Beholde, I Paul say vnto you, that if ye be <sup>a</sup> circumcised, Christ shal profite you nothing.

3 For I testifie againe to euerie man, which is circumcised, that he is bounde to kepe
the whole Law.

4 Ye are <sup>a</sup> abolished from Christ: whosoeuer are iustified by the Law, ye are fallen from grace.

5 For we through the Spirit <sup>b</sup> waite for the hope of righteousnes through faith.

6 For in Iesus Christ nether Circumcision
auaileth anie thing, nether vncircumcision,
but faith which worketh by loue.

7 Ye did runne wel: who did let you, that ye did not obeye the <sup>c</sup> truthe?

10 I haue trust in you through the Lord,
that ye wil be none otherwise <sup>f</sup> minded:
but he that troubleth you, shal beare his

11 And brethren, if I yet preach Circum-

Then is the <sup>g</sup> sclander of the crosse abo-

12 Wolde <sup>h</sup> to God they were euen cut of,
which do disquiet you.

13 For brethren, ye haue bene called vnto
libertie: onely vse not <sup>i</sup> your libertie as an occasion vnto the flesh, but by loue serue one another.

14 For <sup>j</sup> all the Law is fulfilled in one worde, which is this: * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy self.

15 If ye byte & deuoure one another, take
hede lest ye be consumed one of another.

16 Then I say, * walke in the <sup>k</sup> Spirit, and ye shal not fulfil the lustes of the flesh.

17 For the <sup>l</sup> flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrarie one to the other, so that ye
can not do the same things that ye wolde.

Chap. V. VI. Workes of the flesh. 89

19 Moreover the workes of the flesh are as I also haue tolde you before, that they peace, long suffering, gentlenes, goodnes,

faith,

there is <sup>n</sup> no Law.

24 For they that are Christs, <sup>a</sup> haue cruci-

For if anie man seme to him self, that he

ceiueth him self in his imaginacion.

But let euerie man proue his owne wor-

him self onely and not in another.

* For euerie man shal beare his owne bur-

Let him that is taught in the worde, ma-

Be not deceived: God is not mocked: for what soeuer a man soweth, that shal he al-

For he that <sup>f</sup> soweth to his flesh, shal of the flesh reape corruptiō: but he that sow-

* Let vs not therefore be wearie of wel-

which are of the household of faith.

THE EPISTLE OF Paul to the Ephesians.

THE ARGUMENT.

While Paul was prisoner at Rome, there entred in among the Ephesians false teachers, who corrupted the true doctrine which he had taught them, by reason whereof he wrote this Epistle to confirme them in that thing, which they had learned of him. And first after his salutation, he assureth them of saluacion, because they were thereunto predestinate by the free election of God, before they were borne, and sealed up to this eternal life by the holie Ghost, given vnto them by the Gospel, the knowledge of the which mystrie he prayeth God to confirme towards them. And to the intent they shulde not glorie in them selues, he sheweth them their extreme miserie, wherein they were plunged before they knewe Christ, as people without God, Gentiles to whom the promises were not made, and yet by the free mercie of God in Christ Iesus, they were saved, and he appointed to be their Apostle, as of all other Gentiles: therefore he desireth God to lighten the Ephesians hearts with the perspicuous vnderstanding of his Sonne, & exhorteth them like wise to be mindeful of so great benefites, neither to be moued with the false apostles, which seke to ouerthrowe their faith, and treade vnder fote the Gospel, which was not preached to them, as by chance or fortune, but according to the eternal counsel of God: who by this means prestrueth onely his Church. Therefore the Apostle commendeth his ministerie, so far as much as God thereby reigneth among men, and causeth it to bring forth the most plentiful fruites, as innocencie, holines, with all suche offices appertaining to godlines. Last of all, he declareth not onely in general what ought to be the life of the Christians, but also sheweth particularly what things concerne euerie mans vocation.

CHAP. I.

After his salutation, 4 He sheweth that the chief cause of their saluacion standeth in the free election of God through Christ. 16 He declareth his good will towards them, giuing thanks and praying God for their faith.

Paul an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by y wil of God, to the Saintes, which are at Ephesus, & to the faithful in Christ Iesus: Grace be with you, & peace fro God our Father, & from the Lord Iesus Christ.

the Father of glorie, might giue vnto you
the Spirit of wisdome, and reuelation

18 That y<sup>e</sup> eyes of your vnderstanding may be lightened that ye may knowe what the hope is of his calling, and what the rich-

all things to be the head of the Church,

23 Which is his bodie, <sup>even</sup> the <sup>fullnes</sup> of him that filleth all in all things.

CHAP. II.

To magnifie the grace of Christ, which is the onlie
cause of saluation, 11 He sheweth them what manner of people they were before their conuersion. 18 And what they are now in Christ.

And you haue he quickened, that were dead in trespasses and finnes,

Wherein, in time past ye walked, according to the course of this worlde, & after the <sup>prince</sup> that ruleth in the aire, <sup>even</sup>
the spirit, that now worketh in the childre
of disobedience,

Among whome we also had our cōuersation in time past, in the lustes of our flesh,
in fulfilling the wil of the flesh, & of the minde, and were <sup>b</sup> by nature the children
of wrath, as well as others.

But God which is riche i<sup>n</sup> mercie, through his great loue wherewith he loued vs,

5 Euen when we were dead by finnes, hath quickened vs together <sup>i</sup>n Christ, by whose grace ye are saued,

6 And hath <sup>d</sup> raised vs vp together, and made vs sit together in the heauenlie places in Christ Iesus,

7 That he might shew in the ages to come
the exceeding riches of his grace, through his kindnes toward vs in Christ Iesus.

8 For by grace are ye saued through faith,
and that not of your selues: it is the gifte

of God,

9 Not of workes, lest any man shulde boa-
ste him self.

10 For we are <sup>h</sup>is workmanship created in Christ Iesus vnto good workes, which God hath ordeined, that we shulde wal-ke in them.

11 Wherefore remember that ye being in time past Gentiles in the flesh, & called * vncircumcision of them, which are called circumcision in the flesh, made with hands,

12 That ye were, I say, at y<sup>e</sup> time without Christ, & were aliens from the cōmune-welth of Israel, & were <sup>h</sup> strangers frō the scouenants of promes, & had no <sup>h</sup> hope, &
were <sup>h</sup> without God in the worlde.

13 But now in Christ Iesus, ye which once were farre of, are made nere by the blood
of Christ.

14 For he is our peace, which hath made of bothe one, & hath broken the <sup>i</sup> stoppe
of the partition wall,

15 In abrogating through his <sup>h</sup> flesh the hatred, that <sup>is</sup> the Law of commandments which standeth in ordinances, for to make of twaine one newe man in him self, so making peace,

16 And that he might reconcile bothe vn-
to God in one <sup>b</sup>odie by his <sup>h</sup> crosse, & slaye hatred thereby,

17 And came, and preached peace to you were a farre of, & to them that were nere.

18 * For through him we bothe haue an entrance vnto the Father by one Spirit.

19 Now therefore ye are no more strangers
& foreiners: but citizens with the Saintes,
and of the housholde of God,

20 And are buylt vpō the fundacion of the Apostles and Prophetes, Iesus Christ him self being the chief corner stone,

21 In whome all the buylding coupled together, groweth vnto an holic Temple in
the Lord,

22 In whome ye also are buylt together to be the habitation of God by the Spirit.

CHAP. III.

He sheweth the cause of his imprisonment: 13 Desireth them not to saue because of his trouble, 14 And prayeth God to make them stedfast in his Spirit.

For this cause, I Paul am the <sup>h</sup> prisoner of Iesus Christ for you Gentiles,

2 If ye haue heard of the <sup>b</sup> dispensation of the grace of God, which is giuen me to you warde,

3 That <sup>is</sup> that God by reuelatiō hath shewed
this mystrie vnto me (as I wrote <sup>aboue</sup>

by Iesus Christ,

wisdom of God,

13 Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulations for your sakes, which is your glorie.

14 For this cause I bowe my knees vnto the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ,

15 (Of whome is named the whole & familie
in heaven and in earth)

16 That he might grante you according to the riches of his glorie, ye may be strengthened by his Spirit in the inner man,

17 That Christ may dwell in your hearts
by faith, that ye, being rooted and grounded in loue,

18 May be able to cōprehend with all Sain-tes, what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height:

19 And to knowe the loue of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye may be filled with all fulnes of God.

20 *Vnto him therefore that is able to do exceeding abundantly aboue all that we aske or thinke, according to the power y
worketh in vs,

21 Be praise in the Church by Christ Iesus,
throughout all generatiōs for euer, Amen.

CHAP. III.

*He exhorteth them vnto meeknes, long suffering, vnto
loue and peace, 3 Euerie one to serue and edifie another with the gift that God hath given him, 14 To beware of strange doctrine. 22 To lay aside the olde
conuersation of grieidie lusts, and to walke in a newe
life.*

1 *Therefore, beig prisoner in * Lord,
I praye you that ye walke worthe of the vocation whereunto ye are called,

2 With all humblenes of minde, and me-kenes, with long suffering, supporting one another through loue, Endeavouring to keepe the vnitie of the Spirit in the bonde of peace.

3 There is one bodie, and one Spirit, euen as ye are called in one hope of your vocation.

4 There is one Lord, one Faith, one Baptis-
me,

5 *One God & Father of all, which is aboue
all, and through all, & in you all.

6 *But vnto euerie one of vs is given grace, according to the measure of the gift
of Christ.

7 Wherefore he saith, *When he ascended vp on hie, he led captiuitie captiue, and gave giftes vnto men.

8 (Now, in that he ascended, what is it but that he had also descended first into the lowest partes of the earth?

9 He that descended, is euen the same that ascended, farre aboue all heauens, that he might fill all things)

10 *He therefore gave some to the Apostles,
and some Prophets, & some Euāgelistes,
and some Pastours, and Teachers,

11 For the gathering together of the Sain-tes, for the worke of the ministerie, and for the edificatiō of the bodie of Christ,

12 Til we all mete together (in the vnitie of faith & knowledge of the Sonne of God)
vnto a perfect man, & vnto the measure of the age of the fulnes of Christ,

13 That we hence forth be no more children, waucring & caryed about with eue-
rie winde of doctrine, by the deceit of mē,
and with craftines, whereby they laye in waite to deceiue.

14 But let vs followe the truth in loue, and in all things growe vp into him, which is the head, which is Christ,

15 By whome all the bodie being coupled an knit together by euerie ioynt, for the furniture thereof (according to the effectual power, which is in the measure of e-uerie parte) receiveth increase of y bodie,
vnto the edifying of it self in loue.

16 This I say therefore and testifie in the Lord, that ye henceforth walke not as other Gentiles walke, in vanitie of their minde,

17 Having their cogitation darkened, and being strangers from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the hardenes of their heart:

28 Let him that ſtole, ſteale no more: but let him rather labour and worke with his hands the thing which is good, that he may haue to giue vnto him that needeth.

29 *Let no corrupt communication procede out of your mouths: but that which is good, to the vſe of edifying, that it may miniſter grace vnto the hearers.

30 And grieue not the holie Spirit of God by whome ye are ſealed vnto the day of redemption.

31 Let all bitterneſs, and angre, and wrath, crying, and euil ſpeaking be put away fro you, with all maliciousnes.

32 *Be ye courteous one to another, & tender hearted, forgiving one another, euen as God for Chriſts ſake forgaued you.

light in the Lord: walke as children of light,

9 (For the frute of the Spirit is in all goodnes, and righteouſnes, and trueth)

10 Approving that which is pleaſing to the Lord.

11 And haue no fellowſhip with y vnfruteful workes of darkenes, but euen reprove them rather.

12 For it is ſhame eue to ſpeake of y things, which are done of them in ſecret.

13 But all things when they are reprove of the light, are maniſeſt: for it is light that maketh all things maniſeſt.

14 Wherefore he ſaith, Awake thou that ſleepeſt, & ſtand vp from the dead, & Chriſt ſhal giue thee light.

15 Take hede therefore that ye walke circumspectly, not as fooles, but as wiſe,

16 Redeming the time: for the dayes are euil.

17 *Wherefore, be ye not vnwiſe, but vnderſtand what the wil of the Lord is.

18 And be not drunke with wine, wherein is exceſſe: but be fulfilled with the Spirit,

19 Speaking vnto your ſelues in psalmes, and hymnes, and ſpiritual ſongs, ſinging, and making melodie to the Lord in your hearts,

20 Giuing thakes alwaie for all things vnto God euen the Father, in the Name of our Lord Ieſus Chriſt, 21 Submitting your ſelues one to another in the feare of God.

22 *Wiues, ſubmit your ſelues vnto your houſbands, as vnto the Lord.

23 *For the houſband is the wiues head, eue as Chriſt is the head of the Church, & the ſame is the ſauour of his bodie.

24 Therefore as the Church is in ſubiectio to Chriſt, euen ſo let the wiues be to their houſbands in euerie thing.

25 *Houſbands, loue your wiues, euen as Chriſt loued the Church, & gaued him ſelf for it,

26 That he might ſanctifie it, & cleſe it by the waſhing of water through y worde,

27 That he might make it vnto him ſelf a glorious Church, not hauing ſpot or wrinkle, or anie ſuche thing: but that it ſhulde be holie and without blame.

28 So ought men to loue their wiues, as their owne bodies: he that loueth his wife, loueth him ſelf.

29 For no man euer yet hated his owne fleſh, but nouriſheth & cheriſheth it, eue as the Lord doeth the Church.

30 For we are members of his bodie, of his fleſh, and of his bones.

THE ARGUMENT.

can not reach him, but he must be resisted by Gods grace.

Paul being warned by the holie Ghost to go to Macedonia, planted first a Church at Philippi a cite of the same countrey: but because his charge was to preach the Gospel universally to all the Gentiles, he travailed from place to place, til at the length he was taken prisoner at Rome, wherof the Philippians, being advertised, sent their minister Epaphroditus with relief vnto him: who declaring him the state of the Church, caused him to write this Epistle, wherein he commendeth them that they stode manfully against the false apostles, putting them in minde of his good wil towards them, and exhorteth them that his imprisonment make them not to shrinke: for the Gospel thereby was confirmed and not diminished: especially he desireth them to ste ambition, and to embrace modeſtie, promiſing to ſend Timotheus vnto them, who ſhulde inſtruct them in matters more empty yea, and that he him ſelf wolde alſo come vnto them; adding like wiſe the cauſe of their miniſters ſo long abode. And becauſe there were no greater enemies to the crosse then the falſe apoſtles, he coſteth their falſe doctrine, by prouing onely Chriſt to be the end of all true religion, with whome we haue all thing, and without whome we haue nothing, ſo that his death is our life, and his reſurreccion our iuſtification. After this followe certaine admonitions bothe particular and general, with reſtiſication of his affection towards them, and thankful accepting of their beneuolence.

PAUL & Timotheus the ſeruants of I E S U S C H R I S T, to all the Saintes in Chriſt Ieſus which are at Philippi, with the Biſhops, and Deacons:

Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, & from the Lord Ieſus Chriſt. * I thanke my God hauing you in perfect memorie,

(Alwaile in all my prayers for all you, praying with gladnes)

Because of the fellowſhip which ye haue in the Goſpel, from the firſt day vnto now.

And I am perſuaded of this ſame thing that he that hath begone this good worke in you, wil performe it vntill the day of Ieſus Chriſt,

As it becometh me ſo to iudge of you all becauſe I haue you in remembrance: that bothe in my bādes, and in my deſenſe, and confirmation of the Goſpel you all were partakers of my grace.

For God is my recorde, how I long after you all from the verie heart rote in Ieſus Chriſt.

And this I pray, that your loue may abūde, yet more and more in knowledge, and in all iudgement,

That ye may diſcerne things that differ one from another, that ye may be pure, and without offence, vntill the day of Chriſt,

Filled with the frutes of righteouſnes, which are by Ieſus Chriſt vnto the glorie and praife of God.

I wolde ye vnderſtoode, brethren, that the things which haue come vnto me, are turned rather to the furthering of the Goſpel,

So that my bādes in Chriſt are famous throughout all the iudgement hall, and in all other places,

In ſo muche that manie of the brethren in the Lord are boldned through my bādes, and dare more frankly ſpeake the worde.

15 Some preache Chriſt euē through enuie and ſtrife, and ſome alſo of good wil.

16 The one parte preacheth Chriſt of contention & not purely, ſuppoſing to adde more affliction to my bādes.

17 But the others of loue, knowing that I am ſet for the deſenſe of the Goſpel.

18 What then yet Chriſt is preached all manner wayes, whether it be vnder a pretence, or ſyncerely; and I therein ioye: yea, and wil ioye.

19 For I knowe that this ſhal turne to my ſaluation, through your prayer, & by the helpe of the Spirit of Ieſus Chriſt,

20 As I hartely loke for, and hope, that in nothing I ſhal be aſhamed, but that with all confidence, as all wayes, ſo now Chriſt ſhal be magnified in my bodie, whether it be by life or by death.

21 For Chriſt is to me bothe in life, and in death a ſauantage.

22 And whether to liue in the fleſh were profitable for me, and what to choſe I know not.

23 For I am greatly in doute on bothe ſides, deſiring to be loſed and to be with Chriſt, which is beſte of all.

24 Neuertheles, to abide in the fleſh is more nedeſul for you.

25 And this am I ſure of, that I ſhal abide, and with you all continue, for your furtherance and ioye of your faith,

26 That ye may more abundantly reioyce in Ieſus Chriſt for me, by my coming to you againe.

27 * Onely let your cōuerſation be, as it becometh Goſpel of Chriſt, that whether I come and ſee you, or els be aſent, I may heare of your matters that ye continue in one Spirit, & in one minde fighting together through the faith of the Goſpel.

28 And in nothing feare your aduerſaries, which is to them a token of perdition, & to you of ſaluation, and that of God.

29 For vnto you it is giuen for Chriſt, that not onely ye ſhulde beleue in him, but alſo ſuffer for his ſake,

30 Hauing the ſame fight, which ye ſawe in me, and now heare to be in me.

CHAP. II.

He exhorteth them aboue all things to humilitie, whereby pure doctrine is chiefly maintained, 19 Promiſing that he and Timotheus wil ſpedely come vnto them. 27 And excuſeth the long tarying of Epaphroditus.

to it, ether were alreadie perfe&: but I fol
lowe, if that I may comprehend that for whose sake also I am comprehended of Christ Iesus.
Brethren, I counte not my self, that I haue
atteined to it, but one thing I do: I forget that which is behinde, and endeouore my self vnto that which is before,
And followe hard toward the marke,
for the prise of the hie calling of God in Christ Iesus.
Let vs therefore as manie as be perfe&
be thus minded: and if ye be other wise minded, God shal reueile eue them
same vnto you.
Neuertheles, in that whereunto we are come, let vs procede by one rule, * that we may minde one thing.
Brethren, be followers of me, and loke
on them, which walke so, as ye haue vs for an ensample.
* For manie walke, of whome I haue tol
de you often, & now tell you weping, that they are the enemies of the Crosse of Christ,
Whose end is damnacion, whose God
is their belie, and whose glorie is to their shame, which minde earthlie things.
But our conuersacion is in heauen, frō
whence also we loke for the Sauour, euen
the Lord Iesus Christ,
Who shal change our vile bodie, that it may be facioned like vnto his glorious bodie, according to the working, whereby
he is able euen to subdue all things vnto
him self.

CHAP. IIII.

He exhorteth them to be of honest conuersacion, and thanketh them, because of the prouision that they made for him being in prison. 21 And so concludeth with salutations.

Therefore, my brethren, beloved and longed for, my ioy and my crowne, so continue in the Lord, ye beloved.
I pray Euodias, & beseeche Syntyche, that they be of one accorde in the Lord.
Yea, and I beseeche thee, faithful yokefe-

lowe, helpe those women, which laboured
with me in the Gospel, with Clemente al
so, and with other my felowe laborers,
whose names are in the * boke of life.
Reioyce in the Lord alway, againe I say,
reioyce.
Let your patient minde be knowne vnto
all men. The Lord is at hand.
* Be nothing careful, but in all things let your requestes be shewed vnto God in praier, and supplicacion with giuing of thankes.
And the peace of God which passeth all vnderstanding, shal preferre your hearts
and mindes in Christ Iesus.
Furthermore, brethren, whatsoeuer things
are true, whatsoeuer things are honest,
whatsoeuer things are iust, whatsoeuer
things are pure, whatsoeuer things pertaine
to loue, whatsoeuer things are of good reporte, if there be anie vertue, or if there be anie praise, thinke on these things,
Which ye haue bothe learned and recei
ued, and heard, and sene in me: those things
do, and the God of peace shalbe with you.
Now I reioyce also in the Lord greatly,
that now at the last ye are reuiued againe
to care for me, wherein notwithstanding ye were careful, but ye lacked opportu nities.
I speake not because of want: for I haue learned in whatsoeuer state I am, to be reioyce to be content.
And I can be abased, and I can abunde:
euerie where in all things I am instructed bothe to be ful, and to be hongrie, and to abunde, and to haue want.
I am able to do all things through the helpe of Christ, which strengtenth me.
Notwithstanding ye haue wel done, that ye did communicate to mine affliction.
And ye Philippians knowe also that in the beginning of the Gospel, when I de parted from Macedonia, no Church com municated with me concerning the matter
of giuing and receiuing, but ye onely.
For euen when I was in Thessalonica, ye sent once, and afterwarde againe for my necessities,
Not that I desire a gift: but I desire the
frute which may further your reckening
Now I haue receiued all, and haue plen

ceiued of Epaphroditus that which came from you, an odour that smelleth sweete, a sacrifice acceptable and pleasaunt to God.
And my God shal fulfil all your neces sities through his riches with glorie in Iesus Christ.
Vnto God euen our Father be praise for euermore, Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF Paul to the Colossians.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this Epistle S. Paul putteth difference betweene the liuelie, effectual and true Christ, and the faigned, counterfeit and imagined Christ, whome the false apostles taught. And first, he confirmeth the doctrine which Epaphras had preached, wishing them increase of faith, to esteeme the excellencie of Gods benefite towards them, teaching them also that saluation, and whatsoeuer good thing can be desired, standeth onely in Christ, whome onely we embrace by the Gospel. But forasmuche as the false brethren wolde haue mixed the Law with the Gospel, he toucheth those flatterers vehemently, and exhorteth the Colossians to staye onely on Christ, without whome all things are but mere vanitie. And as for Circumcision, abstinence from meates, external holines, worshiping of Angels as meanes whereby to come to Christ, he utterly condemneth, shewing what was the office and nature of ceremonies, which by Christ are abrogate: so that now the exercises of the Christians stande in mortification of the flesh, newenes of life, with other like offices appertaininge both generally & particularly to all the faithfull.

CHAP. I.

2 He giueth thanks vnto God for their faith. 7 Confirmeth the doctrine of Epaphras. 9 Praieth for the increase of their faith. 12 He sheweth vnto them the true Christ, and disclaime the counterfeit Christ of the false apostles. 25 He approueth his autoritie & charge, as And of his faithful executing of the same.

Paul an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the wil of God, & Timotheus our brother,

To the, which are at Colosse, Sautes & faithful brethren in Christ:

Grace be with you, & peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

3 We giue thanks to God eue the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, alwaies praying for you:

4 Since we heard of your faith <sup>b</sup> in Christ Iesus, and of your loue towards all Saintes, 5 For the hopes sake, which is layd vp for you in heauen, whereof ye haue heard before by the worde of truth, which is the Gospel,

6 Which is come vnto you, euen as it is vnto all the worlde, and is frutefull, as it is also among you, from the day that ye heard, and truey knewe the grace of God,

7 As ye also learned of Epaphras our deare felowe seruant, which is for you a faithful minister of Christ:

8 Who hath also declared vnto vs your loue, which ye haue <sup>c</sup> by the Spirit.

9 For this cause we also, since the daye we heard of it, cease not to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be fulfilled with knowledge of his wil, in all wisdom, & spiritual vnderstanding,

10 * That ye might walke worthie of the Lord, and please him in all things, being * frutefull in all good workes, and increasing in the knowledge of God,

13 Who hath deliuered vs from the power of darkenes, and hath translated vs into the kingdome * of his deare Sonne,

14 In whome we haue redemption through his blood, that is, the forgiveness of sinnes,

15 Who is the * image of the inuisible God, the first borne of euerie creature.

16 * For by him were all things created, which are in heauen, and which are in earth, things visible and inuisible: whether they be Thrones, or Dominions, or Principalities, or Powers, all things were created by him and for him,

17 And he is before all things, and in him all things consist.

18 And he is the head of the bodie of the Church: he is the beginning, * & the first borne of the dead, that in all things he might haue the preeminence.

21 And you which were in times past strangers and enemies, because your mindes were set in euil workes, hath he now also reconciled,

22 In the bodie of his flesh through death, to make you holie, and vnblameable and without faute in his sight,

23 If ye continue, grounded and stablished in the faith, and be not moued away from the hope of the Gospel, whereof ye haue heard, and which hath bene preached to euerie creature which is vnder heauē whereof I Paul am a minister.

24 Now reioyce I in my sufferings for you, and fulfil the rest of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh, for his bodies sake, which is the Church,

25 Whereof I am a minister, according to the dispensatiō of God, which is giuen me vnto youwarde, to fulfil the worde of God,

26 Which is the myserie hid since the worlde began, and from all ages, but now is made manifest to his Saintes,

27 To whome God wolde make known what is the riches of this glorious myserie among the Gentiles, w<sup>h</sup> riches is Christ in you, the hope of glorie,

28 Whome we preache, admonishing euerie man, and teaching euery man in all wisdome, that we may present euerie man perfect in Christ Iesus:

29 Whereunto I also labour and strue, according to his working which worketh in me mightely.

CHAP. II.

30 Having protested his good wil toward them. 4 He admonisheth them not to turne backe fro Christ. 8 To the seruice of angels or any other invention, or els ceremonies of the Law. 12 Which haue finished their office, and are ended in Christ.

For I wolde ye knewe what great fighting I haue for your sakes, and for the of Laodicea, and for as manie as haue not sene my persone in the flesh,

3 That their hearts might be comforted & they knit together in loue, and in all riches of the ful assurance of vnderstanding, to knowe the myserie of God euen the Father, and of Christ:

In whome are hid all the treasures of wisdome and knowledge.

4 And this I say, lest anie mā shulde beguile you with enshining wordes:

5 For thogh I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit reioycing, and beholding your ordre, and your stedfast faith in Christ.

6 As ye haue therfore receiued Christ Iesus the Lord, so walke in him,

7 Rooted and builded in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye haue bene taught, abun-

ding therein with thankes giuing.

8 Beware lest there be anie man that spoile you through philosophie, and vaine deceit, through the traditions of men, according to the rudiments of the worlde, and not after Christ.

9 For in him dwelleth all the fulnes of the Godhead bodely.

10 And ye are compleate in him, which is the head of all Principallitie and Power:

11 In whome also ye are circumcised with circumcisiō made without hāds, by putting of y<sup>e</sup> sinful bodie of the flesh, through the circumcisiō of Christ.

12 In that ye are buried with him through baptisme, in whome ye are also raised vp together through the faiths of the operation of God which raised him from the dead.

13 And ye which were dead in sinnes, and in the vncircumcisiō of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, forgioing you all your trespasses.

14 And putting out the hand writing of ordinances that was against vs, w<sup>h</sup> was contrarie to vs, he euen toke it out of the way, & fastened it vpon the crosse,

15 And hath spoiled the Principallities, and Powers, and hath made a shewe of them openly, and hath triumphed ouer them in the same crosse.

16 Let no man therefore condemne you in meat and drinke, or in respect of an holie day, or of the new moone, or of the Sabbath dayes,

17 Which are but a shaddowe of things to come: but the bodie is in Christ.

18 Let no man at his pleasure beare rule ouer you by humblenes of minde, & worshipping of Angels, aduancing him self in those things which he neuer sawe, rashly putt vp with his fleshlie minde,

19 And holdeth not the head, whereof all the bodie furnished and knit together by iointes and bandes, encreaseth with the increasing of God.

20 Wherefore if ye be dead with Christ from the ordinances of the worlde, why, as thogh ye liued in the worlde, are ye burdened with traditions?

21 As, Touche not, Taste not, Handle not,

22 Which all perish with the vsing, and are after the commandements and doctrines of men.

23 Which things haue in deed a shewe of wisdome, in voluntarie religion and humblenes of minde, and in not sparing the bodie: neither haue they it in anie estimation to satisfie the flesh.

24 And apperaine nothing to the kingdome of God. 25 But they are of a value save for the filling of the flesh. 26 Suche as men haue chosen according to their owne fantasie. 27 They pinch and constrain their bodie so to shewe them selues greater hypocrites.

The Christian life. To the Colossians. To pray & watch.

CHAP. III.

He sheweth where we shoulde seeke Christ. He exhorteth to mortification, 10 To put of the olde man and to put on Christ. 12 To the which he addeth exhortations, both general and particular to charitie & humilitie.

If ye then be risen with Christ, seeke those things which are above, where Christ sitteth at the right hand of God.

Set your affections on things which are above, and not on things which are on the earth.

For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.

When Christ which is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glorie.

Mortifie therefore your members which are on the earth, fornication, vncleannes, the inordinate affection, euil concupiscence, & couetousnes which is idolatrie.

For the which things takes the wrath of God cometh on the children of disobedience.

Wherein ye also walked once, when ye liued in them.

But now put ye away euē all these things, wrath, angre, malicioussnes, cursed speaking, filthie speaking, out of your mouth.

Lie not one to another, seeing that ye haue put of the olde man with his workes,

And haue put on the newe, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him,

Where is nether Grecian nor Iewe, circumcision nor vncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bonde, free; but Christ is all and in all things.

Now therefore as the elect of God holie & beloued, put on tender mercie, kindness, humblenes of minde, mekenes, long suffering:

Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if anie man haue a quarell to another: euen as Christ forgave you, euen so do ye.

And about all these things put on loue, which is the bonde of perfeccnes.

And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which ye are called in one bodie, and be ye amiable.

Let vs worde of Christ dwell in you plentifully in all wisdome, teaching & admonishing your owne selues, in psalmes, and hymnes, and spiritual song, singing with a grace in your hearts to the Lord.

And whatsoever ye shal do, in worde or dede, do all in the Name of the Lord Iesus, giuing thanks to God euen the Father by him.

Wiues, submit your selues vnto your husbands, as it is comelie in the Lord.

Husbands, loue your wiues, and be not bitter vnto them.

Children, obey your parentes in the Lord: for that is wel pleasing vnto the Lord.

Fathers, prouoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged.

Servants, be obedient vnto the that are your masters according to the flesh in all things, not with eye seruice as men please, but in singlenes of heart, fearing God.

And whatsoever ye do, do it heartely, as to the Lord, and not vnto men,

Knowing that of the Lord ye shal receiue the rewarde of the inheritance: for ye serue the Lord Christ.

But he that doeth wrong, shal receiue for the wrong that he hath done, & there is no respect of persones.

CHAP. IIIII.

He exhorteth them to be seruent in prayer. To walke wisely towarde them that are not yet come to the true knowledge of Christ. He saluteth them, and wisheth them all prosperitie.

Ye masters, do vnto your seruants, that which is iuste, and equal, knowing that ye also haue a master in heauen.

Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thankes giuing,

Praying also for vs, that God may open vnto vs the dore of vterance, to speake the myserie of Christ: wherefore I am also in bondes,

That I may vtter it, as it becometh me to speake.

Walke wisely towarde them that are without, and rede me the time.

Let your speache be gracious alway, and powdered with salt, that ye may knowe how to answer euerie man.

15 Salute the brethren which are of Laodicea, and Nymphas, and the Church which is in his house.

16 And when this epistle is red of you, cause that it be red in the Church of the Laodiceans also, and that ye likewise read the epistle written from Laodicea.

17 And say to Archippus, Take hede to the ministerie, that thou hast received in the Lord, that thou fulfil it.

18 The salutation by the hand of me Paul. Remember my bādes. Grace be with you, Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE of Paul to the Thessalonians.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that the Thessalonians had bene wel instructed in the faith, perfection, which perpetually followeth the preaching of the Gospel, arose, against the which although they did constantly stand, yet S<sup>r</sup> Paul (as moſt careful for them) sent Timothee to strengthen them, who ſone after admoniſhing him of their estate, gave occasion to the Apoſtle to conſirme them by diuers arguments to be conſtant in faith, & to ſuffer whatſoeuer God calleth them vnto for the teſtimonie of the Gospel, exhorting them to declare by their godlie lining the purtie of their religion. And as the Church can neuer be ſo purged, that ſome cōckle remaine not among the wheat, ſo there were among them wicked men, which by mouing vaine and curious queſtions to ouerthrowe their faith, taught falſely, as touching the point of the reſurreccion from the dead: whereof he briefly inſtructeth them what to thinke, earnestly forbidding them to ſeek curioſly to knowe the times, willing them rather to watche laſt the ſudden comming of Chriſt come vpon them at vnwares: and ſo after certeine exhortations, and his commendations to the brethren, he endeth.

CHAP. I.

1 He thanketh God for them, that they are ſo ſtedfaſt in faith & good workes, 6 And receiue the Gospel with ſuche earneſtneſs. 7 That they are an example to all others.

Paul and Siluanus, and Timotheus, vnto the Church of the Theſſalonians, which is in God the Father, and in the Lord Ieſus Chriſt: Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, & from the Lord Ieſus Chriſt.

2 * We giue God thanks alwayes for you all, making mention of you in our prayers
3 Without ceaſing, remēbring your b<sup>e</sup> effectual faith, & diligent loue & the patience of your hope in our Lord Ieſus Chriſt in the ſight of God euen our Father,
4 Knowing, beloued brethren, that ye are elect of God.
5 For our Gospel was not vnto you in word onely, but a ſo in power, and in the holie G<sup>o</sup>ſt, & in muche aſſurance, as ye knowe after what manner we were among you for your ſakes.

6 And ye became followers of vs, and of the Lord, and receiued the worde in muche aſſiction with ioye of y<sup>e</sup> holie G<sup>o</sup>ſt, for Chriſts ſake, are moſt certeine ſignes of our election.

7 So that ye were as ensamples to all that beleue in Macedonia and Achaia.

8 For from you founded our the worde of the Lord, not in Macedonia & in Achaia onely: but your faith alſo which is toward God, ſpred abroad in all quarters, that we neede not to ſpeake any thing.

9 For they them ſelues ſhewe of you what manner of entring in we had vnto you, and how ye turned to God from idoles, to ſerue the liuing and true God,

10 And to loke for his Sonne from heauen, whome he raiſed from the dead, euen Ieſus which deliuereth vs from the wrath to come.

CHAP. II.

1 To the intent they ſhoulde not ſlumber vnder the croſſe,
2 He commendeth his diligence in preaching. 13 And reſt in obeying. 18 He exhorteth him abſence, that he ceale not come and open his heart to them.

For ye your ſelues knowe, brethren, that our entrance in vnto you was not in vaine,

2 But euen after that we had ſuffered before, and were ſhamefully entreated at Philippi (as ye knowe) we were bolde in our God, to ſpeake vnto you the Gospel of God with muche ſtriving.

3 For our exhortation was not by deceit, nor by vncleannes, nor by guile.

4 But as we were allowed of God, that the

And not in the lust of concupiscence, euen as the Gentiles, which knowe not God:

\* That no man oppresse or defraude his brother in any matter: for  $\gamma$ -Lord is a venger of all such things, as we also haue tolde you before time and testified.

* For God hathe not called vs vnto vnclennes, but vnto holines.

He therefore that despiseth these things, despiseth not man, but God who hathe euen giuen* you his holie Spirit.

But astouching brotherlie loue, ye nede not  $\gamma$  I write vnto you: \*for ye are taught of God to loue one another.

Yea, & that thing verely ye do vnto all  $\gamma$  brethren, which are throughout all Macedonia: but we beseeche you, brethren, that ye increase more and more,

* And that ye studie to be quiet, and to medle with your owne busines, & to worke with your owne hands, as we commanded you,

That ye may behaue your selues honestly towarde them that are without, & that nothing be lacking vnto you:

\* I wolde not, brethren, haue you ignorant concerning the which are a slepe, that ye forsowe not euē as other  $\gamma$  haue no hope.

For if we beleue that Iesus is dead, and is risen, euē so them which slepe in  $\gamma$ -Iesus, wil God bring with him.

For this say we vnto you by the  $\gamma$ -worde of the Lord, \* that we which liue, & are remaining in the coming of the Lord, shal not preuent them which slepe.

For the Lord him self shal descend from heauē with a shoute; & with the voyce of the Archangel & * with the trumpet of God: and the dead in Christ shal rise first.

Then shal  $\gamma$  we which liue & remaine, be caught vp with them also in the cloudes, to mete the Lord in the ayer: & so shal we euē be with the Lord.

Wherefore, comfort your selues one another with these wordes.

CHAP. V.

He enformeth them of the day of iudgement & commanding of the Lord, 6 Exhorting the to watch; 12 And to regard such as  $\gamma$  preach Gods words among them.

BYe of the  $\gamma$ -times & seasons, brethren, ye haue no nede  $\gamma$  I write vnto you. For ye your selues knowe perfectly, that the  $\gamma$ -day of the Lord shal come, euē as a thefe in the night.

For when they shal say, Peace, and safetie, then shal come vpon them sudden destruction, as the  $\gamma$  trauail vpon a woman with childe, and they shal not escape.

But ye, brethren, are not in darkenes, that 2000 yere before the Lawe, 2000 vnder the Lawe and 2000 after the Lawe the worlde shal endure. * Mat 24. 44. 2 pter 310.

But, That is, suddenly & vnlooked for.

that day shulde come on you, as it were a thefe.

Ye are all the children of light, and the childre of the day: we are not of the night, neither of darkenes.

Therefore let vs not slepe as do other, but let vs watch and be sober.

For they that slepe, slepe in the night, & they that be drunken, are drunken in the night.

But let vs which are of the  $\gamma$ -day, be sober, \* putting on  $\gamma$  breast plate of faith & loue, & of the hope of saluation for an helmet.

For God hathe not appointed vs vnto wrath, but to obtaine saluatiō by the meanes of our Lord Iesus Christ,

Which dyed for vs, that whether we wake or slepe, we shulde liue together with him.

Wherefore exhorde one another, & edifie one another, euen as ye do.

Now we beseeche you, brethren, that ye knowe them, which labour among you, & are ouer you in the Lord, and admonish you,

That ye haue them in singular loue for their workes sake. Be at peace amōg your selues.

We desire you, brethren, admonish them that are vnruilie: comforte the feble minded: beare with the weak: be patient toward all men.

* Se that none recompense euil for euil vnto any man: but euē followe that which is good, bothe towarde your selues, and towarde all men.

Reioyce euermore.

* Pray continually.

In all things giue thanks: for this is the wil of God in Christ Iesus towarde you.

Quench not the  $\gamma$ -Spirit.

Despise not  $\gamma$  prophecyng.

Trye all things, and kepe that which is good.

Absteyne from all appearance of euil.

Now the verie God  $\gamma$  of peace sanctifie you throughout: and I pray God that your whole spirit and soule and bodie, may be kept blameles vnto the coming of our Lord Iesus Christ.

* Faithful is he which calleth you, which wil also do it.

Brethren, pray for vs.

Grete all the brethren with an holie kisse.

I charge you in  $\gamma$  Lord, that this epistle be red vnto all the brethren the Saintes.

The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you, Amen.

THE SECONDE EPI- stle to the Theſſalonians.

THE ARGUMENT.

Let the Theſſalonians ſhulde thinke that Paul neglected them, becauſe he went to other places, rather then came to the, he writeth vnto them and exhorteth the to patience and other fruites of faith, neither to be moued with that vaine opinion of ſuche as taught that the comming of Chriſt was at hand, forasmuche as before that day there ſhulde be a falling away from true religion, euen by a great parte of the world, and that Antichriſt ſhulde reigne in the Temple of God, finally commending him ſelf to their prayers, & encouraging them to conſtancie, he willet the to correct ſuche ſharply, as line idelly of other mens labours, whome, if they do not obey his admonitions, he commandeth to excommunicate.

3 *We ought to thanke God alwayes for you, brethren, as it is mete, becauſe that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the loue of euerie one of you towarde another aboundeth,

a Which proceedeth of your faith as a moſt notable fruit.

4 So that we our ſelues reioyce of you in the Churches of God, becauſe of your patience and tribulations that ye ſuffre,

11 And therefore God shal send the strong delusion, that they shulde beleue lies,

12 That all they might be damned which beleued not the trueth, but had pleasure in vnrighteousnes.

13 But we ought to giue thanks alway to God for you, brethren, beloued of the Lord, because that God hath from the beginning chosen you to saluacion, through sanctification of the Spirit, and the faith of trueth,

14 Whereunto he called you by our Gospel, to obtaine the glorie of our Lord Iesus Christ.

15 Therefore, brethren, stand fast and kepe the instructions, which ye haue bene taught, ether by worde, or by our Epistle.

16 Now the same Iesus Christ our Lord & our God euen the Father which hath loued vs, and hath giuen vs euerlasting consolation and good hope through grace,

17 Comforte your hearts, and stablish you in euerie worde and good worke.

CHAP. III.

He desireth them to pray for him, that the Gospel may prosper, 6 And giueth them warning to reprove the ydle, 16 And so wisheth them all wealth.

Furthermore, brethren,* pray for vs, by the worde of the Lord may haue fre passage, and be glorified, euen as it is with you,

And that we may be deliuered from vnreasonable and euil men: for all men haue not a faith.

But the Lord is faithful, which will stablish you, and kepe you from euil.

4 And we are perswaded of you through the Lord, that ye bothe do, and wil do the things which we commande you.

5 And the Lord guide your hearts to the loue of God, & the weating for of Christ.

6 We commande you, brethren, in the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ, that ye withdrawe your selues fro euerie brother that walketh inordinately, and not after the instruction, which he receiued of vs.

7 For ye your selues knowe,* how ye ought to folowe vs,* for we behaued not our selues inordinately among you,

8 Nether toke we bread of anie man for nought: but we wrought with labour & trauaile night & day, because we wolde not be chargeable to anie of you.

9 Not but that we had autoritie,* but that we might make our selues an ensample vnto you to folowe vs.

10 For euen when we were with you, this we warned you of, that if there were anie, which wolde not worke, that he shulde not eat.

11 For we heard, that there are some which walke among you inordinately, and worke not at all, but are busie bodies.

12 Therefore them that are suche, we commande and exhorte by our Lord Iesus Christ, that they worke with quietnes, and eat their owne bread.

13 * And ye, brethren, be not wearie in well doing.

14 If anie man obey not our sayings, note him by a letre,* and haue no companie with him, that he maie be ashamed.

15 Yet count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

16 Now the Lord of peace giue you peace alwayes by all meanes. The Lord be with you all.

17 The salutation of me Paul, with mine owne hand, which is the token in euerie Epistle: so I write,

18 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you all, Amen.

The seconde Epistle to the Thessalonians, written from Athens.

THE FIRST EPI-
stle of Paul to Timotheus.

THE ARGUMENT.

In writing this Epistle Paul seemed not onely to haue respect to teache Timotheus, but chiefly to kepe other in awe, which wolde haue rebelled against him, because of his youth. And there fore he doeth arme him against those ambitious questionistes, which under pretence of zeale to the

The end of the Law.

I. Timotheus.

Why Christ came.

Law, disquieted the godlie with foolish and vnprofitable questions, whereby they declared, that professing the Law they knewe not what was the chief end of the Law. And as for him self he so confesse his vnworthines, that he sheweth to what worthines the grace of God hath preferred him: and therefore he willett prayers to be made for all degrees and sortes of men, because that God by offering his Gospel and Christ his Sonne to them all, is indifferent to euerie sorte of men, as his Apostleship, which is peculiar to the Gentiles, with steth. And forasmuche as God hath the left ministers as ordinarie meanes in his Church to bring men to saluacion, he describeth what manner of men they ought to be, to whome the myserie of the Sonne of God manifested in flesh is committed to be preached. After this he sheweth him what troubles the Church at all times shal suffer, but specially in the latter dayes, when as vnder pretence of religion men shal teache things contrarie to the worde of God. This done he teacheth what widdowes shoulde be receiued or refused to minister to the sick: also what Elders ought to be chosen into office, exhorting him nether to be hasty in admitting, nor in iudging anie: also what is the dutie of seruants, the nature of false teachers, of vaine speculations, of contouersies, of riue men, and aboue all things he chargeth him to beware false doctrine.

CHAP. I.

3 He exhorteth Timotheus to waite vpon his office, namely to se that nothing be taught but Gods worde, &c. Declaring that faith, with a good conscience, charitie & edification are the end thereof. 20 And admonisheth of Himeneus and Alexander.

Aul an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the comendement of God our Sauour, and of our Lord Iesus Christ our hope,

* Vnto Timotheus my natural sonne in the faith: Grace, mercie, & peace from God our Father, & from Christ Iesus our Lord.

As I besought thee to abide still in Ephesus, when I departed into Macedonia, so do, that thou maist comande some, that they teache none other doctrine,

4 Neither that they giue hede to * fables and genealogies, * which are endles, which brede questiones rather then godlie edifying which is by faith.

5 For * the end of the * comendement is loue out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith vnfaide.

6 From the which things some haue erred, and haue turned vnto vaine iangling.

7 They wolde be doctours of the Law, and yet vnderstand not what they speake, nether where of they asseme.

* And we knowe, that the Law is good, if a man vse it lawfully,

9 Knowing this, that the Law is not giuen vnto a * righteous man, but vnto the lawles and disobedient, to the vngodlie, and to * sinners, to the vnholie, and to the prophane, to murderers of fathers and mothers, to manslayers,

10 To whom egipters, to buggerers, to * me stealers, to liars, to theperitured, & if there be anie other thing, that is contrarie to wholfome doctrine,

11 Which is according to the glorious Gospel of the * blessed God, which is comitted vnto me.

12 Therefore I thanke him, which hath made me strong, that is, Christ Iesus our Lord: for he counted me faithful, and put me in his seruice:

13 When before I was a blasphemers, and a persecuter, and an opposer: but I was receiued to mercie: for I did it ignorantly through vnbeliefe.

14 But the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant with * faith and * loue, which is in Christ Iesus.

15 This is a true saying, and by all meanes worthie to be receiued, that * Christ Iesus came into the worlde to saue sinners, of whome I am chief.

16 Notwithstanding, for this cause was I receiued to mercie, that Iesus Christ shoulde first shewe on me all log suffering vnto the ensample of them, which shal in time to come beleue in him vnto eternal life.

17 * Now vnto the King euertlasting, immortal, inuisible, vnto God onely wise, be honour and glorie for euer, and euer, Amen.

18 This comendement commit I vnto thee, sonne, Timotheus, according to the * prophecies, which went before vpo thee, that thou by them shouldest * fight a good fight,

19 Having * faith and a good conscience, which some haue put away, and as concerning faith, haue made shipwracke.

20 Of whome is Himeneus, and Alexander, * whome I haue * deliuered vnto Satan, that they might learne not to blaspheme.

CHAP. II.

1 He exhorteth to pray for all men, & therefore, & And how. 9 As touching the apparel and modestie of women.

I Exhorte therefore, that first of all supplications, prayers, intercessions & giuing of thanks be made for * all men,

2 For * Kings, and for all that are in authority, that we may lead a quiet and a peaceable life, in all godlines and honestie.

3 For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Sauour,

7 But cast away prophane, and olde wiewes fables, & exercise thy self vnto godlines.

8 For a bodelie exercise profiteth little: but godlines is profitable vnto all things, & hath the promes of the life present, and of that that is to come.

9 This is a true saying, and by all meanes worthe to be receiued.

10 For therefore we labour & are rebuked, because we trust in the liuing God, which is the Saviour of all me, specially of those that beleue.

11 These things commande and teache.

12 Let no man despise thy youth, but be vnto the that beleue, an ensample, in word, in conuersation, in loue, in spirit, in faith, & in purenes.

13 Til I come, giue attendance to reading, to exhortation, & to doctrine.

14 Despise not the gift that is in thee which was giuen thee by prophetic with the laying on of the hands of the companie of the Eldership.

15 These things exercise, and giue thy self vnto them, that it may be sene how thou proficest among all men.

16 Take hede vnto thy self, and vnto learning: continue therein: for in doing this thou shalt bothe saue thy self, and them that heare thee.

Thou shalt faithfully do thy dutie which is an assurance of thy

CHAP. V.

1 He teacheth him how he shal behaue him self in rebuking all degrees. 2 An ordre concerning widdowes. 17 The establishing of ministers. 23 The gouernance of his bodie. 24 And the iudgement of finnes.

2 Take care for them. b Paul willett that the widdow put the Church to no charge which haue cherefull dren or kinfolles, that are able to relieue them, but that the children nourish their mother or kinsfolkes according as nature bindeth them. c Which haue the no manner of worldelie meanes to helpe her selfe. d Because she is vnto vnto profitable.

3 E Rebuke not an elder, but exhort him as a father, & the yonger men as brethren,

4 The elder women as mothers, the yonger as sisters, with all purenes.

5 Honour widdowes, which are widdowes in dede.

6 But if any widdow haue children or nephewes, let her the learne first to shewe godlines towardes their owne house, and to recompense their kindred: for that is an honest thing and acceptable before God.

7 And she is a widdow in dede and left alone, trusteth in God, & continueth in supplications and prayers night and day.

8 But she that liueth in pleasure, is dead, while she liueth.

9 These things therefore commande, that they may be blameles.

10 If there be any that prouideth not for his owne, & namely for them of his household, he denieth the faith, and is worse then an infidel.

11 Let not a widdow be taken into the nobel vnder thre score yere olde, that hath bene the wife of one husband,

12 And wel reported of for good workes: if she haue nourished her childre, if she haue lodged the strangers, if she haue washed the Saintes fete, if she haue ministered vnto them which were in aduersitie, if she were continually giue vnto euerie good worke.

13 But refuse the yonger widdowes: for wher they haue begonne to waxe watton against Christ, they wil marie,

14 Having damnation, because they haue broken the first faith.

15 And likewise also being ydle they learne to go about from house to house: yea, they are not onely ydle, but also prattlers and bulibodies, speaking things which are not comelie.

16 I wil therefore that the yonger women marie, and beare children, & gouerne the house, and giue none occasion to the aduersarie to speake euil.

17 For certeine are already turned backe after Satan.

18 If any faithful man, or faithful woman haue widdowes, let them minister vnto them, and let not the Church be charged, that there may be sufficient for them that are widdowes in dede.

19 ¶ The Elders that rule wel, are worthe of double honour, specially they which labour in the worde and doctrine.

20 For the Scripture faith, ¶ Thou shalt not mouel the mouth of the oxe that treadeth out the corne: and, ¶ The labourer is worthe of his wages.

21 Against an Elder receive none accusation, but vnder two or thre witnesses.

22 Them that sinne, rebuke openly, that the rest also may feare.

23 ¶ I charge thee before God and the Lord Iesus Christ, and the clest Angels, that thou obserue these things without preferring one to another, & do nothing partially.

24 Lay hands suddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other mens finnes: kepe thy self pure.

25 Drinke no longer water, but vse a litle wine for thy stomakes sake, and thine often infirmities.

26 Some mens finnes are open before had, and go before vnto iudgement: but some mens followe after.

27 Likewise also the good workes are manifest before had, and they that are otherwise, can not be hid.

2 And thei which haue beleuing masters, let the not despise them, because they are brethren, but rather do seruice, because they are faithful, and beloued, and partakers of the *benefite. These things teach and exhort.

3 If any man teache other wise, and consenteth not to the wholsome wordes of our Lord Iesus Christ, & to the doctrine, which is according to godlines,

6 But godlines is great gaine, if a man be content with that he hath.

10 For the desire of money is the roote of all euil, which while some lusted after, they erred from the faith, & d perced them selues through with many sorowes.

THE SECONDE EPI- stle of Paul to Timotheus.

THE ARGUMENT.

THE Apostle being now ready to confirme that doctrine with his blood, which he had professed and taught, encourageth Timotheus ( & in him all the faithful ) in the faith of the Gospel, & in the cō-stant & y uere confessiō of the same: willing him not to shrinke for feare of afflictiōs, but patiently to at-tende the yssue, as do husband men, which at length receiue the frutes of their labours, & to cast off all feare & care, as souldiers do which sike onely to please their capitaine: shewing him briefly the summe of the Gospel, which he preached, commanding him to preache the same to others, diligently taking hede of contentiōs, curious disputatiō, & vaine questiōs, to the intent that his doctrine may all together edifie. Cō-sidering that the exiles of Hymeneus & Philetus, which subuerted the true doctrine of the resurr. Chō, were so horrible: & yet to the intent that no mā shulde be offēded at their fall, being men of auctoritie and in estimatiō, he sheweth that all that professe Christ, are not his, & thāt the Church is subiect to this calamiti: that the euil must dwell amōg the good, til Gods trial come: yet he reserveth them whome he hath elected, euen to the end. And that Timotheus shulde not be discouraged by the wicked, he de-clareth what abominable men & dangerous times shal followe, willing him to arme him self with the hope of ih good yssue, that God wil giue vnto him, and to exercise him self diligently in the Scrip-tures, bothe against the aduersaries, and for the vtilitie of the Church, desiring him to come to him for certeine necessarie affaires, and so with his and others salutations endeth.

CHAP. I.

6 Paul exhorteth Timotheus to steadfastnes and patience in persecution, and to continue in the doctrine, that he had taught him, 13 Whereof his bonds and afflictions were a gage. 16 A commendation of Onesiphorus.

Aul an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the wil of God, according to the promes of life, which is in CHRIST IESVS,

To Timotheus my beloued sonne: Grace, mercie, & peace from God the Father, & from Iesus Christ our Lord.

I thanke God, whome I serue fro mine belders with pure conscience, that without ceasing I haue remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day,

Desiring to se thee, mindful of thy teares, that I may be filled with ioye:

When I call to remembrance the vnfaigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice, & am assured that it dwelleth in thee also.

Wherefore, I put thee in remembrance that thou stirre vp the gifte of God which is in thee, by the putting on of mine hands.

For God hath not giuen to vs the Spirit of feare, but of power, and of loue, and of a sounde minde.

Be not therefore ashamed of the testimonie of our Lord, nether of me his prisoner, but be partaker of the afflictions of the Gospel, according to the power of God,

Who hath saved vs, & called vs with an holie calling, not according to our workes, but according to his owne purpose & grace, which was giuen to vs through Christ Iesus before the world was,

But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Sauour Iesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortalitie vnto light through the Gospel.

Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, & Apostle, & a teacher of the Gentiles.

For the which cause I also suffice these things, but I am not ashamed: for I knowe whome I haue beleued, & I am perswaded that he is able to kepe that which I haue committed to him against that day.

Kepe the true paterne of the wholesome wordes, which thou hast heard of me in faith and loue which is in Christ Iesus.

That worthie thing, which was committed to thee, kepe through the holie Ghost, which dwelleth in vs.

This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia, be turned from me: of which sorte are Phygellus and Hermogenes.

The Lord giue mercie vnto the house of Onesiphorus: for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chaine.

But when he was at Rome, he sought me out verie diligently, and founde me.

The Lord grant vnto him, that he may finde mercie with the Lord at that day, & in how manie things he hath ministered vnto me at Ephesus, thou knowest verie wel.

CHAP. II.

He exhorteth him to be constant in trouble, so suffer manly, and to abyde faste in the wellfame doctrine of our Lord Iesus Christ, 11 Shewing him the fidelitie of Gods counsel touching the saluation of his, 19 And the marke thereof.

Thou therefore, my sonne, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Iesus.

And what things thou hast heard of me, by manie witnessers, the same deliuer to faithful men, which shalbe able to teach other also.

Thou therefore suffer affliction as a good souldier of Iesus Christ.

No man that warreth, entangleth himself with the affaires of this life, because he wolde please him that hath chosen him to be a souldier.

And if anie man also strue for a matter, he is not crowned, except he strue as he ought to do.

The housband man must labour before he receiue the frutes.

Consider what I say: and the Lord giue thee vnderstanding in all things.

Remember that Iesus Christ made of the fede of Dauid, was raised againe from the dead according to my Gospel.

Wherein I suffer trouble as an euil doer, euen vnto bonds: but the worde of God is not bounde.

Therefore I suffer all things, for the elects sake, that they might also obtaine the saluation which is in Christ Iesus, with eternal glorie.

It is a true saying, For if we be dead with him, we also shal liue with him.

If we suffer, we shal also reigne with him: if we denie him, he also wil denie vs.

If we beleue not, yet abideth he faithful: he can not denie him self.

Of these things put them in remembrance, and protest before the Lord, that they strue not about wordes, which is to no profit, but to the peruertering of the hearers.

Stodie to shewe thy self approved vnto God, a workeman that needeth not to be ashamed, diuiding the worde of truth aright.

Stay prophane, and vaine babblings: for they shal encrease vnto more vngodlines.

And their worde shal fret as a canker: of which sorte is Hymeneus and Philetus, a Being sent of God to preache that life which he had promised in Christ Iesus.

b Following the steps of mine ancestors, as Abraham, Isaac, Iacob, & others of whom I am come and of whom I received the true religion by Iustus son.

c The gift of God is accented in like name kindled in our hearts, Satan and the flesh labour to quench it, and therefore we must nourish it, and stirre it vp.

Christians. 14 And how to auoide dangers. 16 Also what profit cometh of the Scriptures.

1 His knowe also, that in the <sup>h</sup> last dayes
shal come perillous times.
2 For men shal be louers of their owne sel-

3 Without natural affectio, trucebreakers,

6 For of this sorte are they which <sup>b</sup> crepe
into houses, and lead captiue simple women laden with sinnes, and led with diuers
lustes,
7 Which women are euer learning, and are the trueth:

8 * And as Iannes and Iambres withstode
Moses, so do these also resiste the trueth,

men of corrupte mindes, reprobate concerning the faith.
But they shal preuaile no longer: for their theirs also was.

fering, loue, patience,
11 Persecutions, & afflictions which came vnto me at * Antiochia, at Iconium, and at Lystris, which persecutions I suffered: but
from them all the Lord deliuered me.
12 Yea, & all that wil liue godly in Christ
Iesus, shal suffer persecution.
13 But the euil men & deceiuers, shal wa-

deceiued.
14 But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned, and art persuaded the-

15 And y thou hast knowe the holie Scriptures of a childe, which are able to make thee wise vnto saluation through the faith
which is in Christ Iesus.

THE EPISTLE OF Paul to Titus.

THE ARGUMENT.

When Titus was left in Creta to finish that doctrine which Paul had there begonne, Satan stirred vp certeine which went about not onely to overthrowe the gouernement of the Church, but also to corrupt the doctrine: for some by ambition wolde haue thrust in them selues to be pastors: others, vnder pretext of Moses Law brought in manie trifles. Against these two sortes of men Paul armeth Titus: first teaching him what maner of ministers be ought to chuse, chiefly requiring that they be men of sounde doctrine to the intent they might resist the aduersaries, and amongst other things he noteth the Iewes which put a certeine holines in meates & suche outward ceremonies, teaching them which are the true exercisys of a Christian life, & what things apperteyne to euery mans vocation. Against the which if anie man rebelle or els doeth not obey, he willett him to be auoyded.

CHAP. I.

relleth him how he shal teach all degrees to behaue the

B Vt speake thou the things which become a wholsome doctrine,
That the Elder men be sobre, honest, discrete, founde in the faith, in loue, & in pa-
ciance:

3 The Elder women likewise, that they be in suche behauiour as becometh holines,
not false accusers, not giuen to muche
wine, but teachers of honest things,

4 That they may instruct the yong women to be sobre minded, that they loue their houfbands, that they loue their children,

5 That thei be discrete, chaste, kepig at home,
good and * subiect vnto their houfbands,
by the worde of God be not euil spoken of.

6 Exhorte yong men likewise, that thei be sobre minded.

7 About all things shewe thy self an en-
sample of good workes with vncorrupt
doctrine, with grauitie, integritie,

8 And with the wholsome worde, which can not be reproued, that he which withstandeth, may be ashamed, hauing nothing concerning you to speake euil of.

9 * Let seruants be subiect to their masters,
and please them in all things, not answerig
again,

10 Nether pykers, but that they shewe all good faithfulness, that they may adorne the doctrine of God our Sauour in all thigs.

11 * For the grace of God, that bringeth
saluation vnto all men, hath appeared,

12 And teacheth vs that we shulde denie
vngodlines, and worldlie lustes, & that we shulde liue. sobrely and righteously, and

godly in this present worlde,

13 Loking for the blessed hope, and appea-

and of our Sauour Iesus Christ,

14 Who gaue him self for vs, that he might redeem vs from all iniquitie, and purge vs to be a d peculiar people vnto him self,
zealous of good workes.

15 These things speake, and exhorte, and rebuke with all * autoritie. Se that no man

nes vnto all men.

3 * b For we our selues also were in times
past vnwise, disobedient, deceiued, seruing the lustes and diuers pleasures, liuing in maliciousnes and enuie, hateful, & hating
one another.

4 But when the bountifullnes and loue of God our Sauour towarde man appeared,

5 * Not * by the workes of righteousnes,
which we had done, but according to his mercie he saued vs, by the d washing of the new birth, and the renuing of the ho-

6 Which he shed on vs abundantly, through Iesus Christ our Sauour,

7 That we, being iustified by his grace, shul-
de be made heires according to the hope of eternal life.

8 This is a true saying, and these things I wil thou shuldest affirme, that they which haue beleued in God, might be careful to shewe forth the good workes. These things are good and profitable vnto men.

9 * But stay foolish questions, and genea-

THE EPISTLE OF Paul to Philemon.

THE ARGUMENT.

Albeit the excellencie of Pauls spirit wonderfully appeareth in other his Epistles, yet this Epistle is a great witness, and a declaration of the same. For sarre passing the busines of his matter, he steeth as it were vp to heauen, and speaketh with a diuine grace and maiestie. Onesimus seruant to Philemon bothe robbed his master, and fled away, whome Paul hauing worne to Christ, sent again to his master, earnestly begging his pardone, with moste waighthe arguments proving the duetie of one Christian to another, & so with salutations endeth.

8 He reioyceth to heare of the faith and loue of Philemon, 9 Whome he desireth to forgieue his seruant Onesimus,
and longingly to receiue him againe.

PAUL a prisoner of Iesus

lemon our dere friend, & fellow helper,

2 And to our dere sister
Apphia, and to Archip-
pus our felowe fouldier, & to the Church
that is in thine house:

3 Grace be with you, and peace from God
our Father, & from the Lord Iesus Christ.

4 I giue thanks to my God, making mention alwaies of thee in my praier,

5 (When I heare of thy loue & faith, which thou hast towards the Lord Iesus, & tow-arde all Saintes)

6 That the felowship of thy faith may be made fruteful, and that whatsoeuer good thig is in you through Christ Iesus, may be knowne.

7 For we haue great ioye and consolacion in thy loue, because by thee, brother, the Saintes hearts are comforted.

8 Wherefore, though I be verie bolde in Christ to commande thee that which is conuenient,

9 yet for loues sake I rather beseeche thee,
though I be as I am, euen Paul aged, and euen now a prisoner for Iesus Christ.

10 I beseeche thee for my sonne Onesimus,
whome I haue begotten in my bondes,

11 Which in time past was to thee vnprofitable, but now profitable bothe to thee
and to me,

12 Whome I haue sent againe: thou therefore receiue him, y mine owne bowels,

13 Whome I wolde haue reteined with me,
that in thy stede he might haue ministred
vnto me in the bondes of the Gospel.

14 But without thy minde wolde I do nothing, that thy benefite shulde not be as it were of necessitie, but willingly.

15 It may be that he therefore departed for a ceason, that thou shouldest receiue him
for euer,

16 Nor now as a seruant, but aboute a seruant, euen as a brother beloued, specially
to me: how muche more then vnto thee,
bothe in the flesh, and in the Lord?

17 If therefore thou counte our things
commune, receiue him as my self.

18 If he hath hurt thee, or oweth thee
ought, that put on mine accounts.

19 I Paul haue written this with mine owne hand: I wil recompense it, albeit I do not say to thee, that thou owest vnto me euen thine owne self.

20 Yea, brother, let me obtaine this pleasure of thee in the Lord: coforte my bowels
in the Lord.

21 Trusting in thine obedience, I wrote vn-
to thee, knowing that thou wilt do euen
more then I say.

22 Moreouer also prepare me lodging: for
I trust through your praier I shalbe gi-uen vnto you.

THE ARGUMENT.

FOrasmuche as diuers, both of the Greke writers and Latines witnesse, that the writer of this Epistle for iusto causes wolde not haue his name knowne, it were curioſitie of our parte to labour muche therein. For ſeing the Spirit of God is the auctor thereof, it diminisheth nothing the autoritie, although we knowe not with what penne he wrote it. Whether it were Paul (as it is not like) or Luke, or Barnabas, or Clement, or ſome other, his chief purpose is to perswade vnto the Ebrewes (whereby he principally meaneth them that abode at Ierusalem, and vnder them all the rest of the Iewes) that Christ Iesus was not onely the redemer, but also that at his comming all ceremonies must haue an end: forasmuche as his doctrine was the conclusion of all the propheties, and therefore not onely Moses was inferior to him, but also the Angels: for they all were seruants, and he the Lord, but so Lord, that he haith also taken our flesh, and is made our brother to assure vs of our saluation through himself: for he is that eternal Priest, whereof all the Leuitical Priests were but shadowes, and therefore at his comming they ought to cease, and all sacrifices for sinne to be abolished, as he proueth from the ſeuenth chap. verse 11. vnto the 12. chap. verse 18. Also he was that Prophet of whom all the Prophetes in time past witnessed, as is declared from the 12. chapter, verse 18. to the twentieth and ſiue verse of the ſame chapter: yea, and is the King to whome all things are subiect, as appeareth from that verse 23. to the beginning of the last chapter. Wherefore according to the exam- ples of the olde fathers we must constantly beleue in him, that being sanctified by his iustice, taught by his wisdom, and governed by his power, we may steadfastly, and courageously perseuere euen to the end in hope of that ioye that is set before our eyes, occupying our selues in Christian exercises that we may both be thankfull to God, and dutifull to our neighbour.

CHAP. I.

He sheweth the excellencie of Christ 4 Aboue the Angels, 7 And of their office.

AT sondrie times & in diuers maners God spake in y olde time to our fathers by the Prophetes: In these last dayes he hath spoken vnto vs by his Sonne, whome he hath made heir of all things, by whome also he made the worldes,

Who being the brightnes of the glorie, and the ingraued forme of his persone, & bearing vp all things by his mightie worde, hath by him self purged our finnes, and sitteth at the right hand of the maiestie in the highest places,

And is made so muche more excellent, then the Angels in as muche as he hath obtained a more excellēt name then thei.

For vnto which of the Angels said he at anie time, Thou art my Sonne, & this day begate I thee? and againe, I wil be his Father, and he shal be my sonne?

And againe when he bringeth in his first begotten Sonne into the worlde, he saith, And let all the Angels of God worship him.

And againe when he toucheth his office, whereby he is King, Prophet & Priest. And the liuelie image and paterne, so that he hath seeth him, seeth the Father, Iohn 14.9: for els the persone of the Father is not seene, but apprehended by faith. So that our finnes can be purged by none other means. Muche more then then all other things created. Be- cause he was at the time appointed declared to the worlde.

7 And of the Angels he saith, He maketh the Spirits his messengers, and his ministers a flame of fyre.

8 But vnto the Sonne he saith, O God, thy throne is for euer and euer: the scepter of thy kingdome is a scepter of righteousness.

9 Thou hast loued righteousness and hated iniquitie. Wherefore God, euently God, hath anointed thee with y oyle of gladnes about thy fellowes.

10 And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast established the earth, and the heauens are the workes of thine hands.

11 They shal perishe, but thou doest remaine: and they all shal waxe olde as doeth a garment.

12 And as a vesture shalt thou folde them vp, and they shalbe changed: but thou art the same and thy yerres shal not faile.

13 Vnto which also of the Angels said he at anie time, Sit at my right hand, til I make thine enemies thy fore foile?

14 Are they not all ministring spirits, sent forth to minister, for their sakes which shalbe heires of saluation?

CHAP. II.

He exhorteth vs to be obedient vnto the new Law which Christ hath giuen vs, And not to be offended at the infirmities and lowe degre of Christ, so Because it was necessarie that for our sakes he shoulde take suche an humble state vpon him, that he might be like vnto his brethren.

CHAP. III.

He requirith them to be obedient vnto the worde of Christ. 11 He is more worthe then Moses. 12 The to his worde punishment of such as wil harden their hearts, and not beleue, that they might haue eternal rest.

1 Therefore, holie brethren, partakers of the heauenlie vocatio<sup>n</sup>, consider the Apostle and high Priest of our professio<sup>n</sup> Christ Iesus:

2 Who was faithful to him that hath appointed him, euen as Moses was in all his house.

3 For this man is counted worthe of more glorie then Moses, inasmuch as he which hath buylded the house, hath more honour then the house.

4 For euerie house is buylded of some man, & he that hath buyld all things, is God. 5 Now Moses verely was faithful in all his house, as a seruant, for a witness of y<sup>e</sup> things which shulde be spoken after.

6 But Christ is as the Sonne, ouer his owne house, whose house we are, if we holde fast the confidence and the reioycing of the hope vnto the end.

7 Wherefore, as the holie Gost saith, * To day if ye shall heare his voyce,

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the prouocation, according to the day of the re-
tation in the wilderness,

9 Where your fathers tempted me, proued me, and saue my workes fortie yeres long.

10 Wherefore I was grieued with that generation, and said, They erre euer in their heart, neither haue they known my wayes.

11 Therefore I sware in my wrath, If they shall enter into my rest.

12 Take hede, brethren, lest at anie time there be in anie of you an euil heart, and vnfaithful, to departe away from the liuing God.

13 But exhorthe one another daily, while it is called * To day, lest anie of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sinne.

14 For we are made partakers of Christ, if we kepe sure vnto the end the beginning, wherewith we are vpholden,

15 So long as it is said, To day if ye heare his voyce, harden not your hearts, as in the prouocation.

16 For some when they heard, prouoked him to anger: howbeit, not all that came

CHAP. VI.

He proceedeth in reproofing them, and exhorteth them not to faint, 12 But to be stedfast & patient, 15 Forasmuche as God is sure in his promises.

Therefore, leauing the doctrine of the beginning of Christ, let vs be led forward vnto perfection, not laying againe y<sup>e</sup> fundation of repentance from dead workes, and of faith toward God, Of the doctrine of baptisimes, & laying on of hands, and of the resurrection from the dead, and of eternal iudgement. And this will we do if God permit.

For it is impossible that they, which were once lightened, and haue tasted of the heauenlie gift, and were made partakers of the holie Gost,

And haue tasted of the good worde of God, and of the powers of the worlde to come,

If they fall away, shulde be renewed againe by repentance: seing they crucifie againe to them selues the sonne of God & make a mocke of him.

For the earth which drinketh in the raine that cometh of heauen vpon it, and bringeth forth the herbes meete for them by whome it is dressed, receiue blessing of God:

But that which beareth thornes & briars, is reproofed, and is nere vnto cursing, whose end is to be burned.

But beloued, we haue perswaded our selues better things of you, and suche as accompanie saluation, thogh we thus speake.

For God is not vnrighteous, that he shulde forget your worke, and labour of loue, which ye shewed toward his Name, in that ye haue ministred vnto the Saintes, & yet minister.

And we desire that euerie one of you shewe the same diligence, to the full assurance of hope vnto the end,

That ye be not slothful, but followers of them, which through faith and patience, inherite the promises.

For whē God made the promises to Abraham, because he had no greater to sweare by, he sware by him self,

Saying, Surely I wil abundantly blesse thee and multiplie thee marueilously.

And so after that he had taryed patiently, he enioyed the promises.

For men verely sweare by him that is greater then them selues, and an othe for confirmation is among them an end of all strife.

So God willing more abundantly to shewe vnto the heires of promises the stablenesse of his counsel, bound him self by an othe,

That by two immutable things, wherein it is vnpossible that God shulde lye, we might haue strong consolation, which haue our refuge to holde fast the hope that is set before vs,

Which we haue, as an ancre of the soule, bothe sure and stedfast, & it entrencheth into that which is within the vaile,

Whether the forerunner is for vs entred in, Iesus that is made an hie Priest for euer after the order of Melchi-sedec.

CHAP. VII.

He compareth the Priesthode of Christ vnto Melchi-sedec. 11 Also Christs Priesthode with the Leuites.

For this Melchi-sedec was King of Salem, the Priest of the most hie God, who met Abraham, as he returned from the slaughter of the Kings, and blessed him:

To whome also Abraham gaue the tithe of all things: who first is by interpretation King of righteousness: after that, he is also King of Salem, that is, King of peace,

Without father, without mother, without kinred, and hath no beginning of his dayes, neither end of life: but is likened vnto the Sonne of God, and continueth a Priest for euer.

Now consider how great this man was, vnto whome euen the Patriarke Abraham gaue the tithe of the spoiles.

For verely they which are the children of Leui, which receive the office of the Priesthode, haue a commandement to take, according to the Law, tithes of the people (that is, of their brethren) thogh they came out of the loynes of Abraham.

But he whose kinred is not counted among them, receiued tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

And without all contradiction the lesse is blessed of the greater.

And here me that dye, receiue tithes: but there he receiue them, of whome it is witnessed, that he liueth.

And to say as the thing is, Leui also which receiue tithes, payed tithes in Abraham.

For he was yet in the loines of his father Abraham, when Melchi-sedec met him.

If therefore perfection haue bene by the Priesthode of the Leuites (for vnder it the Law was established to the people) what neded it furthermore, that another Priest shulde rise after the order of Melchi-sedec, & not to be called after the order of Aaron?

For if the Priesthode be changed, then of necessitie must there be a change of the Law.

For he of whome these things are spoken, pertaineth vnto another tribe, whereof no man serued at the altar.

For it is euident, that our Lord sprang out of Iuda, concerning the which tri-

He remeth to the comparison betweene Christes Priesthode & the Leuitical which he had begun in the 5 chap. Which is because whether Christ is gone before to prepare a place.

Gen. 14. 18.

As he called, because that Moses maketh no mention of his pariterous and folkes, but as he had bene suddenly seer of God into y<sup>e</sup> worlde to be a figure of Christ & curiously & shortly taken out of the worlde againe, so Christ in touching his humanitie had no father, and concerning his diuinitie, some other.

Negm. 11. 39. de. 12. 1. ioh. 14. 1. That is, the chief of fathers.

The Leuites had commandement to receiue that, which Abraham gaue freely to Melchi-sedec.

Was begotten of Abraham.

The Leuites receiued tithes of their brethren, but Melchi-sedec of Abraham, the Patriarke before his Priesthode.

More excellent, then the Leuitical.

Because the Law is more excellent.

The Law and y<sup>e</sup> Priesthode are both of one condition: so that the Law and the Priesthode are both of one condition.

15 And it is yet a more euident thing, be- cause that after the similitude of Melchi- sedec, there is risen vp another Priest,

16 Which is not made Priest after the Law of the carnal commandement, but after the power of the endles life.

17 For he testifieth thus, * Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchi- sedec.

18 For the commandement that went afore, is disanulled, because of y<sup>e</sup> weakenes the- roof, and vnprofitableness.

19 For the Law made nothing perfite, but the bringing in of a better hope made per- fite, whereby we drawe nere vnto God.

20 And forasmuche as it is not without an othe ( for these are made Priests without an othe:

21 But this, he is made with an othe by him that said vnto him, * The Lord hath swor- ne, & wil not repent, Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchi- sedec)

22 By so-muche as Iesus made a suretye of a better Testament.

23 And amōg the many were made Priests, because they were not suffred to endure, by the reason of death.

24 But this man, because he endureth euer, hath an euerlasting Priesthode.

25 Wherefore, he is able also i<sup>o</sup> perfite to saue them that come vnto God by him, seing he euer liueth, to make intercession for them.

26 For suche an hie Priest it became vs to haue, which is holie, harmeles, vndefiled, separate from sinners, and made hier then the heauens:

27 Which neded not daily as those hie Priests to offer vp sacrifice, * first for his owne finnes, and then for the peoples: for that did he once, when he offered vp him self.

28 For the Law maketh men hie Priests, which haue infirmitie: but y<sup>e</sup> worde of the othe that was since the Law, maketh the Sonne, who is consecrated for euermore.

CHAP. VIII.

He proueth the abolishing of the Leuitical Priest- hode, as of the olde Couenant by the spiriual & euer- lasting Priesthode of Christ, & And by the new Co- uenant.

NOW of the things which we haue spoken, this is the summe, that we haue suche an hie Priest, y<sup>e</sup> siteth at the right hand of the throne of the maiestie in heauens,

And is a minister of the Sanctuarie, and of the true Tabernacle which the Lord pight, and not a man.

For euerie hie Priest is ordeined to offer

true Tabernacle, and that he muste nedes be made man, to the might haue a thing to offre, which was his bodie.

bothe giftes and sacrifices: wherefore it was of necessitie, that this man shulde haue somewhat also to offer.

4 For he were not a Priest, if he were on the earth; seing there are Priests that accord- ing to the Law offer giftes,

5 Who serue vnto the paternie & shadowe of heauenlie things, as Moses was warn- ed by God; when he was about to finish the Tabernacle. * Se, said he, that thou make all things according to y<sup>e</sup> paternie, shewed to thee in the mount.

6 But now our hie Priest hath obtained a more excellent office, inasmuche as he is the Mediatur of a better Testament, which is established vpō better promises.

7 For if that first Testament had bene fau- teles, no place shulde haue bene soght for the seconde;

8 For in rebuking them he saith, * Beholde, the dayes wil come, saith the Lord, when I shal make with the houle of Israel, and with the house of Iuda a new Testamēt:

9 Not like the Testamēt that I made with their fathers, in the day that I toke them by the hād, to leade them out of the land of Egypt: for they continued not in my Testament; and I regarded the not, saith the Lord.

10 For this is the Testamēt that I wil make with y<sup>e</sup> houle of Israel, After those dayes, saith the Lord, I wil put my lawes in their minde, and in their heart I wil write them, and I wil be their God, and they shal be my people;

11 And they shal not teache euerie man his neighbour & euerie man his brother, saying, Knowe y<sup>e</sup> Lord: for all shal knowe me, from the least of the to the greatest of them.

12 For I wil be merciful to their vnrighte- ousnes, and I wil remember their finnes and their iniquities no more.

13 In that he saith a newe Testament, he ha- the abrogate the olde: now that is disan- nulled & waxed olde, is readye to vanish away.

CHAP. IX.

How that the Ceremonies and sacrifices of the Lawe are abolished. 11 By the eternitie and perfelion of Christs sacrifice.

1 Then the first Testament had also ordi- nances of religion, and a worldlie Sanctuarie.

2 For the first Tabernacle was made, whe- rein was the candlesticke, and the table, & the shewbread, which Tabernacle is called the Holie places.

which had manna, <sup>10</sup> and Aarons rodde that had budded, and the <sup>11</sup> tables of the Testament.

<sup>5</sup> And ouer the Arke were the glorious Cherubims, shadowing the mercie seat:
of which things we wil not now speake
particularly.

<sup>6</sup> Now when these things were thus orde-ned, the Priests went alwayes into the first Tabernacle, & accomplished the seruice.

<sup>7</sup> But into the second went the <sup>8</sup> hie Priest alone, once euerie yere, not without blood which he offered for him self, and for the ignorances of the people,

<sup>8</sup> Whereby the holie Gost this signified, that the <sup>9</sup> way into the Holiest of all was,
not yet opened, while as yet the first Tabernacle was standing.

<sup>9</sup> Which was a figure for the time present,
wherein were offered giftes and sacrifices
that coulde not make <sup>10</sup> holie, concerning
the conscience, <sup>11</sup> him that did the seruice,

<sup>10</sup> Which onely stode in meats and drin-
kes, and diuers washings, and carnal rites,
vntil the time of <sup>11</sup> reformation.

<sup>11</sup> But Christ being come an hie Priest of good things to come, by a greater and a more perfite Tabernacle, not made with hands, that is, not of this buylding,

<sup>12</sup> Nether by the blood of goates and cal-
ues: but by his owne blood entred he in once vnto the <sup>13</sup> holie place, and obtained eternal redemption for vs.

<sup>13</sup> For if the <sup>14</sup> blood of bulles & of goates
& the ashes of an heifer, sprinkling the
that are vnclane, sanctifieth as touching
the purifying of the <sup>15</sup> flesh,

<sup>14</sup> How muche more shal <sup>15</sup> y blood of Christ
which through the eternal Spirit offered him self without spot to God, purge your conscience from <sup>16</sup> dead workes, to <sup>17</sup> serue
the liuing God?

<sup>15</sup> And for this cause is he the Mediatour
of the new Testamēt, that through <sup>16</sup> death
which was for the redemption of the transgressions that were in the former Testament, they which were called, might recei-
ue the promes of eternal enheritance.

<sup>16</sup> For where a testament <sup>17</sup> is, there must be the death of him that made the testamēt.

<sup>17</sup> For the <sup>18</sup> testament is confirmed when men are dead: for it is yet of no force as long as he that made it, is a liue.

<sup>18</sup> Wherefore nether was the first ordeined
without <sup>19</sup> blood.

<sup>19</sup> For when Moses had spoken euerie precept to the people, according to the Law,

he toke the blood of calves and of goates,
with water and purple wolue and hyssop, & sprinkled bothe the boke, and all the people,

<sup>20</sup> Saying, This is the blood of the Testament, which God hath appointed vn-
to you.

<sup>21</sup> Moreouer, he sprinkled likewise the Tabernacle with blood also, and all the mini-string vessels.

<sup>22</sup> And almost all things are by the Law
purged with blood, and without shedding
of blood is no remission.

<sup>23</sup> It was then necessarie, that the similitudes
of heauelie things shulde be purified with suche things: but the heauenlie things the selues are purified with better <sup>24</sup> sacrifices
then are these.

<sup>24</sup> For Christ is not entred into the holie places that are made with hands, which are similitudes of the true <sup>25</sup> Sanctuary: but he entred into very heauen, to appeare now
in the sight of God for vs,

<sup>25</sup> Not that he shulde offer him self often,
as the hie Priest entred into the Holie place euerie yere with other blood,

<sup>26</sup> (For then must he haue often suffred since the fundacion of the worlde) but now in the <sup>27</sup> end of the worlde hath he appeared once to put away sinne, by the sacrifice of him self.

<sup>27</sup> And as it is appointed vnto men that they shal once dye, and after that commeth
the iudgement,

<sup>28</sup> So <sup>29</sup> Christ was once offered to take away
the finnes of many, and vnto them that loke for him, shal he appeare the seconde
time <sup>30</sup> without sinne vnto saluation.

CHAP. X.

The olde lawe had no power to clense away sinne, 10 But Christ did it with offering of his bodie once for
all. 22 An exhortation to receiue the goodnes of God
thankfully with patience and stedfast faith.

For the Lawe hauing the shadowe
of good things to come, and not the very <sup>2</sup> image of the things, can neuer with those sacrifices, which they offer yere by yere continually, <sup>3</sup> sanctifie the commers
thereunto.

For wolde they not then haue ceased to
haue bene offered, because that the offerers
once purged, shulde haue had no more conscience of finnes?

7 Then I said, Lo, I come (In y beginning of the booke it is written of me) that I shulde do thy wil, o God.
8 Aboue, when he said, Sacrifice & offering,
and burnt offerings, & sinne offerings thou
woldest not haue, nether hadst pleasure
therein (which are offered by the Law)
9 Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy wil, o God, he taketh away the first, that he may stablish the seconde.
10 By the which wil we are sanctified, euen
by the offering of the bodie of Iesus Christ
once made.
11 And euerie Priest appeareth daiely mi-
nistring, and oft times offreth one maner
of offering, which can neuer take awaye
sinnes:
12 But this man after he had offred one sacrifice for sinnes, * sitteth for euer at the right hand of God,
13 And from hence forth the tarieth, * til his enemies be made his foete.
14 For with one offering hath he he consecrated for euer them that are sanctified.
15 For the holie Ghost also beareth vs re-
corde: for after that he had said before, 16 * This is the Testament that I wil make
vnto them after those daies, saith y Lord,
I wil put my Lawes in their heart, and in their mindes I wil write them.
17 And their sinnes and iniquities wil I remember no more.
18 Now where i remission of these things
is, there is no more * offering for sinne.
19 Seing therefore, brethren, that by the blood of Iesus we may be bolde to enter into the Holie place 20 By the new and liuing way, which he hath prepared for vs, through the vaile,
that is, his flesh:
21 And seing we haue an hie Priest, which is
ouer the house of God, 22 Let vs drawe nere with a true heart in assurance of faith, * sprinkled in our hearts from an euil conscience, and washed
in our bodie with pure water.
23 Let vs kepe the profession of our hope,
without wauering (for he is faithful that promised)
24 And let vs consider one another, to pro-
uoke vnto loue, and to good workes, 25 Not forsaking the fellowship that we haue among our selues, as the maner of some: but let vs exhort one another, & that so muche the more, because ye se that the day draweth nere.
26 * For if we sinne willingly after that we haue receiued the knowledge of the trueth, there remaineth no more sacrifice
for sinnes,
27 But a feareful looking for of iudgement,

& violet fyre, which shal deuoure the ad-uersaries.
28 He that despiseth Moses Law, dyeth
without mercie * vnder two, or thre witnesses.
29 Of how muche sorer punishment suppose ye shal he be worthie, which treadeth
vnder foete the Sonne of God, and coun-teth the blood of the Testament as an vnholie thing, wherewith he was sanctified,
and doeth despite the Spirit of grace?
30 For we knowe him that hath said, * Vegeance belongeth vnto me: I wil recompen-se, saith the Lord. And againe, The Lord
shal iudge his people.
31 It is a feareful thing to fall into the hands of the liuing God.
32 Now call to remembrance the dayes
that are passed, in the which, after ye had receiued light, ye endured a great fight in afflictions,
33 Partely while you were made a gazing
stocke bothe by reproches and afflictions,
and partely while ye became companions
of them which were * tossed to and fro.
34 For bothe ye sorowed with me for my bondes, and suffred with ioye the spoiling of your goods, knowing in your selues how that ye haue in heauen a better, and an enduring substance.
35 Cast not away therefore your confidence which hath the great recompense of re-warde.
36 For ye haue nede of pacience, that after ye haue done the wil of God, ye might receiue the promes.
37 * For yet a verie litle while, and he that
shal come, wil come, and wil not tarie.
38 Now the iust shal liue by faith: but if any man drawe him self, my soule shal haue no pleasure in him.
39 But we are not they which withdrawe
our selues vnto perdition, but folowe faith
vnto the conseruation of the soule.

7 By faith * Noe being warned of God of the things which were as yet not sene, moued with reuerence, prepared the Arke to the sauing of his houholde, through the which Arke he condemned the worlde, & was made heire of the righteousnes, which is by faith.

8 By faith * Abraham, when he was called, obeyed God, to go out into a place, which he shulde afterwarde receiue for inheritance, and he went out, not knowing whether he went.

9 By faith he abode in the land of promes, as in a strange country, as one that dwelt in tentes with Isaac and Iacob heires with him of the same promes.

10 For he looked for a citie having a <sup>h</sup> fundacion, whose buylder and maker is God.

11 Through faith * Sarra also receiued strength to conceiue seds, and was deliuered of a childe when she was past age, because she iudged him faithful which had promised.

12 And therefore sprang there of one, eue of one which was <sup>i</sup> dead, so manie as * the starres of the skie in multitude, and as the sand of y sea shore which is innumerable.

13 All these dyed in faith, and <sup>k</sup> receiued not the promises, but sawe them <sup>l</sup> a farre of, and beleued them, and receiued them thankefully, and confessed that they were <sup>m</sup> strangers and pilgremes on the earth.

14 For they that say suche things, declare plainly that they seke a country.

15 And if they had bene mindeful of <sup>n</sup> that country, from whence they came out, they had leasure to haue returned.

16 But now they desire a better, that is an heauenlie: wherefore God is not ashamed of them to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a citie.

17 By faith * Abraham offered vp Isaac, when he <sup>o</sup> was tryed, & he that had receiued the promises, offered his onely begottē sonne.

18 (To whome it was said, * In Isaac shall thy seds be called)

19 For he considered that God was able to raise him vp euen from the dead: from whence he receiued him also after a sorte.

20 By faith * Isaac blessed Iacob and Esau, concerning things to come.

21 By faith * Iacob when he was a dying, blessed bothe the sonnes of Ioseph; and <sup>p</sup> leaning on the end of his staffe, worshipped God.

22 By faith * Ioseph when he dyed, made mention of the departing of y childre of Israel, & gaue comādemēt of his bones.

23 * By faith Moses when he was borne, was hid thre moneths of his parentes, because they sawe he was a proper childe, nether feared they the Kings * commandement.

24 By faith * Moses when he was come to age, refused to be called the sonne of Pharaos daughter,

25 And chose rather to suffer aduersitie with the people of God, then to enioy the pleasures of sinnes for a season,

26 Esteeming the rebuke of Christ greater riches then the treasures of Egypt: for he had respect vnto the recompense of the reward.

27 By faith he forsoke Egypt, and feared not the fiercenes of the King: for he endured, as he that sawe him which is inuisible.

28 Through faith he ordeined the * Passouer and the effusion of blood, lest he that destroyed the first borne, shulde touche them.

29 By faith they * passed through the red sea as by drye land, which whē the Egyptians had assailed to do, they were drowned.

30 By faith the * walles of Iericho felldowne after they were compassed about seuen dayes.

31 By faith the harlot * Rahab perished not with them which obeyed not, whē she had receiued the spies peaceably.

32 And what shal I more say: for the time wolde be too short for me to tell of * Gedeon, of * Barac & of * Sampson, & of * Iephthae, also of * Dauid, and Samuel, and of the Prophetes:

33 Which through faith subdued kingdomes, wrought righteousness, obtained the promises, stopped the mouthes of lions,

34 Quenched the violence of fyre, escaped the edge of the sworde, of weakes were made strong, waxed valiant in battel, turned to flight the armies of the aliantes.

35 The women receiued their dead raised to life: other also were racked, and wolde not be deliuered, that they might receiue a better resurrection.

36 And others haue bene tryed by mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover by bondes and prisonment.

37 They were stoned, they were hewen asunder, they were tempted, they were slayne with the sworde, they wandered vp and downe in shepes skinned, and in goates skinned, being destitute, afflicted, & tormented:

38 Whome the worlde was not worthe of: they wandred in wildernesses and mountaynes, & denes, & caues of the earth.

39 And these all through faith obtained good reporte, & receiued <sup>q</sup> not y promises,

Chap. XII. Iesus the mediator. 106

20 God providing a better thing for vs,
that they without vs shulde not be made perfit.

CHAP. XII.

An exhortation to be patient and stedfast in trouble & aduersitie, vpon hope of everlasting reward. 21 A commendation of the new Testament above the olde.

Wherefore, let vs also, seeing that we are compassed with so great a
"cloude of w. knesse, cast away euery thig
that presseth downe, and the sinne that
"angeth so fast on: let vs runne with pa-
cencie the race that is set before vs,
L. king vnto Iesus the autor and finisher
of our faith, who for the ioye that was set
before him, endured the crosse, and despised the shame, and is set at the right hand
of the throne of God.

Consider therefore him that endured su-
che speaking against sinners, lest ye shulde be wearied and fainte in your mindes.

Ye haue not yet resisted vnto blood, stri-
uing against sinne.

And ye haue forgotten the consolation,
which speaketh vnto you as vnto childre,
"My sonne, despise not the chastening of the Lord, nether siait when thou art rebuked of him.

For whome the Lord loueth, he chasteneth: and he scourgeth euery sonne that he receiveth.

If ye endure chastening, God offreth him self vnto you as vnto sonnes: for what sonne
is it whome the father chasteneth not?

If therefore ye be without correction,
whereof all are partakers, then are ye bas-
tardes, and not s. sonnes.

Moreover we haue had the fathers of our "bodies which corrected vs, and we gaue
them reuerence: shulde we not muche rather be in subiection vnto the Father of
"spirits, that we might liue?

For they verely for a fewe dayes chastened vs after their owne pleasure: but he
ch. steneth vs for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holines.

Now no chastising for the present semeth to be ioyous, but grievous: but afterwarde, it bringeth the quiet frute of righteousnes, vnto them which are thereby exercised.

Wherefore lift vp your hands which hang
downe, and your weake knees,

And make straight stppes vnto your fete, lest that which is halting, be turned out of the way, but let it rather be healed.

"Followe peace with all men, and holines, without the which no man shal se the Lord.

Take heed, that no man fall away from the grace of God: let no<sup>t</sup> roote of bitternes spring vp and trouble you, lest thereby many be defiled.

Let there be no fornicator, or prophane
perfone as * Esau, which for a portion of meat solde his byrth right.

*For ye knowe how that afterwarde also when he wolde haue inherited the blessing, he was reiectet: for he founde no place to<sup>t</sup> repentance, thogh he fought the blessing with teares.

For ye are not come vnto the<sup>t</sup> mounte
that might be touched, nor vnto burning fyre, nor to blackenes and darkenes, and tempest,

Nether vnto the sounde of a trumpet,
and the voyce of wordes, which they that heard it, excused them selues, that the worde shulde not be spoken to them any more.

(For they were not able to abyde that
w. was commanded, * Yea, thogh a beast
touche the mountaine, it shalbe stoned, or thrust thorowe with a dart:

And so terrible was the sight which appeared, that Moses said, I feare & quake.)

But ye are come vnto the mounte<sup>t</sup> Si6,
and to the citie of the liuing God, the mee-lestial Ierusalem, and to the companie of innumerable<sup>t</sup> Angels,

And to the c6gregation of the first borne, which are written in heauen, & to God
the iudge of all, and to the spirits of iust
and perfit men,

And to Iesus the Mediator of the newe
Testament, & to the blood of sprinkeling that speaketh better things then that of * Abel.

Se that ye despise not him that speaketh:
for if they escaped not which refused him,
that spake on<sup>t</sup> earth: muche more shal we not escape, if we turne away from him, that speaketh from heauen.

Whose voyce then shonke the earth, and now hath declared, saying, * Yet once more wil I shake, not the earth onely, but also heauen.

And this worde, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things, which are shaken, as of things which are made with hands, that the things which are not shaken, may remane.

Wherefore seeing we receive a kingdo-
me, which cannot be shaken, let vs haue
grace, whereby we may so serue God,
that we may please him with reuerence and feare.

For euen our God is a consuming fyre.

Let vs brotherlie loue continue.

Remember them that are in bondes, as though ye were bonde with them: and them that are in affliction, as if ye were also afflicted in the bodie.

A Marriage is honorable among all, and the bed vndefiled: but whoremungers & adulterers God wil iudge.

Let your conuersation be without couetousnes, and be content with those things that ye haue: for he hath said, I wil not faile thee, neither forsake thee:

So that we may boldly say, The Lord is mine helper, neither wil I feare what man can do vnto me.

Remember them which haue the ouersight of you, which haue declared vnto you the word of God: whose faith followe, considering what hath bene the end of their conuersation.

Iesus Christ yester day, and to day, the same also is for euer.

Be not caryed about with diuers & strange doctrines: for it is a good thing that ye heart be stablished with grace, & not with meates, which haue not profited the that haue bene occupied therein.

We haue an altar whereof they haue no autoritie to feate which serue in the Tabernacle.

For the bodies of those beasts whose blood is brought into the Holie place by the hie Priest for sinne, are burnt without the campe.

Therefore euen Iesus, that he might sanctifie the people with his owne blood, suffered without the gate.

Let vs go forth therefore out of the campe, bearing his reproche.

For here haue we no continuing citie: but we seeke one to come.

Let vs therefore by him offer the sacrifice of praise alwayes to God, that is, the fruit of the lippes, which confesse his Name.

To do good, & to distribute forget not: for with such sacrifices God is pleased.

Obey them that haue the ouersight of you, & submit your selues: for they watch for your soules, as they that must giue accounts, that they may do it with ioye, and not with grief: for that is vnprofitable for you.

Pray for vs: for we are assured that we haue a good conscience in all things, desiring to liue honestly.

And I desire you somewhat the more earnestly, that ye so do, that I may be restored to you more quickly.

Make you perse in all good workes, to do his wil, working in you that which is pleasant in his sight through Iesus Christ, to whome be praise for euer & euer, Amen.

I beseeche you also, brethren, suffer the wordes of exhortation: for I haue written vnto you in fewe wordes.

Knowe that our brother Timotheus is delivered, with whome (if he come shortly) I wil see you.

Salute all them that haue the ouersight of you, and all the Saintes. They of Italie salute you.

Grace be with you all, Amen.

THE *GENERAL

Epistle of Iames.

THE ARGUMENT.

Iames the Apostle and sonne of Alphaeus wrote this Epistle to the Jewes which were converted to Christ, but dispersed throughout diuers countreys, and therefore he exhorteth them to patience and prayer, to embrace the true word of God, & not to be partial, neither to boast of an yde faith, but to declare a true faith by liuelie frutes, to auoide ambition, to bridle the tongue, to rule the affections, to be humble & loue their neighbours, to beware of swearing, to utter their santes when they haue offended, to pray one for another, and to bring him which is out of the way, to the knowledge of Christ.

He exhorteth prayer with things from kefully to receiving it, & what

CHAP. I.

He exhorteth to reioyce in trouble, & To be seruant in prayer with stedfast belief. 17 To loke for all good things from aboue. 21 To forsake all vice, and thankfully to receiue the worde of God. 22 Not only hearing it, & speaking of it, but to do thereafter in dede. 27 What true religion is.

JAMES a seruant of God, & of the Lord IESVS CHRIST, to the twelue Tribes, w<sup>h</sup> are scattred abroad, salutation.

My brethre, counte it exceding ioye, whē ye fall into diuers tentacions, * Knowing that the trying of your faith bringeth forth the patience.

And let patience haue her<sup>e</sup> perfitte worke, that ye may be perfitte and entier, lacking nothing.

If any of you lacke w<sup>is</sup>dome, let him aske of God, which giueth to all men liberally, and reprocheth no man, and it shal be giuen him.

* But let him aske in faith, and wauer not: for he that wauereth, is like a waue of the sea, tost of the winde, and caryed away.

Nether let that man thinke that he shal receiue any thing of the Lord.

A wauering minded man is vnstable in all his wayes.

Let the brother of lowe degree reioyce in that he is exalted:

Againe he that is riche, in that he is made lowe: for as the flower of the grasse, shal he vanish away.

For as when the sunne riseth with heat, then the grasse withereth, and his flower fallett away, & the beautie of the facion of it perisheth: euen so shal the riche man fade away in all his wayes.

* Blessed is the man, that endureth tentacion: for when he is tryed, he shal receiue the crowne of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that loue him.

Let no man say whē he is tēpted, I am tēpted of God: for God can not be tēpted with euil, nether tempteth he any man.

But euerie man is tempted, when he is drawne away by his owne concupiscence, and is entised.

Then when lust hath conceiued, it bringeth forth the sinne, & sinne when it is finished, bringeth forth the death.

Erre not, my deare brethren.

Euerie good giuing, and euerie perfitte gift is from aboue, and cometh downe fro<sup>m</sup> the Father of light, with whome is no variableness, nether shadowing by turning.

Of his owne wil begate he vs with the worde of truth, that we shulde be as the first frutes of his creatures.

19 Wherefore my deare brethren, let euerie man be swift to heare, slowe to speake, & slowe to wrath.

20 For the wrath of man doeth not accomplish the righteounes of God.

21 Wherefore lay aparte all filthines, & superfluitie of malicioufnes, & receiue with mekenes y<sup>e</sup> worde that is grafted in you, which is able to saue your soules.

22 * And be ye doers of the worde, and not hearers onely, deceiuing your owne selues.

23 For if anie heare the worde, & do it not, he is like vnto a man, that beholdeth his natural face in a glasse.

24 For when he hath considered him self, he goeth his way, & forgetteth immediately what maner of one he was.

25 But who so loketh in the perfit Law of libertie, and continueth therein, he not being a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the worke, shal be blessed in his dede.

26 If anie man among you semeth religious, and refraineth not his tongue, but deceiueh his owne heart, this mans religion is vaine.

27 Pure religion & vndefiled before God, euen the Father, is this, to visite the fatherles, and widdowes in their aduersitie, and to kepe him self vnspotted of the worlde.

CHAP. II.

He forbiddeth to haue anie respect of persones, & But to regarde the poore as wel as the riche. 8 To be louing and mercifull. 14 And not to boast of faith where no dedes are. 17 For it is but a dead faith, where good workes followe not.

MY brethren, haue not the faith of our glorious Lord Iesus Christ in respect of persones.

2 For if there come into your companie a man with a golde ring, and in goodlie apparel, and there come in also a poore man in vile raiment,

5 Hearken my beloued brethren, hath not God chosen the poore of this worlde, that they shulde be riche in faith, and heirs of the kingdome which he promised to them that loue him?

6 But ye haue despised the poore. Do not the riche oppresse you by tyrannie, and do not they drawe you before the iudgement seates?

7 Do not they blaspheme the worthie Name after which ye be named?

that were not iques and were receiued to grace. q. Wherefore we are iustifified onely by this liuely faith, which doeth apprehende the mercie of God sowards vs in Iesus Christ.

to the Scripture, which faith, * Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy self, ye do wel.

* But if ye regarde the persones, ye commit sinne, and are rebuked of the Law, as transgressours.

For * whosoever shall kepe the whole Law, and yet faileth in one point, he is guilty of all.

For he that said, * Thou shalt not commit adulterie, said also, Thou shalt not kill. Now though thou doest none adulterie, yet if thou killest, thou art a transgressor of the Law.

So speake ye, and so do, as they that shall be iudged by the Law of libertie.

For there shall be iudgement mercies to him that sheweth no mercie, & mercies reioyced against iudgement.

What auaileth it, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, when he hath no workes? can the faith saue him?

For if a brother or a sister be * naked and destitute of dailely doze,

And one of you say vnto them, Depart in peace: warme your selues, and fil your bellies, notwithstanding ye giue them not those things which are needefull to the bodie, what helpeth it?

Euen so the faith, if it haue no workes, is dead in it self.

But some man might say, Thou hast it the faith, & I haue workes: shewe me thy faith out of thy * workes, & I will shewe thee my faith by my workes.

Thou beleuest that there is one God: thou doest wel: the deuils also beleue it, & tremble.

But wilt thou vnderstand, & thou vaine man, that the faith which is without workes, is dead?

Was not Abraham our father iustified through workes, when he offered Isaac his sonne vpon the Altar?

Seest thou not that y faith wrought with his workes? & through the workes was the faith made * perfice.

And the Scripture was fulfilled which sayth, * Abraham beleued God, and it was imputed vnto him for righteousnes: & he was called the friend of God.

Ye see then how that of workes a man is iustified, and not of faith onely.

Likewise also was not * Rahab the harlot iustified through workes, when she had receiued the messengers, and sent the out another way?

For as the bodie without the spirit is dead, euen so the faith without workes is dead.

For as the bodie without the spirit is dead, euen so the faith without workes is dead.

He forbiddeth all ambition to seeke honour above our brethren. 3 He describeth the propriety of the tongue. 13. 16 And what difference there is betwixt the wisdom of God, and the wisdom of the worlde.

MY brethren, be not * manie masters, knowing that we shall receiue the greater condemnation.

For in manie things we * sinne all. * If anie man sinne not in wordes, he is a perfect man, and able to bridle all the bodie.

Beholde, we put bits into the horses mouthes that they shulde obey vs, and we turne about all their bodie.

Beholde also the shippes, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce windes, yet are they turned about with a verie small rudder, whether soeuer y gouernour listeth.

Euen so the tongue is a litle member, and boasteth of great things: beholde, how great a thing a litle fyre kindleth.

And the tongue is fyre, yea, a * worlde of wickednes: so is the tongue set among our members, that it defileth the whole bodie, and * setteth on fyre the course of nature, and it is set on fyre of hel.

For the whole nature of beastes, and of birdes and of creeping things, and things of the sea is tamed and hath bene tamed of the nature of man.

But the tongue can no man tame. * It is an vnruled euil, full of deadlie poyson.

Therewith blesse we God euen the Father, and therewith curse we me, which are made after the similitude of God.

Out of one mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing: my brethren, these things ought not so to be.

Doeth a fountaine send forth at one place swete water and bitter?

Can the figge tre, my brethren, bring forth the olives, other a vine figges? so can no fountaine make bothe salte water & swete.

Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? let him shewe by good conuersation his workes in mekenes of wisdom.

But if ye haue bitter enuying and strife in your hearts, reioyce not, neither be liars against the truth.

This wisdom descendeth not fro above, but is earthly, sensual, and diuells.

For where enuying and strife is, there is sedition, and all manner of euil workes.

But the wisdom that is from above, is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, easie to be entreated, full of mercie and good frutes without iudging, and without hypocrisy.

And the frute of righteousnes is sown in peace, of them that make peace.

1 Having shewed the cause of all wrong, and wickednes, and also of all graces and goodnes, 4 He exhorteth them to loue God, 7 And submit them selues to him, 11 Not speaking euil of their neighbours, 13 But patiently to depend on Gods providence.

14 Rom whence are warres and contentions among you are they not hence, euens of your lustes, that fight in your members?

15 Ye luste, and haue not: ye enuie, and haue indignation, and can not obtaine: ye fight and warre, and get nothing, because ye aske not.

16 Ye aske, and receiue not because ye aske a misse, that ye might consume it on your lustes.

17 Ye adulterers and adulteresses, knowe ye not that the amitie of the worlde is the enemie of God? Whosoever therefore will be a friend of the worlde, maketh himselfe the enemie of God.

18 Do ye thinke that the Scripture saith in vaine, The spirit that dwelleth in vs, lusteth after enuie?

19 But the Scripture offereth more grace & therefore saith, * God resisteth the proude, and giueth grace to the humble.

20 * Submit your selues to God: resist the deuil, and he wil flee from you.

21 Drawe nere to God, and he wil drawe nere to you. Clesse your hands, ye sinners, & purge your hearts, ye wauering minded.

22 Suffer afflictions, and forowe ye, and wepe: let your laughter be turned into mourning, and your ioye into heauines.

23 * Cast downe your selues before y Lord, and he wil lift you vp.

24 Speake not euil one of another, brethren. He that speaketh euil of his brother, or he that condemneth his brother, speaketh euil of the Law, and * condemneth the Law: and if thou condemnest the Law, thou art not an obseruer of the Law, but a iudge.

25 There is one Law giuer, which is able to saue, & to destroye. * Who art thou that iudget another man?

26 Go to now ye that say, * To day or to morowe we wil go into suche a citie, and continue there a yere, and bye and sel, and get gaine,

27 (And yet ye can not tel what shalbe to morowe. For what is your life? It is euen a vapour that appeareth for a litle time, and afterwarde vanisheth away.)

28 For that ye ought to say, * If the Lord wil, and, If we liue, we wil do this or that.

29 But now ye reioyce in your boastings: all suche reioycing is euil.

30 Therefore, to him that knoweth how to do wel, and doeth it not, to him it is sinne.

CHAP. V.

1 GO to now, ye riche men: wepe, and howle for your miseries that shal come vpon you.

2 Your riches are corrupt: & your garments are motheaten.

3 Your golde and siluer is cankered, and the rust of them shalbe a witnes against you, and shal eat your flesh as it were fyre. * Ye haue heaped vp treasure for y last dayes.

4 Beholde, the hyre of the laborers, which haue reaped your fields (which is of you kept backe by fraude) cryeth, and the cries of the which haue reaped, are entred into the eares of the Lord of hostes.

5 Ye haue liued in pleasure on the earth, & in wantones. Ye haue nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.

6 Ye haue condemned and haue killed the iuste, and he hath not resisted you.

7 Be pacient therefore, brethren, vnto the coming of the Lord. Beholde, the husband man waiteth for the precious frute of the earth, and hathe long pacience for it, vntil he receiue the former, and the latter raine.

8 Be ye also pacient therefore & setle your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth nere.

9 Grudge not one against another, brethren: lest ye be condemned: beholde, the iudge standeth before the dore.

10 Take, my brethren, the Prophetes for an ensample of suffering aduersitie, and of long pacience, which haue spoken in the Name of the Lord.

11 Beholde, we count the blessed which endure. Ye haue heard of the paciencie of Iob, and haue knowen what end the Lord made. For the Lord is verie pitiful & merciful.

12 But before all things, my brethren, * sweare not, nether by heauen, nor by earth, nor by anie other othe: but let your yea, be yea, and your naye, naye, lest ye fall into condemnation.

13 Is anie among you afflicted? Let him pray. Is anie merie? Let him sing.

14 Is anie sicke among you? Let him call for the Elders of the Church, and let them praye for him, and anoint him with oyle in the Name of the Lord.

15 And the prayer of faith shal saue the sicke, and the Lord shal raise him vp: and if he haue committed sinne, it shalbe forgiven him.

16 Acknowledge your fautes one to another, & praye one for another, that ye may be heaked: for the prayer of a righteous man auaileth much, if it be seruent.

DDd.iiii.

1 He menaceth them with the vengeance of God, which shal not onely make them to wepe, but to howle and despayre.

2 And handle the wrath of God against you.

3 To suffice til the end of the worlde.

4 Which were the dayes of the sacrifices, or least when they vied to banquet & to be more abundantly then other dayes.

13 Wherefore, * girde vp the * loynes of your minde : be sober, and trust perfectly on the grace that is brought vnto you, by the * reuelacion of Iesus Christ, 14 As obedient children, not facioning your selues vnto the former * lustes of your ignorance:
15 But as he which hath called you, is holie,
so be ye holie in * ali maner of conuersa-
cion,
16 Because it is written, * Be ye holie, for I am holie.
17 And if ye call him Father, which without * respect of persone iudgeth accordig to euerie mans * worke, passe the time of your dwelling here in feare, 18 Knowing that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as siluer and golde, fro your vaine conuersacion, received by the tradicions of the * fathers, 19 * But with the precious blood of Christ,
as of a Lambe vndefiled, & without spot.

cion of the worlde, but was declared in the last times for your sakes, 21 Which by his meanes do beleue in God
that raised him from the dead, and gaue
him glorie, that your faith & hope might be in God.
22 Seing your soules are purified in obeing
the trueth through the spirit, to * loue brotherly without faining, loue one another
with a pure heart feruently, 23 Being borne a new, not of mortal fede,
but of * immortal, by the worde of God,
who liueth and endureth for euer.
24 For all * flesh is as grasse, and all the glorie of man is as the flower of grasse. The grasse withereth, and the flower falleth away.
25 But the worde of the Lord endureth for euer: and this is the worde which is preached among you.

CHAP. II.

3 He exhorteth them to laye aside all vice, 4 Shewing
that Christ is the fundacion whereupon they builde.
9 The excellent estate of the Christians. 11 He praiseth them to abstaine from fleshlie lustes. 13 To obey the rulers. 18 How seruants shulde behaue them selues toward their masters. 20 He exhorteth vs to suffer after the ensample of Christ.

1 Therefore, * laying aside all malicioufnes & all guile, & dissimu-
lacion, and enuie, and all euil speaking,
2 As new borne babes desire * the * syncere

thereby,
3 If so be that ye haue tasted how bountiaccomplished

which they prophecie.

5 And ye as liuelie stones, be made a spiritual house, and holie * Priesthode to offer vp spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God
by Iesus Christ.

6 Wherefore it is contened in the Scripture, * Bholde, I put in * Sion a chief corner stone, elect and precious: and he that beleueth therein, shal not be ashamed.

7 Vnto you therefore which beleue, it is precious: but vnto them which be disobedient, the * stone which the * buylders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,

8 And a * stone to stombe at, and a rocke
of offence, euen to them which stombe at the worde being disobedient, vnto the
which thing they were euen ordeined.

9 But ye are a chosen generacion, a * royal * Priesthode, an holie nation, a * peculiar people, that ye shulde shew forth the ver-tues of him that hath called you out of darkenes into his marueilous light,

10 * Which in time past were not a people,
yet are now the people of God: which in time past were not vnder mercie, but now
haue obtained mercie.

11 Derely beloved, I beseeche you, as strangers and pilgrims, * abstaine from fleshlie
lustes, which fight against the soule,

12 * And haue your conuersacion honest among the Gentiles, that they which speake euil of you as of euil doers, maye by your * good workes which they shal se, glorifie God in the day of * the visitacion.

13 * Submit your selues vnto all * maner ordinance of man for the Lords sake, whether it be vnto the King, as vnto the superior,

14 Or vnto gouernours, as vnto them * ye are sent of him, for the punishment of euil
doers, and for the praise of them that do well.

15 For so is the wil of God, that by wel
doing ye may put to silence the ignorance
of the foolish men,

16 As fre, and not as hauing the libertie for a cloke of malicioufnes, but as the seruants
of God.

17 Honour all men: * loue * brotherlie felowship: feare God: honour the King.

18 * Seruants, be subiect to your masters with all feare, not onely to the good and courteous, but also to the * frowarde.

19 * For this is thankeworthie, if a man for his conscience towarde God endure grief suffering wrongfully.

20 For what praise is it, if when ye be bu-
feted for your fautes, ye take it patiently,
but and if when ye do well, ye suffer wrong
and take it patiently, this is acceptable
to God.

21 For hereunto ye are called: for Christ

THE ARGUMENT.

The effect of the Apostle here is to exhort the which haue once professed the true faith of Christ, to stand to the same even to the last breath: also that God by his effectual grace towards men moueth them to holines of life, in punishing the hypocrites which abuse his Name, & in increasing his gifts in the godlie: wherefore by godlie life he being now almost at deaths dore, exhorteth the to approue their vocation, not setting their affections on worldlie things (as he had oft writ vnto them) but lifting their eyes towards heauen, as they be taught by the Gospel, whereof he is a cleare witnes, chiefly in that he heard with his owne eares that Christ was proclaimed from heauen to be the Sonne of God, as likewise the Prophetes testified. And lest they shoulde promise to them selves quietnes by professing the Gospel, he warneth the bothe of troubles which they shoulde susteine by the false teachers, and also by the mockers & contemners of religion, whose manners and trade be liuely setteth forth as in a table: aduertising the faithful not onely to waite diligently for Christ, but also to beholde presently the day of his coming, and to preserve them selves vnspotted against the same.

CHAP. I.

Forasmuche as the power of God hath giuen them all things, pertaining vnto life, he exhorteth them to flee the corruption of worldlie lusts, 10 To make their calling sure with good workes, and frutes of faith. 14 He maketh mention of his owne death, 17 Declaring the Lord Iesus to be the true Sonne of God, as he him self had sene vpon the mounte.

SIMON Peter a seruant and an Apostle of IESVS CHRIST, to you which haue obtained like precious faith with vs by the righteousnes of our God and Sauour

Iesus Christ:

- 1 Grace and peace be multiplied to you, by the knowledge of God and of Iesus our Lord,
- 2 According as his godlie power hath giuen vnto vs all things that pertaine vnto life and godlines, through the knowledge of him that hath called vs vnto glorie and vertue.
- 3 Whereby moste great, and precious promises are giuen vnto vs, that by them ye shoulde be partakers of the godlie nature, in that ye flee the corruption, which is in the worlde through lust.
- 4 Therefore giue euen all diligence thereunto: to ioyne moreouer vertue with your faith: and with vertue, knowledge:
- 5 And with knowledge, temperance: and with temperance, patience: and with patience, godliness:
- 6 And with godliness, brotherlie kindenes: and with brotherlie kindenes, love.
- 7 For if these things be among you, and abunde, they wil make you that ye neither shalbe ydle, nor vnfrutefull in your knowledge of our Lord Iesus Christ.
- 8 For he that hath not these things, is blinde, & scan not se farre of, & hath forgotte that he was purged from his olde finnes.

- 10 Wherefore, brethren, giue rather diligence to make your calling & election sure: for if ye do these things, ye shal neuer fall.
- 11 For by this meanes an entring shalbe ministered vnto you abundantly into the euerglasting kingdome of our Lord & Sauour Iesus Christ.
- 12 Wherefore, I wil not be negligēt to put you alwaies in remembrance of these things, thogh that ye haue knowledge, and be established in the present truerh.
- 13 For I thinke it mete as I am in this tabernacle, to stirre you vp by putting you in remembrance.
- 14 Seing I knowe that the time is at hand that I must lay downe this my tabernacle, euen as our Lord Iesus Christ hath shewed me.
- 15 I wil endeouour therefore alwaies, that ye also may be able to haue remembrance of these things after my departing.
- 16 For we folowed not deceivable fables when we opened vnto you the power, and comming of our Lord Iesus Christ, but with our eyes we saw his maiestie:
- 17 For he receiued of God the Father honour and glorie, when there came such a voyce to him from the excellent glorie, *This is my beloued Sonne, in whome I am wel pleased.
- 18 And this voyce we heard when it came from heauen, being with him in the holie mounte.
- 19 We haue also a moste sure worde of the Prophetes, to which ye do wel that ye take hede, as vnto a light that shineth in a darke place, vntill the day dawne, and the daye starre arise in your hearts.
- 20 *So that ye first know this, that no prophetic in the Scripture is of private motion.
- 21 For the Prophecie came not in olde time by the wil of man: but holie men of God

a To that he declared him self iuste and faithful in accomplishing his promises by Christ.

b He speaketh of Christ as he is God and Sauour.
c That is, salvation.
d The summe of our saluatiō and religion is to be led by Christ to the Father, who calleth vs in the Sonne.
e Or, through his glorie.
f We are made partakers of godly nature, in which we flee corruption of the worlde: or as Paul writeth, are dead to sinne, & are not in the flesh of godlie maners.

g The Greeke worde signifieth him, that naturally can not se, except he holdeth nere his eyes. So Peter calleth such as can not se howe things which are farre off, purre blinde or landblinde.

h Albeit he sure in it self forasmuche as God can not change yet we must continue in our faith, by the frutes of the Spirit, knowing the purpose of God electing, calling, sanctifying, and iustificing vs. For God will euer vpholde you. In this booke, 1. Cor. 13.

But there were false prophetes also among the people, euē as there shalbe false teachers among you: which priuily shal bring in damnable heresies; euen denying the Lord, that hath bought them, & bring vpon them selues swift dānation. And manie shal followe their damnable wayes; by whome the way of truth shalbe euil spoken of, And through couetousnes shal they with fained wordes make marchandise of you, whose iudgement long agoe is not farre of, and their damnation slepeth not.

For if God spared not the * Angels, that had sinned, but caste them downe into hell and deliuered them into chaines of darkenes, to be kept vnto damnation:

Nether hath spared the olde worlde, but saued * Noe the eight persone a preacher of righteousness, and brought in the flood vpon the worlde of the vngodlie,

And * turned the cities of Sodome and Gomorrh into ashes, condemned them and ouerthrew them, and made them an ensample vnto them that after shulde liue vngodlie,

* And deliuered iuste Loth vexed with the vnclenlie conuersation of the wicked, (For he being righteous, and dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soule from day to day with their vnlawful dedes.)

The Lord knoweth to deliuer the godlie out of temptation, and to reserue the vniust vnto the day of iudgement to be punished:

And chiefly them that walke after the flesh, in the lust of vnclennes, and despise the gouernement, which are presumptuous, and stand in their owne conceite, and feare not to speake euil of thē that are in dignitie.

Where as the Angels which are greater bothe in power and might, giue not railing iudgement against them before the Lord.

But these as brute beaſts, led with sensualitye and made to be taken, and destroyed, speake euil of those things which they knowe not, and shal perish through their owne corruption.

And shal receiue the wages of vnrighteousnes, which they counte it pleasure to liue deliciouſly for a season: Sportes they are and blottes, * deliting them selues in their deceiuing, in feasting with you, and appointed to this iudgement, so they fall into the snares of Satan to their destruction. For in your holie feasts they sit as members of your Church where as indeede they be but spottes, & so deceiue you, read Iude 23.

14 Having eyes ful of adulterie, and that can not cease to sinne, beguiling vnstable foules: they haue hearts exercised with couetousnes, cursed children,

15 Which forsaking the right waye, haue gone astraye, following the way of * Baalam, the sonne of Bosor, which loued the wages of vnrighteousnes.

16 But he was rebuked for his iniquities: for the domme aske speaking with mans voyce, forbade the foolishnes of the Prophet.

17 * These are welles without water, and cloudes caryed about with a tempest, to whome the blacke darkenes is reserued for euer.

18 For in speaking, swelling wordes of vanitie, they beguile with wantōnes through the lustes of the flesh them that were cleane escaped from them which are wrapped in error,

19 Promising vnto them libertie, and are them selues the seruants of corruption: for of whome soeuer a man is ouercome, euen vnto the same is he in bondage.

20 * For if they, after they haue escaped fro the filthines of the worlde, through the knowledge of the Lord, & of the Sauour Iesus Christ, are yet ragled againe therein, and ouercome, the latter end is worse with them then the beginning.

21 For it had bene better for them, not to haue knowen the way of righteousness, thē after they haue knowen it, to turne fro the holie commandement giuen vnto them.

22 But it is come vnto them, according to the true prouerbe, * The dogge is returned to his owne vomit: and, The sowe that was washed, to the wallowing in the myer.

CHAP. III.

that was of the water and by the water, by the worde of God.

Wherefore the worlde that then was, perished, ouerflowed with the water.

But the heauens & earth, which are now, are kept by the same worde in store, and reserued vnto fyre against the day of iudgement, and of the destruction of vngodlie men.

Derely beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord, * as a thousand yeres, & a thousand yere, as one day.

The Lord is not slacke concerning his promes (as some men count slackenes) but is patient toward vs, and * wolde haue no man to perish, but wolde all men to come to repentance.

But the day of the Lord wil come as a thief in the night, in the which the heauens shal passe away with a noyce, and the elements shal mele with heate, and the earth with the workes, that are therein, shal be burne vnto ashy.

Seing therefore that all these things must be dissolued, what maner persones ought ye to be in holie conuersation and godlines,

Looking for, and hastning vnto the com-

ming of the day of God, by the which the heauens being on fyre, shalbe dissolued, & the elements shal melt with heate.

But we loke for * new heauens, and a new earth, according to his promes, wherein dwelleth righteousnes.

Wherefore, beloved, seing that ye loke for such things, be diligent that ye may be founde of him in peace, without spotte and blameles.

* And suppose that the long suffering of our Lord is saluation, euen as our beloved brother Paul according to the wisdome giuen vnto him wrote to you,

As one, that in all his Epistles speaketh of these things: among the which some things are s hard to be understand, which they that are vnlearned and vnstable, peruert, as they do also other Scriptures vnto their owne destruction.

Ye therefore beloved, seing ye knowe these things before, beware, lest ye be also plucked away with the errour of the wicked, and fall from your owne stedfastnes.

But growe in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Sauour Iesus Christ, to him be glorie bothe now and for euer more. Amen.

THE FIRST EPI- stle general of Iohn.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that S. Iohn had sufficiently declared, how that our whole saluation doeth cōsiste onely in Christ, lest that any man shoulde thereby take a boldenes to sinne, he sheweth that no man can beleue in Christ, onles he doeth endeuour him self to kepe his commandments, which thing being done, he exhorteth them to beware of false prophetes, whome he calleth Antichrists, and to trye the spirits. Laste of all he doeth earnestly exhorthe them vnto brotherlie loue, and to beware of deceiuers.

CHAP. 1.

True wimes of the euerlasting worde of God. 7 The blood of Christ is the purgation of sinne. 10 No man is without sinne.

a That is, Christ God eternal.
b That is, Christ being man.

(For the life appeared, and we haue sene it, and beare witnes, and shewe vnto you the eternal life, which was with the Father, and appeared vnto vs)

That, I say, which we haue sene & heard, declare we vnto you, that ye may also haue fellowship with vs, and that our fellowship also may be with the Father and with his Sonne Iesus Christ.

And these things write we vnto you, that your ioye may be ful.

This then is the message which we haue heard of him, and declare vnto you, that God * is light, & in him is no darkenes.

If we say y<sup>e</sup> we haue fellowship with him, and walke in darkenes, we lye, & do not trulye.

But if we walke in the light as he is in the light, we haue fellowship with one with another, and the * blood of Iesus Christ his Sonne clenseth vs from all sinne.

* If we say that we haue no sinne, we deceive our selues, and truerh is not in vs.

If we acknowledge our sinnes, he is faithful and iust, to forgie vs our sinnes, & to cleanse vs from all vnrighteousnes.

CHAP. II.

Christ is our Aduocate. 10 Of true loue, & how it is tried. 12 To beware of Antichrist.

MY babes, these things write I vnto you, that ye sinne not: and if any man sinne, we haue an Aduocate with the Father, Iesus Christ, the Iust.

And he is the reconciliation for our sinnes: and not for ours onely, but also for the sinnes of the whole worlde.

And hereby we are sure that we knowe him, if we kepe his commandements.

He that saith, I knowe him, and kepeth not his commandements, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.

But he that kepeth his worde, in him is the loue of God perfite in dede: hereby we knowe that we are in him.

He that saith he remaineth in him, ought euen so to walke, as he hath walked.

Brethren, I write no newe commandement vnto you: but an olde commandement, which ye haue had from the beginning: the olde commandement is the worde, which ye haue heard from the beginning.

Againe, a newe commandement I write vnto you, that which is true in him, and also in you: for the darkenes is past, and the true light now shineth.

He that saith that he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkenes vntil this time.

He that loueth his brother, abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of euil in him.

But he that hateth his brother, is in darkenes, and walketh in darkenes, & knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkenes hath blinded his eyes.

Little children, I write vnto you, because your sinnes are forgiven you for his Names sake.

I write vnto you, fathers, because ye haue known him that is fro the beginning. I write vnto you, yong men, because ye haue overcome the wicked.

I write vnto you, babes, because ye haue knowe the Father. I haue writte vnto you, fathers, because ye haue knowen him, that is from the beginning. I haue writen vnto you, yong men, because ye are strong, and the worde of God abideth in you, and ye haue overcome the wicked.

Loue not the worlde, neither the things that are in the worlde. If any man loue the worlde, the loue of the Father is not in him.

For all that is in the worlde (as the luste of the flesh, the luste of the eyes, & the pride of life) is not of the Father, but is of the worlde.

And the worlde passeth awaye, and the luste thereof: but he that fulfilleth the will of God, abideth euer.

Babes, it is the last time, and as ye haue heard that Antichrist shal come, eue now are there many Antichrists: whereby we knowe that it is the last time.

They went out from vs, but they were not of vs: for if they had bene of vs, they wolde haue continued with vs. But this cometh to passe, that it might appeare, that they are not all of vs.

But ye haue an ointement fro him, that is Holie, & ye haue knowen all things.

I haue not writen vnto you, because ye knowe not the truth: but because ye knowe it, and that no lyer is of the truth.

Who is a lyer, but he that denyeth that Iesus is Christ: the same is the Antichrist that denyeth the Father and the Sonne.

Whosoever denyeth the Sonne, the same hath not the Father.

Let therefore abide in you, that same which ye haue heard from the beginning. If that which ye haue heard from the beginning, shal remaine in you, ye also shal continewe in the Sonne, & in the Father.

And this is the promise that he hath promised vs, euen eternal life.

These things haue I writen vnto you, concerning them that deceiue you.

But the anointing which ye receiued of him, dwelleth in you: and ye nede not that any man teache you: but as the same Anointing teacheth you of all things, & it is true, & is not lying, & as it taught you, ye shal abide in him.

And now, little children, abide in him, that when he shal appeare, we may be bolde, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

If ye knowe that he is righteous, knowe ye that he which doeth righteously, is borne of him.

CHAP. III.

The singular loue of God towards vs. And how we ought to loue one another.

Beholde, what loue the Father hath shewed on vs, that we shulde be called the sonnes of God: for this cause the worlde knoweth you not, because it knoweth not him.

Dearly beloued, now are we the sonnes of God, but yet it doeth not appeare what we shalbe: and we knowe that when he shal appeare, we shalbe like him: for we shal se him as he is.

And euerie man that hath this hope in him, purgeth him self, euen as he is pure.

Whosoever comitteth sinne, transgresseth also the Law: for sinne is the transgression of the Law.

And ye knowe that he appeared that he

Which seemed to haue bene of our number, because for a timethy occupied a place in the Church. The grace of the holie Ghost which is Christ. In this Epistle which I now write vnto you.

He that teacheth away from the nature of the Father, or he that counteth or separeth them, els he that putteth not difference betweene the person of the Sonne, & also he that belieueth not to haue remission of sinnes by his onely faith, denieth Christ to be the true Messiah. Then the infidels worship not the true God.

But he that confesseth the Sonne, hath also the Father.

Christ communi- cated his self vnto you and teacheth you by the holie Ghost & his ministris. By this name he meaneth the holie Church of Christ in general.

Being made the sonnes of God in Christ, he sheweth what qualities we must haue to be discerned from bastards. That is, Christ. As the members and head are which make one perfect bodie.

That is, in whome sinne doeth reigne, so ye seeketh not to be sanctified.

might *take away our sinnes, and in him is no sinne.

Whofoeuer abideth in him, sinneth not: whofoeuer sinneth, hathe not sene him, neither hathe knowen him.

Little children, let no man deceiue you: he that doeth righteousnes, is righteous, as he is righteous.

Iohn 1. 4. 4.
c As appeared by Adam.

He that *committeth sinne, is of the deuill: for the deuill sinneth from the *beginning: for this purpose appeared the Sonne of God, that he might lōse the workes of the deuill.

Which is the holie Gost. He can not be vnder the power of sinne because the Spirit of God correcteth his euill and corrupt affections. He desireth death from the first table of 3 commandments to the seconde. Iohn 13. 34. & 15. 12. Gen. 4. 8.

Whofoeuer is borne of God, sinneth not: for his *sede remaineth in him, neither can he sinne, because he is borne of God.

In this are the childre of God: knowen, and the children of the deuill: whofoeuer doeth not righteousnes, is not of God, neither he that loueth not his brother.

For this is the message, that ye heard fro the beginning; that *we shulde loue one another,

Not as *Cain which was of the wicked, and slewe his brother: & wherefore slewe he him? because his owne workes were euill, and his brothers good.

Marueile not, my brethren, though y<sup>e</sup> worlde hate you.

This loue is the speciall fruite of our faith and a certeine signe of our regeneration. Chap. 2. 18. Iohn 13. 17.

We knowe that we are translated from death vnto life, because we loue the brethren: *he that loueth not his brother, abideth in death.

Whofoeuer hateth his brother, is a manslayer: & yeknowe that no manslayer hathe eternal life abiding in him.

Iohn 15. 13. aphe. 5. 2.

*Hereby haue we perceiued loue, that he laid downe his life for vs: therefore we ought also to lay downe our liues for the brethren.

Luk. 2. 11.

*And whofoeuer hathe this worldes good and seeth his brother haue nede, and shutteth vp his copassion from him, how dwelleth the loue of God in him?

Which is not the cause, wherefore we are y<sup>e</sup> sinners of God, but a more certeine signe.

My little children, let vs not loue in worde, neither in tongue onely, but in *dede & in trueth.

If our conscience being guiltie of any thing, be able so to condemne vs, muche more y<sup>e</sup> iudgement of God which knoweth our hearts better than we our selues, is able to condemne vs.

For thereby we knowe that we are of the trueth & shal before him assure our hearts. For if our heart condemne vs, God is greater then our heart, and knoweth all things.

Iohn 15. 7. & 16. 23. Mat. 21. 22. chap. 5. 24. Iohn. 6. 29. & 17. 3. Iohn 13. 34. & 15. 10.

Beloued, if our heart condemne vs not, then haue we boldenes toward God.

*And whatfoeuer we aske, we receiue of him, because we kepe his comandements, and do those things which are pleasing in his sight.

*This is then his commandement, That we beleue in the Name of his Sonne Iesus Christ, and loue one another, as he gaue us commandement.

*For he that kepeth his commadements,

dwelleth in him, and he in him: & hereby we knowe that he abyedeth in vs, euen by the Spirit which he hathe giuen vs.

CHAP. IIII.

Difference of spirits. 1 How the Spirit of God may be knowne from the spirit of error. 7 Of the loue of God and of our neighbours.

Beloued, beleue not euerie spirit, but trye the spirits whether they are of God: for many false Prophetes are gone out into the worlde.

The which boast that they haue the spirit to preache or prophesie.

Hereby shal ye knowe the Spirit of God, Euerie spirit that confesseth that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, is of God.

Who being very God came from his Father and toke vpon him our flesh, he y<sup>e</sup> confesseth or preacheth this truly, hathe the spirit of God. He began to buyde the myserie of this quire. It saten the spirit of the worlde.

And euerie spirit which confesseth not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God: but this is the spirit of Antichrist, of whome ye haue heard, how y<sup>e</sup> he shulde come & now already he is in the worlde.

Little children, ye are of God, and haue overcome them: for greater is he that is in you, then he that is in the worlde.

They are of the worlde, therefore speake they of the worlde, and the worlde heareth them.

The loue of God must growe, or els we ca not loue right.

We are of God, *he that knoweth God, heareth vs: he that is not of God, heareth vs not. Hereby knowe we the Spirit of trueth, and the spirit of error.

John 2. 47. c With pure affection & obedience.

Beloued, let vs loue one another: for loue cometh of God, & euerie one that loueth, is borne of God, and knoweth God.

He that loueth not, knoweth not God: for God is loue.

John 3. 16.

In this appeared y<sup>e</sup> loue of God toward vs, because God sent his onely begotten Sonne into the worlde, that we might liue through him.

That is, regeneration. The water & blood that came out of his side, declare y<sup>e</sup> we haue our sinnes washed by him, & he hath made full satisfaction for the same.

Herein is loue, not that we loued God, but that he loued vs, and sent his sonne to be a reconciliation for our sinnes.

By his sacrifice death.

Beloued, if God so loued vs, we ought also to loue one another.

John 1. 11.

*No man bathe sene God at any time. If we loue one another, God dwelleth in vs, and his loue is perfite in vs.

John 2. 18. & 17. 4. 16.

Hereby knowe we, that we dwell in him, and he in vs: because he hathe giuen vs of his Spirit.

And we haue sene, and do testifie, that the Father sent the Sone to be the Sauour of the worlde.

Which testifieth to our hearts, that we be y<sup>e</sup> children of God.

Whofoeuer confesseth that Iesus is the Sonne of God, in him dwelleth God, and he in God.

So that his confession proceedeth of faith.

And we haue knowen, and beleued the loue that God hathe in vs. God is loue, & he that dwelleth in loue, dwelleth in God, and God in him.

For, Iohn 1. 9. By inspiring into vs.

THE ARGUMENT.

S<sup>aint</sup> Iude admonisheth all Churches generally to take hede of deceiuers which go about to drawe awaye the hearts of the simple people from the truth of God, and willet them to haue no societie with suche, whome he setteth forth in their liuelie colours, shewing by diuers exmples of the Scriptures what horrible vengeance is prepared for them: finally he comforteth the faithful and exhorteth them to perseuere in the doctrine of the Apostles of Iesus Christ.

Mercie vnto you, and peace and loue be multiplied.

Beloued, when I gaue all diligence to write vnto you of the comune saluation, it was nedeful for me to write vnto you to exhorte you, that ye shulde earnestly contende for the maintenance of y faith, which was once given vnto the Saintes.

For there are certene me crept in which were before of olde ordeined to this condemnation: vngodlie men they are which turne the grace of our God into wantonnes, and denye God the onelie Lord, and our Lord Iesus Christ.

I wil therefore put you in remembrance, forasmuche as ye once knewe this, how that the Lord, after that he had deliuered the people out of Egypt, destroyed them afterwarde which beleued not.

The Angels also which kept not their first estate, but lest their owne habitation, he harbe reserved in eueralting chaines, vnder darkenes vnto y iudgement of the great daye.

As Sodom and Gomorrhe, and the cities about the, which in like maner as they did, committed, and followed strange flesh, are set forthe for an ensample, and suffer the vengeance of eternal fyre.

Likewise notwithstanding these dreamers also defile the flesh, and despise gouernement, and speake euil of them that are in autoritie.

Yet Michael the Archangel, when he strove against the deuil, and disputed about the bodie of Moses, durst not blame him with cursed speaking, but faith, The Lord rebuke thee.

But these speake euil of those things, which they knowe not: and whatsoever things they knowe naturally, as beastes, which are without reason, in those things they corrupt them selues.

Wo be vnto the: for they haue followed the way of Cain, and are cast away by the

deceite of Balaams wages, and perish in the gaine saying of Core.

These are sportes in your feasts of charitie when they feast with you, without all feare, seding them selues: cloudes they are without water, caryed about of windes, corrupt trees without frute, twaife dead, & plucked vp by the rootes.

They are the raging waues of the sea, forming out their owne shame: they are wandering starres, to whome is reserved the blackenes of darkenes for euer.

And Enoch also the seueth from Adam, prophecied of such, saying, Beholde, the Lord cometh with thousands of his Saintes,

To giue iudgement against all men, and to rebuke all vngodlie among the of all their wicked dedes, which they haue vngodly committed, & of all their cruel speakings, which wicked sinners haue spoken against him.

These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their owne lustes: whose mouths speake proude things, hauing mens persones in admiration, because of a vantage.

But, ye beloued, remember the wordes which were spokē before of the Apostles of our Lord Iesus Christ,

How that they tolde you that there shulde be mockers in the last time, which shulde walke after their owne vngodlie lustes.

These are makers of sectes, fleshlie, hauing not the Spirit.

But, ye beloued, edifie your selues in your most holie faith, praying in the holie Ghost,

And kepe your selues in y loue of God, looking for the mercie of our Lord Iesus Christ, vnto eternal life.

And haue compasion of some, in putting difference:

And other saue with feare, pulling the out of the fyre, and hate euen the garment spotted by the flesh.

Now vnto him that is able to kepe you, that ye fall not, and to present you faultles before the presence of his glorie with ioye,

That is, to God onely wise, our Sauour, be glorie, and maiestie, and dominion, and power, bothe now and for euer, Amen.

THE ARGUMENT.

IT is manifest, that the holie Ghost wolde as it were gather into this moste excellent booke a summe of those prophesies, which were written before, but shoulde be fulfilled after the coming of Christ, adding also suche things as shoulde be expedient, as wel to forewarne vs of the dangers to come, as to admonish vs to beware some, and encourage vs against others. Herein therefore is lively set forth the Diuinitie of Christ, & the testimonies of our redemption: what things the Spirit of God alloweth in the ministers, and what things he reproveth: the providence of God for his elect, and of their glorie and consolation in the day of vengeance: how that the hypocrites which sing like scorpions the members of Christ, shalbe destroyed, but the Lambe Christ shal defende them, which beare witness to the truth, who in despite of the beast and Satan wil roigne over all. The liuelie description of Antichrist is set forth, whose time and power notwithstanding is limited, and albeit that he is permitted to rage against the elect, yet his power stretcheth no farther then to the hurt of their bodies: and at length he shal be destroyed by the wrath of God, when as the elect shal give praise to God for the victorie: neuertheless for a season God wil permit this Antichrist, and strompet under colour of faire speache and pleasant doctrine to deceine the worlde: wherefore he aduertise the godlie (which are but a smale portion) to auoide this harlots flateries, and tragges, wofe ruine without mercie they shal se, and with the heauenlie companies sing continual praises: for the Lambe is married: the worde of God hath gotten the victorie: Sata that a long time was vnited, is now cast with his ministers into the pit of fyre to be tormented for euer, where as contrariwise the faithfull (which are the holie Citie of Ierusalem, & wife of the Lambe) shal enioye perpetual glorie. Read diligently: iudge soberly, and call earnestly to God for the true vnderstanding hereof.

Blessed is he that readeth, and they that heare the wordes of this prophesie, and kepe those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand.

Iohn, to the seuen Churches which are in Asia, Grace be with you & peace fro him Which is, & Which was, & Which is to come, and from the seuen Spirits which are before his Throne,

And from Iesus Christ, which is a faithful witness, & the first begotten of the dead, and Prince of the Kings of the earth, vnto him that loued vs, & washed vs fro our sinnes in his blood,

And made vs Kings and Priestes vnto

God euen his Father, to him be glorie, & dominion for euermore, Amen.

Beholde, he cometh with cloudes, and euerie eye shal se him: yea, euen they which heaped him through: and all kinreds of the earth shal waile before him, Euen so, Amen.

I am I & a, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, Which is, and Which was, and Which is to come, euen the Almightye.

I Iohn, euen your brother, & companion in tribulation, & in the kingdome and patience of Iesus Christ, was in the yle called Patmos, for the worde of God, and for the witnessing of Iesus Christ.

And I was rauished in spirit on the Lords day, and heard behinde me a great voyce, as it had bene of a trumpet,

Saying, I am I & a, the first and the last: and that which thou seest, write in a booke, & send it vnto the seuen Churches which are in Asia, vnto Ephesus, and vnto Smyrna, & vnto Pergamus, & vnto Thyatira, and vnto Sardis, and vnto Philadelphia, and vnto Laodicea.

Then I turned backe to se the voyce, that spake with me: & when I was turned, I sawe seuen golden candlestickes,

And in the middes of the seuen candlestickes, one like vnto the Sonne of man, clothed with a garment a downe to the feete, and his legges were like to waxe, and he had a bowe in his right hand, and a sharp sickle in his left hand: and he said, I will come. And when he had said, I will come, I bowed myself to worship at his feet: and he said, Seeke not to worship me: I am thy fellowe seruant, and of thy brethren the Prophets, and of them which keepe the sayings of the booke of this prophesie. The spirit and the bride saye, Come. And he that heareth, let him come. And he that is thurst, let him take the water of life free of charge.

CHAP. II.

He exhorteth foure Churches. 1. To repentance, 10 To performance, patience and amandements. 5. 14. 20. 23. As wel by threatnings, 7. 10. 17. 26. As promise of rewardes.

Vnto the Angel of the Church of Ephesus write, These things saith he that holdeth the seuen starres in his right hand, and walketh in the middes of the seuen golden candlestickes.

I knowe thy workes, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not forbear them which are euil, and hast examined them which say they are Apostles, and are not, and hast founde them liars.

And thou hast suffred, and hast patience, and for my Names sake hast labored, and hast not fainted.

Neuertheles, I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first loue.

Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first workes: or els I wil come against thee shortly, and wil remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou amende.

But this thou hast, that thou hatest the workes of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.

Let him that hath an eare, heare, what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches; To him that ouercometh, wil I giue to cate of the tree of life which is in the middes of the Paradise of God.

And vnto the Angel of the Church of the Smyrniās write, These things saith he that is first, and last, Which was dead and is aliue.

I know thy workes and tribulation, and pouertie (but thou art riche) & I knowe the blasphemie of them, which say they are Iewes and are not, but are the Synagogue of Satan.

Feare none of those things, which thou shalt suffer: beholde, it shal come to passe, that the deuil shal cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tryed, and ye shal haue tribulation ten dayes: be thou faithful vnto the death, and I wil giue thee the crowne of life.

Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith to the Churches. He that ouercometh, shal not be hurt of the secōde death.

And to the Angel of the Church which is at Pergamus write, This saith he which hath the sharpe sworde with two edges.

I knowe thy workes & where thou dwellest, euē where Satans throne is, and thou kepest my Name, and hast not denied my faith, euē in those dayes when Antipas my faithful martyr was slaine among you, where Satan dwelleth.

But I haue a fewe things against thee, because thou hast them that mainteine the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balac, to put a stumbling blocke before the children of Israel, that they shulde eat of things sacrificed vnto idoles, and commit fornication.

Euen so hast thou them, that mainteine the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate.

Repent thy self, or els I wil come vnto thee shortly, and wil fight against them with the sworde of my mouth.

Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirit saith vnto the Churches; To him that ouercometh, wil I giue to cate of the Manna that is y hid, and wil giue him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth sauing he that receiueth it.

20 Norwithstanding, I haue a fewe things against thee, that thou sufferest the woman * Iezabel, which calleth her self a Prophe-tesse, to teache and to deceiue my seruants
to make them commit fornication, & to eat meates sacrificed vnto idoles.

21 And I gaue her space to repent of her fornication, and the repented not.

22 Beholde, I wil cast her into a bed, and
them that commit fornication with her,
into great affliction, except they repent
them of their workes.

23 And I wil kill her children with death:
& all the Churches shal knowe that I am

CHAP. III.

He exhorteth the Churches or ministers to the true profession of faith and to watching. 32 With promises
to them that perseuere.

And write vnto the Angel of the Church w<sup>h</sup> is at Sardis, These things
saith he that hathe 7 senen Spirits of God,
and the seuen starres, I know thy workes;
for thou hast a name that thou liuest, but thou art dead.

Be awake and strengthen the things which
remeine, that are readie to dye: for I haue
not founde thy workes perfite before
God.

Remember therefore, how thou hast re-
ceiued and heard, and holde fast, and repent. * If therefore thou wilt not watch, I wil come on thee as a thefe, and y<sup>e</sup> shalt not knowe what houre I wil come vpon thee.

Notwithstanding thou hast a fewe names
yet in Sardis, which haue not defiled their garments: and they shal walke with me in white: for they are worthie.

5 He that ouercometh, shalbe clothed in white araye, & I wil not put out his name
out of the booke of life, but I wil confesse his name before my Fa<sup>r</sup>ther, & before his Angels.

6 Let him that hathe an eare, heare what y<sup>e</sup>
Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

7 And write vnto the Angel of y<sup>e</sup> Church which is of Philadelphia, These things
saith he that is Holie and True, which hath the keye of Dauid, which openeth
and no man shutteth, and shutteth and no
man openeth,

8 I knowe thy workes: beholde, I haue set before thee an open dore, and no man ca-shut it: for thou hast a litle strength, and hast kept my worde, and hast not denied
my Name.

9 Beholde, I wil make them of the synagogue of Saran, which call them selues Iewes
and are not, but do lye: beholde, I wil
make them, that they shal come and worship before thy fete, and shal knowe that I
haue loued thee.

10 Because thou hast kept the worde of my pacience, therefore I wil deliuer thee fro
the houre of temptation, which wil come vpon all the worlde, to trye them that dwell vpon the earth.

11 Beholde, I come shortly: holde y<sup>e</sup> which thou hast, that no man taketh y<sup>e</sup> crowne.

12 Him that ouercometh, wil I make a pillar in the Temple of my God, and he shal go no more out: and I wil write vpon him
the Name of my God, & the name of the ci-
tie of my God, which is the new Ierusalem, which cometh downe out of heauie fro my God, & I wil write vpon him my new Name.

13 Let him that hathe an eare, heare what y<sup>e</sup>
Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

14 And vnto the Angel of the Church of the Laodiceans write, These things saith Amen, the faithfull and true witness, the beginning of the creatures of God.

15 I knowe thy workes, that thou art nether
colde nor hote: I wolde thou werest colde
or hote.

16 Therefore, because thou art luke warme,
and nether colde nor hote, it wil come to passe, that I shal spewe thee out of my mouth.

17 For thou saist, I am riche & increased with goods, & haue nede of nothing, and knowest not how thou art wretched & miserable, and poore, and blinde, and naked.

18 I counsel thee to brie of me golde tryed by the fyre, that thou maiest be made riche, &
white raimet, that thou maiest be clothed
and that thy filthie nakednes do not appea-
re: and anoint thine eyes with eye salue,
that thou maiest see.

be zealous therefore and amende.

To him that ouercometh, wil I grante to sit with me in my throne, euē as I ouercame, & sit w my Father in his throne.

Let him that hathe an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

CHAP. IIII.

The vision of the maiestie of God. 2 He seeth the throne, and one sitting vpon it, 3 And 24. seates about it with 24. elders sitting vpon them, and foure beasts praising God day and night.

After this I looked, and beholde, a dore was open in heauen, and the first voyce which I heard, was as it were of a trupper talking with me, saying, Come vp hither, and I wil shewe thee things which muste be done hereafter.

And immediatly I was ranshed in the spirit, & beholde, a throne was set in heauen, and one sat vpon the throne.

And he that sat, was to loke vpon, like vnto a iasper stone, and a sardine, & there was a raine bowe rounde about the throne in sight like to an emeraude.

And rounde about the throne were foure and twentie seates, and vpon the seates I sawe foure and twentie Elders sitting, clothed in white raimēt, and had on their heads crownes of golde.

And out of the throne proceeded lightnings, and thundrings, and voyces, & there were seuen lampes of fyre, burning before the throne, which are the seuen spirits of God.

And before the throne there was a sea of glasse like vnto cristall: and in the middes of the throne, & rounde about the throne were foure beasts full of eyes before and behinde.

And the first beast was like a lion, & the seconde beast like a calfe, and the thirde beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying egle.

And the foure beasts had eche one of the six wings about him, and they were full of eyes within, and they ceased not day nor night, saying, Holie, holie, holie Lord God, almightie, which Was, & Which is, and Which is to come.

And when those beasts gaue glorie, and honour, and thanks to him that sat vpon the throne, which liueth for euer and euer,

The foure and twentie elders fell downe before him that sat vpon the throne, and worshipped him, that liueth for euer more, & cast their crownes before the throne, saying,

Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receiue glorie and honour, & power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy willes sake they are, and haue bene created.

He seeth the Lambe opening the boke, 8. 14. And therefore the foure beasts, the 24. elders, and the Angels praise the Lambe, & do him worship. 2 For their redemption, and other benefites.

And I sawe in the right hand of him that sat vpon the throne, a Boke written within, and on the backside, sealed with seuen seales.

And I sawe a strong Angel which preached with a lowde voyce, Who is worthy to open the boke, and to lose the seales thereof.

And no man in heauē, nor in earth, neither vnder the earth, was able to open the Boke, neither to loke thereon.

Then I wept muche, because no mā was founde worthy to open, and to reade the Boke, neither to loke thereon.

And one of the elders said vnto me, Wepe not: beholde, the Lion which is of the tribe of Iuda, the rote of Dauid, hath obtained to open the Boke, and to lose the seuen seales thereof.

Then I behelde, and lo, in the middes of the throne, and of the foure beasts, & in the middes of the elders, stood a Lambe as though he had bene killed, which had seuen hornes, & seuen eyes, which are the seuen spirits of God, sent into all the worlde.

And he came, and toke the Boke out of the right hand of him that sat vpon the throne.

And when he had taken the Boke, the foure beasts and the foure and twentie elders fell downe before the Lambe, hauing euerie one harpes & golden vialles full of odours, which are the prayers of the Saintes.

And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the Boke, and to open the seales thereof, because thou wast killed, and hast redeemed vs to God by thy blood out of euerie kinred, and tōgue, and people, and nation,

And hast made vs vnto our God Kings and Priests, and we shall reigne on the earth.

Then I behelde, and I heard the voyce of manie Angels rounde about the throne and about the beasts and the elders, & there were thousand thousands,

Saying with a lowde voyce, Worthy is the Lambe that was killed to receiue power and riches, and wisdom, and strength, & honour, and glorie, and praise,

And all creatures which are in heauē, and on the earth, and vnder the earth, and in the sea, & all that are in them, heard I, saying, Praise & honour, and glorie, and power be vnto him, that sitteth vpon the throne, & vnto the Lambe for euermore.

A similitude taken of earthie princes, & iudge by booke & writte & here it doth signifie all the counsels & iudgements of God & are openly knowen to Christ the Sonne of Dauid, vers. 2. That is, manifest.

Gen. 49.8.

This vision confirmeth the power of our Lord Iesus, who is the Lambe of God that taketh away the sinne of the worlde. d That is, manifest power. e Signifying the fulnes of the Spirit, which Christ poureth vpon all. f The Angels honour Christ: he is therefore God. g This declareth how the prayers of the faithful are agreeable vnto God, read A. 10. 4. chap. 5. h Our Sauiour Iesus hath redeemed his Church by his blood shedding & gathered it of all nations. i. ## CHAP. VI.

The Lambe openeth the sixe scales, and manie things follow the opening thereof, so that this containeth a generall prophecie to the end of the worlde.

After, I behelde, when the Lambe had opened one of the scales, & I heard one of the foure beasts say, as it were the noyce of thunder, Come and se.

Therefore I behelde, and lo, there was a white horse, and he that sat on him, had a bowe, and a crowne was giuen vnto him, and he went forth to conquer that he might overcome.

And when he had opened the seconde scale, I heard the seconde beast say, Come and se.

And there went out another horse that was red, & power was giuen to him that sat thereon, to take peace from the earth, and that they shulde kill one another, and there was giuen vnto him a great sworde.

And when he had opened the thirde scale, I heard the thirde beast say, Come and se. Then I behelde, & lo, a blacke horse, & he that sat on him, had balances in his hand.

And I heard a voyce in the middes of the foure beasts say, A measure of wheat for a penie, and three measures of barlie for a penie, and oyle, and wine hurt thou not.

And when he had opened the fourth scale, I heard the voyce of the fourth beast say, Come, and se.

And I looked, & behelde, a pale horse, & his name that sat on him was Death, and Hell followed after him, and power was giuen vnto them over the fourth parte of the earth, to kill with sworde, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

And when he had opened the fifth scale, I sawe vnder the altar the soules of them that were killed for the worde of God, & for their testimonie, which they maintained.

And they cryed with a lowde voyce, saying, How long, Lord, holie and true! dost not thou iudge & auenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

And long white robes were giuen vnto euerie one, and it was said vnto them, that they shulde rest for a litle season vntill their felowe seruants, and their brethren that shulde be killed euen as they were, were fulfilled.

And I behelde when he had opened the sixt scale, and lo, there was a great earthquake, & the sunne was as blacke as sackcloth of heere, and the moone was like

The Church miserably defaced, with idolatrie and as-

ke blood.

And the starres of heauen fel vnto the earth, as a figge tree casteth her grene figges when it is shaken of a mightie winde.

And heauen departed away, as a scrole when it is rolled, and euerie mountaine & yle were moued out of their places.

And the Kings of the earth, & the great men, and the riche men, and the chief captaines, and the mightie men, and euerie bondman, and euerie fre man, hid themselves in denes, and among the rockes of the mountaines,

And said to the mountaines and rockes, Fall on vs, and hide vs from the presence of him that sitteth on the throne, & from the wrath of the Lambe.

For the great day of his wrath is come, and who can stand?

CHAP. VII.

He seeth the seruants of God sealed in their foreheades out of all nations and people. Which though they suffer trouble, yet the Lambe feedeth them, to the fountaines of liuing water. And God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes.

And after that, I sawe foure Angels stand on foure corners of the earth, holding the foure windes of the earth, the windes shulde not blowe on the earth, neither on the sea, neither on anie tree.

And I saw another Angel come vp from the East, which had the scale of the liuing God, and he cryed with a lowde voyce to the foure Angels to whome power was giuen to hurt the earth, and the sea, saying, Hurt ye not the earth, neither the sea, neither the trees, till we haue sealed the seruants of our God in their foreheades.

And I heard the number of them, which were sealed, and there were sealed an hundred and foure and fortie thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

Though that this blindness be brought into the worlde by the malice of Satan, yet the mercies of God referre to him self an infinite number which shalbe saved bothe of the Tewes and Gentiles through Christ. He commandeth Dan, & putteth Leui in, whereby he meaneth the twelue tribes.

That is the tribe of Ephraim, which was Iosephs sonne.

- 9 After these things I behelde, & lo, a great multitude, which no mā colde number, of all nacions & kinreds, and people, & tongues, stode before the throne, and before the Lambe, clothed with long <sup>k</sup> white robes, and <sup>i</sup> palmes in their hands.
- 10 And they cryed with a loude voyce, saying, <sup>m</sup> Saluacion cometh of our God, that sitteth vpon the throne, & of the Lambe.
- 11 And all the Angels stode rounde about the throne, and about the Elders, and the foure beastes, & they fell before the throne on their faces; and worshiped God,
- 12 Saying, Amen. Praise and glorie, & wisdom, and thanks, and honour, & power, and might, <sup>be</sup> vnto our God for euermore, Amen.

13 And one of the Elders spake, sayig vnto me, What are these w̄ are araied in long white robes; and whence came they?

14 And I said vnto him, Lord, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they, which came out of great tribulacion, and haue washed their long robes & haue made their long robes white in <sup>the</sup> blood of the Lambe.

15 Therefore are they in the presence of the throne of God, and serue him day & night in his Temple, and he that sitteth on the throne, wil dwell among them.

16 * They shal <sup>i</sup> hunger no more, nether thirst anie more, nether shal the sunne <sup>i</sup> light on them, nether anie heate.

17 For the <sup>i</sup> Lambe, which is in the <sup>i</sup> middes of the throne, shal gouerne them, and shal leade them vnto <sup>the</sup> liuelie fountaines of waters, and * God shal wipe away all teares from their eyes.

18 And I behelde, & heard one Angel flying through the middes of heaue, saying with a loude voyce, <sup>i</sup> Wo, wo, wo to the inhabitants of the earth, because of the foudnes to come of the trumpet of the three Angels, which were yet to blowe the trumpettes.

19 And I behelde, & heard one Angel flying through the middes of heaue, saying with a loude voyce, <sup>i</sup> Wo, wo, wo to the inhabitants of the earth, because of the foudnes to come of the trumpet of the three Angels, which were yet to blowe the trumpettes.

20 And I sawe the seuen Angels, which stode before God, and to them were giuen seuen trumpettes.

21 Then another Angel came and stode before the altar hauing a golden censer, and muche odours was giuen vnto him, that he shulde offere with the prayers of all Saintes vpon the golden altar, which is before the throne.

22 And the smoke of the odours with the prayers of the Saintes, went vp before the throne.

23 And he opened the bottomles pit, and there arose the smoke of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace, and the sunne

keyes in his armes. e Abundance of heresies and errors, which couer with darkehes Christ and his Gospel.

God, out of the Angels hand.

5 And the Angel toke the censer, and filled it with <sup>i</sup> fyre of the altar, and cast it into the <sup>e</sup> earth, and <sup>i</sup> there were voyces, and thundrings, and lighenings, and earthquake.

6 Then the seuen Angels, which had the seuen trumpettes, prepared them selues to blowe the trumpettes.

7 So the first Angel <sup>s</sup> blew the trumpet, and there was haile & fyre, mingled with blood, and they were cast into the earth, and the third parte of <sup>h</sup> trees was burnt, & all grene <sup>i</sup> grasse was burnt.

8 And the seconde Angel blew the trumpet, and as it <sup>were</sup> a great <sup>k</sup> mountaine, burning with fyre, was cast into the sea, & the third parte of the sea became blood.

9 And the third parte of the creatures, which were in the sea, and had life, dyed, & <sup>h</sup> third parte of <sup>i</sup> shipes were destroyed.

10 Then the third Angel blew the trumpet, & there fell <sup>a</sup> great starre from heauen burning like a torche, and it fell into the third parte of the riuers, and into the fountaines of waters.

11 And the name of the starre is called wormewood: therefore the third parte of the waters became wormewood, and manie men dyed of the <sup>w</sup> waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth Angel blew the trumpet, and the third parte of the <sup>s</sup> sunne was smitten, & the third parte of the <sup>r</sup> moone, and the third parte of the <sup>q</sup> starres, so that the third parte of them was <sup>r</sup> darkened: and the day <sup>was</sup> smitten, that the third parte of it colde not shine, and likewise the night.

13 And I behelde, & heard one Angel flying through the middes of heaue, saying with a loude voyce, <sup>i</sup> Wo, wo, wo to the inhabitants of the earth, because of the foudnes to come of the trumpet of the three Angels, which were yet to blowe the trumpettes.

14 And I behelde, & heard one Angel flying through the middes of heaue, saying with a loude voyce, <sup>i</sup> Wo, wo, wo to the inhabitants of the earth, because of the foudnes to come of the trumpet of the three Angels, which were yet to blowe the trumpettes.

15 The first and first Angel blowe their trumpettes: the starre falleth from heauen. 3 The locustes come out of the smoke. 12 The first wo is past. 14 The foure Angels that were bounde, are loosed. 18 And the third parte of men is killed.

16 And the first Angel blew the trūpet, & I sawe <sup>a</sup> a starre fall from heauen vnto the earth, and to him was giuen the <sup>b</sup> keye of the bottomles pit.

17 And he opened the bottomles pit, and there arose the smoke of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace, and the sunne

keyes in his armes. e Abundance of heresies and errors, which couer with darkehes Christ and his Gospel.

The Church persecuted. Reuelation. The beaſts power.

In this third viſion is declared how the Church which is compaſſed about with Ieſus Chriſt the Sonne of Righteouſneſſe is persecuted of Antichriſt. The Church treadeth vnder ſore what ſouer is mutable, and inconstant, with all corrupt affections and ſuch like. The ſigne ſignifie God and his worde. The Church euer with a moſte feruent deſire longed for Chriſt ſhulde be home, & that the faithfull might be regenerate by his power.

Pal. 9.

The deuill, & all his power which burneth with furie and is red with the blood of the faithfull. For he is prince of this worlde & almoſte haue ſeuerall goernement. By his ſtates & promiſes he gaineth manie of the excellentiſſeſſe & honorable perſones, and bringeth theſe deſtruction. Which is Ieſus Chriſt the firſt borne ſon of manie brethren, who was borne of the virgin Marie as of a ſpecial member of the Church.

The Church was remoued fro among the Iewes to the Gentiles, which were as a bare wilderneſſe, and ſo it is persecuted to the ſc. Ieſus Chriſt and his members, as Apoſtles, Martyrs, and the reſt of the faithfull.

For the dragon he persecuted the Church, and had no more place in the Church.

They put he their liues in danger to oft as neede required.

Meaning, the Church is giuen

And there appeared a great wonder in heauen: A woman clothed with the ſunne, & the moone was vnder her feet, and vpon her head a crowne of twelve ſtarres.

And ſhe was with childe and cryed trauieling in birth, and was pained readie to be deliuered.

And there appeared another wonder in heauen: for beholde, a great red dragon hauing ſeuen heads, and ten hornes, and ſeuen crownes vpon his heads:

And his taile drue the third parte of the ſtarres of heauen, & caſt the to the earth. And the dragon ſtoode before the woman, which was readie to be deliuered, to deuoure her childe when ſhe had brought it forth.

So ſhe brought forth a man childe, which ſhulde rule all nations with a rod of yron: and her ſonne was taken vp vnto God and to this throne.

And the womā fled into wilderneſſe where ſhe hath a place prepared of God, that they ſhulde fede her there a thouſand, two hundred and threſcore dayes.

And there was a battell in heauen. Michael & his Angels fought againſt the dragon, and the dragon fought & his Angels.

But they preuailed not, neither was their place founde anie more in heauen.

And the great dragon, that olde ſerpent, called the deuill and ſatan, was caſt out, which deceiueſſe all the worlde: he was caſt into the earth, & his Angels were caſt out with him.

The I heard a loude voyce, ſaying, Now is ſaluation in heauen, and ſtrength & the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Chriſt: for the accuſer of our brethren is caſt downe, which accuſed them before our God day and night.

But they overcame him by the blood of the Lambe, and by the worde of their testimony, and they loued not their liues vnto the death.

Therefore reioyce, ye heauens, & ye that dwell in the. Wo to the inhabitants of the earth, and of the ſea: for the deuill is come downe vnto you which hath the great wrath, knowing that he hath but a ſhort time.

And when the dragon ſawe that he was caſt vnto the earth, he persecuted the woman which had brought forth the man childe.

But to the woman were given two winges of a great eagle, that ſhe might flee into the wilderneſſe, into ſome place, where ſhe is nourished for a time, & times, and halfe a time, from the preſence of the ſerpent.

And the ſerpent caſt out of his mouth water to the worlde, and ſhe ſhulde be hurt.

And was overcome of Chriſt, then he fought againſt his members. Which the Lord had appointed for her.

God ſpeaketh meanes to his Church to ſcape the furie of ſatan making his creature, to ſerue to the ſupport thereof.

ter after the woman like a flood, that he might caule her to be caryed away of the flood.

But the earth holpe the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and ſwalowed vp the flood, which the dragon had caſt out of his mouth.

Then the dragon was wroth with the woman, and wet and made warre with the remnant of her ſede, which kepe the commandments of God, and haue the testimony of Ieſus Chriſt.

And I ſtoode on the ſea ſande.

CHAP. XIII.
The beaſt deceiueſſe the reprobate, 2. 4. 12. And is confirmed by another beaſt. 17 The priuiledge of the beaſts marke.

And I ſawe a beaſt riſe out of the ſea, hauing ſeuen heads, and ten hornes, and vpon his hornes were ten crownes, and vpon his heads the name of blaſphemie.

And the beaſt which I ſawe, was like a leopard, and his feet like a beares, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gaue him his power and his throne, & great autoritie.

And I ſawe one of his heads as it were wounded to death, but his deadly wounde was healed, and all the worlde wōdred and followed the beaſt.

And they worſhipped the dragon which gaue power vnto the beaſt, & they worſhipped the beaſt, ſaying, Who is like vnto the beaſt, who is able to warre with him!

And there was giuen vnto him a mouth, that ſpake great things and blaſphemies, and power was giuen vnto him, to do two and fortie moneths.

And he opened his mouth vnto blaſphemie againſt God, to blaſpheme his Name, and his tabernacle, & the dwelling in heauen.

And it was giuen vnto him to make warre with the ſaintes, and to overcome them, & power was giuen him ouer euerie kind and tongue, and nation.

Therefore all that dwell vpon the earth, ſhal worſhip him, whoſe names are not written in the Booke of life of the Lambe, which was ſlaine from the beginning of the worlde.

If anie man haue an eare, let him heare.

If anie lead into captiuitie, he ſhal go into captiuitie: if anie kil with a ſworde, he muſt be killed by a ſworde: here is the patience, & the faith of the ſaintes.

And I behelde another beaſt coming vp out of the ſea, which had two hornes.

Antichriſt hath no power ouer the elect. At God ordeined ſo before all beginning, that ſacrifices were as ſignes & ſermons of Chriſt, death of thei which led ſoules captiues, go them ſelues into captiuitie. At the kingdom of Chriſt is his heauē, & bringeth men thither. So the Pope kingdome is of the earth & leadeth to perdition, & is begone, & eſtablished by ambition, couetiſhe, beaſtlines, craft, treaſon & tyrannie. Which ſignifie the priethode & the kingdome, and therefore he giueth in his armes two keys, and hath two ſwordes caryed before him. So Boniface the eighth which firſt ordeined the ſublie, he wed him ſelf one day in apparel as a Pope, & the next day in harnes as the Emperour, and the two hornes in the biſhops mitre are ſignes thereof.

The beaſts marke.

And another Angel came out from the altar, which had power ouer fyre, and cryed with a lowde crye to him that had the sharpe sickle, and said, Thrust in thy sharpe sickle, & gather the clusters of the vineyarde of the earth: for her grapes are ripe.

And the Angel thrust in his sharpe sickle on the earth, & cutte downe the vines of the vineyarde of the earth, and cast them into the great wine presse of the wrath of God.

And I sawe another signe in heaue great & marueilous, * seuen Angels hauing the seuen last plagues: for by them is fulfilled the wrath of God.

And I sawe as it were a glassie sea, mingled with fyre, and them that had gotten victorie of the beast, and of his image, and of his marke, and of the number of his name, stand at the glassie sea, hauing the harpes of God.

And they sung the song of Moses the seruant of God, and the song of the Lambe, saying, Great & marueilous are thy workes, Lord God almightie: iuste and true are thy wayes, King of Saintes.

* Who shal not feare thee, O Lord, and glorifie thy Name! for thou onely art holie, and all nations shal come & worshippe before thee: for thy iudgements are made manifest.

And after that I looked, and beholde, the temple of the tabernacle of testimonie was open in heauen.

And the seuen Angels came out of the temple, which had the seuen plagues, clothed in pure and bright linnen, and hauing their breastes girded with golden girdles.

And they were ready to execute the vengeance of God.

And one of the foure beastes gaue vnto the seuen Angels seuen golden vials full of the wrath of God, which liue for euermore.

And the Temple was ful of the smoke of the glorie of God and of his power, and no man was able to enter into the Temple, til the seuen plagues of the seuen Angels were fulfilled.

CHAP. XVI.

The Angels poure out their vials full of wrath. 6 And what plagues followe thereof. 15 Admonition to take heed and watch.

And I heard a great voyce out of the Temple, saying to the seuen Angels, Go your wayes, and poure out the seuen vials of the wrath of God vpon the earth.

And the first went, and poured out his vial vpon the earth: and there fell a noyse, and a grievous sore vpon the men, which had the marke of the beast, & vpon them which worshipped his image.

And the second Angel poured out his vial vpon the sea, and it became as the blood of a dead man: and euerie living thing died in the sea.

And the thirde Angel poured out his vial vpon the riuers & fountaines of waters, and they became blood.

And I heard the Angel of the waters say, Lord, thou art iust, Which art, and Which wast, and Holie, because thou hast iudged these things.

For they shed the blood of the Saintes and Prophets, and therefore hast thou giuen them blood to drinke: for they are worthy.

And I heard another out of the Sanctuarie say, Euē so, Lord God almightie, true and righteous are thy iudgements.

And the fourth Angel poured out his vial on the sunne, and it was giuen vnto him to torment men with heat of fyre.

And men boyled in great heat, and blasphemed the Name of God, which hath power ouer these plagues, and they repented not, to giue him glorie.

And the fift Angel poured out his vial vpon the throne of the beast, & his kingdom waxed darke, & they gnawe their tongues for sorwe.

And blasphemed the God of heauen for their paines, and for their sores, & repented not of their workes.

And the sixt Angel poured out his vial vpon the great riuier Euphrates, and the water thereof dried vp, that the way of

And I sawe three vncleane spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of the dra-

out of the mouth of the false prophet.
For they are the spirits of devils, working miracles, to go vnto the Kings of the earth, and of the whole worlde, to gather them to the battell of that great day
of God Almighty.
(*Beholde, I come as a thefe. Blessed is he that watcheth & kepeth his garmets,
lest he walke naked, and men se his fil-

And they gathered them together into a place called in Hebrew Arma-gedon.
And the seuen Angel powred out his vial into the ayre: & there came a loude voyce out of the Temple of heauen from the throne, saying, * It is done.
And there were voyces, and thundrings,
and lightnings, & there was a great earthquake, suche as was not since men were vpon the earth, euen so mightie an earth-

And the great citie was diuided into thre partes, and the cities of the nations
fell: and great Babylon came in remembrance before God, * to giue vnto her the cup of the wine of the fiercenes of his wrath.
And euerie yle fled away, & the moun-
taines were not founde.
And there fell a great haile, like talents,
out of heauen vpon the men, and men
blasphemed God, because of the plague

And the woman was araid in purple &
skarlat, & guiled with golde, & precious stones, and pearles, and had a cup of golde
in her hand, full of abominations, and fil-thines of her fornication.
And in her forehead was a name writ-

the earth.
And I sawe the woman drunken with the blood of Saintes, & with the blood of the Martyrs of Iesus: & when I sawe her, I wo-dred with great marueile.
Then the Angel said vnto me, Wherefore maruilest thou? I wil shewe thee the mysterie of the woman, and of the beast,
that beareth her, which hath the seven heads,
and ten hornes.
The beast that thou hast sene, was, and is not, and shal ascende out of the bottom-

they that dwell on the earth, shal wondre (whose names are not written in the Boke
of life from the fundacion of the worlde)

Here is the minde that hath wisdom.
The seven heads are * seuen mountaines,
whereon the woman sitteth: they are also seuen Kings.
Five are fallen, and one is, and another is

And the beast that was, and is not, is

shal go into destruction.
And the ten hornes which thou sawest,

a kingdome, but shal receiue power, as Kings
at one houre with the beast.
These haue one minde, and shal giue their power, and autoritie vnto the beast.
These shal fight with the Lambe, & the Lambe shal * ouercome them: * for he is Lord of Lords, & King of Kings: & they that are on his side, called, and chosen, and faithful.
And he said vnto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are

And the ten hornes which thou sawest
vpon the beast, are they that shal hate the whore, and shal make her desolate and na-

talked with me, saying vnto me, Come: I wil shewe thee the danacion of the great
whore that sitteth vpon many waters,
With whom haue committed fornication
the Kings of the earth, and the inha-bitans of the earth are drunken with the wine of her fornication.
So he caried me away into the wildernes
in the Spirit, and I sawe a woman sit vpon
a skarlat coloured beast, full of names of blasphemie, which had seuen heads, &
ten hornes.

And he said vnto me, The waters which

19 The louers of the worlde are sorie for the fall of the whore of Babylon 4 An admonition to the people of God to flee out of her dominion, 20 But they that be of God, haue cause to reioyce for her destruccion.

1 And after these things, I sawe another Angel come downe from heauen, hauing great power, so that the earth was lightened with his glorie.

2 And he cryed out mightely with a loude voyce, saying, * It is fallen, it is fallen, Babylon 7 great citie, & is become the habitation of deuils, and the holde of all fowle spirits, and a cage of euerie vncleane and hateful byrde.

3 For all nations haue droken of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the Kings of the earth haue committed fornication with her, and the marchants of the earth are waxed riche of the abundance of her pleasures.

4 And I heard another voyce fro heauen say, Go out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers in her sinnes, and that ye receiue not of her plagues.

5 For her sinnes are come vp vnto heauen, and God hathe remembered her iniquities.

6 Rewarde her, euē as she hathe rewarded you, and giue her double according to her workes: & in the cup that she hathe filled to you, fil her the double.

7 In asmuch as she glorified her self, and liued in pleasure, so muche giue ye to her torment and sorowe: for she saith in her heart, * I sit being a quene, and am not a widow, and shal fe no mourning.

8 Therefore shal her plagues come at one day, death, and sorowe, and famine, & she shalbe burnt with fyre: for strong is the Lord God which wil condemne her.

9 And the Kings of the earth shal bewaile her, & lament for her, which haue comitted fornication, & liued in pleasure with her, when they shal se the smoke of her burnings.

10 And shal stande a farre off for feare of her torment, saying, Alas, alas, the great citie Babylon, the mightie citie: for in one houre is thy iudgement come.

11 And the marchants of the earth shal wepe and waile ouer her: for no man byeth their ware any more.

12 The ware of golde and siluer, and of precious stone, and of pearles, and of fine linen, and of purple, and of silke, and of skarlet, & of all maner of Thyne wood, and of all vessels of yuorie, and of all vessels of moste precious wood, & of brasfe, and of yron, and of marble,

And of synamon, and odours, and ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oile, and fine floure, and wheat, & beastes, and shepe, and horses, and charets, & seruants, and soules of men.

14 (And the apples that thy soule lusted after, are departed from thee, & all things which were fat and excellent, are departed from thee, and thou shalt finde them no more.)

15 The marchants of these things which were waxed riche, shal stand a farre off fro her, for feare of her torment, weping and wailing.

16 And saying, Alas, alas, the great citie, that was clothed in fine linen and purple, and skarlet, and guilded with golde, and precious stone, and pearles.

17 For in one houre so great riches are come to desolation. And euerie shippe master, and all the people that occupie shippes, and shipmen, and whosoever traual on the sea, shal stand a farre off,

18 And crye, when they se the smoke of her burning, saying, What citie was like vnto this great citie?

19 And they shal cast dust on their heads, and crye weping, and wailing, & say, Alas, alas, the great citie, wherein were made riche all that had shippes on the sea by her costlines: for in one houre she is made desolate.

20 O heauen, reioyce of her, and ye holie Apostles and Prophetes: for God hath giuen your iudgement on her.

21 Then a mightie Angel toke vp a stone like a great millstone, & cast it into the sea, saying, With such violence shal the great citie Babylon be cast, and shalbe founde no more.

22 And the voyce of harpers, & musicians, and of pipers, & trumpeters shalbe heard no more in thee, and no craftes man, of whatsoever craft he be, shalbe founde any more in thee: and the founde of a millstone shalbe heard no more in thee.

23 And the light of a candle shal shine no more in thee: and the voyce of the bridegrome and of the bride shalbe heard no more in thee: for thy marchants were the great men of the earth: and with thine enchantements were deceiued all nations.

24 And in her was founde the blood of the Prophetes, and of the Saintes, and of all that were slaine vpon the earth.

nicacion, and hath aduenged the blood of his seruants shed by her hand.

3 And againe they said, Hallelu-iah: & her smoke rose vp for euermore.

4 And the foure and twentie Elders, & the
foure <sup>d</sup> beastes fell downe, and worshiped
God that sate on the throne, saying, <sup>e</sup> Amen, Hallelu-iah.

5 Then a voyce came out of the throne,
saying, Praise our God, all ye his seruants,
and ye that feare him, bothe smale and great.

6 And I heard like a voyce of a great multitude, and as the voyce of manie waters,
and as the voyce of strong thondrings,
saying, Hallelu-iah: for our Lord God al-
mightie hath reigned.

7 Let vs be glad and reioyce, and giue glo-

is come, and his wife hathe made her self readie.

8 And to her was grated, that she shulde be
araied with pure fyne linen and shining.
for the fyne linen is the righteousnes of Saintes.

9 Then he said vnto me, Write, <sup>g</sup> Blessed are they which are <sup>h</sup> called vnto the Lam-bes supper. And he said vnto me, These wordes of God are true.

10 And I fell before his feete, <sup>i</sup> to worship
him: but he said vnto me, Se thou do it not: I am thy fellowe seruant, and one of thy brethren, which haue the <sup>k</sup> testimonie of Iesus. Worship God: for the <sup>k</sup> testimonie of Iesus, is the spirit of prophecie.

11 And I sawe heauen open, and beholde a white <sup>l</sup> horse, and he that sate vpon him, was called, <sup>m</sup> Faithful & true, & he <sup>n</sup> iud-
geth and fighteth righteously.

12 And his eyes were as a flame of fyre, & on his head were <sup>o</sup> manie crownes: and he had a name written, that no man <sup>p</sup> knewe
but him self.

13 And <sup>q</sup> he was clothed with a garment

Wherby is signified his victorie, and the destruction of his enemies. <sup>r</sup> Signifying that Iesus Christ, which is the worde, is made

folowed him vpon white horses, clothed with fyne linen white and pure.

15 And out of his mouth went out a sharpe
sworde, that with it he shulde smite the heathen: for he <sup>t</sup> shal rule the with a rodde
of yron: for he it is that treadeth the wine
presse of the fiercesnes and wrath of al-mightie God.

16 And he hathe vpon his garment, and vpon
his <sup>u</sup> thigh a name written, <sup>u</sup> THE KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

17 And I sawe an Angel stand in the <sup>x</sup> sun-ne, who cryed with a lowde voyce, saying to all the foules that did flye by the mid-des of heauen, Come, and gather your fellues together vnto the supper of the great
God,

18 That ye may eat the flesh of Kings, &
the flesh of hie Captaines, and the flesh
of mightie men, and the flesh of horses,
and of them that sit on them, and the flesh
of all fre me and bondemen, and of smale
and great.

19 And I sawe the beast, and the Kings of the earth, and their <sup>y</sup> warriors gathered together to make battel against him, that sate on the horse & against his souldiers.

20 But the beast was <sup>z</sup> taken, and with him that false prophete that wrought miracles before him, whereby he deceived
them that receiued the beastes marke, & them that worshiped his image. These bothe were alieue cast into a lake of fyre,
burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant were slayne with the
sworde of him that sitteth vpon the horse,
which cometh out of his mouth, and all
the foules were filled full with their flesh.

2 And I Iohn ſawe the <sup>c</sup> holie citie newe Ieruſalem come <sup>d</sup> downe from God out of heauen, prepared as a bride trimmed for her houſband.

CHAP. XXII.

1 The riuer of the water of life. 2 The fruites of the light of the citie of God. 3 The Lord giueth euery his seruants warning of things to come. 4 The Angel wil not be worshipped. 5 To the worde of God may nothing be added nor diminished therefrom.

1 And he shewed me a pure riuer of water of life, cleare as crytal, proceeding out of the throne of God, and of the Lambe.

2 In the middes of the strete of it, and of either side of the riuer, was the tre of life, which bare twelue maner of fruite, & gaue fruite euerie moneth: & the leaues of the tre serued to heale the nations with.

3 And there shall be no more curse, but the throne of God & of the Lambe shall be in it, and his seruants shall serue him.

4 And they shall see his face, and his Name shall be in their foreheades.

5 *And there shall be no night there, and they nede no candle, nether light of sun

ne: for the Lord God giueth them light, and they shall reigne for euermore.

6 And he said vnto me, These wordes are faithful and true: & the Lord God of the holie Prophetes sent his Angel to shewe vnto his seruants the things which must shortly be fulfilled.

7 Beholde, I come shortly. Blessed is he y kepe the wordes of the prophecie of this boke.

8 And I am Iohn, which sawe and heard these things: and when I had heard & seen, * I fell downe to worship before the feete of the Angel, which shewed me these things.

9 But he said vnto me, Se thou do it not: for I am thy fellowe seruant, & of thy brethren the Prophetes, and of them which kepe the wordes of this boke: worship God.

10 And he said vnto me, Seale not thy wordes of the prophecie of this boke: for the time is at hand.

11 He that is vnjust, let him be vnjust still: & he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he y is righteous, let him be righteous still: & he y is holie, let him be holie still.

12 And beholde, I come shortly, & my reward is with me, * to give euerie man according as his worke shall be.

13 I am * and, the beginning & the end, the first and the last.

14 Blessed are they, that do his commandments, that their right may be in the tree of life, & may entre in through the gates into the citie.

15 For without shall be dogges & enchaters, & whoremongers, & murderers, & idolaters, & whosoeuer loueth or maketh lyes.

16 I Iesus haue sent mine Angel, to testifie vnto you these things in the Churches: I am the roote & the generacio of Dauid, and the bright morning starre.

17 And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth, say, Come: & let him y is athirst, come: & let whosoeuer wil, take of the water of life frely.

18 For I protest vnto euerie man that heareth the wordes of the prophecie of this boke, * if any man shall adde vnto these things, God shall adde vnto him the plagues, that are written in this boke.

19 And if any man shall diminish of y wordes of y boke of this prophecie, God shall take away his parte out of the Boke of life, and out of the holie citie, and fro those things which are written in this boke.

20 He which testifieth these things, faithfully. Surely, I come quickly. Amen. Euen so I come, Lord Iesus.

21 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you all, Amen.

A BRIEF TABLE OF THE INTERPRETATION OF THE PROPRE NAMES which are chiefly founde in the olde Testamēt, wherein the first number signifieth the chapter: the seconde the verse.

WHereas the wickednes of time, and the blindnes of the former age hath bene suche that all things altogether haue bene abused and corrupted, so that the very right names of diuers of the holie men named in the Scriptures haue bene forgotten, and now seme strange vnto vs, and the names of infants that shoulde euer haue some godlie aduertisements in them, and shoulde be memorials and markes of the children of God receiued into his householde, hath bene hereby also changed and made the signes and badges of idolatrie and heathenish impietie, we haue now set forth this table of the names that be most vsed in the olde Testament with their interpretations, as the Ebrewes importeth, partly to call backe the godlie frō that abuse, when they shal know the true names of the godlie fathers, & what they signifie, that their children now named after them may haue testimonies by their very names, that they are within that faithfull familie that in all their doings had euer God before their eyes, and that they are bounde by these their names to serue God from their infancie & haue occasion to praise him for his workes wrought in them & their fathers: but chiefly to restore the names to their integritie, whereby many places of the Scriptures and secret mysteries of the holie Ghost shal better be vnderstand. We haue medled rarely with the Greke names, because their interpretation is vncertaine, & many of the are corrupted from their original, as we may also se these Ebrewes names set in the margent of this table, which haue bene corrupted by the Grecians. Now for the other Ebrewes names that are not here interpretate, let not the diligent reader be careful: for he shal finde them in places most cōuenient amongst the annotations: at least so many as may seme to make for any edification, and vnderstanding of the Scriptures.

A PERFITE SVPPVTATION OF THE YERES AND TIMES FROM ADAM VNTO Chriſt, proued by the Scriptures, after the collection of diuers autors.

The ſumme of the yerres of the firſt age

From Adam vnto Noes flood
are yerres 1656.
For when Adam was a 130 yere olde,
he begate Seth.
Seth being 105 yerres, begate Enos.
Enos being 90 yerres, begate Cainan.
Cainan being 70 yerres, begate Ma-halaleel.
Mahalaleel being 65 yerres, begate
Iared.
Iared at the age of a 162 yerres, begate Enoch.
Enoch being 65 yerres, begate Ma-
thufelah.
Mathufelah at the age of 187 yerres,
begate Lamech.
Lamech beſig 182 yerres, begate Noe.
Noe at the comming of the flood was 600 yerres olde, as appeareth in the ſeuenth of Genetiſ.
The whole ſumme of the yerres
are 1656.
From the ſaid flood of Noe vnto Adrahams departing from Chalde were 363 yerres, and ten
dayes.
For the ſaid flood continued one

whole yere and ten dayes.
Sem (which was Noes ſonne) begate Arphaxat two yerres after that.
Arphaxat begate Salah whē he was 35 yerres olde.
Salah being 30 yerres olde, begate
Heber.
Heber at his age of 34 begate Phalech.
Phalech beſig 30 yerres, begate Regu.
Regu being 32 yerres, begate Saruch.
Saruch being 30 yerres, begate Nahor.
Nahor beſig 29 yerres, begate Thare.
Thare being 70 yerres, begate Abraham.
And Abrahā departed from Chal-
de when he was 70 yerres olde.
Theſe ſaid yerres accounted are 363 yerres, & ten dayes.
From Abrahams departing frō Vr in Chalde vnto the departing of the children of Iſrael frō Egypt are 430 yerres, gathered as ſolloweth.
Abrahā was in Charran ſiue yerres,
and departed in the 75 yere.
He begate Iſaac when he was 100
yerres olde, and in the 25 yere of his departing.

Iſaac begate Iakob when he was 60
yerres olde.
Iakob went into Egypt with all his familie, whē he was 130 yere olde.
Iſrael was in Egypt 220 yerres, which remane from that time.
Then rebate 80 yerres from this: for ſo olde was Moſes when he cōdu-ced the Iſraelites from Egypt.
So the reſte of the yerres, that is to ſay 140, are deuided betwixt Am-ram and Chath.
Then Chath begate Amram at his age of 67 yerres.
Amram being 65 yerres, begate Moſes, who in the 80 yere of his age departed with the Iſraelites from Egypt.
So this ſuppvtation is the 430
yerres mencioned in the 12. of Exod. & the 3.
to the Galarians.
From the going of the Iſraelites
from Egypt vnto the firſt buylding of the Temple are 480 yeres, after this ſuppvtation and accounte.
Moſes remained in ſ deſert or wil-

 Salomon in the 4 yere of his reigne
 began the buylding of the Tēple.
 These are the 480 yeres mencioned in the first of the Kings, & the 6 chap.
From the first buylding of the Temple vnto the captiuitie of Babylon are 419 yeres & an halfe.
 Salomon reigned yer 36 yeres.
 Roboam 17 yeres.
 Abia 3 yeres.

 Ezechias 29 yeres.
 Manassias 55 yeres.
 Amon 2 yeres.
 Iosias 31 yeres.
 Ioachas 3 moneths.
 Eliachim 11 yeres.
 Ioachim, Iechonias 3 moneths.
 And here beginneth the captiuitie
 of Babylon.
 The summe of these yeres are 419 yeres.
Ierusalem was reedified & buyl-
 ded againe after the captiuitie
 of Babylon 143 yeres.
 The captiuitie continued 70 yeres.
 The children of Israel were deliue-
 red and restored to their fredome
 in the first yere of Cyrus.
 The Temple was begonne to be buylded in the 2 yere of the said
 Cyrus, & finished in the 46 yere,
 which was the 6 yere of Darius.
 After that Darius had reigned 20
 yere, Nehemias was restored to libertie, and went to buylde the

citie, which was finished in the 32
 yere of the said Darius.
 All the yeres from the buylding of the Temple againe are 16 yeres.
 The whole summe of yeres
 amount to 143 yeres.
From the reedifying of the ci-
 tie vnto the coming of Christ,
 are 481 yeres, after this supputatio
 or nombring.
 It is mencioned in the 9 of Daniel that Ierusalem shulde be buylt vp againe, and that from that time
 vnto the coming of Christ are 67 weekes, & euerie weeke is reckoned for seuen yeres. So 67 weekes amount to 481 yeres. For from the 32 yere of Darius vnto the 42
 yere of Augustus, in the which yere our Sauour Christ was borne, are iust and complet so many yeres, whereupon we reckon, that from Adam vnto Christ are 3974
 yeres, six moneths and ten dayes,
 and from the byrth of Christ vn-
 to this present yere, is 1560.
 Then the whole summe and nom-
 ber of yeres from the beginning of the worlde vnto this present
 yere of our Lord God 1560 are iust 5534, 6 moneths, and the said
 oddes ten dayes.

The End.

IOSHVA CHAP. 1. VERS. 8.

Let not this boke of the Law departe out of thy mouth,
 but meditate therein daye and night, that thou mayest obserue and do according to all that is written therein: so shalt thou make thy way prosperous, and then shalt thou haue
 good successe.
